Mrs. Raymond Aandal was hostess for a joint birthday party for her children Gary 6 and Judy 3 years. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hamre, Jerry, Leighton, Lavern, Barbara and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kainz, Joanie and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Hanson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lutz and family of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ristau of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bendickson, Dennis, Bobby and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Wiegal and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nelson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Phillip and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stans Panek left for Arizona Wednesday where they will spend the winter. They were accompanied by their son Robert who left for Texas the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Pomerenke and girls of southern Minnesota were week end visitors at the Kermit Maidment home.

Sunday evening visitors at the Joe Skibiki home were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Senahl and family of St. Hilaire and Mr. and Mrs. Halver Tveibak and family of Thief River Falls.

The Cloverleaf Homemakers met at the Charles Svendsgaard home Thursday, November 18. Mrs. George Breznay and Mrs. Billy Wayne presented the material on Making Meats More Palatable. The ladies who helped prepare the meal were Mrs. Charles Svendsgaard, Mrs. George Breznay, Mrs. Billy Wayne, Mrs. Emil Sanders, Mrs. A. W. Oski, Mrs. Tom Breznay and Mrs. Albert Placek. The menu included beef stroganoff, Fluffy rice, string beans with toasted almonds, poppy seed bread with garlic butter, Cabbage slaw with dill seed and Lemon sponge custard. A special item not very often served was kidney cubes wrapped in crisply fried bacon. The meal was enjoyed by all present.

Sunday evening visitors at the George Panek home were Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Nelson and Beverly.

Ted Koan, Fred Lutz and Eli Pomerenke of the Twin Cities spent a few days during hunting season at the Kermit Maidment home.

RANDEN . .

By Mrs. E. Ostlund, Grygla

Hunting and hunters seems to be uppermost in everyones mind. Here are some of the visiting hunters that are in our community. The Forsbergs of Thief River Falls have fixed up the old Ezra Davy house into a hunting lodge and there are several men camping there. Isac Laslilo of Gatzke and Henry Bergh of Gully are at Emil Ostlund's. Norman Ellertson of Gully was also staying there a few days during his Thanksgiving vacation from school. Art Bloomquist and son Harvey from Drayton and Melvin Hagen are staying in the Ida Finley home. Also Berdine and Wallace Thompson from Strathcona, George Harrison and Joe McLevich from St. Paul in the Lester Ostlund home. A number of men from St. Paul are also staying in the Harry Davy home.

Wayne Anderson, Merlin Merkins, Oscar Oree, Clare Renfew and Harold Olson from Halstad have built a hunting lodge on Gordon Foss' south eighty and are camping there. Glenn Evans, Charlie Smith and son Gerald and Fred Ebenhauser are in the Evans hunting lodge.

George Fransman, Buel and Donny Gram, Henry Waltonen and Ed Logergren from Middle River are in the former Phil Legars house. Two men from Moorhead and Berdean Anderson from St. Hilaire are with Ordean Anderson. There are also several trailer houses of men. The absence of snow is the woods is sure full of red handicapping hunting some but there are reports of quite a number of deer being taken.

Fred Ice, who is in the Northwest Hospital in Thief River Falls, is reported to be a little better but is still a very sick man. Mrs. Erhart Leglar of our community, Stewart Slstad, Harold Becker and Lawrence Hesso of Grygla went down and donated blood for him Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dougherty and sons Jerry and Richard were guests in the Gordon Foss home Thursday evening.

The Andersons report that their brother Clarence, who is in the Northwestern Hospital in Minneapolis is some better. He underwent surgery recently.

George Harrison and Joe Levick of St. Paul arrived at the Lester Ostlund home Friday evening to do some hunting and returned to St. Paul Sunday evening with a nice deer for each of them.

Every community would be greatly improved if the people could get public improvements for nothing.

THE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS OF

NORTHWESTERN HOSPITAL

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

are pleased to announce that

The New Portion of the Enlarged Building

now nearing completion and soon ready for occupancy, will be open for

PUBLIC INSPECTION

Sunday, Nov. 28

1:00 to 5:30 o'clock P. M.

This public inspection will make it possible for you to see all of the new building and much of the new equipment that probably will not be displayed after the building is occupied by patients.

Much remains to be done before the expansion program is completed. The old building will now be remodelled and it will take some time before the facilities of the old and the new structures are integrated and usable as one complete unit. At that time there will be appropriate dedication exercises of the completed and fully equipped hospital.

We may all take pride in knowing that Northwestern Hospital, when completed, will be one of the most modern and best equipped hospitals in the Northwest.

COFFEE AND COOKIES

will be served by the members of the Hospital Auxiliary

Entries Increase At Chicago Stock Show

Of the 26 breeds of farm animals that will be seen at the forthcoming 55th renewal of the International Live Stock Exposition starting at Chicago this week 11 breeds register an increase in number over last year's show, the management reports. According to officials of the show, exhibits are listed by the continent's top livestock producers in 38 states and two Canadian provinces.

Aberdeen-Angus led among the cattle breeds with 579 entries. Shorthorns are second with 422, and there will be 331 Herefords. Polled Shorthorns will be represented by 148 head.

Swine numbers top lasts year's showing in this division, with 874 barrows of the 8 breeds entered. Yorkshires, noted for their yield of lean pork cuts, led with a total of 120 head, followed by the popular belted Hampshires with 109. There are 173 barrows listed for the carcass competition, wherein entries are first judged alive and, after slaughter, by meat experts. This entry sets a new record in the 55 years of the Exposition.

Sheep Exhibitors have listed more than 100 head above last year's entry in the 998 head that are scheduled for the contests of the 10 sheep breeds that will be on view.

Youngsters in Big Show

Prime steers, fed and groomed by 4-H and FFA boys and girls, equal last year's entry of nearly 500 animals. Over 300 farm youths from 11 states will take the spotlight on Saturday, Nov. 27, when their steers and hogs will be judged in the Exposition's Junior Livestock Feeding Contest.

Farm and Home Week Dates are Announced

Dates of the University of Minnesota's annual open house for rural men and women and city housewives — Farm and Home Week — were announced today by J. O. Christianson, director of short courses, and chairman of the Week's planning committee.

They are January 11 through 14—Tuesday through Friday—on the University's St. Paul campus. A complete printed program soon will be available at county agents' offices.

Farmer to Study Surplus Issues at Bureau Meeting

Three Day Session Will Convene in Minneapolis Next Monday Morning

Allan B. Kline, the Iowa farmer who heads the National Farm Bureau Federation will be one of some thirty-five speakers who will appear on the three-day annual meeting program of the state Federation, to be held in Minneapolis starting Monday, November 29. Specific farm production problems will be the subject of the five commodity conferences on the opening day.

Poultry producers, meeting at the Poultry conference, will discuss not only the bad price levels obtaining in their industry, but also problems of disease control and other factors that spell the difference between profit and loss. There also will be conferences of livestock, dairy, field crops and fruit and vegetable groups, each with experts in these fields to present information.

General sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, with speakers of national stature discussing the problems that arise when a nation shifts from a war time to a peace time economy. War-induced surpluses hang as a threat over the market and until some way is found to deal with the surplus problem farmers will be in trouble, says J. L. Morton, the Stevens county farmer who is president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

"The Student Prince" at Falls

Christmas Tree Harvest in State Well Under Way

Estimated Cut This Year 5 Million. Four Million Shipped Out of State

Judging by the number of cutting reports and inquiries relative to Christmas trees, the 1954 harvest is well under way and will be at least as large as any previous year, Ray Clement, forester in the Division of Forestry, reports. Out-of-state requests for information have come from as far away as Louisiana but large shipments are usually made to Iowa and Illinois.

Clement said that the annual cut is more than 5,000,000 of which about 1,000,000 are used used in Minnesota and the others shipped east and south.

Operators are reminded of the laws which apply to the Christmas tree business. A notice of cutting must be sent to the Director of Division of Forestry by registered mail. Anyone who buys trees must have a bill of sale or written consent to take them, which must accompany the trees. When trees are piled along a road for trucking, there must be posted a notice giving the description of the land from which the trees were cut and the name or names of the owners.

When trees are transported, a permit which may be obtained without cost from the Division of Forestry offices, must be secured and carried on the vehicle. Anyone may transport up to six trees for his own use without the permit.

Litterbugs Cost State Many Miles in New Roads

Minnesota motorists of the "litterbug" variety, cheated themselves out of many additional sorely needed miles of roads during 1954 because they used the shoulders and ditches along trunk highways for dumping grounds.

This "swindle" was revealed today in a study of costs required to pick up debris in one maintenance district and projecting it to include the other 15 such districts on the 11,900-mile highway system.

A careful record of truck and man hours required to tidy up the roadways in the 11th maintenance district, with headquarters at St. Paul Park under the supervision of M. L. Jones, showed that 2,730 truck hours and 8,867 man hours were charged against this operation in the picking up of 900 loads of refuse scattered by unthinking motorists. At an average cost of $20.85 per load, $18,700 was spent on this housekeeping operation which could have been spent to much better advantage in building new highways or improving present ones. State-wide, this expenditure came to at least $200,000.

Intelligence does not always accompany the degrees that some people acquire.

Predict Fifty Per Cent Increase in Vehicles by 1975

An increase of 640,000 registered motor vehicles in Minnesota, raising the state total from its present 1,275,000 vehicles to about 1,915,000 in 1975, was forecast today by R. S. Olson of Minneapolis, vice president in this area for Universal Credit Corporation. He based his estimate on a recent report of the President's Materials Commission, which forecast a national total of 85,000,000 cars, trucks, buses, and other vehicles by 1975.

Olson, urging support of President Eisenhower's suggested 10-year 50 billion dollar highway modernization program, said there is now about one motor vehicle for every three persons in the country. By 1975, he added, the national population should grow from its present 161,000,000 to more than 200,000,000, and there will be one vehicle for every 2.4 persons.

Parents' Day at University Farm School Open House

Special Program Being Arranged for Visitors Wednesday, December 1

A School of Agriculture graduate and a young Swedish farmer who have exchanged places on one another's farms will be on the program of the annual Parents' and Visitors' Day at the School in St. Paul on Wednesday, December 1. The graduate, Eldon Torkelson of St. James is farming in southern Minnesota and spent a year in Sweden as an exchange student in 1950. Hans Odell is the young Swedish farmer on whose farm Torkelson worked and this summer Odell was on the Torkelson farm.

J. O. Christianson, school superintendent, says parents and visitors may register for the day's activities beginning at 10:00 a. m. Student demonstrations and explanations of courses offered at the School of Agriculture will be featured from 10 until 11:30.

At 11:30 a. m., there will be a luncheon meeting for students and visitors in the school dining hall, followed by a Convocation at 12:50.

In the afternoon, there will be a livestock showmanship contest, and at an evening banquet, T. H. Fenske, assistant dean of the Institute of Agriculture and J. O. Christianson, school superintendent, will speak.

Short Course for Berry Growers Held Next Week

A short course for berry growers will be held on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus on Tuesday, November 30. Announcement comes from J. O. Christianson, director of short courses. O. C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist, is chairman of the course.

In the program are talks on expanding the Minnesota berry industry, weed control for higher berry production, proper fertilizing, disease control research and what University fruit specialists are doing to improve berry varieties. Heading an afternoon panel on small fruit management is W. P. Trampe, supervisor of nursery inspection for the State Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Food.

CHRISTMAS GIFT FROM POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT

Common sense expressed in simple English is the keynote of streamlined postal regulations just issued by the United States post office department. More than 4,000 pages of abstruse small-print regulations are translated into 268 pages of clear and straightforward regulations, suggestions concerning the use of the mails. How to pack fragile articles—fasten a letter to a parcel—mail books—all this and more for 65c. Including the good news that there is no longer any extra charge for forwarding mail to service dependents, that refunds may be obtained on postage overpayments, that permit and registered mailing have been simplified, that stamps may now be exchanged, that parcel post rates for overseas are unscrambled. It all adds up to easier and more satisfactory use of postal facilities by the public and faster service by Mr. Summerfield's huge far-flung organization at far less cost.

Thanksgiving

The corn is drying in the fields . . . the sky overhead seems shades bluer than it has ever been before and the autumn air is a tonic, bracing and cool. And on this, the most American of all holidays, thoughts go back to the first Thanksgiving and what it really meant.

It was a bare bounty for which the Pilgrims knelt to thank God. Their harvest was not a rich one, they faced the prospect of a long, bleak winter to be followed by an uncertain Spring. But still, those who had survived the rigorous year just past were deeply thankful for all that they had . . . and did not dwell upon that which they had not.

It was their faith and the faith of others like them which has enabled our country to survive and flourish. Today, more than ever, we and our children need faith like that. We need to kneel in thanks for a bounty far richer than that known or dreamed of by the Pilgrims. In the church of our choice let each of us praise and thank Him for our blessings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NATURE IN A PLAYFUL MOOD

A kitten born at Sunnyslope Hatchery, New Ulm, has a perfect letter S on her back, so she was christened Suzy Sunnyslope.—"Some pumpkins" applies accurately to a pumpkin from the Peter Jacobson farm near Montgomery—46 inches around, 14 inches top-to-bottom and 42 pounds of pie filler.—Max makes like tame when he's called to share some tidbit offered by youngsters in an Austin park, but when strangers approach to see what goes on, the wily little red fox makes like wild again.—So eager was Ed Rausch, Howard Lake, to go duck hunting that he broke a finger jamming hunting trousers into boots; with the second finger of his left hand in a cast, he went hunting anyway.

New 1955 Rambler Cross Country

Shown is the 1955 Rambler Cross Country station wagon, featuring modern styling refinements and outstanding maneuverability. According to George Romney, president, American Motors Corporation, the Rambler will become the first "basic volume car" sold and serviced by both Nash and Hudson dealers. The four-door Cross Country features a distinctive "stepped" roof-top line, highlighted by an auxiliary luggage carrier called the "Travel-Rack." In addition to the Cross Country, the Rambler line includes the four-door Sedan model in the 108-inch wheelbase series, and the two-door Suburban station wagon, Country Club hardtop and Club Sedan in the 100-inch wheelbase series.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, City

There will be a Silver wedding anniversary open house for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kisch at their home this Sunday, Nov. 28. No invitations have been sent but the friends and neighbors of Andy and Hannah are very welcome to come between the hours of 1 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

Miss Carol Hanson of Crookston spent the week end a week ago with her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hanson.

Mrs. C. H. Belswenger, Ronald and Russell motored to Warren Saturday where they met their daughter and sister, Zona Belswenger, who had come from Grafton, N. D. Miss Belswenger is spending a week's vacation at her home here from her nurses aide duties at the St. Josephs hospital in Grafton.

The Smiley community club had an interesting meeting Friday evening at the Smiley Hall. The annual election of officers produced a complete new slate for the year. The new officers are president, Maurice Newton; vice president, Robert Kraemer, secretary; Mrs. Arnold Hammer, treasurer; Mrs. Mark Olson, custodian; Adam Lendobeja and the five year trusteeship, Ted Belswenger. Miss Thora Skomedahl of Thief River Falls presented her interesting traveling with slides of her European trip this summer. Her knack of putting in touches of humor made it all more interesting. Gerald Sanders sang two solos accompanied by himself on the guitar. Ted Belswenger showed movies loaned him by his cousin, Walter Belswenger of Fisher. The Pasadena Rose Bowl parade and the antics of the animals in various zoos were most fascinating. A social hour and lunch served by the Harlan Knutson, Arnold Hammer and Lawrence Philipp families. The excellent program was arranged by the Ted Belswenger and Ted Lendobeja couples.

Mrs. Andrew Kisch was called to Northfield Tuesday morning on the death of her brother, Oscar Pederson. She returned home Wednesday accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Howard Ristau and children Lon and Lori of St. Paul. Mr. Ristau arrived here Friday morning for the funeral services for Mr. Pederson. Holiday Accidents Will Cost 9 Lives?

Most Minnesotans are planning on having a very enjoyable Thanksgiving day, with the only unpleasantness resulting from having eaten too much turkey. But there will be others, according to A. V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, who will suffer great physical agony, even death, as the result of traffic accidents.

If deaths and accidents occur as they have in the past, the following score can be expected for the holiday weekend:

9 traffic deaths.
816 accidents.

Breaking the statistics for the past five years down even further, Rohweder ventured that there would be 163 accidents involving property damage, death or injury reported during each of the five days of the long weekend, resulting in an average of two deaths per day and an additional 54 motorists being injured and requiring hospitalization.

"Virtually every one of these accidents," he said, "can be avoided and the Highway Department's estimates for the coming weekend made to look preposterous if every motorist will realize that it is up to him to prevent accidents. In only a very few rare instances can another motorist or pedestrian help you avoid an accident. And when such a fortunate condition does develop, it is only because the other motorist was being especially careful and attentive to his good driving and your poor driving."

Rohweder warned against expecting "the other fellow" to look out for everyone else, especially during the long, five-day holiday weekend.

"Safety," he concluded, "is each driver's personal responsibility. Don't spoil what should be a happy Thanksgiving weekend by neglecting to accept your responsibility for the prevention of traffic accidents."

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am planning to apply for disability compensation. Since I have just had a physical examination at a recognized private hospital, would it be necessary for me to be examined again by the VA?

A—No, it would not be necessary for you to be examined by VA, so long as your hospital examination identifies your disabling condition and presents sufficient findings so that VA can properly evaluate the condition. Further, your examination must have been certified by the hospital's chief medical officer or his physician-designate.

Q—I am in the organized reserves, and I have been called to active training duty for two weeks. Will those two weeks count in lengthening my entitlement to Korean GI Bill training?

A—No. Training duty may not be counted in determining entitlement to Korean GI Bill training. Only active-duty—as oppoed to training duty—may be considered in computing entitlement.

Q—I lost my GI insurance policy. If something happens to me, will my beneficiaries still be able to get the proceeds to the policy?

A—Yes. The policy itself, which has been issued to you, is for informational purposes only. It is not necessary to produce the policy as evidence that the insurance is in effect; proceeds will be paid anyhow, so long as VA records show your policy was in force.

Q—I am attending a trade school full-time under the Korean GI Bill. I have been told that I will be allowed 30 days of absences a year. Is this total pro-rated on a monthly basis, or are any number of absences during a single month permitted?

A—The absences are not prorated on a monthly basis. You are permitted to take your allowable absences at any time during your school year, according to your own needs.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

A BIG DINNER

The Rainy Lake gold rush was one of Minnesota's great events of the 1890ies. Hundreds of men went to the boundary waters in search of gold. Prospects were alluring. In fact, some said that there was so much gold on the border that so much would be mined that this rare metal would lose its value.

Rainy Lake City was an excited town for several years. It reached the zenith of its career in 1897 just at the time when prospects on the Rainy were petering out and new strikes had been made in the Klondike.

Thanksgiving Day of 1897 was marked by a dinner at the Lake Shore House. That day the gold seekers and the people of the community lived high on native foods.

DUCKS ON THE RIVER

It will never be known, and it can never be computed, how much the presence of wild game in Minnesota meant to the development of the state.

In the earliest days most of the people depended upon game for their existence. Venison meant the difference between survival and starvation. James Goodhue wrote in the Minnesota Pioneer that the only meat the capital city of St. Paul once had in its markets was mallard ducks.

With so many rivers and lakes wild ducks and geese were the basis of food for many families everywhere. Ducks were plentiful beyond the imagination of present generations. They were shot on their way south in the fall and as they winged north in the spring.

In 1766, Jonathan Carver, in writing of his travels in the great area later to become part of Minnesota, told of the great numbers of ducks. He especially liked the teal which have always been one of the most prolific of the ducks hatched in Minnesota. Said Carver, "the teal were perhaps not to be equalled for the fatness and delicacy of their flesh by any other in the world." Many Minnesota hunters hold to the same opinion nearly two hundred years later.

ON THE AIR

Station KUOM, licensed on January 13, 1922, was the first authorized radio station in Minnesota. In fact, KUOM is believed to be the oldest radio-telephone broadcasting station, that has been in constant operation since its establishment, in the United States.

Scientific work on radio began at the University of Minnesota in 1912. In the electrical engineering building a space, enclosed by some two-by-fours and chicken wire contained the benches and machines at which teachers and pupils worked.

Prior to the first world war a station transmitting messages by code was constructed. Thruout the state there were many listeners, primarily young experimenters with crystal sets. All amateur radio broadcasting was prohibited during the war. After the war the work began again. Soon the station abandoned code and could transmit the sounds of the voice or musical instruments. In 1920 a transmitter, one kilowat in power, was erected.

MISSION SCHOOLS

Long before Minnesota had public schools for its children there were many mission schools in various parts of the state. These were designed for the education of young Indians.

As far as is known the first mission school, and the first school of any kind other than at Fort Snelling where mothers cooperated to teach their own children, was at Sandy lake. This was established in 1832 by Frederick Ayer, one of the great pioneer preachers and teachers. The following year a school was established at the mission at Leech lake and in 1834 E. F. Ely started a school at Fond du Lac. In 1836 a mission, farm and school was begun at Lake Pokegama, near what is now Pine City.

All of these schools served the Chippewa population. The first school among the Sioux was taught by Sarah Poage at Lac qui Parle in 1835. In the same year Doctor Williamson on the Minnesota established a school at which he began teaching in the Dakotah language. A school at Kaposia was begun in 1837.

In 1842 the young Chippewas were given a mission school at Red lake and in the same year another school was established on Cass lake.

The attendance at these mission schools might be as low as five and 25 was the highest. The work was, by necessity, slow and discouraging for many of the pupils never really learned to talk the English language.

The first general school for English speaking pupils was established in St. Paul by Harriet Bishop in 1847. In the first session of the territorial legislature in 1849 Minnesota adopted statutes providing for general public education, laws which have ranked among the most progressive of their kind.

When you have work to do you might as well do it, nobody will do it for you.

Superintendent [illegible]r Oakland Park Rest Home is S[illegible]ured; Will Start New 4-County [illegible]peration Dec. 15

Donald C. Brandvold, who for several years has served as superintendent of the Sunnyside Rest Home at Lake Park, in Becker County, will be superintendent of the Oakland Park Rest Home here. He accepted the invitation of the executive committee representing the welfare boards of Roseau, Marshall, Red Lake and Pennington counties at a meeting Monday night. He will take charge of the plant, formerly the Oakland Park Sanatorium, December 15.

Mr. Brandvold comes highly recommended by state officials. The Lake Park home is operated jointly by Becker and Clay counties, having been converted to this purpose four years ago when the patient load no longer justified its continued operation as a TB sanatorium. It was the first home organized under a law authorizing such action and on the strength of the success of the Lake Park operation more conversions have been encouraged. The Oakland Park sanatorium is the eighth such institution in the state to be converted into a rest home.

The buildings at Oakland Park have been thoroughly renovated and, completely equipped as it is, patients will be admitted shortly after Mr. Brandvold assumes his new duties in two weeks. In the meantime Mrs. Thora Jenson, who was office manager for the sanatorium operation, has been retained as custodian.

Mr. Brandvold is married and has three children, two of whom are attending high school at Detroit Lakes.

Members of the executive committee of the welfare boards of the four counties that are operating the rest home jointly are, Andy Erickson of Badger, for Roseau county, chairman; Roy Edmand, Warren; Omer Houle, Red Lake Falls, and Carl Anderson of rural Thief River Falls. John Lynskey, secretary of the Pennington county Welfare Board is acting as the recording secretary for the committee.

Gift Shop Will Open Tomorrow

The new gift shop at Northwestern Hospital will be opened tomorrow, Mrs. M. D. Starekow and Mrs. George Van Rooy, co-chairmen, announced today. For the time being the shop will be open only during visiting hours afternoon and evening, Monday through Saturday.

As soon as the necessary equipment arrives a coffee bar, where light snacks may be purchased, will be added to the gift shop operation.

Jubilee Singers Entertain Lions

The Chicago Spiritual Jubilee Singers, who were appearing at the Salvation Army in this city, were guests of the Lions club at their noon meeting Wednesday. Lt. Arthur Weir, commander of the Salvation Army, introduced the quintet and they presented an interesting program of negro spirituals and folk music.

Green Mortuary Front Rebuilt

The Green Funeral Home on Main Avenue at Fourth has been rebuilt and with a new entrance the lobby has been made much more attractive. The mortuary is operated by O. S. and O. J. Green, a father and son partnership.

Square Dancers to Meet Saturday

The Thief River Falls Square Dance Club will meet Saturday evening, Dec. 4, at the City auditorium. Bob Figenshaw of East Grand Forks will call and dancing will start at 9 o'clock with a special beginners class at 8:30.

Many beginners have recently joined the club and anyone interested in learning how to square dance is cordially invited to attend according to Mrs. Randal Noper, president.

PTA Panel Tonight Will Be Unrehearsed

"There will be nothing cut and dried about the panel which is to be the feature at the Lincoln High School PTA Wednesday evening (tonight), Dec. 1st", says Rev. W. P. Clausen, chairman of the organization. He says that the participants, Mr. Ostby, principal of Lincoln High School, Ted Humes, Elmer Anderson, Mrs. Lloyd Spray and Mrs. H. O. Chommie will express their personal views on the problems at hand.

As announced, the panel will have to do with "Who's to Blame?" in the area of delinquency among youth. Following the presentation by the panel members questions may be addressed to the panel from the floor.

The meeting will begin promptly with the business session in the course of which there will be musical selections arranged for by Miss Mary McNellis. Mrs. Justus Larson, chairman of the refreshment committee, says that her committee will be ready for a large group. "Lunch time" says the chairman, "is a good time for parents and teachers to get acquainted."

Valuation Up, Levy Down in Pennington

Increased Valuation Nearly All in the City of Thief River Falls

Taxable valuation went up slightly in Pennington county for the coming year and there will be a slight decrease in the tax levy for county purposes, County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr announced yesterday. The mill levy will be 57.90 mills compared to 58.28 mills for the present year.

The county's total assessed valuation increased from $4,842,804 to $4,903,110. Of this $60,000 increase, $53,000 was added to the total for the city of Thief River Falls.

The reduced mill levy was due largely to the fact that the county has retired all of its general obligations except the court house. There was a 4.93 mill levy last year for debt service that has been dropped this year. This is offset in part by an increased levy for the court house sinking fund from 3.32 mills to 5.22 mills. Because of a cash balance there was no levy last year for the Sanatorium and this year 3.06 mills have been spread for sanatorium purposes.

The levy for the two years by classification compare as follows:

Gen. Rev.	16.32	16.52
Rd & Br.	15.00	15.00
Welfare	16.80	17.01
Sanatorium	3.06	None
Ct. House	5.22	3.32
Co. School	1.00	1.00
Fair	.50	.50
Bond & Int.	None	4.93

Fire Chief Urges Precautions for Christmas Safety

Fire chief Roy Langevin urges that all possible precautions be taken for safety in the use of various ornamental materials for Christmas decorations. He points out that a city ordinance prohibits the use of flammable materials. Stocks of cotton and crepe paper, etc. that are not flammable are available at the stores at no additional cost he says.

He suggests that all old materials used in previous years be tested. If they flame then replace them. This applies to homes too but it is of course especially necessary to be careful in the choice of materials for decorations in public places.

"The Lute Song" is a Story From Old China

"The Lute Song", senior class play to be presented at the Lincoln High School auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week, is the modernized version of a five-centuries-old Chinese drama that has proved to be popular Broadway entertainment. The three act play was written by Kao-Tong-Kae and produced in his native China in the year 1404. In its present form it is set in the convention of the Chinese theater.

In leading roles are George Gifford, Lyle Haagenson, Marilyn McCrum and Karen Chommie. Others in the caste are Barb Teal, Bradley Teal, Pat Sandberg, Sid Vraa, Shelby Collins, Floydeen Litstrom, Cherry Johnson, Arvid Wedul, Jim Sauve, Mark Bjorkman, Peter Froehle, David Kollitz, Connie Alberg, Jeanette Walsberg, Collen Raymond, Marjorie Irvin, Janice Hoglo, Joe Poole, David Lee, Lee Kjos, Jack Hoppe and Vernon Solheim. Dancers are Barb Droppo, Pat Zachar, Ivadell Kleinvachter, Gardovon Klach, Doris Pic and Fern Nohre.

The play is being produced under the direction of Mr. Donald Wallen, assisted by Janice Larson, student director. Bonnie Meyers is directing the sound effects and Jack Quesnell is stage manager with Jerry VeVea and Jerry Merell serving as property men. Publicity and ticket sales have been handled under the direction of Marilyn Waale and Connie Walters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Quinnild and daughter Marlene of Moorhead visited Monday at the Harold Eide home.

Jury Is Called for Next Monday

The summoning of the district court jury for Monday of this week was postponed by Judge J. H. Sylvestre when it was reported that several cases set for trial on that day had been settled out of court. The jury will convene however as originally ordered on next Monday, December 6.

City's Bonded Debt Reduced $110,000 in '55

Will Start 1955 Owing $1,168,000; Total Will Increase Next Year

The city of Thief River Falls will start the year 1955 with a total bonded debt of $1,108,000, city clerk P. G. Pederson reports. This is $110,000 less than the funded debt at the beginning of 1954, he states, but anticipates that it will increase again in 1955 with a heavy program of sewer and water main construction to be paid for. Some probably will be necessary in order to meet the large installments coming due on old obligations.

The following table shows how the city's bonds were retired this year according to classification, comparing the total owed at the beginning of 1954 with the total as it will be at the start of next year.

Purpose	Debt Starting 1954	1955
General	$ 373,000	$ 348,000
Elect	330,000	305,000
Water	375,000	325,000
Hosp.	200,000	190,000
Total	$1,278,000	$1,168,000

This is the first year in recent years that there has been a reduction in the bonded debt. The total for the start of 1951 was $980,000; for 1952 $1,050,000 and for 1953 $1,063,000. Without the issue for the hospital the total now would be down to about where it was at the start of 1951.

The city's present cash position is not strong. There have been substantial expenditures out of current funds for unusual purposes such as ball diamond illumination, street lighting. Parking lots and several other improvements Mr. Pederson points out.

Legion District Commander Will Speak Here Dec. 7

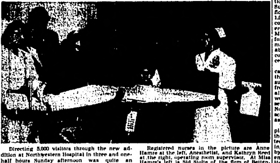
O. T. Johnson of Bagley, ninth district American Legion commander, will be the main speaker at a joint meeting of Eklund-Holmstrom Post and its Auxiliary on Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8:00 p.m. The post and auxiliary will hold separate business meetings prior to the joint session.

Main business of the post will be reports on the Legion fall conference recently held at Minneapolis. Commander Harold M. Johnson and Adjutant Harlin Elseth were post representatives at that gathering while Elmer A. Anderson, immediate past 9th District commander was in attendance at the department executive meeting held in conjunction with the conference.

Lunch will be served by the auxiliary.

5,000 Visitors Inspected Hospital Addition Sunday: Occupied by Patients Yesterday

Crowds of Visitors Inspect Hospital Facilities



Directing 5,000 visitors through the new addition at Northwestern Hospital in three and one-half hours Sunday afternoon was quite an achievement in itself. There were points of special interest in the tour that served as bottlenecks. Among these were the operating facilities and pictured above is a section of the parade that paused to look over the equipment in one of the two main operating rooms.

Registered nurses in the picture are Anne Hamre at the left, Anesthetist, and Kathryn Reed at the right, operating room supervisor. At Miss Hamre's left is Sid Stolte of the firm of Bettenberg, Townsend & Stolte of St. Paul, architects who designed the hospital and also supervising its construction. In the background, not standing on chairs, are two of the big men on the board of directors of the Hospital Association, Frank Rinkel and Judge Paul A. Lundgren.

In the neighborhood of 5,000 visitors responded to the invitation to inspect the new addition to Northwestern Hospital Sunday afternoon, hospital officials estimated. There were 1,050 registrations by actual count, according to Harold Peterson, hospital administrator. Most of the registrations were for "Mr. and Mrs." however, and many who entered were not able to register because of the congestion. The response far exceeded all expectations.

While most of the visitors came from the immediate area, the registration list disclosed a surprisingly large attendance from distant points. Practically all of the communities in northwestern Minnesota were represented with a few in from North Dakota points and a scattered list from as far south as Glenwood.

The inspection was well planned for the convenience of the guests. Visitors were elevated to the third floor, proceeding down through the building by the stairs. Hospital officials, employees and members of the Hospital Auxiliary were kept busy directing traffic. The last stop was in the nurse's dining room where members of the Auxiliary served coffee and cookies—donated home-baked cookies and lots of them.

There were many favorable comments from the visitors. All were impressed with the completeness of the facilities, the convenience of the arrangements and the general cheeriness of the appointments.

There was no program at this Sunday afternoon open-house. That will come some time next summer when the old portion of the hospital will have been remodelled and the entire project completed. It will then have 112 patient beds and 20 bassinets and will be one of the best equipped hospitals in the northwest.

Patients were moved into the new addition yesterday. There will be some shifting about of equipment to make it available during the remodeling period but it is expected that this rebuilding of the old portion will get under way immediately.

Sunday "Pledge Day" at Trinity

Committee of 100 Men to Canvass the Membership

Sunday, December 6, has been designated as "Pledge Day" at Trinity Lutheran church. A committee of 100 men will be commissioned at the morning service to solicit pledges from the entire membership to support church activities during the coming year.

Solicitors will meet in the church basement at 1:30 o'clock when teams will be given instruction and individual assignments. Members of the congregation will be called on during the afternoon.

Club at Plummer to Elect Officers

Emil Malwitz, secretary of the Plummer Sportsman's club, announces that the annual meeting of the organization will be held December 17 when officers for next year will be elected. A drive for new members is now under way, with a .22 automatic rifle being offered as an inducement to build up interest in club activities. Russell Pahlen is president and is active in the drive for members.

Phone Directories Delivered Friday

New telephone directories will be mailed Thursday for delivery Friday to subscribers, A. J. Rau, local company manager announced. The new book, with a total of 3,186 listings, is 53 names larger than the present directory. The Johnsons are the most numerous name group in the book again with the Olsons running a close second.

Santa Will Interview Tots Two Afternoons

Santa Claus will be here himself in person two afternoons this week for interviews with tots interested in meeting the merry visitor. He will be at the municipal Auditorium Friday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock and parents are invited to bring youngsters of the starry-eye age in to visit with him. He will have a few souvenirs to distribute among the worthy. Only youngsters accompanied by adults will be admitted.

All Thief River Falls stores other than food markets will remain open again both Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. The new street decorations will be illuminated, Jim Roche reports. Besides the decorations on the light poles it is planned to line the curb with Christmas trees, Roche states, and this will add considerably to the effect in the business section.

Roche has made another appeal to the business and professional people of the city to park their cars outside the zone of limited parking. There is room for only 440 cars on the streets in the zoned area, he states. A recent police survey indicates that many of these spaces are occupied by cars owned by people employed in the business section. Roche urges that such cars be parked elsewhere especially during the next few weeks of traffic congestion.

REPORT VANDALISM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Chief of Police Elton Cummings reports that Lincoln high school had been entered Saturday night with some damage resulting to school propety.

Goodridge To Build. Bond Issue Gets OK

Approve $130,000 Issue by Vote of 115 to 46 at Special Election Monday

By a one-sided count of 115 to 46, voters of the Goodridge school district approved a proposed bond issue in the amount of $130,000 for additions to their school plant at a special election Monday. Superintendent of Schools David Brown states that plans for the enlarged facilities will now be completed and after approval by the board and a citizen's committee will be ready for a call for bids some time in March.

Six new classrooms for the elementary grades will be provided in a wing to extend north from the present main building. Another wing extending to the south would provide for shop courses. The tentative plans provide for a new entrance from the gymnasium to the main building and some general remodelling.

The Goodridge district serves a large area in eastern Pennington and Marshall counties and northwestern Beltrami. The enlarged facilities will make it possible to relieve the present extremely crowded conditions and also provide courses that are not now available.

Members of the special citizens committee that has made a study of the district's needs and who now will meet with the district officials in considering the final plans are Bert Johnson, Ray Farnow, George Vraa, Orris Olson, Albert Wilkens, Roy Anderson, Curtis Hanson, Adolph Geving, Mrs. Norman Jorgensen, Mrs. Joe Schlofert, Mrs Gust Skreland and Mrs. Sam Haugen.

Creamery Annual Meet December 14

Notices of the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Creamery, to be held in the municipal Auditorium Tuesday, December 14, are being mailed out this week, Manager G. B. Bergland states. The meeting is scheduled to start at 1:00 o'clock. Lou Conlon, Minnesota representative of the NDA will speak.

Land O'Lakes to Hold Two-District Conference Here

Afternoon Session will be Held at Eagles Hall. Evening Banquet at Trinity Church

Representatives of forty Land O'Lakes affiliated creameries in districts 14 and 17 will meet here Tuesday, December 7, according to Stuart McLeod, local plant manager. Afternoon sessions will be held at the Eagles hall starting at 1:00 o'clock and a dinner will be served at the Trinity Lutheran church dining room at 6:00 o'clock.

Dr. Joseph Knutson, president of Concordia college at Moorhead, and Oscar Z. Ramsberg, vice president and director of public relations of the Minnesota Motor Transport Association of St. Paul, will be the banquet speakers.

The afternoon program will be devoted to creamery management problems. Three Land O'Lakes officials, Ben Zakariasen, manager of laboratories and field service; Chester Johnson, in charge of the feed department, and F. J. Ziegler, manager of the equipment sales division, will lead the discussions.

C & C Regular Meeting Thursday

The regular meeting of the Civic & Commerce Association will be held at the Rex Cafe Thursday noon, Jim Roche, secretary announces. The results of the election of six new directors will be announced and several committee reports will be made.

Canadian Guests of Local Legion Post Enjoyed TV Football Victory Saturday

MOORE'S TRANS CANAD

More than 100 Canadians from the St. James-Winnipeg area braved the icy roads to come to Thief River Falls to view the Grey Cup football classic over television Saturday afternoon. Hosts for the occasion were Eklund-Holmstrom Post of the American Legion and its auxiliary. The guests many of whom are Canadian Legionnaires, were well-rewarded for making the trip, for the Edmonton Eskimos representing the West, scored an upset victory over the Eastern team from Montreal.

The group brought some fine entertainers along with them, including a quartet and other musicians. They provided the members of the local Post with some lively entertainment, including a novel musical pogo-stick solo.

Plans are now underway by local Legionnaires to pay a return visit to St. James sometime next spring when the second floor of their new building is dedicated.

Walter Smith Claims Delores Engen As Bride

The Nazareth Lutheran church of Holt was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon, November 27, when Miss Delores Engen of Holt became the bride of Walter Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Shevlin. Rev. Raymond Brandt officiated at the double ring ceremony. Tiered candlebra graced the altar and ivy decorated the church to provide the setting for the ceremony.

JoAnn Ness, cousin of the bride, played prenuptial music and the traditional wedding march. She also accompanied Marvin Sandberg, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a chapel length gown of chantilly lace over satin, with a net insert of accordion pleats in the front. Tiny satin covered buttons extended down the back of her gown. Her sleeves came to points over the wrists. The bouquet she carried was of tangerine roses and white and yellow mums.

Gladys Ness, friend of the bride from Minneapolis, was maid of honor. Shirley Larson also of Minneapolis was bridesmaid. They both wore gowns of powder blue creptaliette with bouffant skirts. Janice Engen, sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid and Rebecca Engen, another sister, was flower girl. Their dresses were of yellow taffeta and white net over taffeta respectively. They all carried bouquets of roses and mums.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Earl Smith of Shevlin. The other gentlemen attendants were Richard Miller of Sioux City, Iowa, and Gary Rose, nephew of the groom from Solway, Minn. Roger Bowman of Minneapolis and Irwin Larson of this city acted as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Engen chose a black velveteen dress with black accessories. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Christ Engen and Mrs. Ole Lunke wore gray suits. Their corsages were red roses and white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors with about 100 guests in attendance. Mrs. Gary Sjurseth cut and served the wedding cakes, while Mrs. Bertil Ness and Mrs. Clifford Jarland, aunts of the bride poured. The waitresses were Mrs. Vernon Lee, Mrs. Elroy Benitt, Miss Ione Larson and Miss Marlene Larson. Miss Janice Peppin of Dorothy registered the guests while Miss Patricia Dyrud and Miss Shirley MacDonald of Minneapolis presided over the gift table.

For their wedding trip Mrs. Smith wore a peacock blue dress with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Newfolden high school and has been employed at the Federal Reserve bank in Minneapolis. The groom attended high school in Bagley and has recently completed four years of service in the Air Force. The couple will make their home at 1511 Rebecca street, Sioux City, Iowa.

Out of town guests present for the wedding were Mrs. Lorell Anderson, Margaret Peterson, LaVern Holmaas, Kenneth Rafteseth, Noreen Christenson, Patricia Dyrud, Shirley MacDonald, Wallace Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kiekow of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rose, Lyle, Gary and Merton Peterson of Solway; Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Jimmy of Grand Forks, N. Dak.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lemieux of South Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peppin, Janice and Gilbert of Dorothy; Mrs. Charles Devlin of Alexis, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller, Sioux City, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown and Ken of Mayville, North Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and family of Crookston; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and family and Shirley Coffman of Shevlin; Helen Horgan, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Offerdahl of this city and Mrs. W. E. Windecker of Hendrum.

American Legion Auxiliary To Meet December 7

The American Legion auxiliary will hold its meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at 8 p. m. in the Legion club rooms. Mrs. John Lang, president and Mrs. John Jaranson, secretary of the unit were delegates to the fall conference which was held at the Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis Nov. 26 and 27. Each will give a short talk on their impressions of the conference.

Mrs. Kenneth Halldin, membership chairman, announced the unit as being overtop before Nov. 11. Membership now being 315. Mrs. Lang with other unit presidents who had overtop units by conference time were honored for this achievement. Congratulations to the membership chairman and her committee.

Keeping in mind the Back to God movement of the American Legion the auxiliary will sing the hymn of the month—How Brightly Beams the Morning Star.

Mrs. Lang announced that information has been received from national headquarters that the Juniors will start work on the doll contest under the Pan American Study committee. The dolls must be dressed in Panamanian costume with a brief historical sketch of the characteristics of Panama and its people enclosed with the doll. This is to foster a better understanding of the customs and life in general of our Pan American neighbors.

After the business session a joint social hour will be enjoyed with the American Legion Post.

Lunch will be served.

Chrysanthemums formed the setting the evening ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. W. Lyngdal in Trinity Lutheran church.

Mrs. Bernice Welk presided at the organ and accompanied Don Hoquist, the vocalist.

A cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy complemented the gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle over satin worn by the bride. The molded bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and sheer yoke of illusion enchanced by appliqued flowerettes. Her floor-length bouffant skirt fell from a petal point waist and featured appliqued flowerettes. Her veil of English silk illusion was caught to a regal crown of pearls and sequins. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. William Lee was matron of honor for her sister and Miss Betty Orchard was bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of starlet blue crystalette. The halter bodices were accented with a deeper velvet trim and topped with shrug jackets. Their full skirts were ballerina length. They carried casade bouquets of yellow and White and matching floral headbond.

Best man for his brother waas Royal Funk. Richard Schnuckle and Robert Davis ushered.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue sheer dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother chose black sheer and also wore a corsage of red roses.

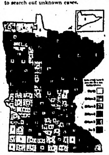
Nearly 12,000 New TB Cases Reported

A total of 11,881 new cases of tuberculosis were reported to the Minnesota Department of Health during the past five years. Every county in the state reported new cases. The counties that are black reported the highest number of new cases. The number of cases reported are affected by the efforts made to search out unknown cases.



Facts About the New Cases

TB is attacking men more frequently than women. Over 400 more cases were reported among males than among females.

The highest tuberculosis prevalence is among men over 60.

A remarkable reduction has been made in TB among young children and teen agers. But 41 cases were reported of children under five years old, and over 180 between the ages of 5 and 19.

TB occurs increasingly after 25 years of age.

The tuberculosis problem has now shifted from the younger to the senior citizens.

To Prevent Accidents — Obey Signs of Life

"Obey road signs and signals—your signs of life—and you'll cut down accidents by at least one-tenth," was the statement issued today by Earl M. Larimer, Minnesota's director of highway safety who is also the state's "S-D Day" director. S-D Day is December 15, as proclaimed by President Eisenhower and Governor Anderson, when an all-out effort will be made throughout the nation to prevent all traffic accidents.

Today's traffic warning from Larimer is intended to focus motorists' attention on one of the eight leading causes of accidents in Minnesota during 1953. Disregarding signs and signals resulted in 5,849 reported accidents, with 58 of them resulting in death to motorists or pedestrians.

"Every stop sign, warning sign and traffic signal," he concluded, "is placed on a road or street for the protection of motorists and pedestrians. Obeying the message they convey will help you avoid being involved in a costly or fatal accident. Heed the signs of life."

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Fears Can be Contagious

"Oh, Nancy, stay away from that dog!"

The tiny toddler stops in her tracks. She is on her way to investigate that furry, active, inviting animal when her mother's apprehensive warning brings her to a halt. She looks up inquiringly.

"He may bite you, dear!" comes the fearful answer.

How will Nancy react to a dog the next time she sees one? She may be more cautious, especially if her mother is along again. Repeat this emotional situation a few more times, and the child might develop a genuine fear of dogs.

Nancy may have no direct experiences which cause her to be afraid of dogs. But the fear learned from her mother may be no less real. Such contagious fears as those of the dark, of thunder storms, of animals or strange people.

The apprehensive parent who tries to hide his feelings from the child probably will not be successful. Children are too quick to sense emotions. The parent must attempt to conquer his own fears if he does not want them to be transferred to the child.

Easier said than done? Just summoning the courage to look at the fear can help. Perhaps parent and child together can approach the situation. Getting to know more about the things we fear, looking for the pleasant aspects of the feared object, and just being with those who are not afraid — all are ways of conquering fear.

It won't happen overnight. Learning a fear takes time; so does unlearning it. Release from being afraid is the reward.

Hard to Measure Value of Grasses

It's difficult to put a dollar value on a grass or legume crop in a regular rotation over and above its values as a livestock feed. Many values last for years. Rodney A. Briggs, Extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota says it's easy to overlook that "bonus" value in improving soil structure, holding water, controlling plant diseases and insects, and boosting yields, and protecting wild life.

Often, that hard-to-measure bonus surpasses the value of the original use the grasses were planted for.

Thye Cites Need for Reserve Funds

Government funds appropriated for medical research in fighting disease will ultimately pay the "largest dividends" of any of the taxpayers' dollars, Senator Edward J. Thye declared in Washington where he addressed the annual convention of the United Cerebral Palsy associations on November 20.

"Of all the many billions appropriated, the money that holds the greatest promise for future generations is that being spent for federally sponsored research," Thye said. "This amount is a relatively small percentage of our total budget but it may mean protecting future generations from the ravages of crippling and killing diseases."

Senator Thye received a citation from the United Cerebral Palsy Federation for his leadership in obtaining federal funds for medical research.

Hospital Visitors Enjoyed Lunch

Many of the visitors who inspected the new addition to Northwestern Hospital Sunday afternoon enjoyed coffee and cookies at the end of their tour, served by the members of the Hospital Auxiliary. In the background of this dining room scene are Mrs. Lucille Ekeren and Mrs Thora Jenson, pouring at the coffee counter as the guests filed through the cafeteria.

Death Claims Life of Mrs. G. Asbjornson

Mrs. Gunder Asbjornson passed away Tuesday November 30. The funeral services will be conducted Saturday, December 4 at 2 p. m. at the Ebenezer Lutheran church in rural Thief River Falls. Rev. O. M. Simonson of Plummer will officiate. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Asbjornson was born in Saterdalen, Norway, June 6 1877, and came to the United States in 1901. She was united in marriage September 27, 1901 to Gunder Asbjornson. They settled in Garnes township where they lived for three years. They then moved to Mayfield where she and her husband homesteaded. They lived there until 1945 when they moved to this city and have since resided. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

Surviving are her husband, five children, Asbjorn of Oklee; Mrs. Henry (Tilla) Waale of Goodridge; John, Mrs. Carl (Gertie) Gustafson and Mrs. Roy (Ragna) Jacobson of Chisholm. Also surviving are eight grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents and one son.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home from tonight (Wednesday) until Saturday morning.

County Groups to Help Santa Claus

Members of the 30 Pennington county homemakers groups have decided to make Christmas a little merrier for a few families in the county. They are contributing toys, clothing and money to give to children who would otherwise not receive such gifts.

The gifts will be brought to the December meeting of the Extension Home Council, who originated the idea. Councilors will wrap the gifts and give them at Christmas to the needy children. This "merrier-Christmas" project has created quite a wide interest among the homemakers, Miss Olsen added. The fact that it is to help county families has added a great deal to interest and enthusiasm.

Final Rites Conducted for Mrs. T. Myron

Death claimed the life of Mrs Theo. (Bertha) Myron of Chicago, Illinois, Thursday, November 25. The funeral services were held Tuesday, Novemeber 30, at the Evangelical Free church with Rev. Joseph Swan officiating. Burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Born September 2, 1901 in this city, she was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. She completed her schooling in this city and was married, October 7, 1924, to Theo. Myron in Chicago. They have since made their home in that city.

Mrs. Myron is survived by her husband of Chicago; her mother, Mrs. Lena Bugge of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Kerr of Bremerton, Washington, and Mrs. Arthur (Emma) Osmoe of Kenmare, North Dakota. Seven brothers also survive, Arthur and Wm. R. of this city; Jay of Chicago, Illinois; Ernest of New York, N. Y.; Harold of Seattle, Washington; Ruben of Heidelberg, Germany and Walter of Seattle, Washington. She was preceded in death by her father and one brother.

John Osmundson Passes Away At Local Hospital

John O. Osmundson, passed away in the local hospital, Saturday, November 27. The funeral services were held this afternoon (Wednesday) at the Gulbranson chapel with Rev. J. J. Jacobson officiating. The body was interred at the Synod cemetery, east of Erskine.

Mr. Osmundson was born July 13, 1874 in Norway. At the age of 16 he came to the United States and to Erskine where he worked as a farm hand until he homesteaded in Hickory township in 1914. He spent most of his life as a trapper of game. He has lived in this city for the past ten years.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs Tillie Torgerson, Mrs. Julia Nethus of Goodridge, four nephews and five nieces. He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother.

Salvation Army Week Proclaimed by Eisenhower

The week of November 28 through December 5 has been proclaimed National Salvation Army week by the President of the United States. It is set aside to familiarize the people of our country with the many phases of the Salvation Army work.

On a local level, Lt. Arthur Weir states, a condensed report of some of the years activities and services would include grocery orders for needy families and many articles of clothing distributed free. The Christmas effort of last year provided 38 food baskets. Needy children were given toys and candy and fruit were distributed in hospitals and homes for the aged.

Although social and welfare work make up a big part of our program he says, the main purpose of the Army is that of spreading the gospel. In the past 12 months we have conducted 258 adult religious services and 156 young peoples services.

We, The Officers and Directors of the

take this means of expressing our very sincere appreciation for the interest demonstrated in the progress of the hospital by the several thousand visitors who inspected the new addition Sunday afternoon. This response, in terms of the number of people who came, was very gratifying. And it was pleasant too to hear the many nice things said about what has been accomplished up to this time.

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR THANKS TO THE MEMBERS OF THE HOSPITAL AUXILIARY AND TO THE MEMBERS OF THE HOSPITAL STAFF AND EMPLOYEES FOR THEIR SPLENDID COOPERATION.

WITH SO MUCH GENERAL INTEREST IN OUR NEW HOSPITAL, AND SO MANY EVIDENCES OF A WILLINGNESS TO GET BEHIND IT IN ONE UNITED EFFORT TO MAKE IT SUCCEED, WE NOW HAVE THE FEELING THAT THIS INSTITUTION IS BEGINNING TO TAKE ITS RIGHTFUL PLACE IN THE THINKING OF ALL OF US AS A GREAT COMMUNITY UTILITY THAT IS OWNED BY ALL OF US AND IN WHICH WE ALL HAVE A COMMON INTEREST.

We, the officers and directors, renew our pledge to the community that we will do our very best in our effort to operate this institution as economically as possible, maintaining the high standards that must be maintained in a good hospital.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

By John C. McDonald
State Capitol Correspondent
For the Mpls.-Trib. Guest Editor

An electric new atmosphere charged with activity and a sense of impending change has taken over the massive heap of granite that sits atop Capitol Hill in St. Paul.

The vanguard of a new state administration walks lofty halls even before the old regime has packed its bags. Unfamiliar voices seek out legislative chambers that soon will resound with their debate.

An aura of good will pervades everything—so far. None of the bitterness of the last big governmental upheaval of 16 years ago has appeared — yet.

Begins Shaping Budget

How long will it last?

An ambitious young Governor-elect, Orville L. Freeman, determined that his administration will remove the memory of the last days of the Farmer-Labor regime in the late 1930's, holds audience in a capitol office from morning till night. He confers with friends and advisers, with department heads and jobseekers.

He has begun, with the help of his new commissioner of administration, political scientist Arthur Naftalin, to shape up the budget under which he will operate for the coming two years.

Freeman is intent upon putting forth a sound, moderate program that will convince Minnesota voters they need more than one term of Democratic-Farmer-Labor government backed by a Liberal house of representatives.

The Best of Both

Governor C. Elmer Anderson, retiring chief executive, has shown he means to give Minnesota the best of both administrations by making the change-over as smooth as possible. He has said privately that he is favorably impressed by the way his successor is approaching the big job that faces him.

Freeman's biggest concern is the "financial dilemma" in which he says he finds the state of Minnesota. That would have been the thorniest issue for any administration in the coming biennium.

Here's the Problem

The problem, boiled down to its essentials, is this: Anticipated revenues for the next two years won't pay for operations even at current levels.

One of the major items is that of school aids, which are paid out of state income tax revenues. The big backlog of unused funds of two years ago has melted away. Receipts for the biennium won't be sufficient to pay school aids at their present basic level of $80 for each pupil. Yet school groups say this must be boosted to $90.

Where to Find the Money?

Where will it come from? Certainly not, says the tax department, merely by imposing a withholding tax in the hope of making collections airtight.

Freeman has indicated he would like to make some adjustments in the personal property tax which industry claims is discriminatory. But he'll be in no position to wipe it out entirely—it produces more than 50 million sorely-needed dollars a year. The Governor-to-be will veto any sales tax legislation.

His proposals for solution of the problem will be presented to the 1955 legislature in a budget message to be delivered early in the session. Under Minnesota law he must balance income against outgo—even in the budget. So if he wants to broaden state services he must propose new revenues to cover them.

What About the Legislature?

For the first time since the 1937 session, it appears as if the lower house of the 59th legislature will be under Liberal control. The division will be so close, it is certain that neither the Liberal nor the Conservative faction can be confident of putting through legislation without occasional help from the other side.

More than one-third—46 — of the 131 house members will be freshmen. Turnover in the 67-man senate will be even greater as a result of the general election which swept a DFL state ticket into office. There will be 28 first-term senators.

Most of the new crop in the upper house will caucus with the Conservative majority faction, as did their predecessors, to give it what is expected to be a 48-to-19 edge.

But there is no telling at this time just how "conservative" some of the newcomers are. Maybe they won't take their label too much to heart in the traditionally loose-knit chamber in which members are inclined to talk without restraint and to vote in the same way.

She says she can't write letters without letterheads.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I have a nephew who is a World War II veteran drawing a VA pension because he is paralyzed from the waist down for reasons not connected with his service. He gets an extra amount because he needs regular aid and attendance. He has just been admitted to a VA hospital for treatment. Will his extra allowance continue or will it be cut off?

A—It will continue while he is hospitalized. In many instances, the extra allowance stops when a veteran enters a VA hospital. But it generally is continued for paralyzed veterans and those who lost their sight.

Q—Would it be possible for me to take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill on a part-time basis.

A—No. The law requires that on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill must be on a full time basis.

Q—My daughter has been receiving VA compensation payments based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. She reached her eighteenth birthday during the summer vacation between school terms. Will she be eligible for payments for the time between her birthday and the time she resumes school?

A—Yes. Payments may be authorized for the period between your daughter's birthday and her re-entry into school.

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and I have never remarried. I also am a World War II veteran myself. Would I be eligible for two GI loans—one on the basis of being an unremarried widow, and the other based on my own eligibility?

A—No. You would be eligible for only one GI loan—based on your own eligibility as a veteran.

1,151,320 WAGE EARNERS IN STATE

Employment in Minnesota reached a new all-time high in September 1953, with 851,320 gainfully employed in non-agricultural activities and 300,000 in agriculture. GM Fetes 50 Millionth Car

T. H. Keating, general manager of Chevrolet, (left) presents to Harlow H. Curtice, head of General Motors, keys to the corporation's 50 millionth automobile—a Chevrolet sport coupe. Bright metal parts of the car were especially gold-plated and the vehicle later became the center of civic celebration in Flint, Mich. Meantime, the production milestone was observed by open houses in most General Motors plants. A tour is planned for the historic car.

Tractor Accidents Greater Hazard

People take all sorts of precautions to prevent crippling polio and buy polio policies for their youngsters, but they often ignore one other crippler — the farm tractor.

Do you realize that there is a heavier toll of deaths and injury among young people because of tractor accidents than from polio. Nearly a third of the over 30 tractor accident deaths reported since January 1, 1954, were children under 10 years of age. As of November 9, there had been a total of 611 cases of polio and 14 deaths — and only two deaths were of children under ten years of age.

Glenn Prickett, Extension farm safety specialist at the University of Minnesota, gave us these shocking figures.

Farm and Home Week, Jan. 11-14

One of the many special talks of Farm and Home Week, Jan. 11-14, will be by authority on how the new social security law affects rural people. This should be very profitable and well worth a drive into the cities. We will soon have printed Farm and Home Week programs and will let you know when they arrive so you can pick up a copy.

S-D Practice Assignments

For those thinking of their practice sessions for S-D Day, here are the two subjects for this week. Number One: Obey signs and signals — they were designed with your good health in mind. Number Two: Keep a safe distance between your car and the one ahead. That "safe distance" will vary, of course. On icy roads, it should be quite a little farther than on ordinary good roads with good "footing."

Flax Information Available

How flax can fit into a farm program is told in a new University of Minnesota Extension Folder, No. 128, available free at our office. Subjects covered include varieties, clean seed, seedbed preparation, fertilization, sowing time and rate, weed control by cultural and chemical methods, and harvesting, storing and marketing problems.

Cows Need Water

Did you know that Betsy must drink from four to five pounds of water to make just one pound of milk? A cow giving 30 pounds of milk a day should have 15 gallons of water. But if she has to drink cold water through an ice hole, chances are she'll drink a lot less and her milk output will drop. And it takes extra feed to produce the heat to bring that ice water up to body temperature. University of Tennessee scientists find, for example, that a cow needs four pounds of alfalfa hay and two pounds of ground corn to warm up 12 gallons of ice water.

This tip comes from Ramer Leighton, Extension dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Marge Olson

It's time to think about making your fruit cake for Christmas. Fruit cake should have at least two weeks to "age" to let spicy, rich flavors develop and blend.

When you store your fruit cake, keep it air tight in a cool place. Aluminum foil makes a good wrap — and an attractive one if you're planning to give the cake as a gift. If you use foil wrap the cake first in waxed paper so the acid of the fruit will not come in contact with the foil. You can also store fruit cakes in the pans in which you bake them, and cover the top closely with foil.

If you have room in your freezer, well-wrapped fruit cakes keep very successfully there.

Here are a few pointers for making Christmas cakes. I am including them especially for new homemakers who are making fruit cake for the first time.

1. Lining the pans is very important to prevent scorching during the baking period. Use 1 layer of aluminum foil next to the pan, then 3 layers of greased brown paper around the sides and 6 layers on the bottom.
2. Well filled pans give a more evenly browned cake. Put the batter into pans up to within 1 inch from the top.
3. A smooth top makes icing easier. Save out about 1 cup batter before adding fruit and nuts. Spread this plain batter over fruit cake batter in pan before baking.
4. Floured fruit will stay up in batter and prevents sinking fruit. Use 1 to 2 cups of the flour given in the recipe to mix with the fruit.
5. Dried out glazed fruit should be placed in a sieve over boiling water to soften before adding to cake batter.
6. To blanch almonds, place in boiling water until skins slip off easily (about 5 min.) Rinse with cold water and peel.
7. To toast almonds, place on a shallow pan and put in 250 degrees oven until golden brown—about 3 to 5 minutes.
8. To puff raisins, wash well and dry between tea towels. Place on a cookie sheet and set in 250 degrees oven to puff, 3 to 5 minutes.
9. Tested baking times are: cakes were baked at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, then reduced to 250 degrees for the remaining time.

5 x 5 x 3	2½ hours
7 x 7 x 3	3 hours
9 x 9 x 3	4 hours
12 x 12 x 3	5 hours

10. The cake is ready when the top springs back when lightly touched. Also, test by inserting a needle into the cake; when it comes out clean, cake is baked. To steam fruit cakes (using graduated tins)

Small cake	Steam 1½ hrs.
	Bake at 375° for ½ hour
Medium cake	Steam 2 hours
	Bake at 375° for ½ hour
Large Cake	Steam 3 hours
	Bake at 375° for ½ hour

11. Dry fruit cake may be moistened by placing over hot water in a closed container. Heat grape juice or other canned juice and drop warm juice onto cake until cake is moist and will absorb no more juice. Do not use fresh juice from lemons or oranges as cake may mold during storage.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Highlanding 4-H Club News

The monthly meeting of the Highlanding 4-H club was held on Wednesday evening, November 24th at the Highlanding Hall. We decided to have our Christmas party at our next meeting. Instead of exchanging names the boys will bring a gift for a boy and the girls each bring a gift for a girl. The price of the gifts are to be 25c.

During the program we learned a new song, "The Ploughing Song". Everyone enjoyed singing it. The project records were handed out by the junior leaders. Darlene Anderson and Eldonna Sunsdahl played their horns while the rest joined in and sang. A demonstration was given by Arlene Vad on "How to Sew on a Button". Rosemary Johnson gave a report on the 4-H Achievement Banquet which was sponsored by the Civic and Commerce. A reading was given by Ronald Howard and one also by Eldonna Sunsdahl. Games were played after the program. A card was sent to Paul Refanes a member of the club who is in the hospital. One new member enrolled at the meeting, she is Lynette Paulson. At the close of the evening lunch was served by Mrs. Orvin Anderson and Mrs. Kenneth Sunsdahl.—Ronald Hovet, reporter.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

BILL CERUTTI, 409 South Iowa Street, Dodgeville, Wisconsin, says that a generous soul once told him, "Bill, if you've got enthusiasm, it just doesn't show." He had quite a time with that word. When he looked it up in the dictionary and read what it meant he just became more confused. The following Sunday as he was eating supper with his family he was still thinking about enthusiasm. Finally in desperation he began laughing out loud. Pretty soon his children started to laugh too and finally all were laughing together, first at one and then at another. The other day at dinner his little boy asked, "Daddy, when are we going to laugh some more?"

CARNEGIE

Bill had read in Frank Bettiger's book about how he joined the Six O'clock Club when he made up his mind to get up an hour earlier the next morning. He had his breakfast, and even had time to read a chapter of a book before he went to work. When he went out to his shop he was so wide awake and full of pep that he went right to work instead of waking up on the job as usual. He greeted his employees with a big smile and a bright "Good Morning," and when his father walked in he said to him, "Bonna Jorno Signor, Commestate." His father looked at him and said, "What the h—e the matter with you?"

But his whole day went just like that and he says he got more work done in those eight hours than he ever did before in a day and a half.

He says he still is not too sure just what enthusiasm is but that his experience as he has told it to us is enough to prove to him that whatever it is, he needs it—and he likes it.

Plummer School to Begin Adult Farmer Classes

The young farmer class will have their organizational meeting the 30th of November in the Agriculture room of the school. A schedule of meetings will be drawn up at this meeting.

The aim of the young farmer class is to help young men become established in farming; therefore problems to be discussed will be those of beginning farmers. There is no definite age grouping, but most young men between the age of 18 and 25 fall into this category.

The adult evening class will have their first meeting the 1st of December also in the Agriculture room. A tentative schedule of meetings has been drawn up by the advisory council. However, problems brought up are still open for discussion.

The objective of the adult farmer class is to help established farmers solve some of the problems they may be confronted with in their farming programs.

Meetings will be conducted very much as they were in the past year.

All those interested are urged to attend and to bring along any ideas they may have in order to make the evening classes as profitable as possible.

An adult council was selected by the school board at their last meetings. The members consist of Emmitt Morinville, Brooks; Ralph Sorenson, Bill Maliwitz, George Ollie, Richard Peterson and Clarence Konickson. Their job is to help advise the school system in matters pertaining to the Agriculture Department.

Prowlers Rally to Win From Roseau 47 to 39

A fourth period rally, in which they scored seventeen points while holding the visitors to two points, gave coach Al Adams and his Prowlers a 47 to 39 win over the Roseau Rams in a season-opening basketball game played here Friday night. In a preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's high-powered 'B' squad trounced the Roseau 'B' team, 57 to 3.

On Friday night, Dec. 3rd, coach Clarence 'Bun' Fortier and his regional champion Bemidji Lumberjacks, will meet the Prowlers on the local court. The Lumberjacks, with three of last year's starters returning for another season of play, are heavily favored to retain their district and regional titles. Bemidji's attack will be centered around all-state Jack Whiting, forward Darrell Erickson, and sharpshooting guard Dick Carter.

Friday night's opener here against coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau Rams was a "thriller," with the Prowlers pulling into the lead in the final minutes of the contest. The Rams, with red-haired and be-spectacled Chuck Benson scoring 24 points, held at 27 to 15 lead at the intermission. Benson, playing at a guard position, racked up six field goals and twelve of thirteen free throw attempts in the first half.

With center Bill Frahm and forward George Gifford doing the bulk of the scoring, the Prowlers out-pointed the Rams, 15 to 10, in the third period, paring the Roseau lead to 37 to 30 as the teams entered the fourth period.

Benson, who had picked up his fourth personal foul in the third period, committed his fifth infraction with 4:25 to play in the fourth period, and with Roseau leading by a 39 to 36 score.

Louie Wedul, with 3:56 to play, evened the score at 39-all by scoring a lay-up shot; Gifford looped in a field goal, and the Prowler rally was on, with the locals tallying eight points in the final three minutes of the game.

Benson was the game's high scorer with a total of thirty points, notching eight field goals and fourteen free throws. Bill Frahm, with seventeen points, and George Gifford, with eleven points, were the players to score in double figures for coach Adams' squad.

Fire Department Gets Few Old Toys

A few calls are coming in from people who wish to donate old toys for renovation, Chief Roy Langevin reports, but the firemen can handle a lot more. As usual, they are again providing a free service, rebuilding old toys and making them useful again. They will be distributed on Christmas Eve by the Salvation Army.

Three Fined for Drunken Driving

Arnold Meyers of Odessa, Richard Murphy of Minneapolis and Engbert Norbeck of Thief River Falls were fined $100 and costs in Municipal court during the past week for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Others fined for traffic violations were Marvin Boutain of Radium, $15 for careless driving; and Marvin Swenson of rural Thief River Falls, $25 and costs for driving without a license, $15 being suspended. Roy Rice of Pine Creek forfeited $15 when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding.

Rev. J. J. Jacobson of the Trinity church reported this morning that his car parked on Main Ave. had been struck during the night and one fender damaged.

'55 CHAMPIONSHIP IS "IN THE BASKET"

As 494 Minnesota high school basketball teams start their 10,000-game season a question is asked that can only be answered next March: Will Austin make it this time? Art "Basketball" Johifs, Minneapolis realtor who would rather watch a good game than sell a house, puts his pre-season neck out by giving Austin number one spot among 14 favorites which include St. Louis Park, Red Wing, Eveleth, Duluth, Denfield, Willmar, Hopkins, Benson, Hibbing, Moorhead, Minneapolis Roosevelt and Washburn, St. Paul Wilson and Central. Mr. Johifs believes that the finalist teams in the country's greatest basketball tournament will be perhaps the tallest ever seen here, and if there were more room there would be still bigger crowds.

Prowlers Win over Red Lake Falls 54 to 20

Bill Frahm High Scorer with 14 Points; Prowler B Takes Opener 47 to 18

After a sluggish first period, during which they were played on near-even terms by the Red Lake Falls Eagles, the Prowlers, covering the rebounds off both the boards in fine style, tallied sixteen points in the second period to gain a 29 to 9 lead in the 31st district basketball game played here Tuesday night, and go on to rack up a 54 to 20 triumph over the Eagles.

The Eagles gained a 7 to 6 lead early in the opening period, but a pair of jump shots by Bill Frahm, a field goal by Lee Kjos and a free throw by Evan Jones gave the Prowlers a 13 to 7 first period margin.

Scoring sixteen points in the second period, with Dick Odegaard and Eddie Filistrault each tallying four points, coach Al Adams squad moved away to a 29 to 9 lead at the intermission.

The Prowlers continued to add to their margin in the third and fourth quarters, out-scoring the Eagles, 10 to 7 in the third period, and 15 to 4 in the fourth period.

Bill Frahm, with 14 points, and Dick Odegaard, with 12 points, were the high scorers for the Prowlers, while center Terry Fladeland scored 8 points for the high point honors for the Eagles.

In a preliminary game, the Prowler 'B' team scored a 47 to 18 win over the Red Lake Falls 'B' team.

Warroad in Opener Here December 18th

Cal Marvin, league president, this week issued the 1954-55 schedule of the Northwest Hockey league. The circuit, composed of five teams—Grand Forks, Roseau, Crookston, Warroad, and Thief River Falls—will begin play on Dec. 18th, with the Warroad Lakers meeting the Thieves at Thief River Falls. The league schedule will be concluded on February 16th.

Harry Hendrickson, manager of the local club, stated that player-coach Paul Bedard will be making a trip to Winnipeg this weekend to complete the roster of the "imports" that will play with the Thieves this season. The fact that the Big Six Manitoba league will play a thirty-game schedule this season is making it difficult for the Northwest Hockey league teams to secure commitments from the Winnipeg players. Hendrickson added that Bill Juzda will probably play with the Thieves on a part time basis. Juzda is reported as having signed to play with the Brandon sextet in the Big Six league, and as a result his playing activity down here will be limited.

Sportsman's Club Meets Tonight

The regular December meeting of the Pennington County Sportsman's club will be held at the C. & C. room in the Auditorium tonight, starting at 8 o'clock. "Come and hear the deer slayers brag and the others offer their alibis" is the theme-song for the evening. There will be a venison feed for all however.

Dennis Nelson was Accidently Shot

Dennis Nelson, son of Norton Nelson of rural Thief River Falls, is in fair condition at Northwestern Hospital where he was taken following a shooting accident in his home. He and his friend Mark Olson, both 17, had returned from a hunting trip. He was shot through the abdomen when an "unloaded" pistol was fired.

Walter Wonder of Waubun was treated for a flesh wound at Northwestern following a hunting accident, being shot through the leg above the knee. He was not hospitalized.

Gerald Morris, 11, son of Dan Morris of Goodridge, was treated for head bruises following an automobile accident south of Grygla at the Ditch 20 crossing which resulted in the Morris car rolling down into the ditch.

Hot Lunch Menus Listed for Week at Goodridge

Monday, Dec. 6: Tomato soup, crackers, cheese slices, carrot sticks, minced ham sandwiches, raisin dark bread, milk (choc. or white), peanut butter.

Dec. 7: Barbeque beef on buns, celery sticks, scalloped potatoes, extra buns, milk (choc. or white).

Dec. 8: Meat balls and gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, cranberry sauce, butter sandwiches (raisin or white), milk (choc. or white).

Dec. 9: Oven baked beans with pork, cheese slices, cabbage, carrot, raisin salad, butter sandwiches (raisin and white), milk (choc. or white), peanut butter.

Dec. 10: Glorified rice with pineapple, egg salad sandwiches, celery sticks, homemade powered sugar doughnuts, milk (choc. or white).

CUB PACK NO. 60 MEETS SATURDAY

Trinity Cub Pack No. 60 will hold its postponed November pack meeting on Saturday, Dec. 4th, at 6:30 p. m. at the Trinity Scout rooms. The various awards the boys have been working for will be presented and the cubs of the different Dens will put on brief skits or plays showing their past months work. Refreshments will be served.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Congratulations, Sid, and the Prowlers

Last Sunday's Minneapolis Tribune, in it's Peach Sports, featured Ted Peterson's all-state high school football team, and the following players were honored: ends—Nick Ellena of Duluth Morgan Park and Jim Reese of Marshall; tackles — Bronko Nagurski Jr. of International Falls and Marlin Amos of Willmar; guards — Everett Gerths of Dodge Center and Bert Fristedt of Hopkins; center—John Bush of Mankato; and backs—Robert Ilg of Montgomery, Willis Fjerstad of Red Wing, Jack Whiting of Bemidji, and Loren Sid Vraa of Thief River Falls.

To be named to Ted Peterson's all-star team is an honor, and it's a compliment to Sid, to his Prowler team-mates, and to his coaches, Ralph Skjod and Joe Mrkonich.

As far as we can recall, Sid's being named to an "unofficial" all-state football team marks the third time that a Prowler gridder has been so honored. In 1945, Wes Hovie, captain of the undefeated Prowlers of that season, was named to the All-Star squad and participated in the first North vs. South game; in 1951 Jack Erickson was named to Peterson's all-state team.

Ted Peterson personally gave his okay to Sid's selection, for Ted was along the side-lines when the Prowlers and the Bemidji Lumberjacks met in their "crucial" game at Bemidji this fall. While Sid didn't flash his usual brand of football on offense in that game, he was sensational on defense.

Oh - yes, Bemidji's all-state football selection, Jack Whiting, will be here on Fiday night. Jack, who was an all-state selection in basketball last season, is the spear-head of the basketball team that coach Bun Fortier will bring here for a game against the Prowlers.

We Knew Him When

Helmer "Ham" Myhrer brought in a number of press clippings telling of the rifle shooting feats of T. E. Hetland and his son Richard in the Wisconsin Big Bore tournament. T. E., or to call him by his given name, Trygve, is a son of S. T. Hetland of this city.

Tryg, who resides in Eau Claire, is, and has been for the past ten years or so, one of Wisconsin's top-flight riflemen. In the Wisconsin Big Bore matches held in Milwaukee in August, Hetland won the grand aggregate with 333 (26v) out of 350. In addition, he also won the slow-rifle and the rapid-fire championships, making a sweep of the three traveling trophies that were up for competition.

Hetland's son Richard, an 18-year old student at Eau Claire State College, established a new national junior record at the Wisconsin tournament when, at 500 yards in a 20-shot slow-fire big-bore event, he scored a perfect 100 with 16 v's. Richard's mark bettered the previous record held by Charles Rodgers of Phoenix, Ariz., who had a 99 with 14 v's. Incidentally, that 16 v's means that sixteen of Richard's shots, at 500 yards with iron sights, were within a 12-inch v-ring. All of his shots, of course, were within the 20-inch bullseye.

What makes the notices of expert rifle shooting marksmanship by Trygve Hetland, and his son, of much interest to many of us is that Tryg went to school here, being a Lincoln high graduate; and he has a brother and sister living here in addition to his father.

Tony's Deer

This could be the grounds for "justifiable homicide". Tony Dorn does much of his hunting with a group that headquarters at Plummer, and this group arranged a set-up shot for Tony.

Like this: Leo Pahlen, one of the conspirators, came upon a big buck deer that had apparently been shot by a "shiner" before the season opened. Leo, and his cousin Stub, with evil thoughts in their minds, propped up this dead and frozen and spoiled deer at the edge of a brush thicket and just off a runway. Then they "primed" Tony for the deer hunt, asking him if his rifle was loaded, etc. etc., and as they came around a clump of brush, Leo nudged Tony and pointed out the deer. Tony opened up with his slide-action rifle, pumping shots at the deer so fast that he nearly blistered his hands. The "boys" that had set up the deer, just about collapsed when Tony learned the "facts of life."

That group, in behalf of Tony, are making a claim to the dead-deer rifle-shooting championship of Pennington, Red Lake, and eastern Polk counties.

Yep, Tony, you hunt with the "sweetest characters."

4-H Leaders Held Christmas Party

The 4-H Leader's Council met for their regular meeting Monday evening in the C. & C. room of the municipal auditorium. Since this was the last meeting before the holiday, the annual Christmas party was held. Guests were husbands and wives, and the junior leaders of the county 4-H clubs.

The program featured games and singing of carols. The program was planned by adult leaders Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, Mrs. I. J. Russell and Mrs. Rufus Olson.

Mrs. Edwin Hanson, president, presided.

Drayton Bridge Open to Traffic

"Traffic started flowing over the new interstate bridge at Drayton Monday, according to plans announced by F. E. Fingalson, bridge inspector and civil engineer who has been in direct charge of the project," reports the Kittson County Enterprise at Hallock.

"The new $653,081 overhead steel structure connects Highway 11 on the Minnesota side with Highway 29 in North Dakota. It will replace the old lift bridge located directly off Main street in Drayton. The old structure has been in use since 1911.

"Spanning the Red River near the little inland community of Robbin, Minn., the huge new bridge has been under contruction since February 1953.

"It totals 1,058 feet in length with a 28 foot roadway. The main truss extends for 550 feet of total length and is 50 feet from the bridge floor at its highest point.

"Plans for the structure were developed by North Dakota with the state of Minnesota furnishing the engineering. Main contractor was Helseth Engineering Company of St. Paul and the steel erector contractors was Weylander and Peterson of Minneapolis.

"Alan Wynnemer, Thief River Falls, Minn., was project engineer with Leonard Haack, also of Thief River Falls, and Anthony Wosick, Jr., Drayton, assistant bridge inspectors."

Talk Grade A Milk Program at Warren

"Inauguration of a Grade A milk program in the Warren community is a possibility in the near future, Marvin E. Bystol, manager of the Warren Cooperative creamery, local milk processors and distributors, announced today," says the Warren Sheaf.

"An important meeting for milk producers in the Warren area will be held some time next month at which the Grade A milk program will be thoroughly explained and discussed, said Mr. Bystol who had been talking about the program with a large number of producers during the past several weeks. The meeting date will be announced in a future issue of the Sheaf."

School Bond Vote at Karlstad Dec. 7

"Within a couple of weeks we will be making a most important decision. It will be decided through vote on Tuesday, December 7th, whether or not the school district should bond itself for $250,000 so that additions might be made to the present plant," so states Superintendent of Schools, Paul Anderson in the Karlstad Advocate. "The Board of Education has studied this problem for over a year and now strongly recommends that a building program is needed. The Board would never permit such a proposal to be voted upon unless they felt that it was necessary. Remember, the Board can only plan and propose school improvements; the final decision rests with the voters."

"The Board, working with their architect, are proposing a new construction which will be modern and up-to-date in every respect. The building program, however, is not to be a "monument" but is designed to give us the minimum amount of needed space and facilities at the lowest possible cost."

Community Buys Roseau Hospital

Citizens of Roseau are buying the hospital which has been operated privately and it is now expected that by the first of the year its reorganization as a community hospital will be an accomplished fact, Reports the Roseau Times Region.

"The Community Hospital is very close to a real operating "dream come true" Competent help is a certainty. Good administration is comfortably positive. The careful supervision and direction of a good board are assured.

"Good people of Roseau County have seen fit to pledge their funds to support this project . . . all that remains is to collect the rest of that promised cash and January 1 the doors will open for the first time on the Roseau Community Hospital.

"Total pledges amounted to $70,000.00 of which $46,700.00 has been paid, Board Chairman L. A. Ross said. Of this amount, Mrs. Budd has been paid $21,500.00 as preliminary payment for the hospital, and $24,960.00 has been paid for a mortgage and interest against the hospital. This means that the Roseau Community Hospital board not only holds first mortgage on the hospital, but has actually paid an additional $24,500.00 toward the final purchase price, Ross indicated."

First Game Played in Ada's New Gym

The fine new gymnasium and basketball court of the Ada High School was used for the first time last week. It has a rated seating capacity of 2,000 according to the Norman County Index, and fears are expressed that this will not be ample for tournament games.

Outside teams will use the basketball facilities, the Index reports. A game between Bemidji Teachers and Mayville Teachers of North Dakota is scheduled for January 5. Mahnomen will play one of its scheduled games with Hendrum here.

University Seeks Big Appropriation Increase in 1955

University of Minnesota regents will ask the 1955 State Legislature to appropriate $34,525,692 or 67.6 per cent of the $51,085,058 needed to carry on the regular program of teaching, research and public service for the next two years, 1955-57, President J. L. Morrill reported this week.

Basing their computations on research and service needs and on an estimated enrollment averaging 21,250, the regents have worked out a budget for this general operation of the University amounting to $25,542,529 for each of the next two years.

President Morrill pointed out that the 1953 Legislature provided a general maintenance appropriation of $29,776,000 for the current two-year period — $14,847,000 for 1953-54 and $14,929,000 for 1954-55. In their maintenance request for the next two year, the Regents are asking the lawmakers for an increase of $4,749,692 over the funds voted for 1953-55.

In their budget planning, the regents estimated that University income for each year of the 1955-57 period will exceed the 1954-55 estimated income by $177,878. This estimated increase is distributed as follows: student fees, regular session, $85,009; student fees, summer session, $12,500; from Permanent University Fund, $70,000; and other income, $10,309. Estimated income for 1954-55 is $8,101,805, while the estimated income for each of the next two years is $8,279,683.

Patrol Chief Asks Everyone to Join in State S-D Day

Paul R. Martz, state highway patrol chief, today added his plea to that of other safety leaders for total participation by drivers and pedestrians in the state-wide S-D Day drive which will be December 15th.

"I am asking every man, woman and child who uses our streets and highways," said Chief Martz, "to make an all-out effort to walk and drive safely on S-D Day. But driving and walking safely on that day only won't mean nearly as much if you don't walk and drive safely every day this month. Traffic accidents of all kinds can be reduced very materially if everyone complies voluntarily with traffic laws and regulations."

He pointed out that last year 639 lives were lost in the state with 137 of these being lives of pedestrians.

"Our observance of S-D Day," he concluded, "is part of a nation-wide effort to focus attention on the seriousness of the traffic accident problem. Our state highway patrolmen are known for being good drivers but they are trying even harder to set a good example for anyone to follow. They want to show the people of Minnesota that they not only urge others to drive safely, but do so themselves. Remember S-D Day and then make every day your Safe Driving Day."

New Mercury on Display at Tunberg's Thursday

Beauty and performance are combined in the completely new Mercury for 1955 through the utilization of new styling, new power plants and other mechanical improvements. A choice of two engines—one developing 188 horsepower and the other 198 horsepower—is offered. Entirely new body styling, including canted headlights, full-scope windshield and a distinctively different rear end appearance, has been combined with sparkling new interior trims and fabrics. Shown here is a 1955 Mercury Monterey hardtop coupe.

New '55 Model Mercury will be Shown Thursday

Tunberg Motor is Showing Hard Top Coupe in Monterey Series. Ten Models in Line.

The new Mercury will be on display at Tunberg's tomorrow, December 2. They will show the hard top coupe in the Monterey series.

Mercury for 1955 includes 10 models in the three series. The wheelbase has been increased to 119 inches and exterior dimensions increased two inches in length and two inches in width. Mercurys in the Monterey and Custom series are one inch lower than previous models, while the low-silhouette Montclair is two-and-one-half inches lower.

The bold lines of the completely new bodies represent an evolution of basic Mercury styling. A full-scope windshield provides greater driving vision, and canted headlights give a forward rake to the lower, wider front end. The 1955 Mercury offers two high-compression overhead valve V-8 engines to give maximum performance at low and medium speeds as well as better acceleration and passing ability.

The Montclair will feature a 198 horsepower engine and the Monterey and Custom series will have a 188 horsepower power unit. Both engines have displacement of 292 cubic inches, and 3.75 bore and 3.30 stroke.

Extensive improvements have been made in performance, durability and cooling and in reducing the noise level at all speeds. A new four-barrel carburetor results in better breathing and improved hot and cold starting. Both Mercury engines have a new 18 millimeter conical seat spark plug — the only car in its field with this new direct sealing plug.

Dual exhausts are standard equipment on all Montclairs and Montereys, reducing back pressure and increasing top speed. A new Y-exhaust system is standard on the Custom series, where dual exhausts may be obtained as optional equipment.

The Merc-O-Matic transmission has been redeveloped to handle the considerably higher torque of the 1955 Mercury engines. A combination of a hydraulic torque converter and planetary gearing, the new Merc-O-Matic has a larger torque converter than in previous years. A fast getaway from a standstill is provided by a start in low gear with throttle wide open through a specially designed kickdown while the selector is in drive position.

"C-O" Postmaster No Longer Needed in APO Addresses

The Department of Defense has requested that hereafter the phrase c/o Postmaster not be used on mail addressed for delivery through overseas APO's, according to Postmaster R. J. Dryden.

The address on mail intended for members of the Armed Forces or civilians receiving mail through overseas APO's should be confined to three lines, if possible, the last line to show the APO number followed by the name of the post office as, for example:

Pvt. Willard J. Roe, RA 12378067
Company F, 167th Infantry
APO 801, New York, N. Y.

Mail bearing the old form of address shall be accepted and dispatched to destination.

A CHALLANGE FOR THE U. N.

When the Reds shot down one of our planes a few weeks ago President Eisenhower took a let's-keep-our-shirts-on view of the situation. Russia had been a little more reasonable in recent exchanges. Maybe we were partly at fault, he suggested.

Announcement by the Chinese last week that 13 American airmen, shot down in the Korea fighting, had been sentenced to prison terms on spy charges, brought a far different response from the administration. These Americans, the defense department said, are being held as political prisoners "in violation of international law, the rules of war and the Korean Armistice agreement." The state department has made "the strongest possible protest."

Because the administration has indicated that it is not going to resort to force to free these Americans there has been some criticism from those who go along with the Senator Knowland view. It is a difficult situation that easily could explode into a shooting war that would cost many more lives.

The matter is properly being referred to the United Nations however where it no doubt will be considered as of most urgent importance. The Korean war was a United Nations police operation, and the present situation is a challange to its authority that it cannot sidestep.

HOW DO WE DO IT DOC?

Turkey growers have been warned to cut next year's production or receive prices even lower than this year's. This advice came from the department of agriculture. It received an enthusiastic amen from our good friend Doc Billings. We know therefore that it is good advice.

But this reducing business on a voluntary basis isn't easy. How much, for instance, should the turkey growers of Minnesota reduce their production? And what assurance have they that the growers of Texas and California will do likewise? We have the same problem at the local level.

Obviously what is needed is marketing control and that requires industry organization. The government encourages such organization, giving broad powers to responsible groups to regulate both marketing and production. The pattern for such organization is well established.

The entire poultry industry, up and down and across, needs orderly production and marketing. Why then, may we ask, is there no effort within the industry to help itself? How shall we go about it Doc?

THE RICH SEEK RELIEF

Governor Williams of Michigan and governor-elect Harriman of New York are advocating federal aid to schools. Mr. Harriman said such aid is necessary to improve the competitive position of his state. He is concerned because his state has relatively high taxes that discourage business and induce some industries to move to other places where operating conditions are more favorable.

And where is the federal government going to get the money with which to provide aid in New York and Michigan? The answer isn't hard to figure out.

No matter what kind of tax the federal government imposed to collect this revenue, the densely populated and wealthy states of New York and Michigan would pay several dollars for each dollar they received in aid. If the distinguished gentlemen were arguing for such aid in order to equalize opportunities and give needed assistance to the backward areas they might well be applauded for their charitable view on such matters. As a means of providing financial relief for their own states however, better they make an extra effort to solve their own problems right at home.

A MAGNIFICENT JOB OF WRITING

Carl Rowan, Minneapolis Tribune staff writer, is doing a magnificent job of reporting in the story he tells of his experiences in India. As an official spokesman for our country, assigned by the State Department to tell the story of America to the people of India, he has seen that country not only as an observer and a reporter but also as an advocate. During four months of close association with a people, among whom there is a deep-rooted prejudice against the white race, and bitterness against a colonialism with which our country has somehow become associated, his position as an advocate opened the door to discussions of controversial questions that add much interest to his report.

The Rowan story is not a hopeful report. "India is in trouble," he writes. "Thus Asia is in trouble. We all know—and I know now better than ever—that if the lamps of freedom go out in Asia there will be darkness in many lands."

It took courage for Carl Rowan to write as he has written. His report is an appeal for tolerance directed not only to us here in America but also to the intolerant people of India who too often are blinded by their own race consciousness.

Carl Rowan's report on India deserves circulation thruout the world, among the people of all races and creeds.

MADE GOOD IMPRESSION

Prime Minister Mendes-France made a good impression on the American people. As a result of his visit we have a better understanding of the problems he is confronted with at home. We know now that his "retreat" in Indo-China was an act of economic necessity and not in any sense a friendly concession to the Reds.

He is sponsoring a sound program for the reconstruction of his country that may not be popular but that certainly is needed. Under his direction France now has an opportunity to rise once again to her proper place of leadership among the nations of Europe.

Looking Backward

1924—THIRTY YEARS AGO

Edwin Lindell, commander of the Minnesota department of the American Legion, addressed a meeting here—Mrs. E. J. Richards was elected president of the local P.T.A. group—H. O. Chommie was elected commander of the local American Legion post.—M. Helen Montgomery is the new president of the Girls Community Club.—Sugar beets valued at $30,000 were marketed this year in Pennington county.

1934—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Leonard DuChamp, a local resident 27 years, died at the age of 47.—State Senator-elect E. L. Tungseth spoke at the dedication of the Smiley community hall Nov. 30.—A group of 35 Bemidji businessmen were guests of the Civic and Commerce ass'n. at a turkey dinner. —Mrs. Mary V. Shaw returned from a visit in the Twin Cities.

1944—TEN YEARS AGO

Memorial services were scheduled Dec. 3 for S-Sgt. Henry A. Christopherson of Silverton, who was killed in action Nov. 1 on a bombing mission in the East Indies. — A non-homestead tax rate of 110.29 mills was set for 1944 on property in Thief River Falls.—This city now has a total of $130,000 invested in U. S. government obligations. —Charles Fiterman, for more than 30 years engaged in the hide and fur business here, died at the age of 71.—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Evenson celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

During the last six years, there have been approximately 1,000,000 more births in the U. S. each year than the average during the preceding years.

Experts say that American industry will be using atomic energy as a supplementary means of furnishing power possibly within 10 years.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Going—Going—But Not Gone!

Saturday they got set to auction off "Sis" Brown's house for nonpayment of taxes. Buck Stone was the auctioneer. Everybody who came to the auction knew that "Sis" is a war widow.

When Buck began the bidding he said, "Anybody can bid. Just remember 'Sis' and three nice kids live here. Now who's going to start the bidding?"

There was silence. "Sis," standing in back, got the point. She reached into her purse for just about all the money she had in the world. "I'll bid $75," she said.

"Sold," bellowed Buck and "Sis" had her home back.

From where I sit, Buck Stone used a helping hand instead of a gavel. It was real neighborliness. You know, even in something as small as respecting another's choice of beverage, a person can be neighborly. You might like buttermilk. I'm "sold" on a temperate glass of beer. And I can't "buy" anyone's telling me I'm wrong.

Public Notices

In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Gertie Carlson who passed away Dec. 1, 1949.

Softly the stars are shining upon a precious grave,
Of one we dearly loved, but whom we could not save.
Friends may think we have forgotten, when they see us smile.
Little do they know the heartache, that our smiles hold all the while.
We mourn for her in silence, no eyes can see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed,
while we are all alone.

Sadly missed by Charles F. Carlson and family. 48c

Card of Thanks

We extend our sincere thanks to all those who so kindly aided us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. Special thanks to Rev. Pedersen for his comforting words, Mrs. Pedersen for her songs, Dr. Van Rooy and the nurses at Northwestern hospital. Thanks also to those who sent cards, memorials and floral offerings. The family of Andrew Gulseth. 48c

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Albert Halvorson who passed away Dec. 4, 1948.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember her who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.

Lovingly remembered by her husband and children. 48c

Two Driving Mistakes Add to Traffic Toll

High among driver violations causing the 50,831 accidents on Minnesota's streets and highdays during 1953 were two mistakes which resulted in 8,331 accidents, of which 32 were fatal. They were improper passing and improper turning.

Earl M. Larimer, state S-D Day director, urged every Minnesota motorist to carefully scrutinize his own actions while engaged in passing and when making turns.

"The most flagrant passing violation," he said, "is attempting to pass in a 'no-passing' zone. There is absolutely no excuse for that and you can count yourself lucky if you do not cause a serious accident by such a violation. However, just because you are not in a 'no-passing' zone does not mean you can attempt to pass without exercising proper caution and making absolutely certain that you can pass with safety."

He also stated that executing proper turns should be observed this week and every day up to and through S-D Day. "Before making a right turn," he said, "make certain you're in the right lane; before making a left turn be sure the driver behind you knows of your intentions through your use of hand signals or turning lights and stay in your proper lane until you start making your turn. This means that you must slow down because you cannot make a proper left hand turn—or any kind of a turn, for the matter—when driving too fast.

Larimer urged every Minnesota motorist to concentrate on these good driving practices every day so that the state's traffic accident toll will continue going downward.

Manure Not Cause for Weedy Fields

Manure gets blamed for a lot of things, but it should not be feared as a possible weed spreader. This word comes from Robert G. Robinson, University of Minnesota agronomist. He says that samples from the University cattle barns' manure pile did not contain enough living weed seeds to boost seed population in the soil. Most soils already contain hundreds—in some cases, thousands—of living weed seeds per square foot. An eight-ton per acre application of the manure tested would add only one living weed seed to each two square feet of soil. Fresh manure contains more living weed seeds than manure stored in a pile over winter—but not enough more to worry about. So, except in unusual circumstances, don't let fear of weeds prevent you from spreading fresh manure.

Urge Withholding System for Income Tax in Minesota

Payment of Minnesota income taxes by a withholding system—as federal taxes are paid—is being urged by the statewide Coordinating Committee for Education. The committee is convinced that a withholding plan will increase the state's tax income. It believes that if the costs of tax collecting go up, those cost increases will be far more than paid by the increased revenue.

Other states that have tried withholding plans have found that they resulted in more taxpayers and more taxes paid. The states also gained funds because there was no loss of delinquent taxes and the states were saved the expensive process of mailing bills to persons who chose to pay their taxes in installments. The Coordinating Committee has a particular interest in income tax collections because those taxes are earmarked for the support of public schools.

Express Offices Receive Gifts for CARE Crusade

Offices of Railway Express Agency are centers for the collections and forwarding of donations to the CARE Christmas "Food Crusade" for needy families in 31 countries of the world A. W. Dahl local agent, announced this week. The service is performed at no cost to CARE or to the public, he said.

The objective of the program is to send some 1½ million packages or 17½ million lbs. of surplus food now stored in government warehouses which has been accumulated as a result of farm price supports. This is being released free by our government.

A contribution of only one dollar will assure the delivery of two food package weighing 28 lbs. They contain necessities such as butter, powdered milk, rice, beef in gravy and other basic foods.

The express office in this city has complete information about the "Food Crusade" and is ready to forward contributions to CARE headquarters. The name of the donor will be on each package he contributes and those donating $5 or more ultimately will get an acknowledgment from the recipient, Mr. Dahl said.

Labor to Aid Camp Cottage Project

Collection of funds to assist the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children in building and furnishing a cottage at Camp Courage on Cedar Lake, Annandale, was undertaken this week by the Minnesota State Federation of Labor. R. A. Olson of Duluth, federation president, in a letter to the 650 affiliated local unions, urged each to make the contribution a first order of business so that the AFL unions of the state can provide a complete cottage for occupancy next summer.

"When one sees what some of these children have to contend with in their journey thru life it should make every member anxious to do his part in making the journey a little easier for them," Olson said.

Muskrat Season Open Twelve Days

The season for the trapping of muskrats in Minnesota opens today, Wednesday, and runs through December 12, sunrise to sunset. Muskrats may be taken by trapping only, anywhere within the state except in state or federal game refuges, state parks and public hunting grounds.

Regulations for the trapping of muskrats require that openings made in any muskrat house for the purpose of trapping shall be plugged by replacing all material removed and wetting said material down in order to prevent freezing within the structure. Traps may be set at natural entrances to muskrat runways and bank burrows.

No person shall damage any muskrat house, muskrat runway or muskrat bank den. No traps of any kind shall be set in, upon or closer than six feet from the water line of any beaver house. No person shall molest, injure or damage any beaver house, or dam, or any burrow, den or other abiding place of beaver.

Carla Lolland and George Johnson Wed in Church

On Nov. 14 the Valle Lutheran church was the scene of a candlelight wedding when Carla Lolland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Lolland of Trail became the bride of George Johnson, son of Mrs. Marie Johnson of Trail.

Rev. A. Grorud performed the double ring ceremony before approximately 250 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Monrad Stenvold played Lohengrin's wedding march and also accompanied Beverlee Stenvold, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer," and Jerry Brievold who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a tulle and lace over satin gown. The dress had a long train and she wore a finger-tip veil with a beaded tiara. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was earrings, a gift of the groom.

Joann Lolland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a light green net over taffeta ballerina length formal. Bridesmaids were Norma Green of Minneapolis and Arlene Ellickson of Oklee, both friends of the couple. They wore identical coral net over taffeta ballerina length formals. They all wore rhinestone necklaces gifts of the bride and carried bouquets of roses and stephanotis.

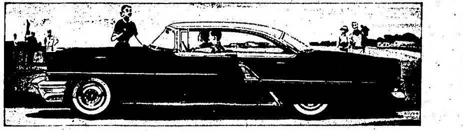
AMERICA'S MOST ADVANCED NEW CAR — 1955 MERCURY

YEARS AND YEARS AHEAD—3 NEW SERIES, 10 MODELS—NEW 198-HORSEPOWER SUPER-TORQUE V-8 ENGINE



STARRING THE DRAMATICALLY LOW MONTCLAIR—THE HIGHEST STYLED, HIGHEST POWERED MERCURY EVER BUILT

No halfway measures here. No holding to the past. Hundreds of ideas earmarked "for the future" went into the design of the 1955 Mercury.

Take styling. Never before has there been such sleekness of line. Take size. These are longer, lower, bigger Mercurys. Take performance. No matter what yardstick you use to measure it, Mercury's got it. High V-8 horsepower for all series (198 and 188 hp). 4-barrel carburetor performance. Super compression. Matchless efficiency. Dual exhaust for the two top series. Super pickup in every speed range.

And that's only the beginning of what's new. There's a new Full-Scope windshield. There are new tubeless tires. There's new, smoother, quicker-acting Merc-O-Matic Drive (optional), with far more getaway power.

Best of all, there's a far wider range of models to choose from, in 3 series: the new ultra-low Montclair, the Monterey, and the Custom.

Better stop around at our showroom for the first showing—soon!

SIDELIGHTS ON U OF M FOOTBALL

After the November 20 game at Madison between University of Minnesota and Wisconsin, Cliff Snyder writes finis to a career of 33 years as storekeeper of U of M athletic equipment; his biggest job has been packing trunks for road trips of the various U athletic teams.—The U of M-Iowa game November 13 marked the 30th anniversary of Minneapolis and St. Paul Boy Scouts as stadium ushers.—In 1914, Dr. Henry L. Williams, Minnesota football coach from 1900 to 1921, presented a stadium pass to his favorite barber, Gus Hjornevik, proprietor of Gus's Minnesota Take-Off Shop on the edge of the campus almost in the shadow of the stadium. Coach Williams in that generous moment "started something": Gus the Barber hasn't missed a Minnesota home game in all the intervening 40 years.

Oranges and lemons are easier to squeeze and more juice can be extracted if the fruit is first put in warm water for a few moments and then rolled on a hard surface before cutting and squeezing them.

Dodge flashes ahead in style!

New '55 Dodge Custom Royal V-8 4-door Sedan . . . flair-fashioned!

Presenting the dazzling new
'55 DODGE
Flair-Fashioned for the Future
These last few days, crowds of people have come in to get their first look at the flair-fashioned new Dodge for 1955. They examined it and gave their verdict:
Dodge has done it!
Dodge flashes ahead with a car that is taut and eager in every line—lower, wider and far, for longer.
Dodge flashes ahead with the new outlook in car design—a swept-back New Horizon windshield that encircles you in a glass cockpit.
Dodge flashes ahead with clean, flowing lines that capture the flair of the future—from the low and racy hood to the flaring rear deck and twin-jet taillights.
If you have not yet seen what Dodge has done, you are missing the thrill of the year. It is a car of a hundred surprises, inside and out. Come see for yourself.
Take Command . . . Get the Thrill First Hand

STATE MAPPING HAS BEEN NAPPING

From 1907 to 1949 only 6,578 square miles of Minnesota's 84,068 (7.8%) had been covered by published topographic maps. Which was quite an economy in one way for each map of 208 square miles costs from seven to fifteen thousand dollars—but was perhaps a greater loss to fields of conservation, soil erosion, flood control, highway plans, and so on. The 1949 legislature appropriated $50,000 a year to be matched by federal funds for a continued reactivation of the mapping program, with the result to date that another 8% of the state's surface has been pictured and 13% more is in process, for a total of nearly 25,000 square miles..

New Postal Manuals are Now Available

Postmaster Raymond J. Dryden, calls to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued effective December 1 which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The post office department is issuing a final edition of a history-making new manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Mr. Dryden explained. This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C.

The revision of the postal manual, represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. Post Office Department. The Department on October 21 issued the first preliminary edition, and Mr. Summerfield invited the general public, as well as large mailers and postal employees, to suggest constructive revisions for incorporation into the final edition. At that time, the final edition was set for November 20, but, because of the volume of the many worthwhile suggestions offered, its publication date was moved up to the present December 1.

The final regulations have been filed with the Division of the Federal Register in Washington, and will become legally effective on December 1.

First Aid Given for People Who Faint

Everybody has been told that people who faint should be allowed to lie flat where they are. Yet nearly everybody who is suddenly confronted with someone who is fainting instinctively tries to lift him up, prop him up, drag or propel him rapidly from where he is to where he is not, which is the best way to interfere with natural recovery, according to a bulletin issued by the Minnesota State Medical association today.

Heart disease is what people fear most when fainting occurs, but heart ailments rarely, if ever, cause fainting. Instead, fainting is the result of dilated blood vessels which in turn slow down the motion of the blood and permit it to collect temporarily in deep-lying vessels throughout the body and particularly the legs. The deprives that brain and heart of their normal supply of blood and oxygen and causes the faint.

The victim collapses to the floor, which is just where he should be to help equalize his circulation and get his blood moving normally back to his heart and brain.

To force a fainting person to sit up, to hold him up or drag hime to his feet, simply prolongs the unconscious state. It may even do more than that. It may start the way toward real trouble and even to irreversible damage, because the longer that brain is deprived of circulation the more danger there is of permanent damage. Of course, sudden loss of consciousness is not always simple fainting. But there is no such episode that requires propping or dragging, the doctors say, the best policy is to let the patient lie quietly where he is until expert help arrives.

757 Registered and 206 Practical Nurses Licensed

The Minnesota State Board of Examiners of Nurses announces that licenses as registered nurses (R. N.) was granted on November 19 to 757 persons who passed state licensing examinations written in September and October. These licensing examinations are held four times yearly with the fall group being the largest during the year.

On November 20, licenses were granted to 206 persons as practical nurses (L.P.N.) who passed state licensing examinations written in October. These licensing examinations are held three times yearly with the fall group being the largest during the year.

Guard Strength is Over 8,000; Up 100% In Two Years

Total strength of the army and air units of the Minnesota National Guard now exceeds 8,000 officers and enlisted men, according to Major General J. E. Nelson, Adjutant General of Minnesota. The 8,000 mark was passed this week during the intensive "Man the Guard" recruiting campaign which closes December 4.

Passing the 8,000 mark represents an increase of over 100% in strength since January 1953. At that time units of the Guard returned from active duty after the Korean emergency with a strength of approximately 4,000 officers and enlisted men. By January 1954, this figure had increased to approximately 6,000 and by August of this year to just over 7,000.

"All young men and former servicemen," continued General Nelson, "Owe it to themselves and to their families to investigate the opportunities and advantages of membership of the Minnesota National Guard."

In addition to being able to choose the manner in which they will fulfill their military obligations, Minnesota Guardsmen earn pay, are entitled to retirement benefits and may be eligible for schooling at regular army service schools.

To Prevent Accidents—Keep Your Distance

Following too closely behind the car ahead was a leading cause of traffic accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways during 1953, according to Earl M. Larimer, state director of highway safety —and Minnesota's "S-D Day" director.

"The records reveal," said Larimer, "that 4,100 of the 50,831 accidents reported to the Highway Department last year were the result of following too closely behind the vehicle ahead."

How can these accidents be prevented? Very simply, according to Larimer.

"By maintaining one car length between your car and the car ahead for each 10 miles of speed," he said, "you'll usually be able to avoid hitting the car ahead of you if it should stop suddenly. However, this 'rule of thumb' applies only when driving conditions are ideal — dry roads, daylight, and your car's brakes in top condition. Greater distances are required under unfavorable driving conditions."

Latimer concluded by saying that these 4,100 accidents could have been avoided if every motorist had "kept his distance" and urged that this practice be observed between now and December 15, which is national "S-D (Safe Driving Day)."

FARMERS and the new Social Security

program starting Jan. 1

Social Security tax contributions are a percentage of the contributor's earned net income up to $4,200 a year, in work covered by the program. This rule of course, excludes dividends, rental income, capital gains, etc. The self-employed farm operator will pay three per cent on his annual net earnings from $400 to $1,200, inclusive, beginning with his 1955 net income.

The tax on the hired worker's wages is four per cent on wages from $100 to $4,200, inclusive, in a single year from each employer, of which 2 per cent is withheld by the employer from the worker's wages—and—the other 2 per cent is paid by the employer. Therefore, unless net earnings from self-employment amount to $400, or wages from one employer amount to at least $100, no social security tax is due.

The farm operator makes the report of his own net earnings from self-employment on a special social security tax form associated with his federal income tax. In some cases, the operator will not owe a federal income tax. Nevertheless, if his self-employment income is $400 or more for the year, he still will have to file the special Social Security form with the Federal Income Tax form and pay the social security tax of 3 per cent, even when no income tax is due. The federal income tax form is the basis for figures shown on the special form, and the special form is used by the social security administration to credit the farmer with his earnings for retirement benefit purposes.

The new law provides an alternate method which low-income farmers can use in reporting their income for Social Security purposes. This method, generally speaking, will make it unnecessary for them to keep records to which they may not be accustomed. An annual gross income of $1,800 is the dividing line.

"Gross Income" for this purpose means total receipts in cash or property from one's business, less the cost or other basis of property sold, which was purchased (rather than raised or produced by the self-employed persons), and minus any other excluded income, such as dividends, rentals from real estate, and capital gain.

Farm operators who report their income tax on a cash basis and whose gross income is $1800 or less in a year, may report either their acutal net earnings (gross income less farm expenses), or 50 percent of their gross income forr Social Security purposes.

A farm operator whose gross income is expected to be more than $1800 should keep detailed records so that he can compute his net earnings. For, if his actual net is less than $900, he may report either the actual net or $900, whichever he chooses. However, if his actual net is $900 or more, he has no choice but must report the actual net income.

It must be remembered that if the gross income is less than $800 or the net income is less than $400, he will not have any self-employment income to report, and, of course, no social security credit for the year toward retirement or survivor benefits would be given.

4-H'r Awarded on Tractor Know-how

An interest in tractors which goes back to toy models he had as a youngster has paid off for Thomas Comstock, 20, of West Concord, Minnesota in the form of national honors and a $300 scholarship.

Comstock is attending the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago where announcement of the award was made yesterday. He is one of the 12 young men in the nation to receive $300 scholarships for his work in the 4-H tractor maintenance project.

Convinced that the tractor is the best asset on the farm, Comstock says he uses it nearly every day—even in winter, since he has built a snow plow for it. Since 1948 when he enrolled in the 4-H tractor project, he has worked on almost every make of tractor, has serviced them and done minor repairing. Recently he bought a used 1939 tractor and is now making it ready for the heavy use he plans to give it.

JUST GIVE 'EM TIME— FOLKS WILL BE HONEST

"Here is part payment on the furniture I bought from you before leaving Wadena 20 years ago," said a letter received recently by C. I. Folkestad, Wadena furniture dealer; with a $10 money order was the promise, "Balance will be paid later." The sale was made 22 years ago.—A room key known to have been missing more than 10 years has been returned to the Lakeland Hotel, Willmar; and, close on its heels, another antedating the present hotel management, shown by advertisements on the old-fashioned keyholder to be more than 20 years old.

Planted Graylings are Doing Well in 2 Lakes

Montana Graylings planted in Minnesota waters have shown such promise in just a few months, anglers may be enjoying a short open season of angling for this relative of the trout in 1956, according to Hjalmar O. Swenson, supervisor of the state bureau of fisheries. Recent tests of the two northern Minnesota lakes into which the grayling were introduced June 28 showed some specimens as long as 6½ inches.

On June 28, about 180,000 fry were introduced into two small, isolated lakes in St. Louis and Cook Counties. One of these had been prepared in advance by poisoning out all fish life to eliminate any possible competition the grayling might otherwise have.

"We find that they have done especially well in this lake, where specimens of six and one-half inches in length have been taken," Swenson said. "They have lived entirely on aquatic insects as there are no minnows or other species of fish in this lake."

Among America's rarer sport fishes, graylings are related to the trout. They are beautifully colored and are usually 10 to 16 inches long and weighed up to 3 pounds when mature. The Montana grayling is fairly common in some of the colder streams and small lakes of Montana and adjacent Canada.

There were no grayling native to Minnesota and the only previous attempt to introduce them was a small unsuccessful stocking on the North Shore in 1909. The grayling succeeds best in small, cold-water lakes that have a small feeder stream in which the fish can spawn.

Soils-Fertilizer Short Course Dec. 6

The annual soils and fertilizer short course will be held on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus, Monday, Dec. 6. Announcement came from J. O. Christianson, director. Course chairman is Harold E. Jones, extension soils specialist.

In the morning program are discussions of Minnesota soils, fertility problems in the Red River Valley, phosphate and nitrogen problems and the residual availability of various phosphate fertilizers in the soil.

On the afternoon program are talks on decomposition of residues in the soil, the fertilizer outlook, nitrogen fertilizer demonstration results and methods of fertilizing alfalfa.

Me, afraid of the dark?

My name is Mary ... and I want you to know I'm not afraid to go to bed by myself.

I have a bright candle to light my way. I have Mommy and Daddy to care for me.

But do you really want to know why I'm not afraid?

In Sunday School, I learned about Jesus. I know he loves me and watches over me.

At night when I blow out the candle, and Mommy and Daddy are away, I am not alone. Jesus is with me. I remember how he said long ago to his disciples: "Let the little children come unto me ... for to such belongs the Kingdom of Heaven."

I wonder if your children know about Jesus? Won't you take them to Sunday School next Sunday?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

YOU CAN BUILD LAND BACK TO HEALTH

There was a rundown and "all drug out" field up at the University's Northeast Experiment Station in Duluth and its renewal story is a powerful one. That field yielded only two bushels of barley per acre back in 1938. Today, it's back in full production. Good soil building practices, fertilizers and legumes helped bring it back.

To test eggs for freshness put them in a bowl of cold water. Fresh eggs will sink. Bad ones won't.

ANNOUNCING A WHOLE NEW IDEA IN AUTOMOBILES FROM DYNAMIC AMERICAN MOTORS

From this day on you can forget your traffic troubles. Forget your struggle with the steering wheel. Forget the soaring costs of motoring.

For American Motors has come forth with a whole new motoring idea—a car to meet your new needs today. Styled with the finest—yet with America's lowest prices for sedans, station wagons, hardtop convertibles.

Read the facts here, then see the new 1955 Rambler, at all Hudson dealers and Nash dealers.

NOW—Double Strength SINGLE UNIT Body. You and your loved ones ride in a life-saving "Safety Zone" with Double Strength Single Unit Body. Passengers are surrounded by a safety belt of steel (as illustrated above). Double Strength Single Unit Body helps your Rambler stay new years longer . . . means greater value as a used car.

Smartest Car For Travel, Too! The Airliner Reclining Seat with four comfortable seat positions enables you to enjoy a chaise lounge (illustrated), a travel couch, a reclining seat or, in 4-door models, Twin Travel Beds.

New All-Season Air Conditioning* for Hundreds Less! Heats in winter . . . refrigerates in summer . . . ventilates year-'round. World's finest, yet lowest-priced.
*Patent applied for.

Ordinary Suspension

Three Times The Ride-Comfort! Rambler. Deep Coil Springs (at left) are longer, softer—and braced outward like "Sea Legs" to cushion car away on curves and give a smoother, quieter ride. Compare the difference with ordinary Spring Suspension (at right).

Lively New Performance. Here's the new idea in performance with the shortest turning radius on the road—amazing pick-up in a car that outdistances them all on a tank of gas. It's the lowest-priced car to offer Hydra-Matic Drive. Ball and needle bearings eliminate need for power steering.

Newest, Smartest Idea in Station Wagons—the new Four-Door Rambler Cross Country.

New Four-Door Sedan Custom, one of five new 1955 Rambler models.

New Prices Now the Lowest in America!

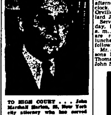
THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society



TO HIGH COURT . . . John Marshall Harlan, 55, New York city attorney who has served eight months on federal bench, was appointed to U. S. Supreme Court by Pres. Eisenhower.

JUDGE AND JURY

H. H. Sibley, who played a very great part in the early life of Minnesota, lived at Mendota. His home still stands. During his residence at Mendota Sibley was citizen of four states. Mendota was first a part of Michigan. Then came Wisconsin and, in 1838, Iowa. For some years, and until the formation of the Minnesota Territory in 1849, there was no organized government for this outpost.

Mr. Sibley served as justice of the peace for Clayton county of the Territory of Iowa. His jurisdiction extended from twenty miles below Prairie du Chien westward to include Pembina and to the Missouri river. He had few causes to judge for men had to travel too far to litigate. His decisions were never appealed. In fact, so great was the prestige of this pioneer judge that many of the rough men on this wide frontier thought that he had the power of life and death.

After the creation of the Minnesota Territory courts were established. Sibley was the foreman of the first grand jury. Judge Cooper, appointed to his position, was the presiding jurist.

The judge, following a long established custom at the beginning of a term of court, charged the jury and explained its duties. The talk was a notable one, historically, as the first in a great new area. There were twenty men on the jury. They listened intently, nodding their heads in agreement with the judge. The interesting fact was that only three of the jurors could understand and speak English. The other seventeen were Frenchmen who did not comprehend a word of this important charge.

OX AND CART

The Red River cart was one of the most interesting and romantic vehicles in transportation history.

These carts were generally tied together with thongs and made without iron. Most of them were drawn by a single ox with harness of untanned hide. The old ox yoke was fitted to some of the animals and others had collars and hames.

Most of the carts traveled in trains. In June, 1858 there were 140 in a great prairie convoy which stopped over a day at St Cloud enroute from Pembina. In that year the Hudson Bay Company planned to dispatch two hundred of these carts, all filled with peltries, from the Red River country to the Mississippi at St Paul.

Such a train usually had a number of Indian ponies with it. Some of them would be drawing carts. One round trip between the two rivers would be made each summer. Three weeks had been consumed by the journey from Pembina to St. Cloud. The whole trip, one way, doubtless consumed about a month.

Some of the carts were driven by women. These carts would be painted in outstanding colors, were fitted with a cover to give some protection from the sun and rain and had other elements of comfort about them.

This form of transportation was shortlived. It existed only because there was not a direct connection by river between the north and south flowing waters. Within a few years after the train camped at St. Cloud the steel rails that connected the Mississippi and the Red River had been laid and the ox had been replaced by the wood burning locomotive.

FRONTIER PRIESTS

German, Austrian and Catholic migration to Minnesota began in the early 1850ies. The center of growing population of these people was on and along the Mississippi river and in Stearns county.

The first priest to serve this area was Father Franz X. Pierz who was a Chippewa missionary stationed at Crow Wing. For some time he was the only priest in Northern Minnesota.

Father Pierz had come to America and to the Mississippi at an advanced age. But age never lulled his vision and enthusiasm. He wrote glowing letters back to Germany and was, no doubt, responsible for the beginnings of settlement in a large area along the Mississippi and its tributaries.

He also had a part in convincing the Benedictines to send three men of the order to St. Paul. These men arrived on May 4, 1856 and two of them were ordained as priests by Bishop Cretin. This was the first ordination in the state. These three priests arrived in St. Cloud on May 21, 1856. A monastery was constructed south of St. Cloud that year. In the fall of that same year a school was opened at St. Cloud. The ambition was for a college. At the legislative session in 1857 a charter was granted for St. John's College and in September that college received its first class of six students.

HE FOUGHT WHISKEY

The first man to deal officially with the Indians of Minnesota, to look after their interests and try to bring some order out of confusion and tribal wars was Major Lawrence Taliaferro. His name was seldom pronounced correctly. It might well have been changed to "Toliver."

This man was of Italian origin, as his name indicates. He was born in Virginia and behaved with outstanding gallantry in the war of 1812. Beginning with 1818 he was stationed at Fort Dearborn, later Chicago. He came up the river when Fort Snelling was built and served for a long time as the officer in charge of Indian affairs.

One of his tasks was to maintain some semblance of order among the Indians in their own relationships. The Sioux and the Chippewas did not like each other and were always on the verge of warfare.

Taliaferro's most distressing problem was that of control of the liquor traffic on the frontier. He constantly preached the danger of alcohol to the Indians and tried to restrain the liquor business with armed forces when necessary. He also had the power to license frontier traders but with all of his good intentions and soldiers he could not stop the constant flow of whiskey into the territory.

Youth Morals Discussed at Lincoln PTA

Panel Places Most of Blame for Delinquency on Home and Parents

The panel at the Lincoln high school PTA meeting last Wednesday evening very definitely answered the question "Who's To Blame?", with the answer, "The Home and the Parents." Mrs. H. O. Chommie, Mrs. Lloyd Spray, Elmer Andersen, R. A. Humes, and Kalmer Ostby, principal of Lincoln high school, were given a round of applause by the assembly upon completion of their effective handling of the subject which had to do with the lowering of morals among young people.

Mrs. Chommie forcefully presented the lack of love in the homes as a cause of delinquency with all too few parents showing any true affection for their children. She made a fervent plea for parents to live with a better understanding of their children's problems so that they would enjoy a greater confidence.

Mr. Humes pointed out there is need for greater discipline in our schools, pointing out that parents all too often object to school discipline. He recalled the days when discipline at school was followed with further discipline at home. He pointed out that school cannot be substitutes for parents.

Mrs. Lloyd Spray gave a presentation of the evils of comic books of which the greater percentage are listed as wholly objectionable, and contributing to a let-down in morals. This evoked some discussion from the floor as to means of preventing their sale locally. It was suggested that dealers' names be presented at the PTA meetings, in turn to be visited by a committee to solicit their cooperation to halt this influence on youth.

Mr. Ostby pointed out that the basic responsibility for youth lies with the parents, that interest in cultural things makes for better youngsters, and that the school is seeking to do its share in that respect. However, according to Ostby, the school cannot take the place of parents.

TRF Postoffice Getting Set for Christmas Rush

Postmaster R. J. Dryden Asks Deposit of Holiday Mail as Early as Possible

With Christmas Day only a little more than two weeks away, the Thief River Falls postoffice is getting set for its busiest season of the year, Postmaster R. J. Dryden stated today, at the same time urging local patrons to mail parcels and greeting cards as far in advance of the holiday as possible.

Dryden stated that extra workers will go on duty as quickly as Christmas mail begins arriving in substantial volume, probably some time during the coming week.

The postoffice department has made an appeal to the public to wrap all parcels securely and to give complete addresses, including street and number or route number, as well as the zone wherever applicable.

Dryden urged mailers of Christmas greeting cards to send them by first class mail, which insures their being forwarded in case of a change of address. He also asked patrons to tie cards destined for local delivery in separate packages from those addressed to other towns.

102 Votes Cast in Plummer Village Election Tuesday

A total of 102 votes was cast in the Plummer village election Tuesday. John Hanson was elected trustee for a three-year term with 55 votes compared to 31 for Oscar Brown. Mrs. Josephine McCrady was reelected clerk with 82 votes, and Alvin Thornton, with 81 votes, was named assessor. Others elected were Leonard Carpenter, constable; and Hubert Matt, justice of the peace.

Sa[illegible]a Coming Again Fr[illegible]y and Saturday ta Historical Society Historical Building St. Paul 1, Minn.

Pictured above are two of the more than 1,000 children from thruout this area who held pre-Christmas conferences with Santa Claus last Friday and Saturday afternoons in the Auditorium. The engrossed little folks are Tony and Paulette Johnson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson of St. Hilaire.

Santa again will be stationed in the Auditorium Friday and Saturday of this week and next week between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, and parents are invited to bring their small children to meet the old gentleman and receive little gifts.

To accommodate Christmas shoppers, local stores, except food stores, will be open both Friday and Saturday evenings this week until 9 o'clock. Never before have displays of toys and other articles for Christmas giving been as complete as they are this season.

Vocational School Plans Night Courses to Start in January

Courses for self-improvement, to be given in evening school, will again be available this winter through the facilities of the high and area vocational-technical schools in Thief River Falls.

It is planned that classes will begin in January, after the rush of the holiday season, and those interested are asked to immediately call in their names to Director C. W. Pope, 1033, for further information and registration.

In the commercial department courses in retail selling, beginning typing, bookkeeping for a small business, and refresher shorthand are offered, and will begin on Monday, January 10, 1955.

The home economics department is offering two new courses, drapery and five thirty supper club, the latter for business and professional women, and is also scheduled to begin on Monday, January 10.

The trade and industrial department are making available these trade extension and hobby courses: practical mathematics for electricians, new tune-up procedures for mechanics, blueprint reading for carpenters, modern woodworking for hobbyists, and the steel square for carpenters.

Any adults in the area who are within travel distance may enroll in the evening school and are urged to do so. Classes generally meet for two hours, one night per week, for a total of 12 to 20 hours. Exact schedules and further details will be announced. It is imperative that those interested indicate that interest now by calling 1033, as numbers will be the determinant of the subjects given.

Local Woman Is One of 18 to Solve Tribune Puzzle

Mrs. Nell McKechnie of Thief River Falls was one of 18 persons out of 102,507 entries who sent in correct solutions to the Minneapolis Tribune's popular Prizeword Puzzle contest, which had been published Sunday, November 28. This was the first time in the three months the contest has been conducted that more than two persons have correctly solved the puzzle. The $100 prize money was divided among the winners, Mrs. McKechnie receiving $6.12.

Rocksbury Farm Bureau to Hear of Social Security

Walter D. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks social security office, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Rocksbury Farm Bureau unit next Tuesday evening, December 14 at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Kistler will discuss the recently amended social security act in relation to farm people, who will come under the coverage of the law January 1, 1955.

It was announced that the meeting will be open to all interested persons, who are invited to submit questions to Kistler regarding the program.

Lincoln Musicians Offer Yule Concert on Tuesday, Dec. 14

The instrumental and vocal groups of Lincoln high school will present a combined Christmas concert in the school auditorium on Tuesday, December 14, at 8:00 p. m. The senior high school band, under the direction of John Moum, will open the program with the "Christmastide Overture", a composition consisting of arrangements of traditional Christmas carols.

Following the band selections, the girls glee club and the mixed chorus directed by Miss Ruth Thron will present a group of sacred Christmas numbers including, "O Holy Night" by Adolphe Adam, "No Candle Was There and No Fire" by Gostling-Lehmann, the Negro Christmas spiritual, "Go Tell It On the Mountains", and others.

Also participating will be the girls' double trio consisting of Arlette Moe, Marilyn Moe, Dorothy Anderson, Marilion Hafdahl, Beverly Wold and Connie Rawerts and the mixed quartet including Floydeen Lilstrom, Pat Clinton, Donald Armstrong, and Daryl Williamson.

The orchestra and junior high chorus, with Miss Judith Halvorson directing, will follow with several traditional Christmas numbers including "Lo How A Rose" by Praetorius and "O Jesus So Sweet" by Bach. "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer" arranged by Johnny Marks and played by the junior high band, will close the program.

The public is invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

$8,504 Collected in Chest Drive to Date; $2000 Short

With two-thirds of the rural areas of Pennington county still to report, and with several sizeable contributions yet due in the city of Thief River Falls, a total of $8,504.78 has been turned in to the Pennington County Community Chest fund up to the first of the week, Rev. Walter M. Pedersen, drive chairman, announced. This amount, he added, is $2,042 short of the objective of $10,556, and he urged any solicitors who have not yet turned in their collections to do so as quickly as possible.

Local Delegation Confers Tuesday on Airline Future

Five Local Officials Meet with North Central People in Minneapolis

More than 20 delegates from Thief River Falls, Grand Forks, Bemidji and Brainerd were flown to Minneapolis Tuesday morning in a special North Central Airlines plane to map with company officials plans for stimulating passenger traffic on the airline, thus proving the need for permanent air service to the cities involved.

Representing Thief River Falls at the conference were Mayor Agnes Israelson, Robert Carlson, chairman of the city council airport committee; Arthur Christianson and J. M. Roche, president and secretary of the Civic and Commerce association; and Don Olson of Radio Station KTRF.

Conferring with the city officials in Minneapolis were North Central officials, including H. M. Carr, president; Frank Buttomer, vice president; John Hammer, district traffic manager; and Dave Moffitt, public relations director.

The North Central route connecting Twin Cities and Grand Forks with stops at Brainerd, Bemidji and Thief River Falls, is now served under temporary authority pending a civil aeronautics board decision on the firm's application to provide permanent service.

The local delegation returned home early Tuesday evening.

Nearly 1,600 Deer Licenses Issued

Just short of 1,600 deer hunting licenses were issued in Pennington county for the recent open season, County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr announced today adding that the total compares with 1,503 issued in November, 1953.

Ralph Luhman to Head Civic and Commerce

Dr. O. D. Beich and Wallace Tunberg Are Named Vice Presidents

Ralph A. Luhman was elected president of the Civic and Commerce association at the organization meeting of the new board of directors Monday evening. Succeeding Arthur Christianson, he will take over his duties in January.

Other officers named include Dr. O. D. Beich, first vice president; Wallace Tunberg, second vice president; and K. E. Lindberg, reelected treasurer.

The election of six members of the board of directors was announced at the group's luncheon meeting last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe by G. S. Bergland of the election committee.

Those named to serve for two-year terms include Harley Kelly, Bill LaFave, Ralph Luhman, Ward Nichols, Wallace Tunberg and James Winjum.

Hold-over board members are Dr. O. D. Beich, Kenneth Lindberg, Don Olson, Sidney Lieberman, Gordon Ballingrud and Jack Edmiston.

Principal speaker at Thursday's session was Police Chief Elton Cummings, who reported on surveys made in November of cars parked in the business district. A license check, he stated, revealed that from 75 to 80 per cent of the cars had been registered at the Thief River Falls license bureau, suggesting that the majority of parking spaces are being taken up by local automobiles.

Chief Cummings pointed out that local business places would enjoy more business if their proprietors and employes would park their cars outside the business district.

Cummings also called attention to next Wednesday, December 15, which is being observed throughout the nation as Safe Driving Day, and he solicited public cooperation in avoiding traffic accidents that day in particular.

The recent workshop in Minneapolis sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce was discussed by Ward Nichols, Ralph Luhman and J. M. Roche, who had attended the event.

Secretary Roche announced that local stores will distribute free tickets Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, admitting the holders to the Santa Claus Town Circus, comprising 12 miniature acts, to be presented here in a trailer December 21, 22 and 23.

Santa Will Visit Plummer Kiddies

Santa Claus will pay a pre-holiday visit to children at Plummer Friday, December 17, as a result of arrangements made by the Plummer Commercial club.

Santa will be present at a free movie show at the Star theatre at 10 a. m. for children in the lower grades, and at 1 p. m. for the upper grades and high school students.

The jolly old gentleman will give a bag of candy and nuts to each of his little friends.

200 Creamery Men at L. O'L. Banquet Tuesday Evening

Concordia College Head, Principal Speaker, Talks on Cooperative Movement

Two hundred creamery men affiliated with Land O'Lakes plants in Districts 17 and 14, together with their guests, enjoyed a banquet last night in the Trinity church dining hall. Art Stenberg, president of District 17, served as toastmaster.

Speakers included Dr. Joseph Knutson, president of Concordia college in Moorhead, who discussed the cooperative movement in its various phases; and Oscar Z. Ramaberg, vice president of the Minnesota Transport association, who called attention to discriminatory fees charged over-the-road truck operators in many states.

Musical features of the program included group singing led by Robert J. Lund, and a group of marimba selections by Sonja Sharpe of Shelly, 1954 Northwest Dairy Princess.

The afternoon program was devoted to creamery management problems. Three Land O'Lakes officials, Ben Zakariasen, manager of laboratories and field service; Chester Johnson, in charge of the feed department, and F. J. Ziegler, manager of the equipment sales division led the discussions.

Jack Quesnell Wins 'Voice of Democracy' Contest of Jaycees

Jack Quesnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Quesnell, and a Lincoln high school senior, has been chosen winner of the local voice of Democracy contest. He will receive a clock radio and an award certificate from the Jaycees, the local sponsoring organization.

His speech, recorded with the aid of the personnel and facilities of Station KTRF, is entered in the regional contest which will be conducted next week.

Runner-up winners Arvid Wedul and Ara Peterson each will receive a gift certificate, donated by Elaines, Hamiltons, Lieberman's and the Fashion Shop. Marilyn McCrum, Connie Walters and James Krohn received honorable mention.

The state winner will receive a television set and the four national winners will be given a week-long, all-expense trip to Washington, D. C., a $500 college scholarship and either a radio or a television receiver.

The local winners will be honored at the next Jaycee dinner meeting Thursday evening, Dec. 16, along with Miss Thora Skomedal and Mr. Wallen of the English and Speech departments, who made it possible for so many students to participate.

Sheriff Rambeck and Police Chief Cummings to Direct Campaign Here

Mayor Agnes Israelson today proclaimed Wednesday, December 15 as "S-D Day"—or "Safe Driving Day"—and pledged the full support of the city government in making the project a success. She urged all citizens to do their utmost to keep Thief River Falls entirely free of accidents on December 15.

"S-D Day" is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with various national organizations, and state and local officials. It is a day to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when all motorists and pedestrians do their part.

Following is the mayor's proclamation:

"Whereas the president of the United States has asked all Americans to unite in a nationwide demonstration that traffic accidents can be avoided if all motorists and pedestrians do their part; and

"Whereas, the governor of our state has asked all of the communities in Minnesota to support this worthy effort;

"Now, therefore, as mayor of Thief River Falls, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, December 15, as 'S-D Day' in this community, and ask all citizens to drive and walk on this day so as to keep the entire 24-hour period free of traffic accidents."

Mayor Israelson has designated Police Chief Elton Cummings as director of "S-D Day" activities for Thief River Falls while chairman Odin Hanson of the county board, has named Sheriff Arthur Rambeck director for Pennington county.

In pledging support for the program, Mayor Israelson said: "This is an opportunity for every citizen to join in a common effort against a common enemy: the traffic accident toll. He can help as an individual,

Delores Ranum, Norman Forland Wed November 27

In a setting of candlelight, palms, baskets of mums and chrysanthemums at the Zion Lutheran church of Viking Saturday evening, November 27, at 7:30 p. m., Miss Delores Lavon Ranum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ranum, became the bride of Norman Sheldon Forland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Torkel Forland of Newfolden. Rev. Gordon Bernison performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony nuptial music was played by Miss Beverly Gustafson and she accompanied Miss Yvonne Lind as she sang "Because" and "I'll Walk Beside You" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a gown of lace and net over a satin skirt and a lace-over-satin bodice fashioned with a high neckline with satin buttons to the waistline and long lace fitted sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. Her finger tip veil fell in place from a crown adorned with orange blossoms and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings. Three yellow roses, mums and streamers on a white Bible, a gift of the groom, formed the bride's bouquet.

Miss Margaret Ranum, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. He gown was of ice blue taffeta with a scalloped neckline and matching headband. Mrs. Wallace Nelson and Mrs. Romaine Nelson, sisters of the groom were bridesmaids, attired in gowns identical to that of the maid of honor, except in a darker shade of blue. They also wore matching headbands. They carried colonial bouquets of red roses and white mums.

Delano Lind of Minneapolis, friend of the groom, was best man. Wallace Nelson and Romaine Nelson, brother-in-law of the groom, were the other gentlemen attendants.

Julie Ann Ranum, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was of ice blue taffeta with matching headband. Her basket was of red roses and mums. Donley Nelson, nephew of the groom was ringbearer.

Usherettes were Arlene Gustafson and Barbara Kagg, friends of the bride.

Mrs. Ranum attended her daughter's wedding in a blue suit with black accessories and the mother of the groom chose a turquoise dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses and white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. A white five tiered cake topped with three yellow roses centered the bridal table. It was baked by Mrs. Gilfred Sannes, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Ole Ueland, sister of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. Wm. Grundhaus and Mrs. Albert Hodik poured. Rev. Justin Dokken of Mission Covenant church, was master of ceremonies. Songs were rendered by Mrs. Lloyd Ranum, Doris Melvie and Arlene Gustafson. They sang "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Them," "We Must Walk Together" and "Lord Be Their Companion," respectively. Mrs. Russell Gustafson of St. Hilaire was in charge of the guest book and those presiding over the gift table were Ardelle Tangquist, Shirley Hodik and Mrs. Maynard Troland. Mrs. Morris Halvorson, Mrs. Emil Shern, Mrs. Lloyd Hansen and Mrs. Art Waller assisted in the Kitchen and Shirley Bakke, Barbara Forsberg and Janice Waller were the waitresses.

The bride is a graduate of Newfolden high school and prior to her marriage has been employed at the Warren court house. The groom also graduated from Newfolden high school and presently employed by Lee Plumbing and Heating in this city.

The couple left immediately on a wedding trip and upon their return are making their home in this city.

Edna Haugen Exchange Vows With Roy Hawk

Marriage vows were exchanged Sunday evening, Novemebr 28, at the Nazareth Lutheran church in Trail, between Edna Janet Haugen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen of Goodridge and Roy Hawk, son of George Hawk of St. Joseph, Missouri. Rev. Wilhelm Peterson officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 150 guests. The altar was graced with pink and white flowers and white bells.

Mrs. Wilhelm Petersen presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Thorwald Bjornarna and Mrs. Nordahl Solheim as they sang "O Perfect Love" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was escorted to the alter on the arm of her father. She was attired in a white satin gown with a molded bodice, scoop neckline, sheer yoke of illusion net, sleeves which came to a point over her wrists and tiny satin covered buttons extended down the back of her dress. Her gown was fashioned with Chantilly lace trim and a long train. Her finger tip veil of illusion net was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. Red roses and white mums in a crescent shape formed her bouquet.

Lois Haugen of Glendale, Ohio, was her sister's maid of honor. The other maid was Fern Haugen of Goodridge, sister of the bride. They wore net over taffeta gowns of salmon pink and peacock blue, respectively. They also wore matching hats and carried boquets of yellow chrysanthemums and yellow and white mums.

Linda Haugen of Goodridge, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was of yellow organdy and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Rodney Bjerklie served as ring bearer and wore black trousers with a white dinner jacket. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Attending the groom was Robert Elliot of this city, friend of the couple. The other gentleman attendant was Floyd Haugen of Goodridge, brother of the bride. Arvey and Lloyd Mostrom, cousins of the bride were ushers.

Mrs. Haugen attended her daughter's wedding in a navy blue suit dress with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white mums.

A reception was given in the church parlors for the couple by the bride's parents, immediately following the ceremony. There were 150 guests present. The wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was baked by Mrs. Jorgen Oftelie and Mrs. Harry Hanson, and was cut by Mrs. Oftelie. Mrs. Herb Gulseth poured. The waitresses were Lora Hanson and Shirley Hutchinson. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Orville Christenson, Mrs. Harry Hanson, Mrs. Arnold Tvelten and Mrs. Alfred Arveson. Rat Feeding Tests Show Importance of Balanced Diet

Experiment Sponsored by Local FFA Chapter Completed Last Week

The importance of feeding a balanced diet was clearly demonstrated in a white rat-feeding experiment recently completed in the local schools by the FFA chapter under the direction of Jon Metusalem, chapter advisor, with the cooperation of Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, and Quentin Jones, athletic director.

Five sets of two rats each were fed from October 18 to November 30, one receiving a poor diet and the other being given an adequate well-balanced diet. Those receiving a proper diet showed gains in weight of from 50 to 100 per cent more than the poorly fed ones.

The table below shows in the first column the name of the school, in the second the weight in grams at the start of the experiment on Ocober 18; the third column, the weight of the rats fed a poor diet on Nov. 30; and the fourth column, the weight of the rats fed a balanced diet at the end of the test.

Sportsmen's Club to Hold Hunters' Report Card Return Contest

At the December meeting of the Pennington County Sportsman club held last Wednesday evening the members voted to sponsor a drawing whereby some hunter will win a .22 cal. rifle furnished by the club.

To be the winner, a hunter must have his hunting report card in the box from which the drawing will be made. For convenience of hunters, deposit boxes are being put up in the Union State Bank, Northern State Bank and Elofsons Jewelry Store.

Hunters must fill in and sign their cards before placing them in the box. Return cards for small game, big game and trapping licenses may be used. Present plans provide for holding the drawing at the February meeting. The club will see that the cards are turned in to the state game and fish division for tabulation.

"Save Wet Land" buttons will be sold by the club, it was agreed by the members. If there are to be any sloughs and potholes left for ducks, it was pointed out, it will be necessary for the state to acquire the land and save the water.

Pres. James Disse will appoint a committee to study a proposal that certain lands along Ditch 200 in Marshall county be transferred to the division of game and fish and developed as a public hunting ground. Wildlife Biologist Robert Farmes and Warden Carl Sundstrom stated that this is a natural wildlife area and should be perpetuated as such.

Another feature of the meeting was the showing of the picture "Big Game Hunting In Alaska" provided by C. Gustafson & Son.

A venison feed was prepared by All Ness, assisted by Elmer Bratsch and John Anderson. This was the best attended meeting of the year.

Dan Kush Piles up 18 Points for Cardinals

The Plummer Cardinals, with Dan Kush scoring seven field goals and four free throws, and doing an able job of rebounding, defeated the Red Lake Falls Eagles, 40 to 27. The game was a schedule-opener for Plummer, and while the Cardinals had a low shooting percentage, and were somewhat erratic in their team-play, the rebounding of Kush and Malwitz were the factors that gave coach Arndt's team a win.

Trailing Kush for the game scoring honors was Red Lake Falls Terry Fladeland, who notched a pair of field goals and ten free throws.

The scoring by periods found the Eagles leading, 7 to 6, in the first period, with Plummer moving into a 16 to 14 lead at the intermission, and having a 25 to 20 margin at the end of the third period.

The Cardinals basketball schedule now appears as follows:

and as a member of groups with which he is associated: his church, his PTA, his club or fraternal society, his union, his association—any and all individuals and organizations can and should participate actively.

"It may sound unbelievable, but it is true, that last year there was an injury in traffic in the United States every 24 seconds. A total of 1,350,000 persons were injured to the point where they were disabled beyond the day of the accident. The price we paid for these accidents, in terms of medical expense, property damage and other costs was roughly $4 billion.

"A problem that takes a toll of these proportions is one that we simply cannot let go unchallenged. That is one of the reasons for 'S-D Day.' This day is designed to make us realize, among other things, that the place to attack the traffic problem is right here in our own community. And, the responsibility rests upon each individual—not 'the other fellow,' but you and I."

"On this day—Wednesday, December 15th —let us all do the very best we can to give our attention to these things:

"1. Observe the letter and the spirit of all traffic regulations.

"2. Be courteous to every driver and pedestrian-practice sportsmanship.

"3. Give full attention to driving and walking."

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Cites Changes in Law Allowing More Earnings

If you are entitled to social security payments, the recent amendments to the Social Security Act permits an individual to earn more and still receive their social security payments, according to Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks social security office.

Beginning January 1, 1955 the new law makes it possible for all beneficiaries on the social security rolls to earn up to $1,200 a year without losing benefits for any months.

After 1954, when a beneficiary exceeds his $1,200 in a year, he reports this to his nearest social security office. If he fails to report his earnings in excess of $1,200 in a year, he may be penalized by losing additional benefits for the year.

A representative of the Grand Forks social security office will be at the employment office in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 10:00 a. m. Individuals the Social Security Act are urged to call on him at that time. having any questions regarding

Youth Morals Are Topic at Lincoln High School PTA

Elmer Andersen emphasized the need of youth having a better background knowledge of American history and how the Christian religion was so definitely tied up with all that has made America a great nation. He said that good government is tied up with our Christian heritage and that while many churches are doing a good job with youth, yet all too many are negligent of their duties.

The panel was under the direction of the Rev. W. P. Clausen president of Lincoln PTA, who served as moderator.

The group decided that the officers were to serve as a committee to meet with representatives of the NEA to discuss legislation in the interest of education and youth.

Musical selections were furnished by a clarinet quartet, Marilyn Waale, Marilon Hafdahl, Joyce Helgeland and Jeanne Dahlen; and by a double vocal trio of Marilyn Hafdahl, Connie Rawerts, Dorothy Anderson, Marilyn Moe, Arlette Moe and Beverly Wold, with Marlene Kellberg as the accompanist.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 15th.

Goodridge PTA Votes to Sponsor Boy Scout Troop

The Goodridge PTA met in the gym on Dec. 1. A decision was reached to sponsor the Boy Scout organization of Goodridge.

The program begin with a band concert under the direction of Roland Samber, music supervisor. Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Bowman of St. Hilaire favored the group with a duet. This was "Family Night" and Rev. Bowman addressed the audience on "How the family can cooperate as a unit in work, play, service and worship."

Lunch was served by the sophomore and freshman mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herman Sturre and Mrs. Bob Oski.

Lincoln Seniors Offer 'Lute Song' 2d Time Tonight

Large Audience Enjoys First Staging of Ancient Chinese Drama Tuesday

The Lincoln high school senior class made a wide departure from the usual type of class play when a talented cast successfully presented Tuesday evening the ancient Chinese drama, "Lute Song", under the direction of Tor Wallen.

A second performance will be given in the Lincoln auditorium this evening (Wednesday) at 8:15. A large and appreciative audience attended last night's presentation.

Based on a Chinese play dating back 550 years, the play presents bits of Chinese philosophy in entertaining fashion. The performers were attired in handsome Chinese costumes.

Effectively enacting the principal roles in the production were Karen Chommie, George Gifford, Bradley and Barbara Teal, Marilyn McCrum and Lyle Haagenson. Jack Quesnell played the part of manager, who outlined the action of the plot.

Washington PTA Plans Yule Party

Event to Be Held Monday Night in Old Gymnasium

All parents of Washington grade school pupils are invited to the PTA Christmas party, to be held Monday, December 13th at 8 p. m. in the old Lincoln gym.

"Do it yourself projects," with the Christmas theme in mind, will be presented by several people.

Mrs. Arthur Bredeson, hospitality chairman, and her committee have numerous games, prizes and surprises in store.

Carol singing will be conducted by Mrs. Max Jensen, and Rev. Robert Abbott will preside over a brief business session.

A door prize will be given and lunch is to be served by 4th grade mothers.

Recommended Crop Varieties

One of the best assurances of a successful 1955 corn or grain crop is planting seed of varieties tested and approved by the University of Minnesota's Agricultural Experiment Station.

The Experiment Station carefully tests varieties made in Minnesota as well as those from out of state.

Each winter University agronomists and seed specialists issue their list of approved varieties for your guidance in buying seed for 1955 planting. Here is the list, determined at a conference of Experiment Station agronomists on Monday, Nov. 29.

OATS — Ajax, Andrew, Bonda, Branch, Clintafe, Clinton, James, Mindo, Missouri 0-205. Andrew, Branch and Ajax and Missouri 0-205 are resistant to Race 7 of stem rusts and Bonda, Clinton, Mindo and Clintafe are resistant to Race 8. Branch and Ajax have moderate resistance to Race 45 of crown rust, prevalent the last few years. A hull-less oats, James, is on the recommended list.

Shelby, a variety extremely susceptible to Race 7 of stem rust, was removed from the recommended list. In 1953 and 1954, it gave a much lower yield than other recommended oats.

SPRING WHEAT — Lee, Rushmore and Selkirk. Selkirk, a moderately stem and leaf rust resistant spring wheat developed at the Dominion Cereal Laboratory in Winnipeg was added to the recommended list. It resists Race 15-B better than any other recommended variety. About 80,000 bushels of Selkirk will be available for spring planting.

Willet was not included on the recommended list because of unsatisfactory dough-making qualities. Mida was removed because of high susceptibility to Race 15B.

DURUM WHEAT — Carelton, Mindum and Stewart.

WINTER WHEAT — Minturki and Minter.

BARLEY — Kindred and Montcalm. Most Minnesota barley is planted for malting. Kindred is recommended for all sections. Montcalm has good malting qualities and yields well, but has weak straw and is susceptible to scab, loose smut, spot blotch and stem rust. It is recommended only for Northern Minnesota. For feed, the agronomists suggest Vantage and Pentland.

FLAX — B-5128, Redwood and Marine. Redwood B-5128 and Marine are immune to rust. B-5128 is moderately susceptible to wilt and pasmo. Redwood and B-5128 must be planted early for high yields.

SOYBEANS — Blackhawk, Renville, Capital, Ottawa Mandarin, Flambeau, and two new varieties — Chippewa and Norchief. Chippewa has shown high yield, oil content and excellent lodging resistance. It is adapted to the southern half of Minnesota. Norchief is a very early maturing variety recommended for Minnesota's central, north central and the southern half of the northern corn maturity zones. It has outyielded Flambeau and has better standing ability and higher oil content.

RYE — Adams, and Caribou. A new variety, Adams resembles Imperial but has yielded more in tests. Imperial and Emerald were removed from the list as inferior to Adams and Caribou.

CORN — Minhybrids 401, 405, 406 and 505 were removed from the recommended list. The reason: seed for farm planting of the new superior Minhybrids—409, 411, 412, 507, 508 and AES 610—is now plentiful.

For further information, including a variety's yield, disease resistance and maturity in various zones of the state, see Extension Folder 22, "Improved Varieties of Farm Crops," and Miscellaneous Report 24, "Varietal Trials of Farm Crops." Both are free at the county Extension Office or from the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Here are a few Christmas ideas from our Christmas booklet. The booklet has been prepared from recipes and suggestions by homemakers and 4-H club members. If you did not receive a copy, we do have a few left at the office, and we will be glad to send you one.

Mrs. Clyde Hutchinson, of Reiner township suggests party butter cookies for Christmas. Here is her recipe:

2 cups flour, ¾ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolk and beat well. Add vanilla and flour. Form into rolls. Chill in refrigerator and slice. Brush top with sugar and put ½ almond in center of each slice. Bake 400 degrees 4 or 5 minutes.

The Hickory 4-H club have a novel idea for an outside decoration. Paint burned-out light bulbs or flash bulbs in gay Christmas colors. Hang them nestled in a wreath or among other branches on your front door. Very inexpensive and very pretty.

Coffee cans turn into clever Christmas gifts and the Star 4-H club have offered these suggestions:

Jewel Box—Paint a coffee can a deep yellow or any other color you like. Glue a 2-inch cardboard collar around the inside of can. Make tray rest on collar — this may be the top of an oatmeal box. Line can and cover tray with velvet or felt. Knot gold cord on tip of lid and around the outside of the can.

Button Box — Paint half of can and lid black, half white. Black buttons can be centered on the white, and white buttons on the black.

Sewing Box — Paste percale or other cotton print on outside and bottom of coffee can. Make pin cushion or a cardboard circle of same fabric. Stuff with sawdust or sand. Trim with cording. You might attach elastic loops on the inside to hold thread, small scissors, needle and thimble.

Here's hoping you try these ideas!

4-H CLUB NEWS

The last meeting was held at the Carl Alberg home on November 23. We planned for a Christmas party which is to be held at Belanges on December 28. Each boy is to bring a gift for a boy and each girl a gift for a girl, costing no more than 30c. The program consisted of a project talk by Connie Alberg, a reading entitled "Mama Spanked Me" by Gary Peterson, a project talk on dairy by Eugene Weckworth, a reading by Loretta Weckworth, a demonstration on making Christmas candy, by Carolyn Nelson, a reading by Jim Weckworth and community singing. Lunch was served by Mrs. Norman Nelson. —Elizabeth Droppo, reporter.

FARMERS and the new Social Security program starting Jan. 1

Since many of his employees will be earning Social Security credits the farm operator who hires farm hands will need to know about the change in the law concerning agricultural employees. Under the new law, there is no longer a requirement that a hired farm worker work for a certain period for one employer before he is covered by Social Security.

With the exception of Mexican contract labor, British West Indies workers, parents working for children, spouses working for each other, and children under 21 working for their parents, any farm employee regardless of age who is paid as much as $100 in cash wages by an employer during a calendar year is covered by Social Security. This rule means that the farm employer in case he has such an employee, must report the name and Social Security Account Number and the amount of cash wages paid to him and remit the four per cent Social Security tax—2 per cent withheld from the worker's wages and 2 per cent contributed by the farmer.

By fulfilling his duty to send such reports and taxes for each of his employees, the farm operator is helping build future financial protection for his own old age and for his family in case of death just as he does for himself when he sends in his own yearly report and self-employment tax contribution.

The self-employed farmer will want to know what he and his employees will get for their Social Security tax contributions. Of course the worker must be insured before any payments can be made to any beneficiary. A later article will explain how a person becomes insured under Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

An insured person who retires, certain members of his family, or certain survivors at his death, may qualify for monthly payments. The basic amount is determined by the insured person's average monthly wage since either 19[illegible] or 1950, with one to five years of lowest or no earnings dropped from the calculation if it is to his advantage.

Below are some estimates of the amounts of benefits payable to certain classes of qualified members of a family after August, 1954, under the new law.

Bemidji Quintet Overwhelms Prowlers Here Friday 79 to 36

Coach "Bun" Fortier's ever-moving and aggressive Bemidji Lumberjacks, after trailing during the opening minutes of the game and being held to a 13 to 7 score at the end of the first period, piled up 23 points in the second period to hold a 36 to 15 lead at the intermission and then added 43 points in the second half to defeat the Prowlers, 79 to 36 score here on Friday night.

In an entertaining preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team, with Dave Hanson scoring 16 points, Dave Rasmussen scoring 11 points, and Jan Hunt tallying 7 points, defeated Jack Louma's Bemidji 'B' team, 38 to 26.

Coach Al Adams' Prowlers will have an open date this week, but the locals will move back into competition on Friday, Dec. 17th, when they travel to Fosston for a game against Bert Tvelt's Greyhounds.

Except for the opening minutes of Friday night's game, when the Prowlers held a 6 to 5 lead with three minutes of the first period to play, the Bemidji Lumberjacks proved to have too much scoring punch, too much rebounding ability, and too much all-round speed for the local squad. Rich Carter, scoring eight points and getting three of his field goals on lay-up shots, was the factor that boosted the Jacks into a 13 to 7 first period lead.

Using their effective all-court press, the Lumberjacks, with Carter notching three field goals and a pair of free throws, and with all-state Jack Whiting adding a field goal and a pair of free throws, Bemidji gained a 36 to 15 lead at the half.

With veteran forward Darrel Erickson marking up eleven points, on four field goals and three free throws, Bemidji scored 28 points in the third period while limiting the Prowlers to 8 points, to hold a 64 to 23 lead.

With numerous reserves in the lineups in the fourth period, the scoring was on near-even terms, with Bemidji scoring 15 points and the Prowlers tallying 13 points.

The game's high-point honors went to Rich Carter, with the Bemidji guard scoring nine field goals and five free throws for a 23-point effort. Lee Kjos of the Prowlers and Erickson of the Jacks shared runner-up honors, each of whom scored sixteen points.

Thieves Hockey Team Has Signed 'Imports'

Player-coach Paul Bedard and team directors Chuck Krause and Swede Hendrickson were in Winnipeg over the week-end interviewing and signing up "import" players for the senior hockey Thieves. Incidentally, team manager Harry Hendrickson announced that the Thieves will open the 1954-55 Northwest Hockey league schedule by meeting the Roseau Cloverleafs at Roseau on Sunday, Dec. 19th.

The Thieves had been slated to open the schedule by playing the Warroad Lakers here on Dec. 18th, but in order to avoid a conflict with the high school team, that game has been postponed to Wednesday night, Dec. 22nd. Face-off time for the Warroad Laker contest will be 9:00 p. m. on the 22nd.

"Import" players that have agreed to play with the Thieves this season are Ron Castelane, a high scoring wing here a couple years ago, Church Russell, a member of the Thieves for the past several years as a center-ice player, and defenseman Chuck Lumsden.

Other imports who have been placed on the Thieves roster are Tom Marshall, a young defenseman; Larry Winters, a forward; Jim Zarie, a center-ice player who opened last season with Roseau; Jack McGill, last year's goalie, and who has signified that he will be available for week-end games with the Thieves; and big Bill Juzda, the Thieves' colorful defenseman.

Juzda's acceptance is qualified by the fact that he is a member of the Brandon Elks of the Manitoba Big Six league, and his playing with the Thieves will be limited to the dates when the Brandon club is idle.

Of the "imports" that have been signed to Thieves' contracts, the most impressive is, perhaps, Chuck Lumsden, a hard - checking defenseman. Lumsden, who is a veteran of the American Hockey league, having played with Pittsburgh the past five seasons, was a member of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers football team this past year. Having played football in the WIFU for the past season is an indication that Lumsden relishes bodily contact.

Tom Marshall and Larry Winters are the other "unknowns" that will try out for positions with the Thieves, and both of the boys are well-recommended. Jim Zarie, a smooth-skating center-ice player, turned "pro" after being released by the Cloverleafs last year, and finished the season playing in the Pacific Coast league.

Among the "locals" who are anxiously awaiting the completion of the ice sheet in the Arena are Paul Bedard, Bud Brossoit, Swede Lund, Rob Amundson, Bruce Hall, Les Vigness, Dennis Spanky Sullivan, Jack Hoppe, and Miles Thorson. Bedard, Brossoit, Lund, Amundson, Hall, and Thorson were on the Thieves' roster last year.

Vigness, a former stand out performer with the Prowlers, has returned to town after serving with the Air Force. Vigness, a high school graduate in 1947 and a co-captain of the 1947 Prowlers hockey team, played a couple of years with the Thieves before enlisting in the Air Force.

Spanky Sullivan, another "newcomer" to the Thieves' ranks, is a former Crookston Cathedral and Crookston Pirates player, having moved here this past year. Jack Hoppe, an all-state selection at goalie as a member of the state championship Prowlers, will be making a try at goalie for the Thieves.

Manager Hendrickson stated that an attempt will be made to arrange an exhibition series with the Grand Forks Redwings at Grand Forks within the next week or ten days.

Prowler Six Opens Season December 15

Grand Forks Plays Here; Only Five Lettermen in Lincoln School Squad

Only five lettermen were among the squad of hockey candidates that reported to Prowler coach Dennis Rolle at the Arena on Monday afternoon as the blue-and-gold players were issued equipment. Of these five players — Joey Poole, Sid Vraa, Jack Quesnell, Brad Teal, and Rodney Collins—only three Poole, Vraa, and Quesnell, were on the tournament squad that carried te Prowlers through to the regional and state titles last season.

With such players as Marv Jorde, Jack Hoppe, Mike McMahon, Les Sabo, Jim Zavoral, Lyle Guttu, Bob Helgeland, and Darryl Durgin being lost thru graduation, coach Rolle will be faced with a major rebuilding job this year.

The most worrisome problem confronting coach Rolle will be in forming an adequate defense for this year's club. The entire defensive unit, and it was the state's best, goalie Jack Hoppe, defensemen McMahon, Sabo, and Zavoral, graduated this spring.

The Prowlers will open their 1954-55 schedule on Wednesday night, Dec. 15, when they meet coach Carl Morken's Grand Forks Central sextet on the Arena rink. The Redskins played the Prowlers a pair of close games last year, losing 3 to 1 in a season-opening game here, and being defeated 4 to 2 at Grand Forks. It is reported that coach Morken is well-supplied with returning lettermen for this year's Central club.

In forming this year's Prowler varsity team, coach Rolle will call on a number of boys that played with Swede Lund's 'B' team last year. Among the players that will be expected to take up the "slack" created by the loss of the seniors will be goalies Cal Offerdahl and Pat Poole; defensemen, Duane Glass, Art Cloutier, Jimmy Reese, Fred Dablow, and Harry Armstrong; and forwards—Jack Poole, Glen Carlson, Jimmy Hall, Chip Strand, and Dale Glass.

It's probable that coach Rolle will call on his vierans, Joey Poole and Sid Vraa, for nearly full-time duty this season, especially during the early part of year and until the younger players have gained some experience. Poole an all-state wing last year, and Vraa, can be called upon to play at a defense position if required. Brad Teal will be at defense, with Jack Quesnell on the forward line, and Rod Collins, last year's spare goalie, will be given a try in the nets.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Who'll Beat 'Em?

We had our first look at coach Bun Fortier's Bemidji Lumberjack basketball team on Friday, when they trounced the Prowlers, 79 to 36, and we've reached the conclusion that Bemidji will again represent the eighth region come state tournament time next March. Fact is, this season's Bemidji club may be better than the team that carried the Lumberjacks to the state finals last season.

From that 1953-54 team, coach Fortier lost regulars Elmon Johnson and Bob Parker through graduation, but such standouts as Jack Whiting, Rich Carter, and Darrell Erickson are back for another campaign, and with the added experience that they gained last year, those three boys should be better players this season. Joining Whiting, Carter, and Erickson on this year's Bemidji club, are Fred Barker, a guard, and forwards Joe Mayer and Dale Lauderbaugh.

This year's Bemidji club follows the pattern of last season's Jacks, using an all-court press and are very aggressive and alert in covering rebounds both on the offensive and defensive boards.

That 79 to 36 score on Friday night wasn't the largest score that has been rolled up against a Prowler cage team, for a couple of years ago, in 1953, Bemidji tallied 88 points in beating the Prowlers, 88 to 46. The game here, though, did set a record for the point-spread in a Prowler loss, with the locals losing by 43 points, while the 1953 team lost by 42 points.

Gumila Officiates

Glenn Gumila, who, with Chuck Whiting, did an able job of officiating the game here on Friday night, is of the opinion that Al Droen's Crookston Pirates will give Bemidji a tussle. Glenn gives as his reason the fact that the Pirates have a pair of guards, in Pepper Lysaker and Bruce Lindell, that will be able to bring the ball up the floor against the Lumberjacks' press. Success in bringing the ball up the floor won't assure a win for the Pirates, for Crookston will have to overcome the fine all-round team speed of Bemidji, and the Lumberjacks superb rebounding work.

Incidentally, Gumila, while here, renewed acquaintances with Roy Lee, the former Prowler all-state guard who refereed the 'B' game on Friday night. The two, Gumila and Lee, played against each other in the 1938 state high school tournament. Gumila was a member of the Crosby-Ironton team that dropped a 30 to 28 decision in over-time in a semi-finals game. Whenever Glenn meets up with a member of that 1938 Prowler team, he, Glenn, wants to play that game over again.

About the only consolation we received out of Friday night's basketball program was the fact that the Prowlers did not "give up" even though they were soundly beaten; and the fact that the Prowler 'B' team scored a well-earned 38 to 26 win over the Bemidji 'B' team. If they continue to make progress, there will come a day when Dave Rasmussen, Dave Hanson, Jan Hunt, Darryl Williamson, Kenny Jones, Ken DeLap, Jimmy Bennes, Dean Bergland, and others will give the Prowler varsity the material to play the Bemidji varsity on even terms.

Waiting for Ice

Dennis Rolle of the Prowlers and Paul Bedard of the Thieves are both anxious for Chuck Dostal to complete the ice sheet in the Arena so that they can send their hockey hopefuls through conditioning drills.

Of the two, coach Rolle is faced with the greater problem, for Rolle, after losing eight of last year's championship team, won't be able to go up to Winnipeg and sign up "imports," as player-coach Bedard did for the Thieves this past week. The Prowler mentor is reconciled to the fact that locals' winning streak, which has reached nineteen games, will be broken this season. It's probable that this winning streak will be snapped on Wednesday night, Dec. 15th, when the Grand Forks Central team will open the 1954-55 Prowler schedule by meeting the blue-and-gold here.

The Grand Forks squad has been on the ice for quite some time, using the rink on the North Dakota U campus, and in a scrimmage this past week the Redskins played the North Dakota frosh sextet and losing by a only a 7 to 2 score.

The senior hockey Thieves, after the trip by Bedard, Chuck Krause, and Swede Hendrickson to Winnipeg on Saturday, are all set for the season opener on Sunday, Dec. 19th, against the Cloverleafs at Roseau. From all reports, the boys signed up a first-class array of "imports," and with these "imports" joining the locals that are available, the Thieves should be a formidable outfit.

We would have like to have Bill Juzda agree to play with the Thieves for all of the scheduled games, but burly Bill had made previous commitments to the Brandon Elks. Bill did assure the boys that he would come down here for games whenever the Brandon schedule will permit. Juzda is needed on the Thieves roster, for he's just the guy that will keep the "rough" boys in the league "honest."

All that mankind has done, thought, gained or been: it is magic preservation in the pages of books. Carlyle

Inequalities in Taxes on Property in State Cited by Commission

Widespread inequalities in property taxes prevail in Minnesota, the Minnesota Tax Study Commission reported today.

Faulty assessment practices which result in too high taxes for some citizens and too low taxes for others were cited as a basic weakness in the tax system. The result, said the commission, is discriminatory levies both on real estate and personal property. Unfair differences in valuation of property were reported between the various counties and between individual residents within the same counties.

In numerous instances, the commission said, farm lands are being taxed too high in relation to other property, while residential and lake shore property often is under-valued and undertaxed. It finds that state laws governing property valuations are not uniformly enforced at local levels.

An overhauling of the state's property assessment system is recommended. The commission suggests that part-time local tax assessors be replaced by fewer but better trained and better paid full-time assessors. These, it is urged, should be selected subject to approval by the state tax commissioner, who would also be given greater authority in supervising operations of the local assessors. Such a system, the commission believes, would make for fair and uniform property valuations and tax assessments throughout the state.

It is recommended that the tax on household goods be continued unless the personal property tax is dispensed with entirely.

The Tax Study Commission was established by act of the 1953 Legislature. Its membership includes state senators, state representatives and private citizens, the latter chosen by the governor. Professor R. T. Logan of St. Peter is chairman. He is vice president of Gustavus Adolphus College and head of its department of business administration and economics.

Today's report is the first of a series which the commission will make to Governor Anderson for later presentation to the 1955 Legislature. The initial section covers property assessment procedures. This will be followed by others taking up important tax problems and recommending adjustments in the general tax structure. One of the Legislature's instructions to the commission was to recommend an overall tax structure which will produce needed revenues with minimum hardship on individuals especially in lower income brackets, and "which will create a friendly, healthy atmosphere for present and future industries."

The basic weakness in present property assessment procedures, said the commission, is failure of local assessors to obey the state law which calls for an estimate of the actual full and true value of real and personal property. This is equivalent to the normal current sale value.

After an assessor establishes the value of a piece of property, the tax rate is levied against a specified percentage of the total, in accordance with Minnesota's complicated property classification laws.

For example, iron ore is taxed in 50 per cent of its full and true value, nonhomestead farm land at 33⅓ per cent, nonhomestead residential at 40 per cent and so on. In order that all citizens should be taxed fairly and uniformly it is necessary that their property be given a uniform full and true valuation in the original assessment. This is not done. Great variations are found on valuations placed on comparable property in different counties and in the same counties. It is often of value to a county or a school district to have its total property valuation kept at a low figure in order to obtain advantages in the allotment of state school aid funds and welfare funds.

Short Course for Seed Dealers Set

To be Held Friday on 'U' M. St. Paul Campus

A short course for retail seed dealers has been scheduled for Friday, December 10, on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus.

Announcement came today from J. O. Christianson, director of short courses. W. M. Myers, head of the University's agronomy department, is course chairman.

Morning discussions will include talks on how the University's experiment station determines the varieties it recommends for Minnesota planting; new crop varieties still in the research and breeding stage; how to identify important Minnesota weeds and proper use of herbicides in weed control.

Afternoon sessions include a talk on dealer service improvement by Joseph E. Burger, vice-president, Cornell Seed company, St. Louis, Missouri and discussions on how seed certification benefits seed dealers, establishing forage crop seedings and winterhardiness of legumes in Minnesota.

Citizens Asked to Set out Feed for Birds in Winter

Citizens have at least one other duty during the cold winter months in addition to shovelling walks and pushing cars out of snowbanks. Don't forget to put out feed for song-birds, says the Minnesota department of conservation.

The feathered friends do not insist on a fancy feeding station—just set out a woden box open on one side, and facing away from prevailing winds. Mount it on a post or tree. Keep the box supplied daily with sunflower seeds, cracked nuts, bread crumbs, cracked corn, or any other bird food.

Don't forget suet! Get a chunk from your meat market and fasten it securely to a heavy stick by wrapping with strong twine (do not use wire or nails) and fasten stick to tree or place in feeder. Suspending the stick from a limb with some strong twine place it out of a feline's reach. It is particularly important to place feed out immediately following a snowfall.

Your efforts will be rewarded by regular visits from black-capped chickadees, nuthatches, and members of the woodpecker clan in addition to other hardy birds.

Married Men Now May Enlist in Army

Sgt. L. J. Clemenson, U. S. Army recruiter at Thief River Falls, announced today that married men desiring to enlist in the Regular Army may now do so, under this regulation.

Men who have not been in service, and having not more than one dependent may enlist, as may men who have served in the Army and who have two dependents.

All men enlisting under this new regulation are also authorized to enlist in the branch of their choice, or a choice of 87 different technical schools.

For further information, contact Sgt. Clemenson at the city Auditorium, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Parents Gather at Northwest School

Delmar Hagen of Gatzke Elected Vice President

More than 500 parents of students at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, were guests of the students and the school on November 24. The parents attended classes during the morning and held the annual business meeting of the Northwest Schol Parents association.

The parents were guests of the students at the noonday dinner and at the all-student program held in the auditorium during the afternoon. A musical program, style revue, and home project reports were features of the program during the afternoon. The school band under the direction of Wm. E. Pond opened the program. Vocal and instrumental groups under the direction of J. A. Miller, instructor in voice, and Mary Croal, instructor in piano, completed the music program.

The style revue, in which 70 girls modeled clothing made in summer home project work, was under the direction of Miss Retta Bede and Mrs. Evelyn Peterson, instructors in home economics. H. H. Lysaker, home project supervisor, directed the six boys who reported on home project work offered at the school.

An outstanding array of small grains, flax, potatoes, collection projects, and clothing work were featured in the Student Home Project Show at the gymnasium.

At the annual meeting of the Northwest School Parents' association, officers were elected for 1954-55. Officers elected include: Morris Grove, McIntosh, president; Delmar B. Hagen, Gatzke, vice presidents and Gordon Clow, Lancaster, secretary-treasurer.

County directors of the Northwest School Parents' Association named for 1954-55 include Kenneth Maldment, Thief River Falls, Pennington; Leo Derosier, Red Lake Falls, Red Lake; and Delmar B. Hagen, Gatzke, East Marshall.

BETTER SOONER THAN LATER

Indorsement of the principle of flexible price supports by the Farm Bureau last week encourages the hope that we are making headway in our approach to a sound agricultural program. Rigid supports, giving false assurance of fair returns with unlimited production, and regardless of market needs, obviously cannot be maintained indefinitely. Sooner or later there must be adjustments in production to the requirements of normal demand, and we know that it would have been better for the dairy industry if these adjustments had come sooner than later.

The dollar is an effective price regulator. It tells us when we have too much or too little, encouraging increased production when shortages threaten and discouraging production when the stockpiles start getting too big.

But the dollar has some notable shortcomings as a price regulator. It is a pendulum that often swings too far each way, resulting in peaks and depressions that sometimes are disastrous.

What we hope for in the price control programs that we create is reasonable regulation of supply as the master regulator, providing for a leveling off of the peaks and depressions. And if we are to rely on government price supports for such a purpose there must be flexibility.

Rigid supports, without production controls, do not recognize the basic requirement of sound, depression-free marketing, a close balance between supply and demand.

THE LAND OF NO OPPORTUNITIES

For our success story this week we will tell you about a poor immigrant who, on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday, distributed more than a half a million dollars to charity. There is nothing unusual about that you say. A lot of our good citizens who have achieved fame and fortune came to our country as immigrants, so what. Well the interesting angle to this particular yarn is the fact that this fellow did his emigrating in reverse. As a young lad he left the Lower East Side of New York where he was born and made his fortune in the Old World, in a land where there no longer were opportunities for a young man. Fifty years from now and a hundred and fifty years from now there will still be stories like this to be told.

THYE TELLS WHY

Senator Edward J. Thye was among those who voted in favor of the censure of Senator Joseph McCarthy and his statement that, "no more unpleasant or difficult duty could fall upon the members" than that of voting in favor of such a rebuke to a fellow member is easy to understand. The following explanation of his decision is interesting in that it sets forth the real issue that was involved in this controversy.

"I believe," he said, "that members of the Senate should be held to strict accountability for their actions and their conduct; that witnesses before Senate Committees are entitled to fair treatment, that Senate Committees themselves, in discharging their functions, deserve the respect and co-operation of all members of the Senate, and that individual members of such committees in carrying out their duties should be free from personal attack that impugns their motives. It is when there is persistent departure from principals such as these that the honor and prestige of the Senate demand that a line be drawn."

Now that the matter has been disposed of it is well to keep in mind that McCarthy was not censured because of the purpose of his investigations but solely because of the manner in which those investigations were conducted.

DIGGING FOR AIR SERVICE

Gerald Smith, aviation editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, gave Brainerd, Bemidji and Thief River Falls a pat on the back in his Aviation Notes Sunday. We liked very much what he said and so, of course, are glad to pass his comments along. Here they are:

"Several cities in northern Minnesota must have taken their aviation cue from the chap who quit digging for gold after becoming discouraged with his claim site. Someone else took it up, and after digging only another foot, struck a rich vein.

"The chap in this story is reported to have said: 'Begorrah, that teaches me a lesson. I'll never quit digging again until I've dug a foot farther!'

"The cities to which I refer are Brainerd, Bemidji, and Thief River Falls—cities which put up such a valiant case before the Civil Aeronautics board to retain daily scheduled air service provided by North Central Airlines on the north leg of its Segment Five.

"The cities were told they were fighting a losing battle but they spent time, and energy and money in getting every possible argument in favor of retaining the service into the record.

"THE TIDE TURNS—In a sudden turn of events early in 1954, North Central Airlines got a new president, youthful Hal Carr. Under his direction, the local service carrier revamped its schedules into northern Minnesota, and business developed during the summer caused the line to reverse its position—and it asked for authority to continue the northern segment terminating at Grand Forks, N. D., until a final determination made by the board.

"CITIES STILL DIGGING—So, perhaps it is part of the cities' plan, not to quit digging until they have dug a foot further, that has resulted in a unique air transportation conference in the Twin Cities Tuesday.

"North Central will bring Aeronautical, civic and business leaders from Grand Forks, Thief River Falls, Bemidji and Brainerd to the Twin Cities by special flight Tuesday, and everyone will have opportunity to toss in ideas which may yet have some bearing upon obtaining a permanent certificate for the scheduled flights north of the Twin Cities.

"For encouragement, they have the instance of James A. Tomlinson, counsel for the Bureau of Air Operation at Washington, D. C., who was opposed not only to continuing the Segment 5 operation but also opposed year-around service to International Falls. He was "converted" during the summer just past, however, to the fact that International Falls had sufficient capacity for more than a seasonal operation, and withdrew his opposition."

Game Night

Mrs. Glen Davidson, teacher in Dist. No. 37 was hostess to her pupils, parents and friends Friday night. Guessing games, scramble words, peanut race, chimney building, placing slogans and other entertainment was enjoyed by those present. We all earned a stick of gum by donning gloves taken from a paper sack containing gloves and sticks of gum, taking a stick of gum from the sack, removing the paper while wearing the gloves and putting the gloves back into the sack and passing to your neighbor. We had been chosen by two of the pupils and the line that finished first was the winner. Sandwiches, cake, cookies and coffee ended the evenings entertainment which I am sure was enjoyed by everyone present.

No other gas pedal gets action like this!

This pedal does more than just feed gas to an eager and high-powered V8 engine.

When you give it the extra nudge that moves it beyond the full throttle position, something happens that never happened before in an automobile.

You hear a businesslike purr, which tells you that twenty power vanes, deep inside the 1955 Dynaflow Drive,* have changed their pitch—just like the variable pitch propellers on a modern air liner.

And with the same result in the way you get-up-and-go, with a safety-surge of power for pulling out of a tight spot on the highway.

Words can't describe it. It's a new sensation – something you simply must try for yourself.

There's nothing like it on the 1955 new-car horizon.

Fact is, there's a whale of a lot to see and sample at your Buick dealer's.

There's fresh new styling. There's higher horsepower in every Buick V8 engine. There's a new Airpower carburetor. And beneath it all there's good old-fashioned integrity in every nut, bolt and rivet.

But, this year, don't simply make a visit to the showroom where these trim and thrilling new beauties are on display.

The smart thing to do—if you want to know what's what in new automobiles—is to get behind the wheel of a 1955 Buick and drive it. How about doing that soon?

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Alex Panas who passed away Dec. 9, 1953.

Gone is the face I loved so dear,
Silent is the voice I loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach,
Sweet to remember her who was here,
And who though absent is just as dear.
Lovingly remembered by her husband Alex Panas. 49p

Yule Seals Finance War on Tuberculosis

Pennington county residents, through their purchases of Christmas Seals, this year helped provide two major weapons to fight tuberculosis and promote better health, according to Mrs. George Erickson of Thief River Falls, secretary of the County Tuberculosis and Health association.

The main TB-fighting tools are: case-finding, the search for unknown contagious cases of tuberculosis, and health education, to teach all people how to safeguard their health.

With funds raised during the 1954 Christmas Seal campaign, which started Nov. 22, County TB and Health associations hope to offer tuberculin tests to more and more people in every county, Mrs. Erickson said.

"The TB skin test finds people with TB germs in their bodies before the germs have a chance to do any damage. If the persons who have been TB-infected are found and then watched by means of regular X-rays, they and their families can be safeguarded against active, contagious disease."

Case-finding activities which the Christmas Seal organization helped sponsor this year in Pennington county were:

Tuberculin testing for school children, teachers and other school employees. Dr. Baldwin Borreson administered the skin tests.

Chest x-rays for medically indigent persons — those not receiving welfare aid but for whom the cost of x-ray examination would be a financial burden.

Other health education activities in which Pennington county and the state TB association cooperated are listed as follows:

Supplying schools with health aids and reference materials—including paper handkerchiefs, first aid supplies, individual drinking cups, paper towels, health handbooks and posters—as part of a "learn-by-doing" approach to health teaching.

Distributing "Everybody's Health," state Christmas Seal magazine, which contains latest TB and health information, to schools, hospitals, libraries, doctors, nurses and Christmas Seal workers.

Providing news to county newspapers on TB facts and programs.

Showing health films, including "Tuberculosis," loaned free-of-charge by the state Christmas Seal organization.

Assisting PTA's with the Summer Round-Up of pre-school children, annual program aiming at health examinations for all youngsters before they start school.

Dr. J. F. Norman of Crookston Dies

Rites Held Thursday for Prominent Doctor

Funeral services for Dr. J. F. Norman, 73, prominent physician and one of Crookston's leading citizens—were held Thursday at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Crookston.

Members of the Red River Valley Medical Association served as honorary pallbearers.

A leading citizen of the community since his arrival in 1908 and one of the founders of Crookston Clinic, Dr. Norman died Monday, Nov. 28, as he was leaving his home.

A native of Henderson, Dr. Norman would have been 74 years old had he lived until Christmas Eve this year. Following his graduation from Hamline Medical school in St. Paul, he interned at St. John's hospital, Fargo, N. D., until 1908 when he came to Crookston and established the beginnings of a long medical practice.

Dr. Norman was married in 1912 at Bemidji to the former Loretta Malone, who survives. Also surviving are two sons Dr. David Norman of St. Paul, Dr. Nelson Francis Norman of Fresno, Calif.; a daughter Mrs. Henry R. Perry of Santa Fe, N. M., and ten grandchildren.

Violence and Passion cross the lives of Barbara Stanwyck, George Sanders and Gary Merrill in Chester Erskine's suspense drama, "Witness to Murder," which opens Thursday at the Falls Theatre.

Nitrogen Gives Bigger Grain Yield

'U' of M. Reports on Tests Conducted in R. R. Valley

Recent University of Minnesota experiments in several areas of the state show that nitrogen fertilizer can profitably increase yields of barley and wheat.

The research was described today (Monday, December 6) by Charles A. Simkins, a University extension soils specialist at the University's annual soils and fertilizer short course. He said that fertilization demonstration plots in the Red River Valley show nitrogen can be profitably added in most counties of the area.

Red Viver Valley soils originally had plenty of organic matter and enough available nitrogen to produce good grain yields, naturally—without fertilization, he said.

But cropping, fallowing and burning of straw and stubble has cut down the organic matter content of many soils—they are no longer "strong enough" to produce naturally enough nitrogen necessary for high grain yields.

Simkins said that a total of 78 demonstration plots were harvested in eight Red River Valley counties—60 were in wheat, 15 in barley. Although adding nitrogen didn't increase yields at about a third of the wheat plots, several responded with yield increases as high as 15 bushels per acre.

Barley also showed a good response, with 72 per cent of the plots giving at least a four-bushel per-acre increase from nitrogen. Yield increases ranged up to 16 bushels per acre.

Test weight of wheat and barley was not affected by the nitrogen applications.

N. W. School Fall Term Ends Dec. 17

The winter term at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, opens on Monday, January 3. The fall term closes on Friday, December 17. Students who are interested in enrolling for the winter term should write to the Northwest School, Crookston, Minnesota, for information.

State Road Toll Heads Downward During November

Fifty Persons Killed in November, Highway Department Reports

Although more pedestrians were killed on Minnesota's streets and highways in November than in any other month of 1954, the over-all 11-month fatality toll was reduced, with 582 deaths reported to the Minnesota highway department, as compared with 604 during the first 11 months of 1953, for a saving of 22 lives. November traffic accidents brought death to 50 motorists and pedestrians, a reduction of 14 under the 64 killed last November.

Pedestrian deaths reached 16 during the month, to bring the 1954 11-month toll to 107, or 23 less than the 130 reported in the comparable period of last year. Five youngsters 16 years of age or younger were included in the fatality list, with the 11 other victims 55 years of age or older.

Fifteen collisions between motor vehicles resulted in fatal injuries to 19 motorists. Four of these accidents were of the multiple-death variety, with each of these accidents claiming two lives.

Another 15 accidents, in which single vehicles were involved, brought death to 14 motorists. This was a very encouraging reduction from the 40 such deaths reported in October. They resulted from such accidents as running off the road, vehicles overturning in the roadway, missing curves and occupants falling or jumping out of vehicles.

"Minnesota motorists will have to be on their 'best behavior' throughout this month," commented Earl M. Larimer, state director of highway safety, "if they are to make further improvements on the year's traffic safety record. Last December's 34 traffic deaths were the lowest for any December since 1944, when only 28 were killed. The record on December 31st will depend upon how each of us drives during this month of dangerous driving."

Yule Program Is Set Sunday Night at N. W. School

The annual Christmas program at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will be held on Sunday evening, December 12, at 8:00 o'clock in the school auditorium. The Christmas Story will be presented by the school music groups and by narration.

Music groups appearing on the program will be the mixed chorus, girls' glee club, mixed octet, boys' quartet, boys' glee club, and triple trio. Soloists in the mixed chorus, girls' glee club, or boys' glee club numbers are Donna Miller, Crookston; Willis Finifrock, Barnum; Howard Duncan, Cando, N. Dak.; Donald Wald, St. Hilaire; Marilyn Balstad, Fosston; Theone Larson, Twin Valley; Ruth Iverson, Goodridge; and Sylvia Jensen, Stephen.

Wendell Kelm of Neche, N. D., will act as narrator in the Christmas Story. John A. Miller, instructor in voice, will direct the music groups, and Miss Mary Croal, instructor in piano, will serve as accompanist.

The public is invited to the program.

Strandquist . .

By Mrs. Ed. Stennes, Strandquist

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sumners and family of Wichita, Kan. left on Monday for their home after spending a few days at the home of her parents, Robert Kolands and other relatives. They ran into some very slippery roads on the way home, however.

Roger Koland has also been home for a week. Deer hunting?

On Friday Roger and Mrs Robert Koland visited at the home of Mrs. Alvina Anderson in Karlstad.

Mrs. Herman Nelson visited with her sister Mrs. Andrew Boen on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Boen visited at the home of their son Kenneth Boen on Saturday.

We are glad to know Inger Gustafson is recovering from a major operation performed at the Bethesda Hospital in Crookston.

Last week visitors at the Frank Kleinvachter home were Mr. and Mrs. John Holmstrom and Alvin, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thompson, David and Cheryl, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lindstrom and sons.

Those who helped Frank Kleinvachter celebrate his birthday Friday evening were Adolph Kleinvachter of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Holstrom and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Storeby and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kleinvachter. Happy birthday.

Mrs. Leonard Damman, Mrs. Wm. Damman of Stephen, Mrs. Carl Ryden and Mrs Jay Davis of Donaldson visited with Mrs. Clara Turpen on Thursday.

The last Commercial Club meeting was sure a flop. Only four members turned up, maybe it was due to hunting season? Why not invite the women to help push?

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stennes and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Stennes and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stennes and Caroline spent Sunday in Stephen at the home of Harold Hope to help Grandma Stennes celebrate her 80th birthday. The self-invited guests brought a birthday cake and refreshments along with them.

Mrs. Dolpha Johnson and Mrs. Ingvald Rokke called at the Harris farm and at the home of Wm. Wikstrom Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Boen visited at the home of O. Brekke on Sunday.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet at the Mission church on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 9 at 2:30. Refreshments after the program. All women are invited to attend.

Mr. George Olouson, auditor for Western Oil and Fuel Co. was a luncheon guest at the Carl Johnson home on Friday.

Mrs. Don Peterson of Crookston and Una Mae Kimbrough called briefly at the Carl Johnson home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and children and Delores Brannan visited with Emil Johnson at Thief River Falls and at the Edmund Andeen home in Warren on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Anderson and Corinne and Mrs. R. R. Anderson visited Mrs. H. R. Anderson and the brand new boy at the Northwestern hospital at Thief River Falls on Friday.

The following young ladies helped Corienne Anderson celebrate her ninth birthday on Saturday afternoon. Sharon and Mary Storeby, Grace and Carol Renstrom, Marlys Setten, Loretta Ann Kerwin, Diane Carlson, Marlys Sjoquist and Sunday afternoon the Kittlesons, E. R. Andersons and Mrs. Willard Renstrom and family helped Corienne celebrate.

Santa Claus day will be held Dec. 18 at 2:30 in Strandquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Johnson of Kennedy visited at the home of Erick Olson on Sunday.

Mrs. Ingvald Rokke visited at the home of Ottina Rokke Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hallberg, Mrs. Esther Thrane visited at the Lloyd Iverson home in Thief River Falls on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson and Sandra of Kennedy visited at the Ed Carlsons and Clarence Borsvold homes last Tuesday afternoon. They had just come back from a two weeks trip. Most of their vacation was spent in Minneapolis visiting the Clifford and Wilfred Smith families and with Carol Borsvold. On Thanksgiving day Carol entertained the following guests at a turkey dinner with all the trimmings: Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wayne and their three children, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson and Sandra, Vera Luke, Ivan Kimbrough, Laurel Erickson, Harold Onger and Ralph Johnson.

Mrs. Otto Paulson and Nina visited at the Clarence Borsvold home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Johnson entertained the Golden Rule club last Tuesday afternoon. All members were present. Mrs. Oscar Johnson won both the door prize and game prize. Mrs. Johnson served a most delicious lunch and the household hint is as follows: In pressing fleece or corduroy materials, use an inexpensive scrub brush as a pressing board, placing the brush upside down and covering it with two or three layers of cheese cloth. The nap or pile of the fabric goes into the brush, and there's no shine when the pressing has been done.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. Chevrolet and General Motors set out to build the first low-priced car that would:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, skills, resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new idea? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . exciting fabrics and trim are harmonized with the whole car.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering. And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get "heads up" stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

News of Past Week from Plummer Area

Mrs. Josephine McCrady, Plummer, Box 103, Phone 77

The Plummer Commercial Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, Nov. 29th. The club decided to sponsor an outdoor Christmas decoration contest. The contest to be open to all of the towns people, both in the residential and business areas. Judges are to be selected by the Club president. Three cash prizes will be awarded to the best decorated homes or business places. First prize $10.00; second $5.00 and third, $3.00. This is a fine undertaking and should help foster the Christmas spirit. It is hoped most of the Plummer people will participate in this contest. If the contest proves to be a great success larger prizes may be awarded in the coming years. The club also passed a resolution allowing all business places to remain open evenings from the 13th of December thru the 24th of December.

Christmas Plans

Christmas is a magic word to many adults and to all children. Some adults no longer feel its warmth, excitement, and special glow; they dread the shopping and the crowds, and complain that it isn't "worth it." These are the ones who as children may not have experienced the richness, the traditions, and the family-togetherness that this season can bring. Christmas can be a time when even the busiest adults reach out to their families, and when children feel especially loved and considered.

Listen from now until that favorite day and you hear, "OUR tree is never trimmed until all the children are in bed." "In OUR family we get little stocking gifts even before we get out of bed." "Oh, we don't open OURS until after church." The holiday is a time for uniting the family through its customs and thus making "ours" something of special significance.

The Christmas season provides a rare opportunity for learning. Do you buy the gifts for little John to give to his family and friends, or can he be given the grown-up thrill of saving his pennies, thinking about what others might want, making or shopping, and then tying up those secrets? Do you discuss who gave what last year and what that means in a comparable return this year, or do you give him the example of the true spirit of giving? Do you encourage him to make a list and to expect selfishly that he will get everything on it, or do you help him understand the limits of budgets, the necessity for making choices, and the greater enjoyment he gains from making lists for what he might give others?

Keep Christmas with all its spirit, so as your child grows into adulthood to find that life may be difficult at times, this special season will always bring him the feelings of love, security, and consideration for others.

The Hour Every Motorist Owes to Himself!

The happy man you see in this picture is bringing himself up to date.

Cadillac has written a whole new chapter for the book defining motor car performance, and he's taking an hour to find out what it says.

And it says plenty—of very great importance.

First of all, it tells you what it's like to have command of a 250-horsepower engine that's as smooth as velvet, and so quick and eager that you have to educate your driving toe all over again.

It tells you what it's like to have virtually every unevenness in the highway completely eliminated before it is even noticeable to driver or passengers.

And it tells you what it's like to relax amidst upholstery fabrics and leathers that are found nowhere else, save in the 1955 Cadillac—not even in the finest clubs or hotels.

All this is to say, of course, that Cadillac has made another tremendous advance in design and engineering—so great, in fact, that only a drive and a personal inspection can let you realize its full significance.

And, naturally, there is yet greater emphasis on all the long-existing Cadillac virtues:

—the endurance that enables a Cadillac owner to keep his car just as long as he elects to do so . . . and with complete confidence in its dependability—

—the amazing economy of operation and upkeep which causes many owners to maintain that it is the most economical car on the American highway—

—the great personal satisfaction that comes from owning a car which is recognized, wherever highways lead, as the Standard of the World.

We cordially invite you to come in—today—to see and drive this wonderful, wonderful car.

There are eight models—in four different series—including the sensational Eldorado.

There is one to please you—exactly. And we think you'll be surprised and delighted at how little it costs, in comparison with lesser cars.

We're waiting for you—now!

State School Costs Per Pupil Rank High

Minnesota's per pupil costs were among the highest in the nation in 1953, a detailed report of the Tax Foundation, Inc., in New York has revealed.

The per pupil school cost in Minnesota was $298 compared with a nation-wide median of $235. Among the nearby states spending less were Iowa, $290; Wisconsin, $267; Illinois, $267 and Michigan $255. Only Delaware, New York, New Jersey, Montana, Oregon and Wyoming spent more than Minnesota.

The Tax Foundation, Inc. report also shows that the apportionment of the cost of education between the three levels of government in Minnesota conforms closely to the nationwide average. The national survey shows that 38.5 per cent of the cost of our public schools comes from the state of Minnesota; 59.1 per cent from the local government and 2.4 per cent from the federal government. Comparable figures nationwide were 39.7 per cent from the state; 57.2 per cent from local government and 3.1 per cent from federal funds.

Norman A. Borgen, Secretary, Minnesota Taxpayers Association in commenting upon this report, raised the question as to whether these high costs no not demonstrate that a thorough and impartial study and readjustment of our aids to schools be carried out before additional state aids are forthcoming.

"While school problems grow, along with school costs, it would be helpful to know whether present methods of allocation could be improved to bring best results for the money expended," Borgen stated.

Drunken Driving Is Cause of 2,600 Accidents in '54

More than 2,600 accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways during 1953 involved motorists who were driving while under the influence alcohol, according to Earl M. Larimer, state S-D Day director.

"This much-publicized violation," he said, "caused 46 fatal accidents where it was definitely known that intoxication was the primary contributing factor."

One of the eight most common causes of traffic accidents, driving while under the influence of alcohol assumes even greater significance during the approaching holiday season.

"It is often difficult," concluded Larimer, "to attend a holiday party and refrain from drinking, but if you'll remember—before you start drinking—that you take your life, and that of innocent others, in your hands when you get behind the wheel of your car, you'll do well to refuse a drink and thereby save a life."

Rambeck Asks for Care in Driving on S-D Day Dec. 15th

Safety Council Head Cites Need for Careful Driving in Rural Areas

Issuing an appeal to all residents of Pennington county to prevent traffic accidents on S-D Day (Safe Driving Day), December 15, Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, president of the Pennington County Safety council, said today that the challenge of highway safety is one that must be met on rural roads as well as urban streets.

Roads outside the incorporated limits of cities and villages may be the proving ground where the success of S-D Day is decided, Rambeck said. He reminded:

"More than twice as many deaths in traffic occur in the country as in the city. That has been the national experience for several years. In 1953, for example, there were 27,200 deaths on rural roads compared to 11,100 on urban streets according to statistics compiled by the National Safety Council.

"Traffic safety is particularly important to persons who live on farms and in rural areas. That's because no other segment of the population is more directly dependent on highway transportation.

"The support of farm people is urgently needed to assure the success of S-D Day and the whole continuing program of highway safety. Last year more farm people died in traffic accidents than from any other cause. This fact points up the farmer's personal stake."

RECORDS TO BE PROUD OF

Frank W. Schultz cut his right index finger at work in the Austin packing plant, which ordinarily would neither be a record nor headline news—but it happened to be his first mishap of any kind in 22 accidentless years.—Oscar Serylck is retiring after walking some 225,000 miles in 43½ years as a Red Wing mail carrier.—At 77 John H Nelson is still on active duty as Omaha depot agent at Adrian, with a record of 55 years of Omaha service.—Reler Fossum has been a subscriber to the Oklee Herald 40 years—an excellent record considerably overshadowed by the 68 years Robert Cross, now 90, has been on the subscription list of the Sauk Rapids Herald.

Numerous Traffic Accidents in City During Past Week

Dozen Automobiles and Trucks Sustain Damage Totaling Nearly $1,000

Damage to a dozen cars totaling nearly $1,000 resulted from a series of traffic mishaps in Thief River Falls during the past week, occasioned in part by the slippery condition of the streets following the recent snowfall.

Three of the accidents occurred last Wednesday. In the first at noon Thomas D. Powers, city, driving east on Hughes st., collided at St. Paul av. intersection with a truck driven by Norman Seekford of Crookston. The Powers car was damaged to the extent of $75 and the truck $10.

At 1 p. m. Wednesday at First st. and Markley av., three cars were involved in a collision, the drivers being Palmer E. Olson, Edwin A. Zarling and Donald Meyers, all of this city. Damage totaled $75 on the Olson car, $150 on the Zarling car and $50 on Meyers'.

Cars driven by Dennis A. Hanson of St. Hilaire and Albert Aaknes of Trail collided Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. at the intersection of First st. and Kneale av. Damage to the two cars was estimated at a total of $185.

While passing a car on Third st. Saturday noon, a panel truck driven by H. O. Grindo collided with another panel truck driven by Mel Johnston, causing the latter vehicle to hit the parked car of Mrs. Ray Kiland. Damage to the three vehicles was appraised at $80.

Cars driven by Harry Tollefson and Amos Aase collided Monday morning at the corner of Duluth av. and Second st. Damage to the Tollefson car totaled $110 and to the Aase car $65.

Shortly after noon Monday, a car driven by Marvin L. Nelson of Newfolden collided on East Sixth st. with one driven by Leonard A. Johnson of Goodridge. The former car suffered $110 damage and the latter $145.

Negro Who Sang in City Last Year Signed for Opera

Robert McFerrin, baritone, who sang in Thief River Falls in the fall of 1953 in one of the series of programs sponsored by the Northwest Concert association, has been signed for appearances with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York. McFerrin, the first Negro to join the company on a general repertory basis, won the Metropolitan opera auditions of the air in 1953.

THE STATE versus PAUL M——

This scene is all too common in American courts. It is the fateful climax of the problem we call JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.

But there is another, an earlier scene, which has never been photographed. It happens so quietly, with so little drama, that no photographer has tried to catch it.

In the case of THE STATE versus PAUL M—— it happened fifteen years ago. Paul was a little shaver then. It was early on a Sunday morning, and the church bells were ringing.

Paul heard them as he played quietly in his room. They were a reminder that this was the morning he must be very quiet, because Daddy and Mama must catch up on their sleep.

Daddy heard them and pulled the covers over his ear. "Why," he thought, "must they ring them for Sunday School as well as Church?" Mama heard them; and got up to start the coffee.

God heard them, too. And only God knew that in this tranquil scene, which His bells left undisturbed, sentence had been passed in the case of THE STATE versus PAUL M——.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Political Roundup
By Arthur Naftalin

By Wallace Mitchell
Political Reporter
The Minneapolis Star

Stresses and strains of harnessing a new, groping state administration to a prospective Liberal-controlled house of representatives are under close observation at the Minnesota capitol.

The ultimate decision on whether Liberals can end the 17-year monopoly on house control will not be made until the big electric voting board lights up January 4 on house members.

Right now, the Liberals insist that they have the necessary 66 votes. They've already counted the switch-over of two 1953 Conservatives, Representatives Alfred Otto of St. Paul and Charles Campton of Two Harbors.

Show Up Weak Spots

The Liberal leaders are showing up every possible organizational weak spot. They have met and ironed out internal differences of opinion over top jobs in the Liberal bloc although some people believe that the patching is more superficial than real.

But they have agreed on their nominee for House Speaker, white-haired Representative A. I. Johnson of Benson. There also is agreement on choice of Representative Fred A. Cina of Aurora as top Liberal boss, chairman of the house rules committee, and Representative D. D. Wozniak, St. Paul, as his assistant and floor "whip."

Only in the first month or so of the legislative session can there be any measure of the unanimity of feeling behind these selections, if the Liberals are in control.

Break for New Governor

Liberal control in the house can be the biggest stroke of fortune awaiting the inaugural of Governor-elect Orville L. Freeman.

It is the house, for instance, that originates tax measures. The Liberal bloc, in recent sessions, has complained bitterly that the Conservatives have given no real effort to working out a thorough going change in tax laws.

Thus can the new governor and the Liberal group range as far as they desire in probing for ways to balance the budget. There are, however, district variances among the Liberals themselves on the direction to be taken in increasing Minnesota's tax burden. There are differences too, as to the extent of broadening present programs and in doing so increasing the cost of government.

Unquestionably, it will take full force of the governor's office and the untried leadership of a Liberal group suddenly given responsibility of control, to bring such differences of opinion into accepted compromises.

Senate Position

The state senate again will be dominated by Conservatives.

Their position will be that of a balance of power on every piece of legislation that comes out of the house of representatives. Particularly important will be the course the house Liberals take in bringing out tax legislation.

Without making accurate "feelers" as to the reception their tax proposals may get in the senate, Liberals will be threatened with a session-end stalemate.

Such a stalemate will halt the wheels on all major legislation—the welfare program, funds for the University of Minnesota and the state colleges, basic aid to elementary and secondary public schools and even the funds to be allocated to operate state government.

See Moderate Course

Wise leadership of a Liberal-dominated house of representatives probably will dictate a moderate course in every field of legislation. This would diminish possibilities of arousing senate ire and eventual stubbornness over passage of major bills.

Liberals are anxious to make a record that will help keep them in control two years from now. It seems unlikely that they will follow any but a moderate course. Their leaders already have put out private assurances to that effect.

Governor-elect Freeman also is expected to follow the course of moderation in his legislative program. Nothing is quite as compelling as a desire to remain in power, and, although that will not dictate the Freeman Liberals' legislative program it would be illogical to assume that it will not be taken into thoughtful consideration.

(Ed. Note: During the period he is serving as interim commissioner of administration for the state government, Mr Naftalin's column is being written by guest writers. Next week the column will be written by Gene Newhall, capitol correspondent for the Minneapolis Star. In succeeding weeks other columns will be written by other news correspondents and specialists in various aspects of state government and politics.)

OF HORSES AND HOBBIES

Kenny Nelson is only four but he's a lot taller and heavier than the 20 pound Shetland colt recently born on the Nelson farm near Farmington—F. E. Bublo of Westbrook likes music, and he likes to "tinker" himself, a rather tuneful stringed instrument, like a violin, using a duPont anti-freeze can as the sounding box; it got his picture in the duPont magazine and the gift from them of a fine television set.—Like pictures? Call on Lee Brownell in Fly—his collection of historic pictures numbers well above the 1,300 mark, many dating from the late 1800s.

DALE CARNEGIE
AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING".

BESS BAKER, P. O. Box 311, Sunnyvale, California, tells us of being offered a better position than the one she had held for three and a half years. It was unfortunate though that the one who had held the job did not work out satisfactorily, and was laid off, that she was hired. Because of this, she became the cause for jealousy among some of the girls who hadn't known her before. They seemed to resent her because she had replaced the former worker. Possibly they supposed she would be conceited and think herself important.

CARNEGIE

She was disturbed by their unfriendliness, though at first she thought, "What difference does it make whether or not those girls like me?" But then she decided to win their friendship, so she started applying "Six ways of making people like you." The rule which she thinks was most effective was "smile." So she made it a habit of smiling every time she looked at one of the unfriendly girls when she said, "Good morning" and she called her by name.

She didn't have too much time for conversation during office hours, but whenever she met a girl in the hall, she started a conversation about something which interested her. One of the girls was going to have a baby, so she asked if she wanted a boy or girl. You can imagine the conversation that started when she began telling her she wanted a girl and why. Another of the girls is exceptionally well dressed, and she was surprised and pleased when Bess complimented her on a scarf she wore.

By thoughtful and kindly methods she not only made those girls happier, but she became happier herself.

An urgent message from THE PRESIDENT of the
UNITED STATES

President Eisenhower has asked every American to cooperate in making Safe Driving Day a day free of accidents throughout the country. The President has laid down these three rules:

"First, let's each of us make sure that we obey traffic regulations. Second, let's follow common-sense rules of good sportsmanship and courtesy. Third, let's each one of us resolve that, either as drivers or as pedestrians, we will stay alert and careful, mindful of the constant possibility of accidents caused by negligence."

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am studying carpentry in a trade school under the Korean GI Bill. I would like to shift to on-the-job training, also on carpentry. Would that be considered my one-and-only change of course, since I still would be training in carpentry?

A—Yes. The switch would be considered your change of course, even though your objective remains the same. The reason is that course content and instructional methods differ so materially between classroom and job training that the two types of training could not conceivably be considered the same course.

Q—I have just been separated from service, and I want to apply for Korean GI Insurance. But I don't want to forfeit the free coverage that I have for 120 days following my separation. Should I wait until the end of that period before I apply?

A—No; it is better to apply early. The effective date of your Korean GI Insurance need not necessarily be the date you apply. You can specify that the insurance become effective on the last day of your 120-day free coverage.

Q—I spent four years as a cadet in the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. Will that time count, in computing my eligibility for Korean GI Bill training?

A—No. Under the law, time spent as a cadet or midshipman in a service academy may not be counted in computing Korean GI Bill training eligibility.

SMILEY . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Halvorson of Thief River Falls spent Sunday evening in Numedal visiting at the Winton Knutson home.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Norman Johnson invite the public to the Bethany Luther League Sunday evening in the church parlors. They will be hostesses and a welcome is assured.

Mrs. Mark Olson and Mrs. Jim McCrum spent Sunday afternoon visiting Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Cal Toomey, Mrs. Agnes Effinger and Dennis Nelson at Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phillipp and family were at the George Panek home Wednesday evening to help Larry Panek observe his birthday.

STOP "COLD STALLING!"

GET PHILLIPS 66 Flite-Fuel

There's nothing more exasperating than a cold engine that "dies" at the first stop light. Now Phillips offers protection from such "cold stalling" and gives you easy starting, too. Fill up with Flite-Fuel, the only gasoline containing the added super aviation fuel component Di-isopropyl.

Flite-Fuel brings you more power, higher anti-knock, longer mileage. You also benefit from the clean burning qualities for which Phillips 66 Gasoline is famous. Get Flite-Fuel at stations where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

PHILLIPS PETROLEUM COMPANY

And here's the perfect running mate for Flite-Fuel

Phillips 66 Trop-Artic is the new All Weather motor oil, for winter or summer use. Compared to ordinary motor oils it can reduce oil consumption, extend gas mileage, and even double the life of an engine.

Phillips 66 Products are distributed in Thief River Falls and vicinity by the

4-H'ers Win Valuable Awards

Thomas Leuthner   Duain Vierow   Janice Foss   Paul Boettcher, Jr.

FOUR Minnesota 4-H Club members have won valuable awards as State winners in the National 4-H Field Crops, Frozen Foods and Leadership award programs.

A $50 U. S. Savings Bond was presented to Thomas Leuthner, 16, of St. Bonifacius, when he was singled out for State honors in the 4-H Frozen Foods program for club boys and girls. The bond was provided by the International Harvester Co.

In qualifying for State honors, he learned skills in preparing and packaging foods, how to use freezing equipment economically and the types of goods best adapted to freezing. Through his frozen foods project, he brought about a considerable savings in food costs by utilizing foodstuff raised at home.

Thomas began his Frozen Foods four years ago, and has frozen 2,855 quarts and 62 bushels of fruits and vegetables. Last year he gave a Cooking and Frozen Foods demonstration before local, county and state groups, and was chosen county champion in the Frozen Foods contest.

Thomas has participated in Garden, Home Beautification, and Home Furnishings. Since 1952, he has been Junior Leader.

Thomas discovered that freezing food is economical, in that large quantities of food are frozen at one time.

Two 4-H Club members in Minnesota have been named boy and girl state winners in the 1954 Leadership program, for outstanding guidance of club and community projects. They are Duain Vierow, 19, of No. St. Paul and Janice Foss, 20, of Pelican Rapids.

In his seven years in 4-H activities, Duain has been a junior leader for six years and president of his local 4-H Club four years. He is most interested in gardening and home beautification and has made good profits selling flowers and Christmas wreaths.

Last year he was elected Minnesota State Home Beautification champion. Duain has made health a co-project with his other interests and was given the Key Award at Itasca State Health Camp in 1953. Duain's local leader is his mother.

A 4-H'er for 12 years Janice, has won top honors for her clothing projects. She is also an able home furnishings demonstrator and a blue-ribbon winner in dairy showmanship. She learned much from three competitions to help her in leading young 4-H'ers, and feels that their development under her junior leadership is a most rewarding experience. Her local leader is Mrs. Maurice Rosted.

A 19-jewel wrist watch was presented to each by Edward Foss Wilson, Chairman of Board, Wilson and Co., Chicago.

By efficiently producing crops on the 200 acre home of his parents, Paul Boettcher Jr., 21, of Montevideo, was named State winner in the 4-H Field Crops program. A $50 U.S. Savings Bond, provided by International Harvester Co., is his reward.

Paul was able to achieve that recognition through careful attention to every phase of crop production, such as keeping farm machinery in condition, selection and treatment of seed, and scientific soil management.

This is the fifth year he has carried crops as a project. The first year he grew 9 acres of oats and he has increased the acreage to 30 acres of flax and 35 of soybeans. Since 1951 he has operated his father's 80 acre farm plus an additional 120 acres which he rented.

During the 5 years Paul has raised corn, flax, soybeans, alfalfa, oats, and brome grass. He has constantly endeavored to improve soil fertility with rotation of alfalfa and pasture, planting green manure crops and spreading barnyard manure.

Having also experimented with commercial fertilizers, he feels they are effective if used in proper crop rotation.

In 4-H for 13 years, he is assistant leader, under Mrs. Alvin Ost.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

WASHINGTON quiz

Q—What is a select committee of congress?

A—A select committee is one set-up by the House or Senate for a specific purpose and a limited period, generally temporary. When its function has been carried out the select committee automatically expires. A standing committee, on the other hand is one that is a regular, permanent committee of the congress.

Q—What are the salaries of representatives and senators in Congress?

A—Beginning with the 80th congress, each member of congress receives a salary of $12,500 a year, plus an expense allowance of $2,500 deductible for income tax purposes, if used for the purposes stated in the act. This expense allowance is for legitimate expenses in the conduct of the member's office.

Q—What is meant by the terms duties, imposts and excise taxes?

A—Duties and imposts are practically synonomous, since both may be defined as taxes levied on articles imported into the United States. Excise taxes are imposed on manufacturers or, upon consumption of commodities at wholesale or retail trade such as tobacco, gasoline and liquor taxes.

Q—Is there a legal definition for what constitutes war?

A—In 1800 Justice Bushrod Washington declared: "It may, I believe, be safely laid down, that every contention by force, between two nations, in external matters, under the authority of their respective governments, is not only war, but public war." The definition was given when our relations with France at that time amounted to a virtual state of war.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

THE TOWNS CHANGE

In 1850 there were 210 postoffices in Minnesota. These were regularly organized offices each with its duly appointed postmaster.

A check of the list of offices in 1856 and in 1954 shows that in this hundred year period more than half of the older postoffices have disappeared. Of the 210 listed in 1856 only 99 remain to this day. The rest have gone with changing times.

The elements which have reduced the number of postoffices may have been, in part, the normal changes which come with years of consolidation. Many represent the towns where ghosts took over after ambitious promoters and citizens had moved on.

Among the postoffices which have disappeared are Arcadia in Stearns county, Athens in Dakota, Burr Oak Springs in Goodhue, Cannon City in Rice, Eureka in Nicollet, Falls of the St. Louis in St. Louis and Iosaa in Steele.

Many of the postmasters were men prominent in their day. Joseph Rolette, for example, was postmaster at Pembina where he served a great area with, in 1756, very few people.

FIRST GOVERNMENT

The formation of the Territory of Minnesota was in a time of great issues and uncertainties, as the large amount of information upon these times in the files of Minnesota Historical Society indicates.

The state of Wisconsin was admitted to the union on May 29, 1848. The territory of that state had included the area of what is now Minnesota. When the state was formed that part of the territory not included was without government. James Buchanan, then Secretary of State, ruled that the area was still subject to the laws which prevailed when it was part of the Territory of Wisconsin. But there were no officers to maintain or enforce these laws.

A meting to inspire the organization of the Territory of Minnesota was held at Stillwater on August 26. 1948. Sixty-one men were present. H. H. Sibley was unanimously elected a delegate to congress. Two committees were appointed to appraise the population and progress of proposed territory. One was to be from the St. Croix and the other from the Mississippi areas. This showed the importance of rivers in these early days.

Many communities were represented in this first meeting. Stillwater had seventeen men. There were eight from the community listed officially as "St. Pauls." Other places from whence came delegates were Red Oak Prairie, Cottage Grove, Prospect Hill, Sunk Creek, Sauk Rapids, Rum River and Near St. Anthony Falls.

The nationalities which predominated were the Scotch and English from the St. Croix and the Frenchmen from newer areas to the west and north.

BOUNTY FOR SCALPS

Minnesota has paid bounties for many things, particularly wild animals in these later times.

It is interesting to know that the state once offered and paid, bounties for dead Indians.

That was in 1863, the year following the great outbreak of the Sioux. The Indians along the Minnesota river had been conquered, killed, confined and some were ready to be hanged. Remnants of the tribe took to the woods area in central Minnesota. Here they would steal horses, threaten human beings and their presence, in even scattered numbers, was driving the early settlers out of the country.

To clear the woods, Adjutant General Oscar Malmros raised a contingent of professional hunters and scouts. These men, who knew the country and the fighting methods of the Sioux, were paid two dollars a day and provided their own equipment. This force was mustered in on July 20, 1863.

In that same month this general decreed that the state would pay a bounty of $25 for each Indian scalp. The terms were later liberalized so that any citizen who could prove that he had killed an Indian could collect a bounty up to $75. On September 22 the governor raised the payment to $200.

While bounties may have constituted an incentive very little was paid out for there were really few Indians in the woods. Payments for four came from the military funds and the state paid for one scalp. The state records of that day also show a payment of five dollars for the tanning of an Indian scalp.

GROWTH OF POWER

Those who are interested in tools and their contributions to civilization learned much from a recent exhibit at the Minnesota Historical Society. A notable display, gathered from the great museums of the United States and foreign lands, showed the development of human tools as far back as man has record of his skill. There was a chisel and a drill estimated to be 10,000 years old. Then came other exhibits, age by age and century by century and down to recent times.

An especially interesting table was that which showed the growth of mechanical power in the last hundred years, a period which happens to coincide with the life of organized government in Minnesota and the development of the state.

In 1850, 23 per cent of the energy which men used came from the human back. Fifty-one per cent came from the horse, and in the new North Star State, in large part, from the ox which was the predominant source of animal power during the first generation of statehood. Twenty-six per cent of man's power came from mechanical devices.

In 1950, in the Minnesota of today, only four per cent of the power men use comes from human hands and backs. An ox is a curiosity and the horse now provides but two per cent of the power generated and applied to the work of the state. Ninety-four per cent of the power which Minnesota today uses is from mechanical sources.

Many people of the state saw the exhibit of tools at the Society building in St. Paul. The newly dedicated Weyerhaeuser room was filled to its capacity on both afternoon and evening displays and lectures. This was a feature presented by the Women's Organization of the Historical Society. The exhibit was presented by the Wilkie Foundation.

State Official Warns of Canada Security Dealers

Theodore N. Ofstedahl, state commissioner of securities, states that a number of dealers and brokers in Montreal, Quebec; Regina, Saskatchewan; and other Canadian provinces are soliciting residents of Minnesota, by way of circulars, letters, telephone and telegraph, to purchase shares in Canadian oil, mining and uranium ventures.

Commissioner Ofstedahl warns that such dealers and brokers are not licensed to transact securities business in Minnesota, and that the securities offered by them are not registered for sale as required by Minnesota Securities Laws. Many of the Canadian ventures offered are purely promotional, and, in all probability, purchasers of such stocks would suffer loss of their entire investment.

In the event any attempt is made to sell Canadian securities in Minnesota, Commissioner Ofstedahl suggests that it is advisable to write or telephone the Securities Division, 434 State Office Building, St. Paul (CA. 2-3013), for information. In order that the Securities Division may be more fully informed of the offerings made in Minnesota, it would be grateful if residents would forward the literature received from Canadian dealers and brokers.

Admissions to Rest Home to Start Jan. 3rd

Pennington Co. Already Has More Applicants Than Can Be Cared For

The executive committee representing the four county welfare boards who will manage the new Oakland Park Home met Wednesday, December 8th, at the Home. This committee is made up of Andy Erickson of Roseau County, Roy Edman of Marshall, Omer Houle of Red Lake, and Carl R. Anderson of Pennington.

Also present at the meeting were the new superintendent, Donald Brandvold; John Poor of the department of public welfare; and the welfare board executive secretaries of the four counties.

Mr. Brandvold will take over his duties officially on December 15th, and he will be moving his family here on December 20th. January 3, 1955 has been set for the date of the first admission of persons to the home. Anyone desiring admission should make application to the county welfare office of the county in which he lives, where an admission blank will be filled out.

Pennington county already has more applications for admission than it will be allowed to use in filling its quota and preference will have to be given to problem cases, said John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the welfare board.

The executive committee has tentatively set monthly rates at a minimum of $60.00 and a maximum of $125.00, with non-residents of the four counties to pay a higher rate. Private paying persons will be admitted as well as public assistance recipients with no difference in rates if they are residents of one of the four counties.

John Poor explained the licensing regulations to the committee. He also said that the Oakland Park Home has the best physical plant of any of the nine similar homes throughout the state.

Car Dealers Assn. Presents Gift to Rep.-elect Knutson

New Congressman Given Set of "Drive Safely" License Plate Frames

Gold-plated license plate frames carrying the message "Drive Safely" were presented Monday to Rep.-elect Coya Knutson by Norman Peterson, Pennington county advisor of the Minnesota Automobile Dealers association, in behalf of the state group.

Mrs. Knutson responded by commending the dealers' association and law enforcement officers for their work in the cause of safety, and pledged her best efforts to avoid accidents herself.

Others who spoke briefly included Mayor Agnes Israelson, Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, chairman of the Pennington county safety council; Police Chief Elton Cummings and Bert Johnson of the state highway patrol.

The presentation was made in connection with the observance today of "Safe-driving Day" at a luncheon meeting in the Rex Cafe, with the Pennington County Automobile Dealers association as host.

Similar frames were recently presented by the state association to Governor Anderson, Secretary of State Mrs. Mike Holm, Highway Safety Director Earl Larimer and Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

Richard Hartje Is Student at "U" M.

The list of names of Pennington county students at the University of Minnesota, supplied to the Times last week by the U. of M. publicity bureau, inadvertently omitted the name of Richard Hartje, St. Hilaire, student in the college of science, literature and the arts, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hartje of St. Hilaire. Richard is a third-year student at the university, and was graduated from Lincoln high school.

concert opened with well- d Christmas selections by h school band directed by loum, followed by a group mbers by the girls' glee club, including the Christmas Story, for which Connie Walters served as narrator. Miss Ruth Thron directed the group. Floydeen Litstrom and Ara Peterson each sang a solo in excellent style.

Miss Thron also directed the high school chorus in several selections, and a mixed quartet number was supplied by Donald Armstrong, Daryl Williamson, Patricia Clinton and Floydeen Litstrom.

A hearty round of applause was given the rendition of "The First Noel" and "Silent Night" by the group of young musicians composing the string orchestra, under the direction of Miss Judith Halverson.

The program closed with the rendition of five numbers by the junior high school chorus directed by Miss Halverson, and two selections by the junior high school band directed by Mr. Moum.

Serving as accompanists were Floydeen Litstrom, Ara Peterson, Kathleen Hamilton, Sandra Skjod and Marlene Kellberg.

Al Berge to Head '55 Polio Campaign

Other Aides Named for Drive Starting Jan. 3

A. F. Berge has accepted for the second year the chairmanship of the Pennington county 1955 fund campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which opens Monday, January 3, it was announced by Roy J. Oen, chairman of the Pennington county chapter.

Others named at an organization meeting last Thursday evening include Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen and Mrs. George Baken, co-chairmen for the city of Thief River Falls; Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, rural chairman; Charles W. Rodekuhr, special events chairman; and Don Olson, manager of Radio Station KTRF, radio auction and talent show.

In charge of publicity are Douglas Tegtmeier and N. A. Holen.

4 Trinity Choirs to Offer Concert Sunday Evening

Sunday evening, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p. m. the four choirs of Trinity Lutheran church will present their annual Christmas concert. Following the candlelight processional, the choirs will sing numbers both in ensemble and antiphonally.

After the boys' and girls' choirs have sung groups of numbers, the chapel choir, composed of high school students, will sing the short cantata, "In Dulci Jubilo" by Buxtehude. Accompaniment for this work will be provided by a group of string players, made up of a member of the St. Olaf College Orchestra, two Concordia students, and Miss Judith Halvorson and Mr. Donald Wennberg, both of this city.

The adult choir will sing the cantata, "For Us A Child Is Born" by J S. Bach. Soloists will be Mrs. Donald Olson, soprano, Miss Marilyn Johnson, contralto, Lieut. William Bayard, baritone. Besides accompanying the chapel choir, the string group will accompany carol singing by the audience, and also play two numbers.

Jaycees Set Yule Party Tonight

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and their ladies will hold their annual Christmas party this evening (Wednesday) at 9 o'clock in the Legion club rooms. An informal program and dancing will furnish diversion, and a smorgasbord supper will be served later in the evening.

Eight Tracts Sold in Forfeited Land Sale Last Friday

Six tracts of agricultural land and one parcel each in Goodridge and St. Hilaire villages were disposed of Friday in the annual tax-forfeited land sale conducted in the office of County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr. A total of $2,419 was paid for the 680 acres included in the tracts. Rodekuhr stated that the sale of remaining tracts will continue until further notice.

Postal Employe Here Arraigned on Theft Charge

Wilfred Webskowski Is Accused of Taking Money from Mail; Bound over

Taken into custody Friday by a postal inspector from the St. Paul office of the postoffice department, Wilfred Webskowski of this city was arraigned Saturday in federal district court in Fergus Falls on a charge of theft of an undetermined amount of money from the mail passing thru the Thief River Falls postoffice.

The accused man was bound over to the next term of federal district court, and was released on $1,000 bond. Webskowski has been employed on a full-time basis at the postoffice the past nine years, and previously had served as messenger on a part-time basis for about twelve years.

Officials indicated that the thefts charged to Webskowski involve payments for Christmas seals mailed thru the local postoffice, and that the thefts extended over a period of about three years.

Webskowski Saturday was suspended temporarily from his duties.

Education Board Allots Insurance

Receives Survey Report on Local School System

The Thief River Falls board of education at its December session Monday night acted to renew for a five-year period with nine local agents a total of $286,765 in fire and extended coverage insurance policies covering public school property. A portion of the total coverage expires each year.

Discussed briefly and laid over for more extended study was the report on the recently completed survey of the local school district executed by the bureau of field studies of the University of Minnesota college of education under the direction of Dr. Otto Domian.

At the request of the Carnegie library board, the school board increased to $350 its annual contribution toward support of the library.

TRF Creamery Enjoys Record Volume in 1954

Ernest Anderson Named as Director Tuesday to Succeed Funnesdahl

The Thief River Falls Cooperative creamery during the past year handled the biggest volume of butterfat in cream and milk in its history, aggregating 995,879 pounds, it was revealed in the report submitted by G. S. Bergland, manager, at the well-attended annual meeting Tuesday afternoon in the municipal auditorium.

John Funnesdahl, president of the association, who conducted the meeting, expressed his desire to retire from the board of directors after 21 years of faithful service. Elected to succeed him as a member of the board was Ernest Anderson.

That the local plant was well occupied during the year ending September 30 was revealed by the report that a total of 788,042 pounds of butter was manufactured, and in addition 883,782 pounds of cheese.

Including a patrons refund of 2.52 cents per pound, an average net price of 65.18 cents was paid for all butterfat in cream, and an average net price of 79.90 for all butterfat in milk.

The total average cost per pound of butter was reported at 7.582 cents, with an operating cost of 4.43 cents per pound of cheese manufactured.

The size of the local operation is revealed in the fact that sales for the fiscal year in all departments aggregated $908,479, including $488,974 from the creamery department, $296,745 from the cheese department, $8,203 from the buttermilk dryer department and $14,555 from lockers.

Guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting was Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota dairy industry committee, who outlined the nation-wide dairy products sales promotion campaign being carried on by the American Dairy association and financed by the producers of milk and cream. Members of the local creamery voted to continue on the basis of one-half cent per pound on all butterfat delivered in 1955.

Fire Department Holds Annual Yule Party Wednesday

A group of 45, including members of the local fire department and their wives, had an enjoyable time at their annual Christmas party last Wednesday evening in the Legion club rooms.

The evening opened with a turkey dinner served by members of the Legion auxiliary, followed by an informal program and games. In behalf of the department, Lawrence Bjorkman presented Chief Roy Langevin with a Hudson Bay blanket.

In charge of arrangements for the party were Tom Fuller, Wendell Olson, Harry Schuster and Paul Bedard, assisted by Bob Carlson.

Get Material in Early for Times Issue of Dec. 22

To make it possible to get the Christmas issue into the hands of subscribers well in advance of the holiday, next week's issue of the Times will be printed Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday afternoon as usual. The publishers will appreciate the cooperation of advertisers, correspondents and others having items for publication in getting them into the Times office a day earlier than usual.

J. Quesnell Wins Regional Voice of Democracy Event

To Enter State Contest; Will Repeat Speech at Jaycee Session Thursday

Jack Quesnell winner of the local Voice of Democracy contest conducted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce went further at Crookston Monday when a recording of his speech won for him top honors in this region. The recorded talk now will be entered in the statewide contest to be held in January.

Jack, a Lincoln high school senior, will be a guest at a Jaycee dinner meeting Thursday night in the Elks club rooms, and will give his speech at that time. He will be presented with a radio set, his prize in the local contest, at a high school assembly program Friday afternoon.

Other guests at the Jaycee dinner will include Ara Peterson and Arvid Wedul, runners-up in the local event, and Miss Thora Skomedal and Tor Wallen, Lincoln school English and speech instructors, who coached the contestants.

Rural Fire Truck Proves Its Value

Saves House on H. J. Woods Farm from Destruction

The new rural fire-fighting unit purchased last year by North and Rocksbury townships in cooperation with the city of Thief River Falls was credited with saving from destruction early Sunday morning the house on the H. J. Woods farm two and one-half miles south of this city on Highway 59.

Five firemen responded with the truck. On arrival it was found that Mr. Woods had tried for some time to put out the blaze before calling the fire department.

The fire was under the floor and, due to the thick smoke, it was necessary to use smoke masks. Damage was small and was covered by insurance. It was thought that a spark from the heating stove had ignited the floor.

Hospital Auxiliary Finishes Big Drapery Project

The group of members of the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary above were photographed recently as they were in the final stage of completing the huge project of sewing drapes for the new hospital addition. Over a period of two months, the women had put in many hours of diligent work.

Holiday Atmosphere Pervades Community as Christmas Nears

Retiring Highway Engineer to Speak to C & C Thursday

A. O. Torgerson, Detroit Lakes, to Address Evening Meeting in Elks Club

A. O. Torgerson of Detroit Lakes, who is retiring from his duties as division engineer with the state highway department after 30 or more years of service, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Civic and Commerce association in the Elks club rooms Thursday evening at 6:30.

In the course of his long career, Mr. Torgerson has played a prominent role in highway projects in this area, and is well-known to many local residents.

Another feature of the program will be the showing of the Minneapolis Star-Tribune sound motion picture descriptive of the resources of Minnesota and North Dakota.

Members of the delegation that recently shared in a conference in Minneapolis designed to promote traffic on North Central Airlines will submit reports on the session.

Cases Settled, So Court Term Ends

Petit Jury Dismissed Last Thursday Morning

The November term of Pennington county district court folded up in its fourth day last Thursday morning, when a settlement was reached in the case of Maurice Russell vs. John Langseth and the Northwest Beverage Co. just as the jury was about to be drawn.

The cases of Marilyn Olsen and her father, Russell B. Olsen, vs. John Rakowski et al, were settled Wednesday morning after testimony had been completed and attorneys were about to begin their final plea to the jury.

Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston presided over the term, in which other pending jury cases either were settled out of court or continued over the term.

1st Baptist Choir to Present Yule Program Sunday

An arrangement of song and narrative telling the Christmas story will be presented by the choir at First Baptist church Sunday, Dec. 19, at 7:45 p. m.

The program was arranged and is directed by Fred Newsome, band and chorus director of the Plummer high school.

In further observance of the Christmas season, the annual Sunday school program of the church will be presented Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of Mrs Jerry Wirt. The children will present a program entitled, "Let there be Light". The traditional bag of nuts and candies will be distributed to all children present.

Zion Church Plans Candlelight Carol Service on Sunday

The junior and senior choirs of Zion Lutheran church will present an impressive candlelight and carol service Sunday evening to usher in the Christmas festivities.

Besides numbers by the choirs individually and a combined junior and senior choir number, there will be solos by Miss Durelle Newbury, and Dorothy Anderson.

The climaxing feature will be the marching of the choirs in to surround the entire nave of the choir. With only the burning candles supplying lights and shadows.

The service will close with choirs and congregation joining in the singing of the traditional "Silent Night." The public is invited, said Rev. W. M. Pedersen, pastor.

New Sunnyrest Sanatorium Board Holds 1st Meeting

Institution Merged with Oakland Park Sanatorium Cares for 36 Patients

Sunnyrest Sanatorium commissioners held their first full meeting at Crookston Dec. 7 since recent consolidation of the activities of Sunnyrest and Oakland Park sanatorium at Thief River Falls.

Agreements as to operation of the new setup was reached by the commission, and committees were named by Philip Hamre of Crookston, president.

The group's finance committee will consist of Hamre; Otis Wold, Thief River Falls; Carsten Mead, Red Lake Falls, and R. R. Betcher, Ada.

Named to the medical committee were Dr. C. H. Holmstrom, Warren; Dr. Eskil Erickson, Halstad; Herman A. Kjos, Thief River Falls, and E. A. Massee, East Grand Forks.

The buildings and grounds committee includes C. O. Gunhus, Fosston; A. R. Lee, Roseau; O. O. Melby, Oklee; George Fricker, Holt, and Arthur Braun, Greenbush.

The new commission supervises sanatorium facilities for Polk, Norman, Marshall, Pennington, Roseau and Red Lake counties. Each county will pay a share of the cost based on its population.

L. H. Flancher, director of public health for the commission, announced that public health work has started in Red Lake and Pennington counties. Eventually school surveys, including mantoux testing, will be made in all counties of the district.

Patient population at Sunnyrest is now 36. Dr. Baldwin Borreson, formerly of Thief River Falls, is superintendent.

Dr. K. Stensgaard Returns to City to Join Falls Clinic

Dr. Kermit Stensgaard, who practiced medicine in Thief River Falls from 1946 to 1948, has returned to this city, and is now affiliated with the Falls Clinic, it was announced this week.

After leaving here in 1948, Dr. Stensgaard was a resident in surgery at Wayne University medical school in Detroit, Michigan. He was called back into the U. S. Navy last May for a second term of active duty, and was released late in November.

He is a 1944 graduate of the University of Minnesota medical school.

2 Mishaps Occur in Local Traffic

A pickup truck driven by Dick Willems of Warroad collided last Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Main av. and Third st. with a car driven by Violet Froehle of this city. Police estimated damage to the pickup at $45 and to the Froehle car $100.

A car driven by Jerry Merell, 17, Saturday morning struck Duane Jasperson, 11, son of Harry Jasperson, on East Third st. The boy was taken to a doctor's office for treatment and was then released.

Local Stores to Remain Open Evenings Until 9 December 17-18, 22-23

The Christmas spirit already is pervading the atmosphere in this community, with a number of Christmas programs and parties held to date, and many more scheduled for the coming week.

Stores in Thief River Falls have been crowded with holiday shoppers, encouraged by the mild weather during the past week. For the convenience of shoppers, local business places, including food stores, will remain open evenings until 9 o'clock Friday and Saturday of this week, and again Wednesday and Thursday, December 22 and 23.

Santa Claus again will welcome his little friends in the municipal Auditorium Friday and Saturday afternoons between the hours of 2 and 5, and treats will be distributed to the young visitors. Approximately 700 youngsters conferred with the jolly old gentleman during his visit last week-end.

Another treat for local children will be supplied next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the form of the Santa Claus Town Circus, comprising 12 miniature acts, to be presented in a huge trailer on the parking lot south of the postoffice. Free tickets for the circus have been distributed by local stores.

The streets in the downtown district contribute to the holiday atmosphere, with light standards decorated with colored lights and festoons of greenery, and with miniature Christmas trees stationed along the curb.

Pennington Board Acts on Several Ditch Projects

Asks Applications for Heating Engineer Post at Court House Next Year

The Pennington county board at its regular December session Tuesday of last week and again on Friday disposed of several ditch matters and acted on other pending business.

Accepted as completed were improvements made on County Ditches 33 and 39 east of Thief River Falls, and final payment for the work was authorized.

Following a hearing Friday on work proposed to be done on County Ditch 25 west of St. Hilaire in connection with the improvement of the adjoining State Aid Road 1, plans and estimates were approved and County Engineer Joseph Seidel was instructed to proceed with the ditch work next spring.

A hearing on the improvement on County Ditch 45 in Kratka township was continued until the February 8 meeting of the board, action being taken in view of the fact that the project would involve large assessments.

The board voted to pay about $4,000 to five townships covering completed road work in which the county was sharing the cost.

It also was voted to take applications for the post of heating engineer at the new court house until Tuesday, January 3. Application blanks are available at the office of County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr.

The board devoted some time to consideration of a report submitted by the county public health nurse advisory committee, of which Mrs. Stan Larson is chairman, no immediate action being taken.

Lemieux-Peppin Vows Spoken In Red Lake Falls

St. Dorothy's Catholic church in Dorothy, was the scene of a pretty double ring ceremony, Thursday morning, November 25, when Miss Vianney Peppin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peppin of Red Lake Falls, became the bride of Donald James Lemieux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keough Lemieux of South Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The marriage vows were spoken before an altar graced with bronze and yellow mums, with Rev. Warren Regnier officiating.

Cheryl Barrette of Red Lake Falls, played the traditional nuptial music as the three hundred guests assembled. Vocal numbers were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Demarais and daughters, Jane, Henedine and Colleen of Grand Forks, N. Dak.; and Mrs. Willard Brunelle of Red Lake Falls.

The bride, escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, was attired in a lace, net and satin gown, fashioned with a lace bodice featuring a v neckline and bouffant tulle skirt with a chapel length train. Her veil of illusion net was caught to a seed pearl tiara. White carnations with a pink center formed her cascade bouquet. Miss Peppin, carrying out the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and blue, carried a white missal belonging to Mrs. Thomas Tydlacka of Red Lake Falls.

Attending the bride, was her sister Janice, as maid of honor; Marilyn Lemieux of South Milwaukee, Wisconsin, sister of the groom and Marlene Kringen of Grand Forks, N. Dak. Miss Peppin wore a shrimp pink gown with a ruffled nylon net skirt over taffeta with lace bodice. Miss Lemieux and Miss Kringen was attired in gowns of aqua identical to the maid of honor's. Their bouquets were of white carnations.

Linda Bohlman of Grand Forks, N. Dak., was the flower girl. Her dress of nylon net over satin featured a bouffant skirt with a Peter Pan collar and puffed sleeves. She carried a basket of white mums.

Richard Lemieux of South Milwaukee, Wis., brother of the groom was best man. The other gentlemen attendants were Virgil Page, also of South Milwaukee, and Duane Peppin of Red Lake Falls.

Gilbert Peppin served as ring bearer and Rene Peppin and Myron Lemieux were ushers.

A wedding breakfast was given by the bride's parents at Meyers Cafe following the ceremony.

The bride's parents were also hosts to a reception in the afternoon in St. Dorothy's church parlors. Mrs. Arthur Peppin cut the cake; Mrs. John O'Reilly and Mrs. Edw. Root poured. Jeannette Audette was in charge of the punch bowl. The waitresses were Mrs. Walter Peppin, Mrs. Robert Hance, Mrs. Eli St. Micheal, Mrs. Edw. Hanson and Mrs. Walter Audette.

For their wedding trip the bride chose a rust two piece wool jersey with navy blue accessories. They are now at home at 724 Monroe Ave., South Milwaukee, Wis.

The bride is a graduate of Lafayette high school, Red Lake Falls, class of 1952 and is employed as a bookeeper for Klauser Olds Co., So. Milwaukee. Her husband is also a graduate of Lafayette high school, Red Lake Falls, class of 1951, and is presently employed with the Appleton Electric Co. in South Milwaukee.

Stephen Firm Is Low Bidder on SAR 1 Job

After considering six bids on a federal secondary road grading project on State Aid Road 1, the Pennington county board at a special meeting Tuesday recommended to the state highway department acceptance of the low bid of $25,375.27 entered by Roy Benson & Son, Stephen road contractors.

The job covers 4.7 miles of grading on SAR 1 between Bray and Polk Centre townships. High bid on the project was $29,273.88.

Five bids opened at the same time on construction of a ten-feet-wide extension of a bridge on SAR 1 all were rejected as being unreasonably high, the low bid being $14,345.50, entered by the Berglund Construction Co. of Crookston.

The board indicated that it plans to have the job re-figured, and that it may do the work with its own crew.

Representing the state highway department at the opening of bids was District Engineer H. Pabst of Bemidji.

Minnesota 4-H'ers Win National Honors

SIX Minnesota 4-H Club members were announced as national winners in the 1954 4-H award programs at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Each received a $300 college scholarship. Their names, the programs in which they were honored, and the donors of their awards are:

Evadene Sample · Norlene Lawson · Esmeralda Tews · Marlys Milbrand · Thomas Comstock · Mary Hillier

Evadene Sample, 18, of Spring Valley, Frozen Foods, International Harvester Co.

Norlene Lawson, 19, of Kenyon; Safety, General Motors.

Esmeralda Tews, 17, of Hutchinson, Home Improvement, Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Marlys Milbrand, 19, of Glencoe, Girls' Record, Montgomery Ward.

Thomas Comstock, 19, of West Concord; Tractor, Standard Oil Foundation, Chicago.

Mary Hillier, 18, of Excelsior, Food Preparation, Kelvinator Division, American Motors Corp.

Over 1,200 4-H Club boys and girls from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Canada attended the Congress, along with young people and youth leaders from 25 foreign countries.

A highlight of the Congress was the major policy address by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the opening banquet. Thus the 4-H'ers learned more of their Congress theme, "Working Together for World Understanding," from the Nation's No. 1 diplomat.

During the week, the delegates participated in discussions, heard other outstanding speakers, met top stars in the sports world, enjoyed top-flight entertainment at banquets and major meal events, attended the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, took part in press conferences, radio and TV appearances, toured the city and visited the museums, and attended a party at the Aragon Ballroom.

The National 4-H Club Congress is a cooperative effort of the Agricultural Extension Service, business and civic organizations, and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago.

Suggest Savings Bonds as Yule Gift

Pennington County Is Reported Below Quota

A gift today for a bright tomorrow!

This is the slogan that will greet those receiving U. S. Savings Bonds this Christmas, for each bond purchaser will be entitled, upon request, to receive an attractive gift jacket in colors of red, white, blue and gold.

Henry S. Kingman, Minneapolis, state chairman of the savings bonds organization for Minnesota sees an improvement in bond sales during December because of the gift appeal.

"Savings bonds are the ideal gifts with a future, and Christmas time is an especially good time to help friends, relatives, or ourselves to a brighter tomorrow through regular purchases of those riskless securities," Mr. Kingman said.

As 1954 draws to a close, the Minnesota savings bonds organization is receiving special support from newspapers, broadcasting stations, banks and other financial institutions in urging citizens to buy extra bonds in December in a final effort to reach its sales goal.

Minnesota's goal for Series E and H bonds was set at $93,800,000 this year. As of November 30 a total of $79 million had been reached. The state's share of purchases by members of the armed forces and by federal employees was expected to reach $3 million. This would leave almost $12 million required during December in order to reach the quota.

Sales during November came to $7 million.

Twelve counties have already exceeded their quotas.

Pennington county residents have purchased $200,166 in bonds so far this year or 646 per cent of quota.

Anti-Communist Film Set Tuesday

"Dead Men on Furlough", a motion picture telling the story of Christianity vs. Communism in the mission field in Korea, will be presented in the municipal Auditorium next Tuesday evening, December 21, at 8 o'clock. No admission fee will be charged, it was announced.

Eagles Party for Kiddies Saturday

Santa Claus will be host to children, age 12 or under, of members of the local Eagles aerie at the aerie's annual Christmas 'kiddies' party in the Eagles auditorium Saturday afternoon, December 18, at 2:30. The youngsters will receive treats from Santa, and will take part in games, in which prizes will be awarded.

Senator-elect Is Given Brief Case Wednesday

The December meeting of the Goodridge Sportsmen's club last Wednesday evening in the school gymnasium took the form of a recognition session for Senator-elect Roy E. Wiseth of the Goodridge community, who on January 4 will begin his legislative duties in St. Paul.

Ernest Swanson, club president who had charge of the program, presented Wiseth with a brief case in behalf of the group. Speakers included Congressman-elect Coya Knutson of Oklee, Wm. Kjeldahl and Rev. W. M. Pedersen.

Piano selections were supplied by Roland Samber of the school faculty, who also played with a quartet, the other members including C. Wright, Emely Sturre and Larry Ellington.

'55 Income Tax Blanks Available in St. Paul

A. R. Knox, district director of internal revenue, announced today that supplies of income tax forms are now available in his office in St. Paul, Minnesota, to accountants and lawyers and to individuals who cannot wait for the annual mailing of forms, which this year is scheduled to begin shortly after Christmas.

Tax practitioners who need large amounts of forms should, whenever possible, have them picked up in Room 825, New Post Office Building, director Knox said. If this is not possible, orders for forms should be mailed to the Director of Internal Revenue, New Post Office Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota. Director Knox requests that taxpayers avoid using the telephone to order forms, since the facilities for the handling of calls are limited.

Quantities of the tax forms used by farmers are being furnished to county farm agents in agricultural areas, who will make them available to taxpayers upon request, director Knox said.

This early distribution of forms is of especial importance to persons who, under the law, would be required to file a 1954 declaration or amended declaration of estimated tax. A taxpayer, other than a farmer, Director Knox explained, may file his final return and pay the tax due by January 15, obviating the necessity of filing a declaration or amended declartion of estimated tax. If this course is not followed, the taxpayer may file a declaration of estimated tax and pay the estimated tax due by January 15, filing his final return and paying any balance due on or before April 15, the new deadline for filing Federal income tax returns.

A farmer may file his final return and pay the taxes due by January 31, Mr. Knox said, in which case he need not file a declaration of estimated tax. Otherwise, the farmer may, as in the case of other taxpayers, file a declaration of estimated tax and pay the tax due by January 15, making full settlement when he files his final return on or before April 15.

Death Claims Life of John P. Mosbrucker

Final rites were held today at the Gulbranson chapel for John Paul Mosbrucker 63, who died Saturday, December 11. Rev. J. J. Jacobson officiated and the body was interred at Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Mosbrucker was born on March 12, 1891, in Bismarck, North Dakota, and lived there with his parents until his enlistment in the army in 1912. He was discharged in 1915. In Bismarck, he was united in marriage to Miss Selma Fosse, July 16, 1918. They resided there for three years before moving to Grand Forks, where they lived for 23 years. He was employed there in the funiture business with Popplers and Wards. For the past ten years he has done carpeting in this vicinity and North Dakota.

Surviving are his wife, Selma of this city; and one daughter, Mrs. Wm. (Gertrude) Cowan and four grandchildren of Boise, Idaho; four sisters, Mrs. Rena Buertzh of Bismarck; Mrs. Frank (Nellie) Welch of Oakland, California; Mrs. Fred Havelock of Oklahoma City, Oka.; Mrs. Val (Marie) Yeager of Vallejo, California; one brother, Martin of Mandan, North Dakota. He was preceded in death by his parents, a brother and two sisters.

J. V. Tofflemire, Former Resident, Dies in West at 83

J. Verner Tofflemire of Cupertino, Calif., at one time a Thief River Falls resident, died at his home December 6 at the age of 83. Interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park at San Jose, Calif.

Mr Tofflemire served at one time as manager of the real estate firm operated by his brother in law F. F. Baynes, following the latter's death. Several years later he moved with his wife to California, where for many years he operated a prune orchard.

Born June 1, 1871, in Illinois, he moved in 1888 to Mason City, Iowa, where he was married January 23, 1895, to Miss Minnie Hinds. Surviving his death are his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Paul Bean of Santa Cruz, Calif.

Million Dollar Baby

After drilling more than 165 "dusters" costing roughly $50,000 each, American oil men scored a triumph with the completion of Arizona's first commercial producer in the Boundray Butte area of Apache County. Brought in at a depth of 4,884 feet, the wildcat flowed at the rate of 11 barrels of oil and 21 barrels of water daily during a 13-hour test. Arizona is the nation's thirtieth oil producing state and the third state to find oil in commercial quantities this year. In spite of terrific odds the oil industry finds oil faster than it is produced and consumed.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper

Glory to God in the Highest, Lesson for December 19: Psalms 148: 1-3, 11-13; Matthew 1: 18-25. Golden Text: Psalms 95: 6.

This lesson, just preceding Christmas Day, fittingly begins with verses from the 148th Psalm, verses in which the glories of the heavens and all the people on earth, old and young, are exhorted to praise God.

The Virgin Birth was entirely logical and correct. As Jesus was both human and divine, it was natural that Mary should conceive by the power of the Holy Ghost. Thus Jesus partook of the divine nature and of the human. The Son of God became the Son of Man that he might lift men to heaven.

Nothing could be more instructive than an examination of the name of Jesus. In a dream, the noble Joseph was told to take Mary unto himself as his wife, assured that the Child she was to bear would be the Son of the Holy Ghost. He was directed to call the name of the Child JESUS because he would save his people from their sins. Jesus means Saviour, and it is the name of the Lord. Christ is his title, as President is the title of the Chief Executive of the United States. Christ means the Anointed One. So Jesus was anointed of God to save his people from their sins.

May this be the best Christmas our people have known because they make it the birthday of the Saviour and yield homage to him above all the lesser things of the season.

Now that you've thought of everyone else...

Bar Group Discusses Probation Benefits

The Minnesota State Bar association submits the following example to illustrate the advantage of probation in the case of a certain teen-ager.

Johnny was a high spirited youngster, 18 years old. His formal education had stopped when he was 15 and he had failed his first freshman examination in high school. Since that time he had worked at various jobs. His record was clean.

One night, while out with two casual acquaintances, he broke into a service station with them and helped steal $35 from the cash box and a few car accessory items from the shelves. He had been extremely reluctant to commit the burglary, and had only done so when stung by the taunts of his companions that he was "chicken." Later he learned one of his companions had a police record and was practically an habitual criminal.

The crime was crudely executed and before long Johnny was arrested and charged with the crime he committed. He pleaded guilty and thew himself on the mercy of the court.

The court, however, took into consideration Johnny's prior good record and the mitigating circumstances which led to the commission of the crime. Therefore, the judge placed Johnny on probation for three years. During that time he would be under control of the court and the probation officer and would have to abide strictly by the regulations imposed by the court and the probation officer. In addition he would have to repay the service station owner the money and goods stolen. But he would be out of jail and free to live a normal life. If he complied with the terms of probation for the three years, he would not be comitted to a prison. If, on the other hand, Johnny violated the probation rules, he could be sent to the reformatory for a prison term.

Under our Youth Conservation Act, he could be committed to the Youth Conservation Commission for study and corrective training, in which case he may be completely rehabilitated without imprisonment in a penal institution. In addition the Commission may, if the circumstances warrant, order the conviction set aside and nullified, thereby purging Johnny of the conviction.

The prudent use, by the courts, of this right of probation has resulted in the rehabilitation of many youths who temporarily have stumbled from the straight path.

Minnesota 4-H'ers Work Cited

James Baer   Claryce Kuhlmann

Outstanding work in the 4-H Community Relations program by James Baer, 20, of Hamel, and Claryce Kuhlmann, 16, of Kyota has brought them statewide recognition. They have been presented with certificates of honor by Gene Autry and the Wm. Wrigley Jr., Co.

In his seven years of club work, James has been Junior Leader most of the time. He has encouraged membership, and enjoys song leading and leading recreation. He considers mechanics and dairying the most important projects for his family's farm. The winner of the 1953 Key Award, James' participation in school and club activities has given him valuable leadership abilities. His local leader is Mrs. C. H. Gleason.

Miss Kuhlmann, who has been a club member for 9 years, has made poultry and dairy her main outdoor projects and has learned the value of keeping accurate records of feed costs and income.

She exhibited several blue ribbon dairy winners this year. She has been a junior leader for two years and will represent her county at Camp Miniwanca in 1955. She has increased membership and directed recreational activities for her club. She likes public speaking and has appeared on numerous radio programs, and in speaking contests. Mrs. Clarence Kuhlmann is her local leader.

This program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Services For Mrs. Fred P. Will Set For Thursday

Mrs. Fred Paul Will, a resident of this city for the past 50 years, passed away Tuesday morning, December 14, at the age of 76. Funeral services will be held at the Community Methodist church Thursday, December 16 at 3 p. m. with Rev. E. C. Mead officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Will was born in 1878 in Stockholm, Sweden, and came with her parents, when a small girl, to Alexandria, Minnesota. She was united in marriage to Fred Will in 1900, and in 1904 they came to this city to make their home.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. O. L. (Virginia) Coleman of Duluth; Mrs. Erling (Frances) Grinley of Minneapolis; and Mrs. Melvin (Lorraine) Elmquist of Detroit, Michigan; two sons, Fred J. Will of Detroit, Michigan and Buel R. Will of Toronto, Ontario, Canada; and one sister, Mrs. John Anderson of Alexandria. She was preceded in death by her husband and one son.

Final Services Conducted for Edward Lietzow

Death claimed the life of Edward H Lietzow, December 8, at the local hospital. Funeral services were held Tuesday, December 14, at the Zion Lutheran church in this city with Rev. W. M. Pedersen officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Lietzow was born April 4, 1876, in Hart township, Winona Co., Minnesota. In 1906 he moved to Canada. He was united in marriage March 10, 1910, to Miss Bertha Peters at Winona, Minnesota. They lived and farmed at Dundurn, Sask., Canada, retiring in 1950, and moving to Saskatoon, Sask., Canada. In 1952 they came to this city, where they have since resided.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. Elsie Pheifer and Mrs. Florence Bransell of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada; Walter and Alvin of this city; three sisters and one brother; Lydia and Elsie Lietzow of Winona; Mrs. Lena Bolkman of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, and Arthur Lietzow of Kingman, Arizona. Also surviving are seven grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers and one sister.

Jon Storhaug Claimed By Death Saturday

Jon F. Storhaug, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Storhaug, died Saturday, December 11. The final rites will be conducted Thursday, December 16 at 2 p. m. in Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. J. J. Jacobson officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Jon was born June 7, 1945 in this city. He was baptized in Trinity church and attended Sunday school there. He completed the third grade at Northrop school last spring.

His parents and two sisters, Diana and Jane, of this city survive him; as do his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Carlson of Bremerton, Washington and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Storhaug of this city. Six aunts and two uncles also survive.

Former Local Resident Dies In Michigan

Peter A. Kolden, formerly of this city, passed away Saturday, December 11 at his home in Detroit, Michigan. He was 74 years old at the time of his death.

Mr. Kolden moved about six years ago from this city, where he had been connected with the Nels Olson Bldg. Co.

Survivors are his wife, Marie, and two children, Mrs. John (Gladys) Weimer and Arnold Kolden of Detroit. His brother-in-law, Elias Angell, is a resident of this city.

State Trust Funds Should Have No Top, Tax Group Advises

No maximum limit should be placed on Minnesota's permanent trust funds, and none of the principal of these funds should be spent, the Minnesota Tax Study commission recommended today.

It said, however, that the legislature should consider steps to increase the interest yield from the funds. The total of the trust funds principal exceeds 253 million dollars. The interest received by the state in the past fiscal year amounted to $6,291,645. Only the interest can be spent, under constitutional provisions. It is used mainly for school purposes. The rate of interest earned on the principal in the last year was 2.48 per cent.

The commission took cognizance of proposals to reduce the amount of annual revenues now going into the trust funds. Such proposals have the purpose of making more money available for current state expenses. The tax group held that if the legislature should propose constitutional changes along these lines, such changes should be limited to a portion of the revenues received from the occupational tax on iron ore. The commission drew a clear distinction between this tax and the other revenues accruing to the trust funds, such as timber sales and royalties for mining on trust fund lands. The trust funds now receive 50 per cent of the occupational tax. This source provided $13,790,050 for the trust funds in fiscal 1951.

A majority of the commission members took no specific position as to whether changes should be made in the trust fund revenues. However, two individual members added special statements to the report. Senator M. H. Anderson of Minneapolis recommended that growth of the trust funds be slowed down by diverting a portion of incoming revenues to the state's general fund where it would be available to meet current expenditure needs. Senator Gerald T. Mullin of Minneapolis recommended further consideration of a proposal that none of the iron ore occupational taxes be dedicated to the trust funds.

The commission majority made two general suggestions for getting an increased interest yield from the trust fund principal. It said the legislature should consider the advisability of permitting investment of a limited portion of the trust funds in "other than fixed income securities," under proper safeguards. At present investments are limited to United States and state bonds and to certain loans to Minnesota school districts and counties.

"Other than fixed income securities" might be construed to include selected stock issues of private corporations. Senator A. R. Johanson of Wheaton filed an individual dissent against this portion of the recommendations and said he opposes trust fund investments in securities issued by private corporations.

The second field suggested by the commission for improving interest yields lies mainly in the possibility of increased loans to Minnesota school districts. Among other constitutional restrictions on such loans, they cannot amount to more than 15 per cent of the assessed value of local property. The commission has pointed out that assessed values in many cases are lower than actual values. If such assessed values were raised, or if the 15 per cent limit were increased, the districts could borrow more from the trust funds.

County Agents Cited for Press, Radio Job

Fred Wetherill, veteran Nicollet county agent, Thursday was named winner of the seventh annual University of Minnesota agricultural extension service information contest.

Announcement of the award and presentation of the plaque was made at the service's annual banquet at Coffman Memorial Union. The banquet highlighted the annual extension conference last week.

Wetherill was honored because of his outstanding work bringing important agricultural information to farmer through the cooperation of radion and press and use of visual aids and circular letters.

Runner-up honors went to Itasca county home agent, Edna Jordahl.

The information contest, which brought over 200 entries from Minnesota's county extension workers had sections for press, radio, visual aids and circular letters. Wetherill's entries were judged to be the best group of entries in the contest.

Winners of plaques for outstanding media work include: Richard Swanson, Anoka county for work with press; Harold Rosendahl, Norman county, for work with circular letters; Edna Jordahl, for work with radio, and Fred Wethell for work with slides and pictures.

Special awards and certificates were given the following agents in this area for having the best entries in subclasses:

Best column (women)—Shirley Shingleton, Red Lake county.

Special award, news coverage—Marion Parbst, Norman county.

Best color slides—Margery Olsen, Pennington county —Home Economics column — Margery Olsen.

Radio talk (men) — William Penning, Pennington county.

Radio interview (women) — Marion Parbst.

Millions Staked To Find Oil In Gulf of Mexico

Oil companies are staking millions on a long-shot gamble for new supplies of oil in the Gulf of Mexico. At the Government's first auction, bonuses up to $1,000 and $1,200 per acre were offered for the right to hunt for oil in untested territory in the stormy, deep waters off the Gulf Coast. These sums are only fractions of the millions that must be invested in special marine equipment and drilling and producing costs. Even then, many of these ventures will be unsuccessful, by the law of averages. The willingness of America's privately-managed oil companies to invest huge sums indicates their faith in the future, not only the future of the oil business, but of the United States and our American way of life.

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report — Monday

STEERS AND HEIFERS: There was a package of Prime 1,130 lb. Angus steers at $28.50, some mostly Prime 992 lb. weights selling at $28.00. Two loads Choice and Prime 1,075 lb. steers cashed at $27.50, bulk Choice moving at $25.00-27.00, Prime 956 lb. heifers realized $27.00 and there was a load of Choice to Prime of similar average weight at $26.00. Several other loads of Choice heifers were taken at $24.00-25.00. Good steers moved at $20.00-24.00, while Good heifers sold at $19.50-22.50. Worth mentioning is the fact that steers scaling above 1,200 lbs. and unless finished enough to reach the Choice grade were very slow to move. Commercial steers and heifers brought $14.50-17.50. Utility $11.00-14.00 and Canners and Cutters $8.00-10.00.

COWS: Sales of Commercial cows were general at $11.00-11.50, Utility offerings going at $9.00-10.50. Canners and Cutters bulked at $6.50-8.00, strongweight Cutters going at $8.50, while shelly Canners cleared at $5.00-6.00.

BULLS: In the absence of weighty dairybred bulls, the top rested at $13.50, bulk sales Cutter and Utility being made at $11.50-13.50. Commercial and Good bulls brought $12.00-12.50, Canners going at $8.00 to $10.00.

VEALERS AND CALVES: Most of the Good and Choice vealers sold at $14.00-20.00, high-Choice $21.00-24.00 with Prime $25.00-28.00. Utility and Commercial grades were taken at $10.00-13.00, Culls $7.00-9.00.

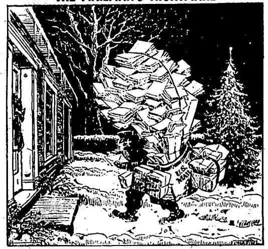
THE MAILMAN'S NIGHTMARE



"U" M. Announces '55 Recommended Crops

Each fall University of Minnesota agronomists and seed specialists issue their list of approved crop varieties for farmers' guidance in buying seed for 1955 planting.

Will M. Myers, head of the University's agronomy department, explains that the Agricultural Experiment Station tests thoroughly varieties its own agronomists develop as well as those from out of state.

Here is the 1955 "recommended" list, determined at a recent conference of experiment station agronomists:

Oats—Ajax, Andrew, Bonda, Branch, Clintafe, Clinton, James, Mindo, Missouri 0-205. Andrew, Branch and Ajax and Missouri 0-205 are resistant to Race 7 of stem rust and Bonda, Clinton, Mindo and Clintafe are resistant to Race 8. Branch and Ajax have moderate resistance to Race 45 of crown rust, prevalent the last few years. A hull-less oat, James, is on the recommended list.

Shelby, a variety extremely susceptible to Race 7 of stem rust, was removed from the recommended list. In 1953 and 1954, it yielded much less than other recommended oats.

Spring Wheat—Lee, Rushmore, and Selkirk. Selkirk, a moderately stem and leaf rust resistant spring wheat developed at the Dominion Cereal Laboratory in Winnipeg, was added to the recommended list. It resists Race 15—B better than any other recommended variety. About 80,000 bushels of Selkirk will be available for spring planting.

Willet was not included on the recommended list because of unsatisfactory dough making qualities. Mida was removed because of high susceptibility to Race 15 B.

Durum Wheat — Carleton, Mindum and Stewart.

Winter Wheat — Minturki and Minter.

Barley — Kindred and Montcalm. Most Minnesota barley is planted for malting. Kindred is recommended for all sections. Montcalm has good malting qualities and yields well, but it has weak straw and is susceptible to scab, loose smut, spot blotch and stem rust. It is recommended only for northern Minnesota. For feed, the agronomists suggest Vantage and Peatland.

Flax — B-5128, Redwood and Marine. Redwood, B-5128 and Marine are immune to rust. B-5128 is moderately susceptible to wilt and pasmo. Redwood and B-5128 must be planted early for high yields.

Soybeans — Blackhawk, Renville, Capital, Ottawa Mandarin, Flambeau, and two new varieties—Chippewa and Norchief. Chippewa has shown high yield, oil content and excellent lodging resistance. It is adapted to the southern half of Minnesota. Norchief is a very early maturing variety recommended for Minnesota's central, north central and the southern half of the northern corn maturity zones. It has out yielded Flambeau and has better standing ability and higher oil content.

Rye — Adams and Caribou. A new variety, Adams resembles Imperial but has yielded more in tests. Imperial and Emerald were removed from the list as inferior to Adams and Caribou.

Corn — Minhybrids 401, 405, 406 and 505 were removed from the recommended list. The reason: seed for farm planting of the new superior Minhybrids — 400, 411, 412, 507, 508 and AES 610 — is now plentiful.

For further information, including a variety's yield, disease resistance and maturity in various zones of the state, see Extension Folder 22, "Improved Varieties of Farm Crops," and Miscellaneous Report 21, "Varietal Trials of Farm Crops." Both are free at the county extension office or from the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

Washington PTA Holds Yule Party Monday Evening

Sixth Grade Announced as Winner of Recent Membership Contest

Numerous lucky parents took prizes home from the Washington PTA Christmas party, held in the old Lincoln gymnasium Monday night.

A brief business meeting, conducted by Rev. Robert Abbott president, was held at the beginning of the evening.

Mrs. Olaf Dahlen, membership chairman reported the sixth grade had won the award for having the largest percentage of parents as PTA members. The award will be a sleigh ride to be held at a later date.

Miss Judith Wold introduced Mrs. Olaf Dahlen, Miss Lois Rosren, Miss Marian Dahl, Miss Godelyne Troumbly and Mrs. Millard Peterson who in turn aptly presented various "do it yourself" projects with a Christmas motif.

Mrs. Max Jensen sang a solo, "Silent Night" in German, and also led the members in carol singing.

Several games were played with everyone participating. Santa Claus made timely visits to present gifts to the winners.

Lunch was served by the fourth grade mothers.

The next meeting will be January 17th, when Dr. Dan Greene will speak on "Childhood Diseases."

DALE RONDORF MEMBER OF ND 'U' HONOR FRATERNITY

Dale Randorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Randorf of this city, was one of eleven persons who received keys of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, at a dinner in the Dacotah Hotel on Sunday evening. Dale is a junior at the University of North Dakota.

Prowler Cagers Play at Fosston on Friday; Sextet Waits for Ice

According to their respective schedules, both the Prowler basketball squad and the Prowler hockey squad will move into action this week. On Friday night, Dec. 17th, coach Al Adams will take his cagers to Fosston for an inter-district game against coach Bert Tveit's Greyhounds. On Saturday night, Dec. 18th, and depending upon whether or not the ice conditions in the Arena will permit, coach Dennis Rolle's high school champion Prowlers will meet the Crookston Cathedral sextet here, with game-time slated for 8:00 p. m.

On Friday night, in their game against Fosston, the Prowlers will be resuming a basketball rivalry that has existed since 1914 or 15 and, except for a span of years during the 1930's the two teams have played scheduled games every year, and during some years the two teams have played on a home-and-home basis. In that time, the Greyhounds and the Prowlers have played thirty-two games, with the Greyhounds winning seventeen games, while the Prowlers have won fifteen games.

Last year's game, played on the local floor, was a "thriller" all the way, with the Prowlers pulling out a 54 to 49 triumph. With less than a minute to go, Fosston trailed by two points, 51 to 49, but Louie Wedul looped in a free throw and then followed with a lay-up field goal.

Incidentally, two of the boys that played in that game last year, Art Johnson of the Prowlers and Glen Olson of the Greyhounds, are both on the varsity squad of Concordia College this season, with Johnson playing at center and Olson playing at forward.

According to hockey coach Dennis Rolle, there is a possibility that the Prowlers vs. Crookston Cathedral game here on Saturday night may be postponed because of lack of an ice sheet at the Arena. The latest reports, though, from the "ice makers" were not favorable, but if some freezing weather occurs within the next two days, the rink should be playable by Saturday night. Coach Rolle, forced to postpone one game already, is anxious to send his 1954-55 Prowler hockey squad into action.

The Roseau Rams, with an all-veteran squad, has been installed as the regional favorite and in a game played against the Hibbing Bluejackets at Hibbing on Saturday night, Oscar Almquist's squad scored a 6 to 2 win.

Numerous Drivers Penalized in Court

Highway Patrol, Police Bring in Offenders

Numerous motorists were penalized in municipal court for traffic offenses during the past week. Brought in by police, Ernest Cork paid a $10 fine on a careless driving charge, and Willis Warring was given a suspended $5 fine for failure to heed the school patrol.

Charged by the highway patrol with speeding on the highway at night, Andrew P. Champeau of Red Lake Falls paid a fine of $10 and $4 costs, while Robert Alby paid a $15 fine and $4 costs on a similar charge.

Morris Swenson, Rt. 1, city, was charged with having no valid drivers license in his possession. This being his third offense, he was fined $25 and $4 costs, which was paid.

Cyrus F. Hesse, Rt. 3, Red Lake Falls, was fined $15 and $4 costs on a careless driving charge. Tom D. Roisland, in a trial December 4, was found guilty by Special Judge Stan Mortenson of a charge of careless driving, and was given a suspended 20-day jail sentence.

Charged with driving thru a stop sign, Lloyd R. Knutson, city, was given a suspended fine of $5, and paid $4 costs.

Plummer Cardinal Cagers Win over Gonvick 54 to 47

Coach Herb Arndt's Plummer Cardinals defeated the Gonvick team, 54 to 47, in a basketball game played at Plummer on Wednesday night, Dec. 8th. The game was nip-and-tuck all the way, with the Cardinals holding a 15 to 14 edge at the end of the first period, a 31 to 25 lead at the intermission, and a 42 to 41 lead at the end of the third period.

An indication of the well-balanced scoring power of the Cardinals is given by the summary which reveals that Dan Kush tallied 12 points, Dale Craft and Dunne Nelson each scored ten points, and Bob Malwitz and Verl Leckron added 9 points each. The game's high-point honors were gained by Gonvick's Birkeland and Wagner, with each scoring 14 points.

Adolph Erickson, Grygla, Renamed Head of local PCA

The board of directors of the Thief River Falls Production Credit association, at its organization meeting last Thursday, reelected Adolph Erickson of Grygla as president for the coming year. Alfred Longren of this community was named vice president, and Robert J. Lund was reelected secretary treasurer and manager. At the meeting Brynolf Grahn of Roseau succeeded his father, Bert Grahn, as a member of the board.

Forkenbrock Men Win Sales Event

Kenneth Miller and James Fielder, Forkenbrock Motor Company's service and parts managers were recent guests at a banquet given by Chrysler Corporation Mopar division in Minneapolis. The men were district winners in Mopar's parts and service sales contest over the last 6 months. Each received a handsome wall plaque and a merchandise prize.

What, No Ice?

Here it is, December 15th in northern Minnesota and coach Dennis Rolle of state champion hockey Prowlers has been forced to postpone the game slated to have been played here tonight against Grand Forks Central, because of lack of an adequate ice sheet in the Arena. The rink is near completion, except for the north end where the building-heat has been a handicap, and it is hoped that the ice will be ready for the game scheduled for Saturday night when the Prowlers will meet coach Sergio Gambucci's Crookston Cathedral sextet, with game-time at 8:00 p. m.

In the meantime, the Prowlers have been utilizing the Carl Wennberg rink south of town for their practice sessions. Incidentally, that is quite a rink that Carl has erected for the boys, for it has side-boards, lights, and a warming shed. Carl, you know, has an up-and-coming youngster, Dale, now a Washington sixth-grader, who will be a Prowler hockey player some day.

In the practice drills, coach Rolle has been using Rod Collins and Cal Offerdahl as goalies; Brad Teal, Duane Glass, Freddy Glass, Jimmy Hall, Art Cloutier and Harry Armstrong on defense; and he has been using two forward lines. The "red" line, composed of all-state Joey Poole at center, Sid Vraa at right wing, and Jack Quesnell at left wing, will undoubtedly be the Prowlers number one line, and Jack Quesnell at left wing, will undoubtedly be the Prowlers number one line; while the "blue" line, with Jack Poole at center, Chip Strand at right wing and Glenn Carlson at left wing.

Judging by the form the "blue" line has been exhibiting in practice, this trio of youngsters will surprise the Prowler fans by their hockey "savvy." They won't have the speed or the power or the scoring punch of the "red line", but they will be a match when it comes to team-play and combination-passing.

Thieves Also Anxious

And just as anxiously awaiting playable ice conditions as coach Rolle is the Thieves' player-coach Paul Bedard. Bedard had the "locals" on the river on Sunday, going through some of Paul's stop-and-starts and huffing-and-puffing drills. The Thieves will open the 1954-55 Northwest Hockey schedule by playing the Roseau Cloverleafs at Roseau on Sunday, and open their "home" schedule on Wednesday night, Dec. 22nd, when they meet the Warroad Lakers on the Arena rink.

The make-up of the Thieves club will not be known until Saturday afternoon when coach Bedard and team manager Harry Hendrickson will call the roll and issue equipment. The slate of "imports" have been notified to be here on Saturday afternoon, and then the squad will have a "dress rehearsal." By the way, we have learned that through the insistence of Roseau and Crookston, the limit on the number of "imports" that a team may "ice" has been increased to six, an addition of one from the previous limit of five, and an increase of two over the number of "imports" that were permitted last year.

Until the local "imports" arrive here on Saturday, Bedard and Hendrickson will not know what Winnipeg players Ron Castelane has "signed up" for the Thieves.

John the Snort

If you pay notice to the deeds of the city's bowlers you will see that John "Snort" Langseth is back in action. That's bad news for the boys that had stocked up on trophy-polish in anticipation of winning the high-average honors in the Service, Business, and Commercial leagues. Snort, with his easy three-step delivery and smooth follow-through, will surely move into the upper brackets in the league averages.

Prowler All-Staters

With Loren Sid Vraa being named to Ted Peterson's all-state football team, we wondered just how many Prowler athletes have been named to "official" and "unofficial" state athletic teams.

Research reveals that, in addition to Vraa, Wes Hovie in 1945 and Jack Erickson in 1951 were named to all-state football teams. Like Vraa, both Hovie and Erickson were backfielders.

In basketball and these teams are "official," John Chommie, captain of the 1932 state championship Prowlers, was named to a guard position; and Wendell Kielty, a forward on that team, was also named to the all-state team. Roy Lee, co-captain of the 1938 state championship Prowlers, was named as a guard on the all-state team that year, and Loren "Bones" Stadum, the Prowler hard-working center, was also placed on the all-state team. Stadum was named to the all-state team in 1939, too. We always believed that an injustice was done to the Prowlers in 1938 when Don Lorentson wasn't given a place on the all-state team, he surely merited the honor.

Hockey, which was been an "official" sport in Minnesota since 1945, has given the Prowlers the majority of their all-staters. In 1945, the first year that high school hockey was played on a state tournament basis, Bob Baker, Wes Hovie, and Jimmy Doyle, all members of the Prowler team that was runner-up to the state champion Eveleth club, were all-state selections. Jack Erickson was placed on the all-state team in 1950, and repeated as an all-state selection in 1951. Last year the state champion Prowlers placed three players on the all-state squad, with Marv Jorde, defenseman Mike McMahon, and goalie Jack Hoppe being the boys gaining the coveted medals.

Warroad Banker Gets Prison Term

Ben Bakken Gets 3-year Term for Embezzlement

Ben Bakken, 37, Warroad bank cashier who absconded with $30,000 was sentenced to a three-year federal prison term Monday in Minneapolis.

Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye said he would recommend that Bakken be paroled after he had served a "reasonable length of time."

Bakken, employe of the Security State Bank at Warroad for 20 years, dropped from sight Sept 23. Eleven days later he returned to Warroad and gave himself up. He had made a 5,000 mile trip including a visit to Mexico.

Federal officials said $10,000 was missing from the bank the day Bakken disappeared, but that previous peculations extended over a 10-year period. The cashier had $8,300 on his person when he returned.

Bakken, who had been a pillar of Warroad community life is married and has three children.

He pleaded guilty on Oct. 26 to four counts of embezzlement and making false bank entries.

St. Olaf AF Men Fly to Oklahoma

Twenty-two Air Force ROTC cadets of the unit at St. Olaf College made a two-day trip to Vance Air Force Base at Enid, Okla., this past week end in the second ROTC orientation flight to acquaint advanced cadets with life on an Air Force Base.

They were flown to Vance and back from Wold-Chamberlain Airport, Minneapolis, in a C-47 piloted by Capt. Gerald Haldtke, Air Force instructor with the St. Olaf detachment.

Included in the group of juniors and seniors making the flight was Bruce Williamson of Thief River Falls.

Preliminary Report Made on '54 Deer Kill

A preliminary report of the 1954 deer hunting success compiled from estimate reports made by 97 game wardens assigned to the open deer area indicates that the state-wide success for Minnesota was from 26 to 30%.

The highest success reports came from northwest counties where 25 to 65 per cent success was estimated with an average nearly 40 per cent. The low estimates came from the area opened for shotgun slug shooting where the average was less than 20 per cent.

The hunting pressure was reported heavy in most areas and medium in some. Hunting conditions were generally fair, poor for the first few days and good for the last 7 days. The hunting success was reported poorer than last year, when the estimated success was reported about 35 per cent and the final tabulations from hunters report cards resulted in 37 per cent.

Checking stations were established at four points in the state, Hinckley, Garrison, Turtle River, north of Bemidji and Winger, 20 miles north of Mahnomen. Information collected by the biologists at these stations included sex, age, weight, and facts about hunting. This information will be summarized and published within a short time.

Final and official hunting success tabulations cannot be made until the hunters' report cards and the county auditors' report of big game license sales have been received by the division of game and fish.

The hunters reports are due in January but it is suggested that the hunter make an effort to send his card at once. These reports are necessary to complete studies of deer populations, deer kills, and other management problems.

Colors of Viking Division Returned to State Dec. 6th

Gov. C. Elmer Anderson Lauds 47th Division at Minneapolis Ceremony

National Guardsmen of the famed "Viking Division" representing units from 67 communities in the state including Thief River Falls stood at attention in the armory in Minneapolis Monday, December 6, and proudly watched their division colors return to their home in the Northland.

Top leaders in both military and civilian fields of government took part in the colorful ceremonies before more than 1,000 troops and a gallery of citizens. Governor C. Elmer Anderson of Minnesota, commander-in-chief of the state's military forces, accepted the colors symbolically, from regular army troops from Fort Benning, Georgia, where they have been in active service the past four years.

Major General Philip C. Bettenburg, St. Paul, commanding general of the "Vikings," received each staff and color from the hands of Brigadier General Earl C. Bergquist, who represented the regular army in the ceremony.

Governor Anderson said, "You gave your services, heroically and unselfishly, that other nations and peoples may be free. Your mobilization during the Korean emergency represented the sixth time Minnesota guardsmen have been called upon during grave national peril." Governor Anderson went on. He cited Civil War, Spanish American, Mexican Border, and World War I and II service, in addition to Korea and other active duty assignments.

New State Parks Group Is Formed

C. R. Magney of Supreme Court Named Chairman

The formation of a new Minnesota Council of State Parks, a state wide organization, was completed last week by the adoption of a preliminary program and the election of officers, including Justice C. R. Magney of the Minnesota supreme court, chairman; R. S. Thornton, Alexandria, vice chairman; and E. P. Chapman Minneapolis, secretary treasurer.

U. W. Hella, director of the division of state parks, outlined park problems and suggested solutions as follows:

Many parks need additional use facilities, to replace structures outmoded or worn out; it is necessary to have adequate sanitary and safety cohcern for public health; the revenue in most parks can be increased by modernized facilities and changes in operation; there is need for the purchase of small areas in or adjacent to several parks for efficient expansion and development of the parks; and the development of long range plans for establishment and operation of the park system.

Hella said the present system included 63 park areas, covering 84,000 acres and valued at $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. The attendance has almost doubled in the ten year period to 1952. And tourist camping increased by 15% this past summer over the previous summer totaling 98,000 camper days.

Two State Groups Ask for Luminous License Plates

A proposal to reflectorize Minnesota automobile license plates for safety and law enforcement reasons was approved this week by the Minnesota Police Officers association and the Minnesota Automobile Dealers association.

Both organizations have passed resolutions endorsing such legislation in the 1955 legislature. The announcement coincides with President Eisenhower's dedication of December 15 as S-D Safe Driving Day across the country.

"Rising highway accident rates constitute one of the more important problems facing our state government," W. R. Stephens, Jr., Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Automobile Dealers association said. "Studies made in other states with reflectorization programs indicate that improving nighttime visibility is a vital factor in reducing highway death and injury tolls."

Stephens explained that since every automobile must have license plates, making the plates plainly visible at all times is one of the most practical means of warning approaching drivers of parked or slow moving vehicles.

"HOME ON THE RANGE"

At least two, probably many more, active and retired Oliver Iron employees, have developed exceptionally attractive homes on the range. Jalmer Bergman Burntside, is famed for his rock garden, 30x50 feet, with rocks from 28 different states, including trinitite from an atomic blast, a huge boulder clearly displaying what looks exactly like an x ray of a man's chest and two perfect imprints of a Bunyan size shoe. Haakon Anderson's teeming tree farm south of Ely is noted for hundreds of feet of smooth concrete walks and many home-made "gadgets" like a radio-controlled garage door.

Price Supports Role Exaggerated, Says 'U' Economist

Dr. O. B. Jesness Says Less Than Half of Farms Get Help from Supports

The role of price supports in farm incomes is often exaggerated with the result that they are portrayed as the mainstay of a prosperous agriculture. But supported basic commodities bring in a minor share of the total farm income.

This was pointed out by O. B. Jesness, head of the University of Minnesota's Agricultural Economics Department, who spoke Friday to county, home, 4-H club and soil conservation agents on the last day of the week-long annual extension service conference on the St. Paul campus.

Jesness said one limitation of a price support program is the high cost of buying and holding large enough stocks of farm produce to make supports effective. He pointed out that price supports were much more "modest" in the 1930's and that World War II and the Korean police action "bailed us out" of surplus situations which threatened big losses of stored products.

Jesness' opinion is that "costs have to be faced" and supplies of farm products cannot be permitted to accumulate without limit.

Only about two million of the nation's 5,382,000 farms counted in the 1950 census produce nearly 85 per cent of the farm products. These farms, he pointed out, are reached by price supports.

However, we use average incomes of all farms as truly representative, although a million of them are simply rural residences, another 640,000 part-time farm operations, and another 1,500,000 produce too little for a satisfactory income.

He said there's much greater reason for being concerned over the fact that many farm units are too small to provide the income level Americans expect than fearing that the "family farm" will disappear.

Jesness pointed to the fact that the shift to cities and small towns has not been a case of "forcing people off the farm," but more the result of the drawing power of non-agricultural opportunities.

Farmers, he said, should try to learn more about other parts of the nation's economy and political life so they could do a better job of farming and citizenship.

One out of every four cars, and one out of every 5 trucks in use, were produced prior to World War II.

AN IMPORTANT HEARING

The federal power commission will start hearings early in January on an application to bring natural gas into this area from Canada for commercial and domestic uses. Canada, with a surplus to dispose of, has given to a Canadian company the export franchise and this company will deliver its product to the border at Emerson. The question before the commission is whether or not an American company shall be given permission to import the gas for sale on this side of the line.

This is a hearing in which our area has a very direct interest and there probably is justification for the formation of an organization of the cities and villages in this area in support of the application. We have long been at a disadvantage in fuel costs because of the distance factor. As natural gas has been made available in other parts of the north central states this disadvantage has become more pronounced. Now, with the possibility that this lower cost fuel may be made available, we should at least let it be known that we would like to have a chance to use it.

BRAVE FINLAND

Brave Finland with its four million people, few more than we have here in Minnesota and with far less resources, has again defied her burly neighbor by politely declining to participate in a Soviet-sponsored security conference in Moscow. That action by the Finns was a vote of confidence in the alliance of free nations that is pledged to resist further aggression. More particularly, it was a vote of confidence in us.

We are carrying a heavy load of responsibility in this alliance, a load that we sometimes think is too heavy. Then occasionally a little Finland comes through in the cold-war ring with a one-two punch that makes everything seem worthwhile again. Such things give new strength to the conviction that our old-world cousins are still worth saving.

PROMOTING INDUSTRY

The St. Paul Pioneer Press points to the activities of other states in publicly supported programs to encourage industrial development and suggests that our Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation organization be converted to such a statewide purpose. It is a good suggestion.

The Range organization was created back in the lean years for the purpose of encouraging agricultural and industrial development in northeastern Minnesota. A percentage of the receipts of the occupation tax was made available for these general purposes. During the boom years this small percentage amounted to a huge annual appropriation, much more than could be spent wisely and so much of it has been spent unwisely.

There no longer is justification for the Range organization as such. If it were reorganized for statewide promotion, along with a consolidation with other existing agencies, it still could serve the special needs of the Iron Range country.

Governor-elect Orville Freeman has expressed repeatedly his belief that something should be done to encourage industrial development in the state and the proposal that the Iron Range organization be converted to such a purpose should fit in well with his ideas. The idea deserves further consideration.

STILL HARRY AND IKE

At a recent meeting of the Democratic high command a new leader was elected and with the new leadership came a fresh approach to the business of putting a Democrat back in the White House in '56. The big idea in this new approach was to undermine President Eisenhower's personal popularity. From that time on he would be referred to only as General Ike. That would have a terrific impact on public opinion. The public would gradually catch on that he was a military man. Military men want war. The people do not want war. Therefore the people would not want Ike.

It was a crafty approach and we could see that Ike was a gone goose. But Harry Truman said some nice things about his successor this week and we noticed that he didn't follow the new party leader's instructions. He referred to him both respectfully and sympathetically as President, and with a trace of a suggestion that maybe he is doing fairly well in dealing with some of his problems.

We are not sure that this in itself is going to reelect Ike but at any rate it made us feel a little better in the assurance that Ike's old boss still likes him personally. And this little gesture of good will satisfies us that maybe it isn't too important who lives in the White House after the next election.

TOO MANY EGGS

Egg production in the month of November was 41% above the November average of recent years. There were 300 million more eggs marketed last month than in November, 1953.

Last year the producers received an average price of 49.7 cents a dozen for eggs. This year the November price to consumers averaged only 33.9 cents.

Those 300 million additional eggs that went on the market this year were a great bargain for the consumers. From the producer's standpoint however, far better that those eggs had remained at home.

There is a limit to how long we can keep on buying eggs and placing them in storage in order to maintain a market. The producers would be far better off if the eggs for which a fair market price could not be obtained, were withheld from the market and used for other purposes.

And of course the problem is how to accomplish that which all agree should be done. Obviously it requires industry organization and there appears little reason to hope that that will be accomplished in the near future. First must come industry leadership.

SAVING ANOTHER MINUTE

Between here and the Twin Cities the slowest mile on the trunk highway is that which passes through the city of Detroit Lakes. During the summer months, with tourist business at its peak, traffic moves through Detroit Lakes at a snail's pace.

But the good people of that progressive city recognize their problem and are doing something about it. They are asking for a relocation of the trunk highways through the business section and appear to have hit upon a workable plan that will materially relieve the congestion in the busiest blocks.

For that all of the hinterland gives them thanks.

1924—THIRTY YEARS AGO

Birds entered by Dr. O. F. Mellby placed high at the Northwest Poultry Show in St. Paul.—F. E. McGinn, O. C. Paulson and G. Howard Smith were appointed to make arrangements for the 1925 state Legion convention in Thief River Falls.—The total tax rate for property owners in Thief River Falls was set at 109.5 mills.—Peter Paulson, longtime resident of this community, died Dec. 1.

1934—TWENTY YEARS AGO

The State investment board approved a $250,000 refinancing loan to Pennington county.—John Morgan was honored by the Elks lodge at an Old-Timers Night program.—W. W. Viebahn resigned his position as city engineer after a year's service.—Kern M. Olson was named to succeed Palmer Tommerdahl as master of the local Masonic lodge.—Dr. A. W. Swedenburg was elected president of the Red River Valley Medical society.

1944—TEN YEARS AGO

J. S. McGogy was named general agent with the Soo Line here, succeeding Henry W. Monson, who was transferred to Minot, N. D.—Roy J. Oen was elected to succeed Jack McKechnie as master of the local Masonic lodge.—The Triangle Transportation Co. bought the Minn. Electric Welding Co. building at LaBree av. and Fourth st. from Philip Hawkins.—Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Isaacson, local residents for 40 years, were honored at Zion church on their golden wedding anniversary.

Contrary to popular belief, the section of the country with the largest proportion of older persons in population is New England, not the Far West although many older people have settled in both California and Florida in recent years.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Guess It's Called a Safety "Drive"

Whitey Fisher, from the State Motor Vehicle Department, dropped by to discuss some of our local traffic problems.

"Up at Center Junction," Whitey says, "they've got a new sign that really slows down the traffic going through town."

"The sign says, 'At 25 miles an hour, you can drive through Center Junction in 1½ minutes!' It slows people down too—some just take it easy to check on that 1½ minutes, I guess. Hasn't even been a dented fender since that sign went up."

From where I sit, it wasn't what the sign said, but the way it was said. People are usually pretty understanding if they understand what you mean. It's the same way with differences of opinion. Perhaps your neighbor prefers a temperate glass of beer, and you would choose buttermilk. What I'd like to see is for all of us to "slow down," talk it out, and be respectful of our neighbor's rights.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Under the Christmas Tree

Giving gifts to children is a tremendous satisfaction to most adults. And it can be especially satisfying if the gift becomes one of the child's most cherished possessions. However, it is at this point that many people feel at a loss to know what to choose. Amid the din and confusion of a toy department during the pre-Christmas rush, it may seem like an all-but-hopeless task to find the right gift.

Some of the toy companies have helped by including on the label of their products the age range for which the toy is appropriate. Aside from that guide a few other suggestions may make selection easier.

First, is this a toy the child can use for manipulation, for action, or for imagination? It isn't fun for long just to look at a toy. Preschool children, in particular, love toys to take apart and put together, or toys to climb on, or over, or onto.

Then ask yourself, "Is this toy safe? And will it last or, will it encourage carelessness and destruction because it is easily broken and not repairable?" Too often children are branded as destructive, when actually the toys they have been given were not properly designed. Toys of wood, rubber and sturdy fabric with few delicate parts to break off are to be preferred for young children.

If possible, take into consideration the other toys the child has, and try to provide for a variety of needs. He should have some toys to use alone, some which will stimulate social growth, some requiring concentration, and others bringing vigorous activity.

If you follow all these suggestions to the letter, do not be dismayed if your gift is not the one that is singled out for acclaim on Christmas morning. In the excitement of the day something with more immediate appeal may arouse more enthusiasm. But as the months go by it will be the durable, activity-promoting toy that will bring the most pleasure to children.

A NEW MINE IS "UNCOVERED"

When it comes to getting iron ore out of the ground, much more is involved than digging a hole. Oliver reports that nearly two years of development and construction went into their newest mine, the Plummer, before the first shipment of iron ore could be made late in 1954. Biggest job was removal of 3,600,000 tons of overburden, and a mile of scenic highway had to be moved. It is believed the Plummer will produce more than a million tons of iron ore concentrates a year.

Hjalmar Stokke's Report on Trip

We left Viking, Nov. 12th for different parts of Saskatchewan to see relatives and friends. We left after 3:00 o'clock so we only got as far as Cavalier, N. Dak. where we got a room at a hotel. The next day we drove as far as peace gardens where we crossed over into Canada. After crossing the line we drove north up through the Riding Mountains National Park, a very pretty ride through the park. Then went east of there to Highway No. 9. We lost our tar and pavement roads as soon as we hit Saskatchewan, then we took No. 9 north to Hudson Bay where I have two brothers and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rogers. There was no snow when we came up there but it had rained there so much this summer that it was hard for them to get timber for their plyboard factory which my brothers started a few years ago.

It snowed some the day before we left there. We left Hudson Bay the next Friday and arrived at my sister's place in Paddockwook about three o'clock. Had a very enjoyable week up there in the woods. While there we also visited my nephew. We spent one winter at Paddockwook hauling pulp wood from there we went to Davidson where my parents took up homestead many years ago. My brother has the home place but he has all new buildings. When we got there some men were putting in electricity, so they expect electricity some time this winter if the weather holds out. We stayed there just a week and then we started for home Tuesday morning. The roads were good only in parts where it was shady or in towns where it was slippery. We stayed that night in Portal and the next day arrived home about four o'clock. We found the most snow of the trip after we drove into Minnesota at Oslo and on home. — The Hjalmar Stokke's.

SOIL CONSERVATION PRACTICES SPREAD

Sixteen soil conservation districts have been organized in Minnesota during the past three years, eight in the last year, bringing the state's total number now to 68. Soil conservation methods have put 150,291 Minnesota acres under contour plowing. In the last year, according to the state committee report, 257,884 acres were stubble-mulched, 67,911 were strip-cropped on contour, 77,248 were strip-cropped against wind erosion, 34,673 acres of pasture were improved, and 2,907 miles of grass waterways were put in. In all 11,805 acres have been set aside for wild-life, 12,113 acres put into trees, 1,023 miles of field wind-breaks have been started, and 302 ponds have been constructed.

The Sunday School Christmas program at the Mission Church will be held on Sunday evening Dec. 19 at 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Alton Henrickson had a narrow escape last Sunday evening when a car crashed into him from the rear. Alton was traveling at the rate of 45 miles an hour and at least a foot and a half right of the white line when a car coming in back of him crashed into him. The other car had skidded about 60 ft. before it hit him. Alton felt he had lost control of his car so he threw himself down on the front seat pulling blankets over his face. His car landed or bounced into the ditch at the left hand side of the road while the other car landed on the right hand side of the road. The other driver had to admit to the authorities he had been drinking which was the only reason it could happen, as it occurred one mile north of Mahnomen. Alton had to take the train from Mahnomen to Dent where he is doing relief work as his car is badly damaged.

D. A. Johnson from Sioux Lookout, Ont., Can. spent a few days at Erick Olson's farm home. They hadn't seen each other for 30 years. Olson and Johnson having grown up together in Sweden also came to this country at the same time. He left on the train Sunday morning for Canada.

RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of the City Council held November 16, 1954, Alderman Carlson seconded by Alderman Hell introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, pursuant to proper notice duly given as required by law the Council has met and heard and passed upon all objections to the proposed assessments for the construction of a modern high intensity street lighting system along Main Avenue from 8th to Fourth Street; Horace Avenue from First to Fourth Street; Atlantic Avenue from beyond to Third Street; Third Street from Knight Avenue to Red Lake River Bridge; Second Street from Knight to Atlantic; First Street from Knight to Horace Avenue; LaBree Avenue from 8th Street and Main Avenue to Fourth Street and Riverside Avenue from 8th Street to Knight Avenue.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of Thief River Falls, Minnesota:

1. Such proposed assessment, a copy of which is on file in the office of the city clerk, is hereby accepted and shall constitute the special assessments against the lands named therein and each tract of land therein included is hereby found to be benefited by the proposed improvement in the amount of the assessment levied against it.

2. Such assessments shall be payable in equal annual installments extending over a period of 3 years, the first of the installments to be payable on or before the first Monday in January, 1956. Any deferred installments shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum from the date of the adoption of this Resolution. To the first installment shall be added interest on the entire assessment from the date of this resolution until December 31, 1955. To each subsequent installment, when due, shall be added interest for one year on all unpaid installments.

3. The owner of any property so assessed may at any time, prior to certification of the assessment to the county auditor, pay the whole of the assessment against any parcel with interest accrued to the date of payment to the city treasurer and he may at any time thereafter pay to the county treasurer the entire amount of the assessment remaining unpaid with interest accrued to December 31st of the year in which such payment is made.

4. The city clerk shall, as soon as practicable, transmit a certified duplicate of this assessment to the county auditor to be extended on the proper tax lists of the county and such assessments shall be collected and paid over in the same manner as other municipal taxes.

The world of books is the most remarkable creation of man. Nothing else that he builds ever lasts. Monuments fall, nations perish, civilizations grow old and die out; and, after an era of darkness, races build others. But in the world of books are volumes that have seen this happen again and again, and yet live on, still young, still as fresh as the day they were written, still telling men's hearts of the hearts of men centuries dead. Soil Conservation District Functions Are Topic at Session

A meeting of the board of directors of the Red Lake Conservancy District and the boards of supervisors of soil conservation districts lying wholly or in part within the Conservancy district was held in Thief River Falls last week, according to H. G. Halverson, area conservationist, with the Soil Conservation service in this city.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the conservancy district and soil conservation district governing bodies with the work being conducted throughout the area by the soil conservation service.

Halverson explained that the Red Lake Conservancy District includes all or part of Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall, Beltrami, Clearwater, and Polk counties. Soil conservation districts have been organized and are operating in all of these counties.

"The soil conservation service has been furnishing technical assistance to the conservancy district for the past three years. This assistance," Halverson explained, "has taken the form of engineering and soil surveys and also of economic studies throughout the area. This work has furthered the program of the soil conservation districts involved since information gathered has provided a realistic base on which engineering and farm planning recommendations may be made."

Mel Cohee, agricultural economist, soil conservation service, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, discussed the findings of the service to date. He also discussed the small watersheds act and pointed out how financial as well as technical assistance might be provided by the Department of Agriculture through the soil conservation service to assist farmers within a watershed to solve flooding and drainage problems.

The Thief River Falls area office is responsible for all soil conservation activities in Northern Minnesota, Mr. Halverson explained. "Eleven soil conservation districts are served from this office", he pointed out. The technical staff includes Maynard Scilley, soil scientist, and Ralph Hauswirth, engineer. These men are assisted by Charles Faunce, engineer; and Donald Barron and Halvor Ravenholt, soil scientists. Don Lawrence is the farm planner assisting the Pennington soil conservation district.

More than 7 million tons of bituminous coal are always in transit on American railroads during winter months—enough to fill a train from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Of the estimated 1951 world total of 1,020 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity—largely derived from coal—the U. S. accounted for 43% and Russia 10%.

2 Pct. of Mishaps Called Accidents

Most Traffic Mishaps Unnecessary, Says Larimer

Less than 2% of the 50,000 mishaps on Minnesota's streets and highways last year were actually accidents, according to Earl M. Larimer, state S-D Day director.

"I bring up this important point," he said, "just before S-D Day — Wednesday, December 15th — because too many people, in trying to explain away their involvement in a traffic accident, say that they were blameless and that the accident couldn't be avoided."

He went on to say the records show that the vast majority of traffic accidents last year were totally unnecessary and could have been avoided.

"If every Minnesotan — motorist and pedestrian alike — will remember one elementary rule," he concluded, "we will not only achieve outstanding results on S-D Day, but every day from now on. That rule is: It isn't what someone else does that matters, it's what YOU do that counts. One of the first and basic things we can do is to acquire some of the true spirit of Christmas and be considerate of our fellowmen. Give the other motorist or pedestrian a 'break' and you'll not only feel better but you may help prevent an accident. Be a perfect driver on S-D Day and then continue being one for the rest of your life."

MANY DEMANDS ON PUBLIC FUNDS

Least of all itemized government expenses is the current report of Public Examiner Richard A. Golling, is "Correction" at $576,739. Most costly item is Highways, at 1952 figure of $27,812,959. In between, in this order, range Public Safety, General Government, Sanitation and Waste Removal, Recreation, cost of Public Service Enterprises, Charities, Libraries, Interest, Health; "unallocated" or miscellaneous ranks 6th among the 12 items at just over five million. Of the total of $101,258,775, Mr. Golling lists $74,250,000 as "current expense," $27,008,000 as "capital outlay." Both revenues and expenses have gone up steadily the decade from 1943 to 1952—revenues to about double, expenditures to nearly treble; 1952 was the only year to show a deficit, in the amount of nearly three million. The 10 year surplus is just under $60 million.

Aliens Required to File Address with U. S. Office

Irvin F. Shrode, officer in charge of immigration and naturalization at St. Paul, today called attention to all aliens the requirement of the Immigration and Nationality Act that every alien in the United States report his address to the government during the month of January. The report must be made on Form I-53, which may be obtained from any post office or immigration office.

The requirement applies to all aliens who are in the United States on January 1st and to aliens who reside in the United States and may be temporarily absent during January. Persons in the latter group must report their address within ten days after their return to the United States. The address of minor children aliens must be reported by their parents or guardians.

Shrode warned that failure to comply with the address reporting requirements of the Act carries severe penalties. Aliens failing to comply subject themselves to fine, imprisonment and deportation.

Former EGF Man Appointed Friday as Federal Judge

President Eisenhower, Friday named Edward J. Devitt, former East Grand Forks municipal judge and a University of North Dakota law graduate, to be a federal judge in Minnesota, succeeding Matthew M. Joyce, retired.

Devitt previously had been nominated for the judgeship but the Senate failed to act on his confirmation. This made necessary the new recess appointment.

A Republican congressman from Minnesota in 1947-48, Devitt has been probate judge in Ramsey County, St. Paul, since 1950. He was born May 25, 1911, in St. Paul but moved to East Grand Forks at the age of 10.

Devitt was recommended by Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) His appointment must be confirmed by the Senate when it convenes January 3.

Devitt was a lieutenant (jg) in the Navy after serving in the Minnesota attorney general's office.

Two Tests

Wright county won national attention this past year when it participated in one of the largest health surveys of its kind involving tests for two diseases—tuberculosis and histoplasmosis, a fungus disease often mistaken for TB. More than 6,000 school children extended their arms to receive the two tests. Shown in the above picture, taking the tests is Carol Witte. Christmas Seal funds helped finance this survey, which was a joint project of the United States Public Health Service, the Minnesota Department of Health, the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Wright county medical, nursing and TB organizations.

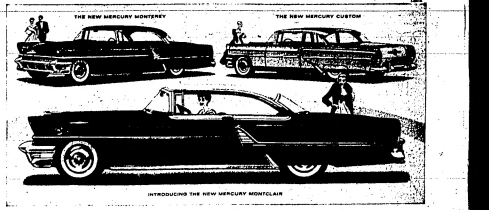
NEW 1955 MERCURY

bigger all over—in size, in power, in value

Now in 3 series, 10 models; the daringly low Montclair, the beautiful Monterey, the budget-minded Custom

New 188- and 198-horsepower Super-Torque V-8 engines—the last word in high-compression power



INTRODUCING THE NEW MERCURY MONTCLAIR

You're now looking at the reasons we say hurry—why our showroom has been so jam-packed with people ever since announcement day.

For 1955 is an all-new-car year for Mercury—new bodies, new styling, new chassis, new engines, new models, new performance!

For example, Mercury's bigger—in length, width, and wheelbase. It's lower—only 58⅔ inches high in some models. It's more powerful. 198 horsepower in the entirely new, ultra-smart Montclair, 188 hp in the Monterey and Custom.

Most important, Mercury gives you instant acceleration in every speed range—all the way from a standing start to superhighway limits.

The news is almost endless. Dual exhaust on the two top series. New tubeless tires. A new Full-Scope windshield . . .

So don't run the risk of a long wait for America's most advanced new car. See us today for early delivery.

It pays to own a new 1955 MERCURY —for future styling, super power

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 1, City

The Smiley Community club will have the annual Christmas party this Friday evening, Dec. 17 at the hall beginning at 8 p. m. The program will be arranged by the Mark Olson and Arleigh Birk families and Miss Clara Olson. Refreshments will be served by the Floryan Szymanski, Ted Lendobeja and Walter Lendobeja families.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson motored to Fargo Saturday and spent the day visiting Mrs. Lendobeja's daughter, Dianne, at the N.D.A.C.

Jim McCrum accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arleigh Birk and family motored to Grafton for the day Thursday. While there the Birks visited her father, Ole Hove, at the hospital and all were dinner and supper guests at the Truman Moe home. Mrs. Moe and Mrs. Birk are sisters.

A double birthday party was held at the Theodore Bjorge home honoring Mrs. Bjorge and Mrs. Alvin Konickson. Gifts and lunch were brought by Mr. and Mrs. Omer Lian and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arneson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Konickson and the Mesdames Bob Hamilton, Hildur Lian, Armand Lian and Susan, Paul Gilbertson, and Joe Belange.

Bruno Belswenger left Sunday evening by train for the Cities to attend a Farmers Union conference. He plans to return Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith of Crookston were house guests at the Norman Johnson home from Friday to Sunday.

The St. Pauli Sunday school Christmas program will be presented at the church Tuesday evening, Dec. 21 at 8 p. m. sharp. The public is invited.

The Homemakers project lesson on "Dairy Products" for the South Smiley group was aptly presented by the leaders, Mrs. Alvin Konickson and Mrs. Theodore Bjorge at the Melvin Torkelson home Tuesday. Those who benefitted from the lesson were Mesdames Anton Torkelson, Melvin Torkelson, Olaf Snetting, Clarence Arneson, and Bob Hamilton.

The same lesson will be presented this Wednesday evening by Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Melvin Longevan for the North Smiley group at the Lendobeja home. The menu is tempting with Souffle toast points, Caesar's salad, french baked potatoes and a cranberry desert. Rather oriental sounding, but loaded with vitamins plus.

Sunday dinner guests at the Mark Olson home were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simensen and family of Thief River Falls.

Dennis Nelson returned to his home from the Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls Monday. His gratitudes knows no bounds in all the kindnesses he received from the numerous cards, flowers, gifts and visits from all the well wishes for his recovery. He extends through this column, his heartfelt "thank you."

The Smiley 4-H club had a wonderful and gay Christmas party Monday evening at the hall. Immediately after the business meeting the program chairman, LaVonne Diehl, announced the program preceded by the singing of Christmas carols by the audience, a project talk "Christmas Tree Safety Notes" by Sharon Nelson, a demonstration, "Rice Krispy Christmas tree" molding by Yvonne Johnson, a reading "Christmas Gifts" by Phyllis Belswenger, a project talk on "Christmas Customs and Traditions" by Gloria Johnson, a table setting demonstration by Joan Lizakowski; a group of boys sang "Silent Night"; a demonstration on a Christmas tree Novelty by Nelda Lea Nelson; a demonstration "Candy Cane Cookies" by Delores Lizakowski. A movie "They Shall Not Want" with Helen Hayes was shown by Mrs. Adam Lendobeja. Craig and Carolyn Torkelson sang a duet. After the program, well filled bags of goodies, apples and nuts were distributed and gifts were exchanged. An excellent display of Christmas table decorations and novelty gifts were on hand for viewing. Barbecued hamburgers, cookies, cocoa and coffee were deliciously consumed. Mrs. Lawrence Philip and Mrs. Harlan Knutson were in charge of the lunch arrangements. The Junior leaders and the adult leaders will lead a group of members on a Christmas carol singing jaunt in the neighborhood Monday evening, Dec. 20. The group will meet at the Smiley Hall and all will return there after the caroling for an impromptu party.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Konickson and Johnny were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Oscar Hogquist home. Axel Stark of St. Hilaire was also a visitor there that afternoon.

The Norman Johnson's are happily expecting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sorvig and little David home for the holidays. They will arrive from the Aberdeen Proving grounds in Maryland where he is now stationed with the U. S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja were Sunday visitors at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson in Rockabury.

The Bethany Sunday school invites the public to attend the Christmas program they will present Tuesday evening, Dec. 21st at 8 p. m. in the church. The children will present the service in connection with the film "Holy Night."

The Rudolph Hansons are now living in town for two months caring for the home of Mr. Hanson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Severn Hanson while they are in California visiting a son Martin and family and a daughter Elfie and her family.

As early as June 30, bidding was being conducted in southern Oregon on Christmas trees to be cut for the holiday season.

PROFITABLE USES FOR A PLENTIFUL PRODUCT

More than half the average logged off tree winds up as waste. Which seems to conservation-minded folks unnecessarily wasteful, hence research constantly seeks new uses for wood waste. Some of their findings: Sawdust, shavings, chips are excellent for soil conditioning and humus; five tons plowed into an acre will do wonders; in manures or plain, splendid hay and pastureland mulch; in orchard, among berry bushes and vines, in gardens and flower beds, repellent to rodents and insects. As chicken litter and barn bedding absorbs moisture without matting. Good aggregate in mixing insulating concrete, excellent insulation in natural state. Sawdust can be used in place of sand as a non-skid; dampened, makes a fine sweeping compound.

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am planning to go to school under the Korean GI Bill. Could I count my parents as dependents for GI allowance purposes?

A—You could include your parents as dependents only if they are in fact dependent on you.

Q—I am being retired from active service because I have a service connected disability. What would my deadline be for getting the special GI insurance for disabled Korea veterans—one year from my retirement, or one year from the date VA adjudicates my disability as service-connected?

A—You would have one year from the date VA determines your disibality is service-connected.

Q—Could I take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill in a silversmith shop in England?

A—No. Under the law, the only type of Korean GI training you could take outside the United States is college training in a VA-approved course.

Flexible Price Supports Backed by Farm Bureau

Minnesota Federation Held Its Convention in Minneapolis Last Week

The Minnesota Farm Bureau convention, held in the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, November 29 to December 1, re-elected Charles Winzer as vice president and four directors whose terms had expired.

Among the 54 resolutions adopted on the closing day was a statement re-affirming the Farm Bureau's stand in favor of flexible rather than high, rigid government price supports. When government price supports are so high that excess production has been stimulated prices never can go above the support level, which is always below parity, said President J. L. Morton.

Another resolution favored social security for farmers, provided it could be on a voluntary rather than a compulsory basis.

The opening day of the convention was featured by ten departmental conferences, including the five commodity departments, for livestock, dairy, poultry, field crops and fruits and vegetables. Special problems of these branches of the farming industry were discussed by experts in these fields.

Changing from a war to a peacetime economy has brought many problems that must be settled in the market place, thru adjusting production to the needs of the domestic and foreign markets; anything the government can do isn't nearly good enough to give farmers an adequate return on their labor and investment, said Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau, who spoke at the convention banquet. There are better times ahead, he declared, basing his prediction on the rapidly increasing domestic population and increased exports.

Governor C. Elmer Anderson and Governor-elect Orville Freeman made short talks.

Adult Farmers Class Organized at Plummer Dec. 2

The Plummer adult farmer class held their organizational meeting December 2. The meeting date was set for Thursday evening of every month except the 23rd and 30th of December.

The topic for the December 16th meeting is the new social security program and how it affects the farmer. A representative from the social security field office in Grand Forks will be the main speaker and will attempt to answer any questions which may be brought up.

Topics to be discussed in the new year are dairy, crops, soils, farm shop and hogs. More details will be given later as to the dates these topics are scheduled for discussion.

Rotary Club Guest Speaker Talks on State Tax Status

Speaking in behalf of the Minnesota Taypayers association, Dr. L. N. Dale of Red Lake Falls discussed the tax situation in this state at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary club Monday noon in the Elks club rooms.

Introduced by Kalmer Ostby, program chairman, Dr. Dale said that high taxes are one of the principal factors in the drift of Minnesota residents to other states. He also suggested the avisability of abolishing the tax on personal property as a step in the right direction.

Entering into the Christmas spirit, members of the club made donations totaling $44 to CARE, enough to pay for the sending of 1,300 pounds of food for needy people in foreign lands.

Karlstad OK's Big School Bond Issue by Narrow Margin

McIntosh Village Votes Against Liquor Store for Fourth Year in Row

Special issues brought out a number of voters in Minnesota's annual village elections but polls were quiet for the most part as there were few contests for office to decide.

At Karlstad, in connection with the village election, school district voters barely approved a proposed $250,000 bond issue 256 yes to 237 no.

This means Karlstad will construct a nine classroom grade school addition, a new gymnasium and shop and improve the old gymnasium so that it can be used as a cafeteria and a grade school gymnasium and auditorium.

School officials expect the project will be ready for bidding in about two months.

For the fourth consecutive year McIntosh voters disapproved the sale of liquor in the village. The vote was 219 198. The village's former liquor store will continue to serve as a library.

Nine votes defeated a proposition to raise the salaries of the mayor and trustees of Hallock. The count was 102 no to 93 yes. The plan was to increase councilmen's salaries to $20 per month and the mayor's salary to $25 per month. They now receive $20 and $30 respectively a year.

A referendum at Gully favored continuance of livestock grazing and poultry raising within village limits by a vote of 40-13.

Plan Milk Testing Group at Plummer

Interested Dairymen Are Invited to Join

A group of men from the Plummer area have announced their intentions to organize a milk testing association.

The group will organize as soon as sufficient group interest is received to warrant such an organization.

The organization will be patterned much after the one already in operation at Thief River Falls. Members will pay a one dollar a year per cow membership fee. Out of this fund will come the records necessary and the wages of a hired milk tester.

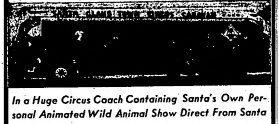
Milk is tested twice a day on a definite day of each month. In the evening of the test day the group holds a discussion type of meeting and also receives the results of their milk tests. To find out more about the operation of the organization a group will attend the Thief River Falls testing association meeting December 21.

The objective of this organization is to help the average dairyman pick the cull cows from his herd and thereby increase his milk production.

Those interested that have not already announced their desire to join should do so by contacting the Plummer Ag. Dept. or the Plummer Creamery.

A given expenditure of public funds will produce more miles of useful pavement with asphalt (which is petroleum-derived) than with any competing material.

HEY FOLKS!
Santa's Circus IS COMING TO TOWN



In a Huge Circus Coach Containing Santa's Own Personal Animated Wild Animal Show Direct From Santa Claus Town!
This colorful unit contains probably the cleverest and cutest lifesize animated wild animals ever shown in this part of the country. It is under direct supervision of the prettiest animated young lady that ever held a whip and gun with such fearless devotion to her ferocious creatures of the jungle. Yes, and the Chimpanzee Band, whose antics are the talk of the musical world, simulating circus music throughout the entire performance.
Presentation of this show to the public and their reaction has made this creation a tremendous success. A MUST FOR EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN THE ENTIRE AREA.

CHRISTMAS CAROL

They are not wise, these three small men. They are simple in the way of children. They bear little semblance to the three Princes who came to Christ's manger to pay homage . . . save that they, too, bear gifts, offering them with a song, a Christmas carol upon their lips.

Behind them stands the Church, the home of Christ, the house that welcomes those who would visit Him. These youngsters are among His regular visitors, and for them Christmas has a very special meaning.

Though they will have a tree trimmed with shining ornaments, brightly wrapped packages, fun and laughter, they will be deeply conscious of the true meaning of this glorious season. Through their church they have learned the wonders of God's love—which endures not just at Christmas but throughout every day of every year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

High-Moisture Corn Usable In Dairy Ration

On many dairy farms there is a good supply of corn that may be a little high in moisture to keep well next spring and summer unless it dries out better than usual this winter.

A good place for this high-moisture corn is in the dairy ration. It can make up most of the grain mixture in the ration. This will help you save oats and barley for feeding after warmer weathe comes next spring.

Ralph Wayne, Extension dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota, points out that this corn can be fed either shelled or as corn and cob meal. On most farms, this high-moisture corn is still in the ear so it's best to grind the ears.

Reason: There is some feed value in the corn cobs and the ration will be a little lighter and you'll save shelling costs.

Waynesays corn and cob meal has about 74 percent digestible nutrients as compared to 70 percent for good oats and 77 percent for barley. All such home grown feeds are quite low in protein — corn and cob meal has a little less protein than oats.

Wayne says that corn and cob meal makes excellent energy feed where high-protein roughages such as legume hay and silage are fed. With lower protein roughages such as corn silage with mixed hay, some high protein concentrate must be added to the grain mixture to make the most efficient dairy ration.

Says Wayne, "For many years many southern Minnesota dairymen have fed a grain mixture made up largely of ground corn. They have achieved excellent results with it. There is better reason than usual to follow a similar program this year."

Higher Grain Yields Possible

Higher yields of grain are possible on most Minnesota farms with careful fertilizing. Research at 78 trials plot over the state this last summer.

The research was described for myself and other Minnesota county agents on Monday, Dec. 6, at the University's annual soils and fertilizer short course on the St. Paul Campus.

Charles A. Simkins, extension soils specialist, told the agents that fertilizer demonstrations in the Red River Valley show about 70 per cent of the land where legumes and fallow were not used recently needs nitrogen for best grain yields.

Test plots at 78 locations over the state showed grain yield increases ranging up to 15 bushels per acre when nitrogen was applied. Phosphorus fertilizer, of course, is usually a "must" for highest yields. All locations received a phosphate application of about which is equivalent to 200 lbs. 0-20-0; 40 lbs. of actual phosphate.

Average wheat yield in these tests rose 5.5 bushels per acre when 25 pounds or more of nitrogen per acre was put on. Barley yields increased 6.3 bushels per acre when 25 pounds of more nitrogen went on each acre, Simkins said.

Applying nitrogen at 50 pounds per acre gave profitable increases over the 25 pounds nitorgen-per-acre-rate in about a third of the locations.

Simkins explained that rust probably reduced the fertilizer's effectiveness at several locations. One-fourth of the wheat test plots were severly damaged by rust and the fertilizer had little opportunity to go to work.

New Light On Candles

In time for Christmas, an oil company announces discovery of new processes of candle making which combine scientific precision with an age-old art to create tampered hand dip candles. Candeles, most of which are made from oil-derived wax, now can be made to hold their brilliant color through long exposure to sunlight. New colorants were perfected after years of research, plus new equipment. Details, of course, are highly secret, since competition is keen within the oil industry.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

THE SOO LOCKS

The year 1955 will mark one of the most important anniversaries in the history of Minnesota. Yet the event of a hundred years ago which will be observed was the completion of a great project in another state and hundreds of miles distant from the Minnesota border. Nineteen fifty five marks the hundredth anniversary of the completion of the Soo locks.

This great project opened the lakes, as a whole, to navigation and unlocked the great mineral reserves of Michigan and Minnesota. Evidence of mineral wealth, particularly in Michigan, had been taken to the Soo and carried over and around the falls on human backs. Following the completion of the locks the great Mesabi range came to light. Today the Head-of-the-lakes constitute, on the basis of tonnage, the second port in the United States.

Despite the fact that Superior was land-locked, there were boats and ships of substantial size, for their day, engaged in frontier commerce. One of the early travelers reported seeing a sloop of forty tons in operation in 1770. In 1767 Jonathan Carver reported a schooner on this lake. The Northwest Fur Company was operating a small vessel on Superior in 1800. Henry Schoolcraft related in 1883 that wheat in bulk, flour in barrels and bags and beef were all being carried on the lake. This appears to be first record of lake shipment of native products, other than pelts, recorded on Superior.

POLITICAL OPPORTUNITY

A man with political skill and ambition really had opportunity in the early days of Minnesota and the Middlewest. The voting population was small and widely scattered. The experienced politician who knew the right people, and his way around, might serve in high office, not only in one state but in several.

General James Shields was born in Ireland, a good start for many a politician in early times. He came to the United States in 1826, studied law, practiced in Illinois and became a judge of the Supreme Court of that state. He went to the Mexican war, became a major-general and was wounded. That also added political color. He was appointed governor of the Oregon Territory. Returning to Illinois he served as United States senator from that state for the years 1849-55. He came to Minnesota and his personality made him United States senator from this state. He served only a year and went into the Civil War. He came out of that a brigadier-general. In 1863 he went to California where he served as a railroad commissioner. He then wandered back to Missouri where he was, in due time, again elected to the senate of the United States. He died in 1879.

Shields became known for another incident in his career. The circumstances are not exactly clear. It seems that Abraham Lincoln had assumed the authorship of a certain newspaper article concerning a lady and which greatly offended Shields. Lincoln was challenged to a duel by Shields and accepted. The weapons were broadswords. The place was across the river from Alton, Illinois. At a late hour Shields was prevailed upon to withdraw his challenge. Abraham Lincoln never encouraged those who questioned him about this affair.

THAT FIRST FARM

When the first land of Minnesota was put under the plow or the hoe will never be surely known. Historians do not agree on the location or the time of the first farm.

That fabulous Minnesota pioneer, Joseph R. Brown, is credited with being the first to farm. Others say the pioneers of the Selkirk colony on the Red river were the first to plant and harvest. It is known that the early fur traders at Grand Portage had butter and milk.

About thirty years ago the Minnesota Historical Society uncovered at McGill University a letter of one George Monk who described a journey through what is now northern Minnesota in 1807.

At Sandy lake, which may well be credited with many first things in Minnesota history, Monk found two horses, a cow, a bull and some pigs. Two hundred twenty bushels of potatoes had been raised on a sandy clearing.

The travelers then went on to Leech lake where he found five acres under cultivation and a thousand bushels of potatoes, oats, some vegetables and Indian corn.

The Monk letter still does not settle the question of the first. There was throughout the whole Indian country some agricultural practice, crude and remote. The Chippewas may well have engaged in a very limited form of farming long before the first white man ever stopped by to visit them.

Oil: "It Helps"

The Williston Chamber of Commerce "News Bulletin" states that oil has paid to the Bank of North Dakota a total of $1,320,467.20. In addition, it has given to university and state school lands a total of $4,130,190.21. These sums came from lease rentals, lease bonus, and royalties. The "News Bulletin" comment on oil was, "It helps."

W.C.T.U. NEWS NOTES

The Womans Christian Temperance Union of Thief River Falls met on Friday, Nov. 26, at the home of Mrs. B D Bjorkman. The Rev. Eva Peet, first vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs Tarkel Ose. The Rev. E. L. Brenneise was in charge of devotions. He and Mrs. Brenneise sang a duet accompanied by Eva Peet at the piano.

Mrs. Earle Ripley gave a report on a missionary workship held in Minneapolis.

Mrs. R. B. Westacott gave out literature. It was agreed to order 1,000 leaflets, Liquor vs. Family Budget. A decision to evaluate radio programs on all stations in the immediate area, was made. Different members were to log the porgrams for certain hours each day. Miss Leola Dyrud, winner of the Diamond Speech Medal gave her selection before the group. Mrs. Lena Hayes was assisting hostess.

A Healthy Viewpoint

The welfare of employees always is a matter of concern for the oil industry, which is noted for its progressive policies. As an example, one company in the field of petroleum chemicals hires a visiting nurse who simply sees people to be sure they're all right. She doesn't prescribe or carry medicine, but she asks to be of help, and gives encouragement. Last year, she traveled more than 13,000 miles by automobile, boat, or on foot, and made 1,247 visits to employees' homes in the bayou.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS

September 13, 1954

The regular meeting of the school board of Independent School District No. 18, Pennington County, Minnesota, was held September 13, 1954, in the office of the Lincoln High School at eight o'clock p. m. and was called to order by President Bratsch. Members present were: Bratsch, Eldevik, Pearson, Hoglin, Starkow, Thompson, and Superintendent Claffy. Absent: None.

The minutes of the regular meeting on August 9 and of the special meeting on September 4 were read and approved as read.

A letter dated September 8, 1954, from Dean L. Witcher, Inc. of Minneapolis and a letter dated September 13, 1954, from Toltz, King & Day, Inc. of St. Paul regarding bids on the Knox School addition and the athletic field were read and placed on file. Mr. Dean Witcher was personally present at the meeting. He stated that his bid did not include fencing and gates for the athletic field. General discussion followed.

It was moved by Starkow, seconded by Thompson, and carried that the president and the clerk execute the contract with Dean L. Witcher, Inc., on the proposals as advertised, following the plans and specifications prepared by Toltz, King, & Day, Inc., for the Knox School addition and the Athletic field.

Superintendent Claffy was instructed to again contact the proper city council committee in regard to new street lighting and endeavor to get action on same.

It was moved by Hoglin, seconded by Starkow, and carried that the board call for bids on a new forty-two passenger school bus.

It was moved by Thompson, seconded by Eldevik, and carried that the following teachers be engaged for the 1954-1955 school year
Mary McLaughlin, Practical Nursing
Ruth Thron, Vocal Music
Donald Wallen, Speech and Dramatics.

Superintendent Claffy was instructed to notify civic leaders, parent-teacher associations, service clubs, and legislators of a regional State Department of Education workshop to be held at Lincoln High School on Tuesday evening, September 28, 1954, at seven-thirty o'clock.

Superintendent Claffy informed the board that all school bus drivers must have a physical examination as requested by state law and Minnesota School Bus Regulations. It was moved by Hoglin, seconded by Thompson, and carried that the drivers be reimbursed for the cost of their physical examinations.

The Northrop School lunch program was discussed. Superintendent Claffy was instructed to contact and negotiate with Mrs. Bert Johnson in regard to taking charge of the program.

It was moved by Eldevik, seconded by Thompson, and carried that the annual salary of Claire Carlson be [illegible] effective July 1, 1954.

It was moved by Pearson, seconded by Hoglin, and carried that the price of milk be three cents as of Monday, September 20.

New school desks to replace obsolete desks was discussed. No action was taken.

Moved, seconded, and passed that the School District bills presented by the superintendent be approved for payment and placed on file.

Moved, seconded, and carried that the meeting be adjourned.

Lutheran Mission Group Completes Chapel at Redby

The Northern Luthern Missions has just completed a chapel at Redby, a few miles from the Red Lake Agency at the Red Lake Indian Reservation to bring the Gospel to these people. The chapel will be dedicated next Sunday December 19, at 2:30 p. m. Several pastors and lay people will take part in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Knute Jorde of McIntosh have been called to work at the Mission and will be commissioned at the service. Funds are very much needed to pay the balance due on the chapel as well as other expenses in connection with the work.

Even Ose of Thief River Falls is president of the organization, Harvey P. Dyrud of Newfolden, secretary and A. O. Gudim of Newfolden, Treasurer. Contributions may be sent to Mr. Gudim at Newfolden or to Mr. Olai Westrum at Clearbrook.

The Northern Lutheran Mission is a non-profit organization incorporated under the laws of the State of Minnesota.

Progress Briefs

United States agriculture uses 16.6 per cent of all petroleum products in this country. No other single segment of American industry uses as great a proportion of the nation's petroleum production.

About 80 per cent of the nation's rural roads, including federal and state highways, are surfaced with petroleum-derived asphalt.

Sign of the times: increased use of diesel oil as railroad power. The Missouri Pacific soon will be completely dieselized, with 873 diesel locomotives instead of the 104 with which they began their diesel program in 1947.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

By a Capitol Observer

This topic is enough to fill all one week's column, and then some, without beginning to exhaust the arguments that could be raised and tossed on both sides.

Let's break the topic down, then, into aspects that are small enough to get a hand-hold on:

How Does the Legislature Get That Way?

It gets that way from the people themselves — the voters who elect the nominees in the primary and who eliminate the less desirable or less vocal in the general election.

Candidates are just plain citizens with a hankering to do something about what a lot of other folks are talking about.

A man — or woman — gets to be a candidate, sometimes, from a very small spark struck in some offhand conversation, such as "Taxes are awful, aren't they, Hank?" "Why, yes, Herb, they're a fright, but so are the roads, and we've got to pay taxes, I guess, for the things we want." "Sure, Hank, but those city fellers (or country fellers, depending on which constituency this conversation is taking place in) should be made to pay their share!" "Yessir, and if we had men in the legislature that would stand up and speak their piece without fear of favor . . ." "You ought to run for the legislature yourself." (Twisting hat): "Oh, no, not me, I'm no public speaker. And so on, through coffee at the corner cafe or a slab of pie in the farm kitchen, till one of 'em agrees to take a stab at it.

A lot of work for the candidate from interested groups and individuals, and some work against the candidate, ensues. A man or woman who has heard something of what people in his or her district wants, gets elected.

Once Elected, What Then?

First, caucuses in St. Paul, by the conservative and liberal blocs. Lots of jockeying, by the older heads, for positions of leadership which they couldn't fully sustain without the newer members.

Lobbyists begin to make their wishes known during November and December, even before the biennial session opens in January. (This year the legislative, 58th in the state's history, convenes Jan. 4, that being "the first Tuesday after the first Monday" of the new year).

Skipping the formalities in this account, the legislator finds himself or herself the first few weeks attending sessions of house or senate early in the week, with long weekends free to go home and test out sentiment among those home folks who persuaded him or her to run for this job in the first place.

There may be a quicker getting down to full-week sessions this coming year, by reason of the close division in the house between the liberal and conservative blocs. The reason: two-thirds votes, often needed in the tight political squeezes toward the end of the 90-day legislative sessions, may be mighty hard to muster in 1955, so laws to get speedy action may need early action.

Committees

The bulk of the work in any legislative body, be it Congress or the Minnesota legislature or a convention of the lodge, is done, as every delegate knows, in committee.

Legislators are asked to submit their choices for committee assignments.

In the house of representatives, where tax bills originate, it is traditional that committee chairmen and memberships be named by the speaker of the house, himself elected by the whole house at start of the session.

The liberal caucus for the 1955 session has transferred this power, if they elect the speaker Jan. 4, to a 15-member "committee on committees."

The conservatives, caucusing a day earlier, decided to leave that power with their speaker, if they elect him.

The speaker, of course, always gets plenty of advice on whom to name to what committees. Chairmanship of committees is perhaps ascribed an importance out of proportion to the relative power of a reasonable chairman sitting with a hard-working committee. The chairman calls the committee meetings (usually on a regular schedule, daily or several times or sometimes once a week), and he presides, but he has only one vote.

Lobbyists

These fellows will be around straight through the session, on up into the crucial days about the third week in April when the work of the legislature, and writing of its tax and appropriations bills to run the state and provide state aids, must by law be finished.

The word "lobbyists" has probably acquired an unjust reputation in some minds. There are lobbyists for better schools, which most people consider a decent objective, just as there are lobbyists for some types of legislation not so highly regarded. The best, in fact the most successful, lobbyists are those who provide a useful information service to legislators struggling to find the facts and act on them.

Constituents

These are really the most important lobbyists, in the ultimate sense. They are the men and women, the fathers and mothers, the taxpayers and teachers and farmers and laborers and businessmen, who should keep closest tab on what's going on in the legislature.

If they keep themselves informed on the issues, and relay that information to their legislators all through the session, better legislation is sure to result — the kind of legislation Herb and Hank were talking about when the hometown citizen decided 'way last spring to take a crack at government at the seat of government in St. Paul.

(Ed. Note: During the period he is serving as interim commissioner of administration for the state government, Mr. Naftalin's column is being written by guest writers. Next week the column will be written by Mr. Jack Mackay, Capitol Correspondent for the Associated Press).

4-H CLUB NEWS

St. Hilaire 4-H Club

The regular meeting of the St. Hilaire 4-H club was held on December 9th at the schoolhouse.

The program was opened by songs by Janice Rood, Allyce Alerson and Donna Wik, who played band instruments, followed by a demonstration by Janet Kolden on Christmas candy.

Readings pertaining to Christmas were given by Tommy Hallamack, Diane Lindquist and June Zinter.

A demonstration on outdoor decoration was given by Jeffrey Hartje.

Donna Wik led the group in singing.

Christmas gifts were passed out. Mrs. Corbet, one of the leaders, conducted some guessing games.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening.—Dianne Lindquist, reporter.

Sanders 4-H Club

The Sanders 4-H club held its monthly meeting and Christmas party, December 10, at the Albert Kassa home. Before the meeting opened the groups sang "Jingle Bells". After the meeting adjourned we drew door prizes; one for the children and one for the adults, they were won by James Larson and Albert Kassa.

Mrs. Richard Swanson and Mrs. Thelma Larson planned the program which consisted of a reading "Christmas Joys" by Janice Bakke. A project talk was given by Andy Welsch on how he got his lamb ready for the fair. A reading by Dennis Swanson; a project talk was given by Rallie Rondorf on how he took care of his calf. A reading "Christmas Wish" was read by James Larson. Demonstrations were given by Loralea Larson on "A Christmas Center Piece" and "How to Set a Table" by Ruth Ann Kassa. Loren Swanson read a poem.

After the program we enjoyed a sleigh ride. Several different games were played by the group. Prizes were given to the winners. Lunch was served by everyone.—James Larson reporter.

Hickory 4-H Club

On December 10, the Hickory 4-H club held its monthly meeting at the Arnold Tveiten home. It was opened by the Flag and 4-H pledge. It was decided that the 4-H members along with the church group are to go Christmas carolling on December 17, at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Arnold Tveiten was hostess and $3.10 was taken in.—Fern Haugen, reporter.

It's a good idea to treat your Christmas tree to make it fire-resistant. If you treat your tree, you will lessen the risk of a serious fire at Christmas from a short circuit in the tree lights, fire from a burning candle or from the heat produced by a bulb left burning for quite some time near the needles.

The method is a simple one. In a basin or pail, mix a solution of one gallon of warm water, one cup of boric acid powder and 1½ cups borax. Spray the tree with this solution in your vacuum-cleaner or a spray gun.

For decorations, dip the evergreen branches into the solution and wet thoroughly. When dry, use them for safer decorations.

FARMERS and the new Social Security
program starting Jan. 1

In previous articles we have mentioned the fact that benefits are paid only to insured workers and their families. To be insured under the law, a person must, generally speaking, work for a certain period of time in covered employment or self-employment.

The amount of time required depends on the individual's age. It varies from one and one-half years (six calendar quarters) to ten years (40 quarters).

Take, for example, a man over 65 who has never been covered by the Social Security program because he has been self-employed as a farmer all of his life. He has been thinking of retiring for several years but cannot financially manage to do so. Now, with the new law, if he has at least two years after 1954, in which he has had a net earning from self-employment as a farm operator of $400 or more per year, he will be insured and may file a claim for monthly benefits.

If the retired farmer should decide to go back to work, he could continue to receive all of his checks so long as his annual net earnings and all other personal earnings (including earnings outside of covered employment) did not exceed $1200. (Income from investments sources, of course, would not be counted, as they are not personal earnings).

For every $80 or fraction thereof over the $1200, he would lose one check. But he would not lose a benefit for any month in which he neither rendered substantial services as a self-employed person, nor earned more than $80 from personal service. When he becomes age 72, he may receive benefits for every month regardless of how much he works or how much his earnings are.

Pioneer Home Notes

The following groups have recently visited the Home: The Womens Missionary Society of Poplar Lake Church, Fosston with Rev. Lindau in charge of the program. They also served lunch to all. The Erskine Mission Circle. They gave a fine program with Rev. Onstad in charge. Ice cream and cake was served to all. A Ladies Aid circle from the Kingo Church, Fosston. After the program they served a delicious lunch.

New residents at the home are Bert Lee of E. Grand Forks, Anna Marie Engen of Oslo and Julia Nelson of Red Lake Falls.

Torkel Grundyson has been seriously ill with a foot infection. He is gradually improving.

Mrs. Marie Hanson was taken to the Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls on Sunday.

Mrs. Freda Will has had another setback and her condition is not good. Her three daughters are with her, Virginia Coleman of Duluth; Evelyn Elmquist of Detroit and Frances Grinley of Minneapolis. Her son, Buel of Toronto, Can. was here to see her last week.

We extend sympathy to those who have lost loved ones since our last news items. Mrs. Galland, resident of the home passed away at the Fosston Hospital. Mr. Carl Paulson passed away at the Bethesda Hospital in Crookston.

"U" School Survey Unit Urges Consolidation of 45 Districts

Recommends Enlargin[illegible] School District 18 an[illegible] Asks Added Facilities

Following an extensive [illegible] of school facilities in the [illegible] River Falls area completed [illegible] month, the bureau of field [illegible] dies of the University of M[illegible] sota college of education r[illegible] mended that the Thief [illegible] Falls School District 18 [illegible] actively promote the formation of a new and larger community district including 43 rural districts in the area. This is the area now being served by the Thief River Falls high school.

The report states, "Residents of the common school districts thus would become part owners of a school plant in Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire worth approximately $1,750,000, and this plant, as well as other facilities which would be constructed after unification, would be extensively used by the entire community." The tax base of the district would be substantially increased from the present $3,-increased from the present $3,-044,717 of assessed valuation to

Of the 43 rural districts which it is proposed to merge, 34 own one-room buildings, of which 18 are now being operated, including Pennington county Districts 7, 29, 41, 42, 60, 99, 125, 127, 147, 149, 194 and 221; and Marshall county Districts 17, 41, 118 and 121. Most pupils from the closed schools are now attending school in Thief River Falls or St. Hilaire.

The report goes on to state that one-ninth of the grade pupils and one-fourth of the high school students attending school in Thief River Falls are from outside the city, as are all the teacher training students and most of the area vocational school students.

School facilities in the city are overcrowded, it is pointed out, and with the school-age population in School District 18 increasing rapidly, it will soon be necessary to exclude all non-resident pupils unless added facilities are provided.

The report asserts that the quarters provided for the area vocational school are totally inadequate, and recommends replacing them with a new structure to cost an estimated $427,-050. Also recommended is the replacement of the 50-year-old Washington school with a new elementary school to cost an estimated $338,450, exclusive of site; as well as improvements to other buildings to bring the cost of the immediate program to $929,000.

These improvements, it was pointed out, would care only for the needs of the growing resident pupil population, and that if the other rural districts join up, the building program would need to be enlarged to $1,303,000.

The report states that most of the districts would have lower school taxes, had they been united with the Thief River Falls district during the past year.

The board of education of District 18 briefly considered the exhaustive 216-page report at its meeting December 13, and will give it more careful study before revealing its reactions.

Lions Club Host to School Patrol

Boys Guests of Group on Safe Driving Day

In connection with the observance December 15 of Safe Driving Day, nine members of the Thief River Falls school patrol were guests of the Lions club at its luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe.

The boys were introduced by Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, chairman of the Pennington county safety council.

Also speaking briefly were Leon Sands, member of the highway patrol, and Police Chief Elton Cummings, who cited the need for continuous efforts in behalf of traffic safety.

In the club's business session, Dr. M. D. Starekow, president, announced that the board of directors had tentatively set February 11 as the date for the annual Kiddies Carnival.

Nowadays one doesn't know what he is going to have for dinner until it thaws out.

Head of Oakland Park Rest Home Took over New Post Wednesday

Donald C. Brandvold, recently of Lake Park, last Wednesday took over the duties of superintendent of Oakland Park rest home adjoining Thief River Falls. He was joined here Monday by Mrs. Brandvold and their daughter and two sons.

Brandvold stated that the operating staff for the new home is now nearly complete, and that it is planned to start admitting inmates the first week in January.

Brandvold in 1951 directed the opening of Sunnyside rest home at Lake Park, the first county-operated rest home to be opened under a new state law. Since then it has been recognized widely as an outstanding home for the aged.

Prior to coming to Lake Park Brandvold was with the state board of parole as an agent, was a parole agent at the Red Wing training school and also served with the Youth Conservation Commission. He also had been a clerk of probate and juvenile courts in Fairbault.

He served in the navy during World War II as a personnel officer with 26 months overseas in the South Pacific. He is president of the Minnesota Association of Administrators for Homes For The Aged.

Brandvold has been active in civic affairs in Detroit Lakes. He was a member of Kiwanis and the Quarterbacks club.

DONALD C. BRANDVOLD

Mrs. Brandvold also has been active in women's groups including Library Club, PTA, the Concert association and the Women's Golf association.

The Brandvolds have three children—Charles, a senior in high school who played tackle on the Detroit Lakes football team this fall and who was a member of the basketball squad; Janet, a high school freshman; and Peter, at home.

No "Bottoms up" This Holiday Season, Asks Chief Elton Cummings

The time-honored toast "Bottoms Up" is a prelude to disaster if it is followed by getting behind the wheel of a car, Chief of Police Elton Cummings warned today as he entered Thief River Falls in a statewide campaign to reduce traffic deaths during the holiday season.

The campaign is being sponsored by the AAA automobile clubs in cooperation with the state highway patrol and the local police department.

The grim reminder of the campaign to motorists and pedestrians alike is a black and red poster entitled "Bottoms Up" which shows in a striking manner the consequences of mixing alcohol and driving. The posters are being placed in conspicuous places throughout this city.

"Let's make this holiday season a happy one," urged Chief Cummings. "Alcohol has no place in your holiday party if you are going to be the one behind the wheel. For your holiday happiness, and for the sake of those you may encounter on the road, take your drinks after you are safely home."

State safety director Earl Larimer pointed out that last year, in 46 fatal accidents in Minnesota, intoxication was the primary contributing factor. More than 2600 accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways last year involved motorists who were driving under the influence of alcohol.

A word to the wise motorist, said he, is to think twice before you say, "Bottoms Up."

Two Local Cafes to Serve Public on Christmas Day

Cafe service will be supplied in Thief River Falls on Saturday, Christmas Day, by two local eating establishments, by agreement among the proprietors of this city's cafes, it was announced this week. Gay's Cafe on East Third st. will be open in the morning from 5 to 9 o'clock, while the Pennington Hotel coffee shop will be open from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m.

Lincoln Alumni Reunion Set for Monday Evening

The Lincoln high school alumni association will hold its annual reunion and dance in the Eagles auditorium Monday evening, December 27, with Clarence Amiot, vice president, in charge of arrangements. An orchestra will supply music for dancing, which will begin at 9 o'clock. Election of officers will be conducted in a brief business meeting. Lincoln seniors are invited to atend the reunion, Amiot said, adding that tickets are available at Hamilton's clothing store.

City Tax Levy Is up Slightly for Next Year

Non-homestead Rate Is Set at 154.13 Mills, an Increase of 2.81 Mills

Property owners in the city of Thief River Falls will pay taxes next year on the basis of a 1954 homestead tax rate of 149.81 mills and a non-homestead rate of 154.13 mills, it was announced this week by County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr.

The comparable rates on which taxes were paid this year were a homestead rate of 146.64 mills and a non-homestead rate of 151.32 mills. The figures reflect an icrease this year of 2.81 mills in the non-homestead levy, and 3.27 mills in the homestead tax.

The total rate on agricultural lands in School District 18 will be 135.12 mills for non-homestead property and 129.90 mills for homestead-exempt property.

Making up the various tax rates are the following items:

	1953	1954
State non-home	9.94	9.15
Homestead	5.28	3.93
County	58.28	57.90
S.D.18 platted	61.10	61.58
S.D.18, agric.	44.30	42.57
City of TRF	22.	25.50

The tabulation reveals the biggest increase of 3.5 mills was in the levy for municipal purposes in Thief River Falls, while the county and school district temporarily halted their upward trend of recent years.

Leaves Next Week

REV. J. J. JACOBSON

Who came from Hendrum the first of the year to take over the duties of interim pastor of Trinity church here, succeeding Rev. G. S. Thompson, and who will conduct his last service at the church next Sunday, December 26. Succeeding him will be Rev. Otto L. Dale of Minneota, who will take over the local pastorate Saturday, December 31, New Years Day. Rev. Jacobson says he plans to do a good deal of traveling in coming months.

Discussions Feature C. & C. Dinner Dec. 16

Reports Submitted on Status of Airline and Local Solicitations

More than 60 persons attended a dinner meeting of the Civic and Commerce association in the Elks club rooms last Thursday evening. Arthur Christianson, president, who conducted the session, introduced his successor, Ralph A. Luhman, and other recently elected officers, who will take over their duties in January.

Mayor Agnes Israelson, Alderman Bob Carlson and Don Olson, manager of Radio Station KTRF, reported on the North Central Airlines traffic promotion conference held recently in Minneapolis, at which they represented Thief River Falls.

The speakers stated that this community is being given a second chance to retain airline service, and the next three or four months probably will decide the issue. In the meantime, they urged that North Central be given all possible local support.

Also brought up for discussion was the troublesome matter of solicitation of funds from local business places by out-of-town organizations of various kinds. A motion was adopted to refer the question of policy to the board of directors with a request to try to work out a solution.

Christianson reminded the membership that the new parking lot on the east side of LaBree av. at First st. is now in operation, and urged that full use be made of the facility. Alderman Carlson reported that signs to call attention to the parking area are being prepared.

W. E. Dahlquist introduced A. O. Torgerson of Detroit Lakes, who is retiring as district engineer with the state highway department, and who played an active part in planning local projects, including the Third st. bridge and parkway and the paving of Highway 59 southeast of this city. Mr. Torgerson spoke briefly, recalling his many pleasant associations with local citizens.

Bill LaFave of the C. & C. road committee told of having attended a recent meeting at Greenbush at which Congressman-elect Coya Knutson was present, and at which a campaign was launched to secure a port of entry from Canada at Caribou.

P. O. to Close

The local postoffice today appeared to have passed the peak of the Christmas holiday mail rush, according to Postmaster R. J. Dryden, who stated that figures on the number of items handled will not be tabulated until next week. He added that the postoffice will be closed at noon on both Friday, December 24 and 31, altho the usual mail deliveries will be made.

Local Firemen Enter into the Christmas Spirit

Thanks to the community spirit displayed by members of the Thief River Falls fire department, a large number of local children of needy families will be remembered by Santa Claus with spic-and-span toys at Christmastime again this year.

Hundreds of used toys contributed by local citizens were refurbished by the firemen in their spare time for the fifth consecutive year. The toys will be distributed thru the Salvation Army.

Christmas Will Be Celebrated in Churches with Festive Rites

Serves 20 Years in Yule Appeal

Mrs. Ruth Dow in this city, is now serving her 21st year as bell-ringer in the Salvation Army's annual Christmas kettle appeal for funds to support the Army's Yuletide welfare activities.

Shown with Mrs. Dow is Mayor Agnes Israelson making a contribution and Lieut. A. E. Weir, commander of the local unit.

Lieut. Weir asked that anyone knowing of a local family in need notify the Salvation Army without delay, so that it can be remembered at Christmas time.

This Community Joins With Rest of Christian World in Observance

The Christmas observance in the Thief River Falls community, as thruout the Christian world, will be centered Saturday in the churches, where the birth of the Christchild will be celebrated in sermon and song. Business activities will come to a halt for the two-day holiday, with most stores closing Friday, Christmas Eve, at 5 p. m.

The observance really got under way last Sunday evening when several local churches presented their choirs in Christmas concerts before large audiences. Beautiful music was rendered by the four choirs of Trinity church, and other musical programs were presented by the choirs of Zion church and the First Baptist church.

Trinity church has scheduled a Christmas Eve communion service for Friday evening at 11 o'clock, and a festival Christmas service for Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

Zion church will hold two identical Christmas services Saturday morning at 9 and 10:30 a. m., when the senior choir will sing a traditional Norwegian hymn. The Christmas program for the younger children will be held Sunday evening at 7:30, with the program for the older group Monday at 8 p. m.

The Community Methodist church has arranged a candlelight service for Christmas Eve at 11 p. m., while Sunday's service at 11 a. m. will be observed as Family Sunday.

Chairman Cites Need of Successful Drive on Polio in January

Freeing patients from iron lungs and releasing them from total reliance on braces and crutches are objectives of the 1955 March of Dimes scheduled to open on Jan. 3, Roy J. Oen, chairman of the Pennington county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, declared today.

"The greatest weapon in our arsenal is our stubborn determination to return health and vigor to children and adults who have fallen victim to this crippling disease," he said.

"Even if the Salk vaccine eventually banishes the fear of polio, we must make sure there are no 'forgotten victims'—those stricken before there was any polio vaccine to protect them."

Hundreds of polio patients, Oen said, were freed in 1954 from imprisonment in iron lungs thru treatment developed by March of Dimes grants. Hospital workers who serve patients continue to be trained through the March of Dimes.

"We don't know yet whether the trial vaccine actually can protect a single child from paralysis," Oen said. "If the evaluation shows it does, we will make 9,000,000 vaccinations available this year. To do this will cost a lot of money, but it will be money joyfully spent.

"These services will be bought with the dimes and dollars given to the March of Dimes from Jan. 3-31."

Nationwide the March of Dimes needs $64,000,000 in 1955, all of which must be raised in this single one-month drive, he said.

Soo Liner Tells Story of Fall Fete

The Soo Liner, bi-monthly publication of the Soo Line, edited by J. W. Lydon, devotes a page of its current issue to an illustrated account of the 50th anniversary celebration of the coming of the railroad to Thief River Falls, held September 24 to 26.

Legion Municipal Band to Present Three Concerts

The Christmas holiday season will be observed by the Thief River Falls Legion municipal band with a series of three concerts under the direction of Alvin Anderson, it was announced today.

The first will be given in the municipal Auditorium here next Monday evening, December 27, at 8 o'clock. The second concert is scheduled at Red Lake Falls in the community hall for Wednesday evening, December 29, and third in the high school auditorium at Middle River Thursday evening, December 30.

A varied program of popular selections will be presented.

Santa Claus Town Circus Now on at LaBree & Fourth

Children of the Thief River Falls community can obtain free tickets from local merchants admitting them to the Santa Claus Town Circus, which Tuesday opened a three-day run continuing thru Thursday in a huge trailer on the Central school parking lot on LaBree av. at Fourth st. The circus comprises 12 miniature acts, which will have a strong appeal for the little folks.

Girl Injured in Accident Sunday

Miss Marvel Saurdiff Hurt When Car Rolls over on 32

Miss Marvel Saurdiff of Warroad, now employed in Thief River Falls, is receiving treatment in Northwestern Hospital for injuries received Sunday at 1 a. m. when the car in which she was a passenger rolled over and landed on its side in the ditch on a curve in Highway 32 a mile and one-half south of St. Hilaire.

Her injuries included a cracked clavicle and multiple bruises and contusions.

The driver of the car, Dean Heinen of Warroad, suffered a bruised ankle, while the other three passengers escaped injury, the highway patrol reported. The automobile was badly wrecked.

Regional Winner

JACK QUESNELL

Lincoln high school senior, who last week won top honors in the regional Voice of Democracy speech contest at Crookston, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. His speech will be entered in the state-wide contest to be held in January. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Quesnell of this city.

Adults Reminded of Night Classes to Open in January

Asked by Director Pope of Vocational School to Register without Delay

Adults and homemakers of this community are reminded to telephone in their names if they wish to take evening school classes after Christmas. Call director C. W. Pope, telephone 1033.

Quite a little interest is being shown in registration, said Pope, but there is room for more. This is a good opportunity to turn one evening a week into useful personal improvement in a favorite subject.

Among the courses offered are retail selling, beginning typing, bookkeeping for a small business, refresher shorthand, drapery, five-thirty supper club, mathematics for electricians, new tune-up procedures for mechanics, blueprint reading, modern woodworking for hobbyists, steel square for carpenters, and arc welding for farmers.

Since the courses given will depend upon enrollment, it is asked that those contemplating taking any of the courses named, or other courses not mentioned above, please contact the area-vocational-technical school by phone or in person, said Pope. It is best to limit one's choice to one course. Classes will get under way on and after January 10th and fees will be nominal, he added.

All-senior Girl Scout Party Held Last Wednesday

The first all-senior Girl Scout get-together arranged by the local senior planning board was held in the city auditorium Wednesday, December 15. Scout songs and Christmas songs were sung by the group, stunts were presented by the four troops, a nose bag lunch was eaten and games were played under the direction of Miss Olson and Miss Bear.

Those present included members of the freshman troop and their leader, Mrs. O. J. Green; the sophomore troop and their leaders, Mrs. Ted Mills and Mrs. C. E. Snyder; the junior troop and Miss Donna Bear; the senior troop and Andrea Olson.

Miss Kay Barzen, advisor of the planning board, and Mrs. Gunder Legvold, president of the Northwestern Minnesota Girl Scout area, were also guests.

The Girl Scouts of the seventh and eighth troops, have organized a planning board under the supervision of Miss Doris Peterson. After discussing future plans it was decided to meet on the postoffice steps, Saturday, December 18, and carol [illegible] 7 to 7:10. This was to be the group's first community service under the direction of Mrs. Madeline Robarge, and Mrs. Elaine Idso.

Patty Rustad Is Feted On 11th Birthday Thursday

Mrs. Lloyd Rustad entertained Thursday in honor of her daughter Patty, who was eleven years old. The afternoon was spent playing games and solving contests for which prizes were awarded. At 6:00, a birthday supper was served after which Patty opened her gifts. Those present were Barbara Ellefson, Marilyn Langseth, Diane Haugen, Carolyn Swan, Bonnie Dahl, Peggy Dahl, Mary Lee and Virginia Rustad.

Marlene Jablinski Notes 15th Birthday Wednesday

A surprise birthday honoring Marlene Jablinski on her fifteenth birthday was held last Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Jablinski. The hostesses were Sharon Lull and Alice Lawson, assisted by Mrs. Jablinski. The girls spent the early part of the evening skating and later enjoyed various indoor games, for which prizes were awarded. After Marlene had opened her gifts, lunch was served. The guests included Sharon Lull, Alice Lawson, Vonnie and Myrtle Lull, Diane LaCoe, Mary Ann Lawson, Joan Amundson, Barbara Dalton, Shirley Jablinski and Sharon Offerdahl.

DeLuca-Myrum Vows Exchanged In California

At a double ring military ceremony on December 5, presided over by Chaplain Alden Read, Commander, USN, Ines Lillian Myrum exchanged vows with Chief Warrant Boatswain Donald Russel DeLuca, USN, in the U. S. Naval Chapel, Treasure Island, California.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gunda Myrum of Oklee. The groom is the son of Mr. Pat DeLuca of Paterson, New Jersey.

For the ceremony the bride wore a ballerina length gown of tulle over white satin, fashioned with a wide neck line, and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was fastened to a seed pearl encrusted tiara, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations.

Ballerina length dress of pink net over taffeta was worn by maid of honor Miss Phyllis Marker of Dayton, Ohio. Miss Marker's bouquet was of pink carnations.

Ensign William Wrigley of Chicago, Illinois was best man. Ushers were Lt. William Whitney, Lt. (jg.) Donald Cyrog, and Ensigns Lynn McNickles, Jack Yorke, Gene Brew, and Robert Kurtz, all of the United States Navy.

The bride and groom greeted guests at a reception in the Treasure Island officers club.

For the present the couple will reside in San Francisco, California. The groom is presently serving on the USS Virgo.

Free Church at Newfolden Notes Debt Retirement

At a ceremony at last Sunday morning's service of the Newfolden Evangelical Free church, $1,075 in paid notes were burned signifying the complete payment of a $3000 remodeling project begun in 1948, and a partial payment on the new parsonage project which is now more than half-paid for.

Two of the church's trustees, Bergman Folden and Gordon Elseth, and Pastor E. J. Vick took part in the ceremony. Pastor Vick led in a prayer of Thanksgiving. Gordon Elseth held the container of notes and Bergman Folden applied the match.

This is another milestone in the ministry of this church which in 1955 will mark its 50th anniversary.

Q—I am attending school under the World War II GI Bill. I am planning to switch to a different school, although my course will be the same. How much time will I have to resume my training in my new school?

A—You will required to resume your training within 30 days after you leave the old school, or on the first date students are admitted to the course in the new school—whichever comes later.

Q—I served in the WAC during World War II, and have been holding a GI insurance policy ever since. I expect to get married next month. Does VA want proof of my marriage—such as a photostat of the marriage certificate—in order to change the name on my policy?

A—No, it's not necessary. All you need do is write a letter, over your signature, requesting that your name be changed in VA's records.

Q—I have a GI endowment insurance policy from World War II. After the endowment matures, how will I receive the money.

A—You will have a choice. You may elect to receive payment either in a lump sum or in a specified number of monthly installments.

TRF. Pennington Co. Report No Accidents on Safe-driving Day

Motorists of Thief River Falls and Pennington county entered fully into the observance of Safe Driving last Wednesday, December 15, by setting up a record of an accident-free 24-hour period, thereby winning praise from Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, chairman of the county safety council, and Police Chief Elton Cummings.

Highway patrol officers stationed in this city also reported that no highway mishaps occurred in the Thief River Falls district. The entire state of Minnesota came thru the day without a single traffic fatality.

Over the nation, however, 45 traffic deaths were recorded, this being less than an average number.

Retired admiral H. B. Miller, director of President Eisenhower's action committee on highway safety, which sponsored S-D Day, commented:

"We thank the millions of Americans who sincerely tried to avoid any accident—and succeeded," he said. If we can do it on S-D day, we can do it every day.

"Naturally, we wish the S-D toll could have been lower just as we wish the traffic toll could be lower every day. But we feel the reduced toll offers proof that aroused public opinion and concerted effort will bring a reduction in deaths sooner than we thing."

The President's action committee reported Sunday 51 persons were killed and 980 injured in 3,835 traffic accidents last Wednesday.

On the comparable Wednesday a year ago, Dec. 16, 1953, the committee said, 60 were killed and 1,807 injured in 4,007 accidents.

"Thus the nationwide safety effort on 'S-D day' reduced deaths 15 per cent, injuries 46 per cent and total accidents nearly 20 per cent," the committee said.

John Magnuson Is Claimed By Death Dec. 15

Funeral services will be held Friday, for John Magnuson 72, at the Gulbranson chapel at 1 p. m. Rev. J. J. Jacobson will officiate and burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Magnuson passed away Monday, December 20.

Mr. Magnuson was born June 18, 1882, in Roemala, Sweden. At the age of 15 he went to Copenhagen, Denmark and lived for five years. In 1902 he emigrated to the United States, arriving at his brother's place in Pelan, Minnesota. In 1905 he came to this city where he has since lived.

He was united in marriage November 1, 1916, to Miss Anna M. Hanson. Employed for some time with the Tessum Seed Co., he later operated his own seed and grain company for several years. For the past 17 years he has operated a farm just north of this city.

Surviving Mr. Magnuson are his wife, four sons, Malcolm A. of this city; John A. of Inglewood, California; Glenn T. of Travis Air Force Base, California; and Emil V. of Fort Sheridan, Illinois; three grandchildren, Judith, Michael and Linda, all of this city; two sisters and one brother in Sweden. He was preceded by one son and two brothers.

Death Claims Kenneth Olson; Rites Thursday

Kenneth R. Olson passed away December 17. Tentative funeral arrangements have been set for Thursday in the Geulbranson chapel at 2 p. m.

Mr. Olson was born April 11, 1920 in Goodridge. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in Goodridge. He graduated from high school in 1938 and attended Dunwoody Institute for one year, where he took up electrical and auto mechanical work.

He was employed at the 300 garage in this city and later employed in defense work during World War II. For the past three years he has been with Kenosha Auto Transport, where he became ill on duty and passed away at Medina, Ohio.

He is survived by two sons, Richard and Robert; his mother, Mrs. Jeanette Olson; one brother, Vernon USN; four aunts and four uncles. He was preceded in death by his father and two brothers.

Mrs. J. F. Skala Dies Sunday In Red Lake Falls

Mrs. Joseph (Alice) Skala, resident of Red Lake Falls, passed away December 19, in St. John's hospital, Red Lake Falls. Funeral services will be held in St. Joseph's Catholic church today at 9 a. m. with Father Wm. Keefe officiating. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Skala was born July 20, 1892 in Crookston, and while still a small girl, moved to Red Lake Falls with her parents, where she attended school and grew to womanhood. She was united in married to Joseph F. Skala, June 27, 1917. She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America and of St. Joseph's Catholic church in Red Lake Falls.

Surviving are her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Martin (Anne) Healy of Red Lake Falls; Mrs. Sam E. (Isabelle) Booth of Portland, Oregon; and Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Richards of Hawthorne, California; one son, Henry of Red Lake Falls; one sister, Mrs. T. J. Morinville of Minneapolis; two brothers, Walter Columbus of Red Lake Falls and Earl Columbus of Minneapolis.

Congressman-elect Receives Gift

Congressman-elect Coya Knutson of Oklee was presented last week by Norman Peterson with a set of gold-plated license plate borders at a luncheon meeting in the Rex Cafe. Peterson made the presentation in behalf of the Minnesota Automobile Dealers association.

Final Rites Conducted For Peder Tornes

Death claimed Peder H. Tornes in the local hospital, Wednesday, December 15. The final rites were held Saturday, December 18, at the Gulbranson chapel with Rev. J. M. Erickson officiating. The body was interred at Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Tornes was born May 4, 1887 in Norway. He came to Minnesota in 1908 and was employed as a carpenter. He was united in marriage October 6, 1917 to Miss Agnes Bonne in this city. They homesteaded in Beltrami Co., and farmed there until two years ago when they retired and moved to this city. He served for several years on the school and township boards in Spruce Grove township.

Surviving are his wife Agnes of this city; one daughter, Eleanor, also of this city; three sons, Harold, of International Falls, Palmer of Coal Valley, Ill., and Norman of Rock Island, Ill. Six grandchildren, one brother, Nels of this city and a sister in Norway. He was preceded in death by one sister.

Final Rites Set Thursday For O. Thoreson

Final rites will be held for Oscar Thoreson of Goodridge, Thursday, December 23, at 1 p. m. at the Eklund Lutheran church with Rev. J. J. Jacobson officiating. Burial will be in the Eklund cemetery. He passed away Saturday, December 18.

Mr. Thoreson was born December 23, 1871 in Farmington, Minnesota. He came to Polk Co. and homesteaded near Trail. On February 27, 1903, he married Miss Helga Knutson and in 1905 they came to Pennington Co., and have since farmed in Highlanding township. He is a member of the Eklund congregation and has served on the board of trustees.

He is survived by his wife Helga, three sons, Gilbert of Portland, Oregon, and Alfred and Carl of Goodridge; two daughters, Mrs. Anton (Hulda) Jorgenson of Salem, Oregon; Mrs. Selma Hanson of Goodridge, 19 grandchildren, 8 great grandchildren; one brother, Idan Thoreson of Beaver Lodge, Canada. He is preceded in death by his parents, five brothers and four sisters.

Correction—

In its report on the annual meeting of the local creamery, published last week, the Times was in error in stating that John T. Funnesdahl, former president, still held that office. Instead, Albert D. Hanson has been president the past two years, and he conducted the meeting.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

By Jack B. Mackay
Correspondent
The Associated Press

The "Big Legislative Show" under the dome of the State Capitol opens January 4, with 194 actors — 67 in the role as senators and 131 as representatives — eager to make a hit with the public during their 90-day engagement.

That's not going to be easy. There are lots of customers to be satisfied. And they've got to pack 'em in, if enough money is going to be raised to make a good impression on the state's three million citizens.

If the price of admission is too high, the patrons won't like it. So the Number One tune on the Hit Parade is very likely to be: "How Can We Raise the Dough, When Everybody's Saying No!"

Plans Surprise Entrance

Most of the 198 performers will look to the new director to provide some of the key answers. The new director, donning his gubernatorial robe for the first time, will make a couple of appearances in the early part of the show. And, he has indicated, he might make a third surprise entrance if the lawmakers holler for help.

Governor Freeman, who plans to bring the show up-to-date with a new reorganization act to replace one that has been playing since 1939, will unfold a long list of things he wants the actors to give serious consideration to on "Inaugural Day," January 5.

Then, about a week or so later, Freeman will come in with his big expense sheets that he has gathered from all state departments. He'll tell members of the cast how he thinks they should perform if they want to wind up the "show" as a big hit — and that means coming out without a deficit.

Plenty of Outbursts

There will be plenty of oratorical outbursts over Freeman's suggestions. One of his chief lieutenants — Administration Commissioner Arthur Naftalin—has prepared a big chart, which Freeman dubbed "Chamber of Horrors!" The chart shows that an extra 35 million dollars are needed for the next two years, in addition to all the income expected under present tax levies, in order to meet the money requests of state departments. And that's not calculating any new demands for services.

Yes, there's going to be lots of hollering if the legislators want to raise the tax on iron ore, on beer, on gasoline, on cigarettes, or on any other commodity, or on corporations, or on property owners. The head man—Freeman—admits he is awfully concerned about the ending of the show, but he feels confident things will turn out all right.

Other Irritations, Too

There are, of course, many other points of irritation expected to face the actors. For instance:

A Sales Tax. Some of the cast think it's a good way to help balance the budget. But the issue is as dead as a doornail. Why? A poll of the legislators showed it is extremely unpopular with the public. And, besides, the "director" said he'd veto it if he was asked to agree.

A new hospital for mentally deficient children. It will cost somewheres between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000, but the pressure will be so terrific that appropriation of funds appears to be almost a sure thing. Groundwork already has been laid, with purchase of a site at Brainerd. There is nothing to prevent the legislature from deciding to locate it elsewhere, but the big roadblock is approval of funds.

Fair Employment Practices Act. Chances are good that a law will be passed, because a poll of solons shows overwhelming support.

Reapportionment. There hasn't been redistricting since 1913. With a lot of newcomers in the show "all steamed up" about this, chances appear better than in recent years.

Korean bonus. A survey shows widespread support for payment of a bonus to more than 100,000 Minnesotans. It would cost an estimated 35 to 40 million dollars. Prospects are that the move will be to take it on when the present 88-million bonus bill has been paid.

Old age lien law. There will be attempts to repeal it, but, even if it got passed by the House (expected to be controlled by Liberals), it would have real tough going in the senate. Under the law, the state can collect from the estates of old age assistance recipients the amount given them during their lifetime.

Party Designation. Sentiment for passage of the party label bill for legislators is stronger than ever, but there's always a question as to whether it can reach the home-stretch.

All in all, it looks like a rip-roaring show that has been unrivalled since the Farmer-Labor days in the early '30s.

(Ed. Note: During the period he is serving as interim commissioner of administration for the state government, Arthur Naftalin's column is being written by guest writers. Next week the column will be written by Richard D. Wanek, capitol correspondent for the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch.)

1,985,000 Visitors in State Parks in 1954

The Minnesota state parks attracted 1,985,000 visitors to use and enjoy the camp and picnic grounds, swimming beaches, modern cabin accommodations and beautiful scenery during 1954.

Ten state parks accounted for 1,263,700 of the total, of which Itasca, Interstate and Gooseberry Falls had the largest registrations. Itasca park, at the headwaters of the Mississippi river and the oldest established state park, has consistently led all other areas in attendance each year. Lake Bronson state park attracted 75,600.

The North shore parks and the Scenic State Park have been taxed to the limits of facilities, but almost every park has bulged with visitors at times during the vacation season.

U. W. Hella, director of the division of State Parks said that the sales of state park entry stickers in 1954 increased 39% over 1953 sales. A total of $103,000 was collected from sale of the 1954 issue of the sticker by park headquarters and county auditors and their agents. In 1953 sticker sales amounted to $74,000.00.

The income from refectory sales, concessions, swimming matches, cabin rentals and other facilities were about $11,000 greater this year than last. Legislation which authorized the sale of the entry stickers enacted by the last legislature also permitted the loan of $450,000 from game and fish funds to the division of state parks to be used for park rehabilitation, repairs and general maintenance.

It is estimated that repayment of more than 50% of this loan will be assured by the close of the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Park officials estimated that nearly forty per cent (750,000) of the total summer visitors traveled from other states and even foreign countries to visit one or more of the state's famed park areas.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

WHEN PAUL M. TUCKER, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N. Y., says that when he went to Cuba eight years ago to work, he was scared silly. He uses the word silly advisedly because the things that he was afraid of were just plain silly. For instance, he was scared of the language barrier; he was scared of his job. What if he should get stuck out in the country and couldn't tell people who he was, where he was going. What if he had an emergency in his home? He couldn't call a doctor or the police. What if he couldn't do his job satisfactorily. What if he made a mistake that cost the company thousands of dollars. What if . . . what if . . . what if . . . He was what-ifing himself all over the place, working himself into a fine lather.

CARNEGIE

What cured him? A little dog. One day he was coming home from work and saw a little girl playing with her dog. She was jabbering away in Spanish a mile a minute. The dog was wagging his tail having a big time. He was such a friendly dog that Paul reached down to pet him—and the pup licked his hand. When he stood up, he said to himself, "Why you jughead!! Here's a dog that understands Spanish and having a wonderful time. Do you mean to say that that dog is smarter than you? If he can learn the language, you certainly can."

So he started taking lessons and learning the language as the dog learned it—one word at a time. He never became proficient in Spanish but he quickly learned enough to forget his fears. And with that, all his other fears disappeared at the same time.

4-H Radio Contest

Four 4-H club members in Pennington County will again have an opportunity to take part in a statewide radio speaking contest.

To be eligible for the contest, club members must be between the ages of 14 and 21.

Topic for discussion this year is, "What are My Opportunities and Responsibilities under Freedom?" As in previous years, contestants will prepare original speeches five to seven minutes in length, on some aspect of the subject.

School and public libraries, current magazines and newspapers will have information on the topic. In addition, talking with outstanding citizens and civic and service club leaders will stimulate thinking on the subject.

County contestants must be completed by February 18. District contests will be held between February 19 and March 7 and the state contest on March 12. The date and place will be discussed at the county 4-H Leaders Council meeting.

The University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the Minnesota Jewish Council, is sponsoring the event, now in its thirteenth year.

The Jewish Council is again providing nearly $1500 in awards for county, district and state winners. Additional cash awards will be given to the state champion and reserve state champion to purchase books on citizenship and human relations for the high school, city or county library.

Culling Candidates

Here are two good candidates for your dairy herd culling. First, the slow, hard milker. Cows vary a lot in this respect, but usually the slow, hard milker should go. It takes longer to milk her and she's more likely to get mastitis. Second, brucellosis "reactors." Only in rare cases, are you justified in keeping a cow that has a positive blood test for brucellosis. Unless you value her very highly as a brood cow, it's well to get rid of her. She's a source of infection to other cows and to you and your family, as well. This tip comes from Ralph Wayne, Extension dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Wiring Suggestion

Here's a startling fact: Nearly 90 per cent of Minnesota's farmsteads need rewiring in order to use electric power's big benefits to the fullest — and to use them safely. Some of the present wiring was done in the early days of rural electrification and some during World War II, when good materials were very scarce. So, when you budget for next year, consider a rewiring job. It may pay you far more than it costs. This suggestion comes from Don Bates, Extension engineer at the University.

Safety Tipper

You may have heard this before and it astounded you — it still astounds us. The fact is that more children under ten were killed in tractor accidents on Minnesota farms than died from polio. Glenn Prickett, extension safety specialist at the University, gave us the figures: As of a few weeks ago when the report was compiled, out of 611 cases of polio involving 14 deaths, two were children under ten years of age. In the same period, since January 1, 1954, 34 Minnesota rural people have been killed in tractor accidents — and nearly a third of them, nine, were under ten years of age.

4-H Club News

Smiley 4-H Club

A Christmas party was held in connection with the December meeting held on December 13 at the Smiley Hall.

The old business discussed was the caroling party. It was decided that it would take place on Monday evening, December 20. All participants are to meet at the Smiley Hall promptly at 7:00 p. m. The records were also passed out to the members.

The new business included the joint food preparation and clothing project meeting to be held on December 29 at the Adam Lendobeja home, beginning at 10 a. m. Junior and advanced clothing members may come in the afternoon if they are not enrolled in food preparation. There will be a project meeting for the boys to be held during the Christmas vacation.

Program chairman was LaVonne Diehl. Sharon Nelson gave a project talk on Christmas safety and Gloria Johnson gave a project talk on Christmas customs and traditions. A reading on "Christmas Gifts" was given by Phyllis Beiswenger. Four demonstrations were given. They included one given by Yvonne Johnson on "Rice Krispy Christmas Tree"; Jo Ann Lizakowski demonstrated on "Setting a Table," "Christmas Safety" was demonstrated by Nelda Lea Nelson, and "Christmas Foods" was given by Dolores Lizakowski. A movie on infantile paralysis was shown.

Candy bags, apples and peanuts were passed around and games were played. Lunch was served by all the members.

Gloria Johnson, reporter.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE, EVER OLD, EVER NEW

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Margo Olson

Christmas in the United States reflects the legends and traditions of many countries. How many of these do you know?

Where did Santa Claus come from?

Holland, where a joyous custom was to have someone dress up as St. Nicholas, patron saint of children, and distribute toys and sweets. Children shortened his name to "Ni Klaus," and the Spanish changed "Saint to Santa." The red-coated figure with the flowing white beard bears no resemblance to the original St. Nicholas, an early bishop, but American children's imaginations have made him so. It was the Norwegians who gave him the prancing reindeer.

How did people start sending Christmas cards?

The first Christmas cards were done by English schoolboys. About Christmastime, before schools let out for the holidays, the students wrote expressions of good will to their teachers in order to demonstrate their good penmanship and perhaps influence the teachers to send good reports home. These cards were called "school pieces," and the boys decorated them lavishly with scrolls and curlicues and with pictures drawn in the borders around the message. Some of these cards were found in the boys' homes, and one English gentleman, Sir Henry Cole, had an artist design a card for him to send to his friends. A few Christmas cards were sold about 1858, but sending a Christmas card containing a message of affection and cheer did not become common practice until 1862.

Who brought the Christmas tree to America?

The Germans. When they settled in Pennsylvania they continued their old-world custom of cutting a fir or evergreen tree and decorating it with lighted candles. Martin Luther supposedly started it. Walking home one clear, star lit Christmas Eve, he was struck with the beauty of the stars and moon shining on tall evergreens. Deciding to share the spectacle with his loved ones, he cut a big fir and presented it, glittering with real candles, to his family. The first electrically lighted tree was put up in the home of Edward H. Johnson one of Thomas Edison's close associates, in 1882.

Why do we decorate with Christmas greens?

Since the days of the Druids evergreens of one kind or another have hung over mantel and hearth to symbolize Earth's fertility. It seems almost inherent in human nature to decorate homes and places of worship with flowers and greens for important occasions. Mistletoe was held sacred by the Druids of England and a Scandinavian legend tells us that Baldur, the favorite of the gods, was killed by an arrow made of mistletoe wood but, through the love of the gods, was restored to life.

AIRPORT NEWS

Bob Rugland from Roseau was at the airport recently on a solo cross-country flight in a Taylorcraft.

Duane Helmer and Richard Foster, Jr., from Grand Rapids, flying an Aeronca, stopped at the airport on a dual cross-country flight. They were going to Detroit Lakes and Park Rapids before returning to their home airport. Harlan Winter and Harold Olson, also from Grand Rapids, were here on a dual cross-country in a Cub, following the same route.

Anderson Brothers from Kennedy took their Stinson to Bemidji where they plan to offer it for sale.

Willie Jorgenson made his first solo flight Sunday in the Flying Club Champ.

Albert Olson and Ray Bergstrom from Roseau, flying a Luscombe, were Sunday visitors at the airport.

K. S. Melstad from Mountain, N. D., and T. J. Conlon from Grafton were here last week on a dual cross-country flight in a Cub.

E. Shubat, W. Klausler and Harry Schmid from St. Paul, flying a Cessna 170, were here on business last week.

Hilton Johnson from Valhalla, N. D., and Thomas Nord from Grafton were here on a dual cross-country flight in an Aeronca Champ.

Joe Jacobs, with the Grand Forks Home Gas Company, and Chuck Geisler were here last week in a Cruiser.

Robert Storeby from Strandquist was here on business for the Karlstad Flying Club.

Charles Schuster and Wayne Bellamy from Drayton, N. D., flying a Cub, were recent airport callers.

Robert Watts of Capital Aviation Corporation from Bismarck, brought Mrs. Rena Bartsch of Bismarck here to attend the funeral of her brother, J. B. Mosbrucker.

Buzz Lasha took off Sunday in the Globe Swift on a business trip to Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lewis and son, Leigh, from Greenville, Mississippi, are spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kierk.

The Sky Club Cafe will be closed Saturday and Sunday, December 25th and 26th.

Merry Christmas, Everybody!

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Let Me Help

"Oh, Mary, that's not straight! Why can't you learn to do things right? You run along now, and I'll fix that later." Mrs. Roberts sighs and wonders to herself why six-year-old Mary is so sloppy about the way she hangs up the dish towel. Mary goes back to her play with these critical remarks rather than encouragement uppermost in her mind. How eager will she be to help with the dishes next time she is asked.

Too often the overcritical, exacting parent sets standards of performance that developmentally impossible of achievement for the child. Of course, this usually results in discouraging him from making further attempts at helping. Extremely capable and quick parents are also tempted to do too much for the child.

It is so very much easier for a busy parent to simply reach out and deftly right something imperfectly done by a clumsy young helper than to wait for him to achieve the desired result himself. However the importance of allowing the child to meet new and challenging experiences in his own way, and in his own time wherever possible, can hardly be overemphasized.

Even a very young child can be allowed to assist in certain small tasks about the house. Two-year-old Don might very well be encouraged to help pick up his toys and put them away; five-year-old Susan is not too young to help set the table; seven-year old John can run simple errands and might be able to shop for his mother at the neighborhood grocery; a child of any age willingly "assists" in the baking of a batch of cookies.

Praise is important to the child (just as it is to adults) when his early attempts at helping are successful. The gleam of satisfaction in a child's eyes, his pride in his accomplishment and the eagerness with which new tasks are approached will more than compensate for any minor inconveniences caused by early awkwardness.

By creating an opportunity for the child to help others and himself as often as is reasonably possible, one also helps him grow toward greater independence and develops in him a feeling of security and faith in his own capacities.

FARMERS and the new Social Security program starting Jan. 1

In considering the possible coverage of a sharecropper under Social Security, it must first be determined whether he is a self-employed farm operator or an employee of the farm owner. Such determination is made by an examination of the agreement between the share-cropper and the farm owner and the extent to which the farm owner exercises control over the activities of the share-cropper in the farm operations.

The sharecropper is ordinarily self-employed if he operates the farm as his own and pays the owner rent either in the form of money or crop shares, or both. In such a case, the sharecropper would report his gross income and expenses of farm operations for Social Security purposes, just as any other self-employed farmer would do. The owner of the farm would not report the value of the rent since rental income from real estate is excluded from self-employment net earnings. There would be no Social Security coverage for the farm owner in such a situation.

The sharecropper is ordinarily an employee if the owner operates the farm through him and pays him a share of the crops. However, the owner would not report the sharecropper as his employee on Social Security tax returns unless he also pays cash wages of $100 or more during the year. In such a case only the cash wages, name of the sharecropper, and his Social Security number would be reported.

Regardless of whether a sharecropper's earnings are as a self-employed farmer or as an employee who receives cash wages of $100 or more, he must have a Social Security number for the tax return in order to identify his account with the Government and get proper credits toward Social Security benefits.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS, BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINN.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of County Commissioners met at the Temporary Commissioners' Room in the V. F. W. Hall at 10:00 A. M., December 7, 1954.

Members present: Hanson, Anderson, Lindberg and Tass.

Members absent: Olson.

The minutes of the meeting of Nov. 2 read and approved as read.

Moved by Tass seconded by Lindberg that Rocksbury Township be reimbursed for one-half of the costs of construction of 1½ miles of road C.A.R. 18 in Rocksbury Township as indicated by statement of Engineer in charge in the amount of $1063.19. Carried.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Tass that the Auditor be instructed to make payment to the following Townships in the indicated amounts, said amounts being the balance of amount due the various Townships from various road construction allotments less the charges due Road and Bridge as indicated by records of the Highway Department of Pennington County:

Deer Park Township	$ 653.16
Mayfield Township	534.70
Rocksbury Township	196.16
Sanders Township	1,273.07
Silverton Township	627.83
	$ [illegible]

Motion carried.

Mrs. Stan Larson appeared with report of Public Health Nursing Advisory Board which had been appointed previously with instructions to make survey of needs of the County and of various aspects of the position itself. Report was read and augmented by verbal testimony by Mrs. Larson and after discussion the Board took the matter under advisement.

Moved by Lindberg seconded by Anderson that Securities of Northern State Bank due 11/15/1961, U. S. Treasury Bonds, 2½%, in the amount of $33,000.00 be approved and accepted in Lieu of a like amount of Securities withdrawn. Carried.

Moved by Tass seconded by Lindberg that the Improvement of County Ditch No. 33 be accepted as completed by contractor Herbert Holthusen and that final payment in the amount of $[illegible] is hereby authorized and ordered paid. Carried.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Tass that Improvement of County Ditch No. 30 be accepted as completed by contractor John M. Rund and that final payment in the amount of $2202.40 is hereby authorized and ordered paid. Carried.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Tass that a temporary transfer of $[illegible] be transferred from Revenue Fund to County Ditch No. 62 to finance the Improvement of said Ditch and said transfer to be returned to the Revenue Fund as quickly as possible with interest at the legal interest rate of [illegible]. Upon being put to vote declared carried, all Commissioners voting.

Auditor instructed to advertise for Heating Engineer for new Court House, applications to be received by Jan. 5, 1955.

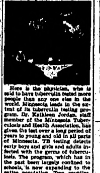
Gives TB Tests To Thousands



Here is the physician, who is said to have tuberculin tested more people than any one else in the world. Minnesota leads in the extent of its tuberculin testing program. Dr. Kathleen Jordan, staff member of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association, has given the test over a long period of years to young and old in all parts of Minnesota. TB testing detects early boys and girls and adults infected with the germs of tuberculosis. The program, which has in the past been largely confined to schools, is now expanding to the entire population. Two counties, Lyon and Lincoln, have led the way in demonstrating the value of tuberculin testing adults as well as school children.

WASHINGTON Quiz

Q—Will Senator Wayne Morse, Independent of Oregon, get a committee assignment in the 84th Congress?

A—Since it was the position of the Democratic minority in the 83rd Congress that the majority party was responsible for giving Senator Morse a place on a Senate committee, it is likely that since Democrats are the majority in the 84th Congress Senator Morse will be named to one or two committees on the basis of his seniority. It is likely that he will be named to the Senate Armed Services Committee, and either to the Labor and Public welfare, or to Foreign Relations.

Q—Will Senator Morse vote with the Democrats on organization of the Senate?

A—He has announced that he will do so.

Q—Did refusal of the Republican majority to recognize Senator Morse for a committee appointment play a part in the last election?

A—Yes, at least indirectly. Senator Morse is regarded as a top authority on Constitutional law in the Senate. He maintained that despite the fact he resigned from the Republican party, Republican action barring him from a committee impinged upon the right of Oregonians who elected him, to be represented by him on these committees. Then Senator Morse campaign in Oregon in behalf of the Democratic candidate, Senator-elect Neuberger, and won, to provide the margin for Senate control by Democrats.

Q—What is the difference between the right of suffrage and the right to vote?

A—Suffrage is the right to vote. Voting is the exercise of the right of suffrage.

Thieves Six Bows to Roseau Sunday 6 to 4; 1st Home Game Jan. 5

Outlasting the leg-weary Thieves, the Roseau Cloverleafs tallied four goals in the third period to defeat coach Paul Bedard's sextet in a Northwest Hockey league, 6 to 4.

Lack of ice at the Arena has forced a reshuffling of the home schedule, the result being that the game slated to have been played here tonight, Wednesday, has been postponed. The Thieves have exchanged home-and-home dates with the Warroad Lakers, with the locals playing at Warroad last night, Tuesday, and the Lakers coming down here on Jan. 9th.

According to present plans, the game scheduled to have been played at Grand Forks on Sunday, Dec. 26th, has also been postponed. The "home" schedule will be opened on Wednesday night, Jan. 5th, with the Roseau Cloverleafs meeting the Thieves on the Arena ice.

In Sunday afternoon's league opener at Roseau the Thieves held a slight edge in the play and the scoring throughout the first two periods, but after gaining a 3 to 2 lead in the opening minute of the third period, the locals gave up three goals to yield the lead and lose the game.

Outshooting the Leafs, 11 to 4, in the first period, the Thieves broke into the scoring column at the 12:30 mark when right-wing Ron Castelane, on a sharply angled shot after taking a pass from Church Russell, beat goalie Don Collins to give the Thieves a 1 to 0 lead.

The Thieves held that 1 to 0 lead until midway in the second period when Fred Dunsmore, poke-checking a Thieves' rush at the Leaf's blue-line, raced up the ice on a breakaway for a shot at goalie McGill. McGill kicked out the shot but Dunsmore recovered the rebound to flip the puck into the net.

Chuck Lumsden sent the Thieves into the lead again when he whipped a blue-line shot past Collins and into the east goal at 12:48; but that lead was short-lived for at 13:07 Roseau's George Stevens was credited with a goal when the disc was deflected off a Thieves' player and into the net.

Paul Bedard, with Lumsden on the assist, scored for the Thieves at 1:49 of the final period, and the locals for the third time held a one-goal lead. Dunsmore, who was the game's outstanding player, took advantage of a melee in front of the Thieves' net to slap in a shot at 4:07; and a pair of quick goals by Stevens gave the Leafs a 5 to 3 lead. Lumsden, on a nifty solo rush, splitting the Roseau defense, came in on Collins to score on a point-blank shot at 17:27; but Roseau's John Warren, with Dunsmore setting up the play, scored the game's final marker at 19:30, giving Roseau a 6 to 4 win.

The summary:

Veterans to Get Refunds on Their Life Insurance

World War I and II veterans next year will collect 228 million dollars individends on their government life insurance.

The Veterans Administration announced that it will start in January to pay 200 million dollars to holders of about five million World War II national service life insurance policies.

The VA said another 28 million dollars would be distributed among holders of some 340,000 World War I U. S. government life insurance policies.

The agency said there will be adjustments in various individual dividend rates because of recent changes in mortality and disability experience. Under both programs, the size of the dividends depends on the type of plan, age, year of issue, and the amount of insurance carried.

Prowler Sextet Arranges to Play Cathedral Dec. 30

Game Postponed from December 18 Due to Lack of Freezing Weather

Coach Dennis Rolle's defending state high school hockey champion Prowlers, after twice having their season-opening game postponed because of the unseasonable weather, which has prevented completion of the Arena ice sheet, will try again on Thursday night, Dec. 30th, when coach Sergio Gambucci's Crookston Cathedral sextet will play here.

The two teams had originally been scheduled to play here last Saturday night, but lack of freezing weather forced the postponement of the tilt.

Coach Rolle will use the game here next week as a means of forming a definite Prowler line-up for 1954-55, for on Jan. 4th, meeting the veteran Hallock team here, the locals will be entering conference competition.

Judged by the drills that have been skated through on the Wennberg rink south of town, coach Rolle will rely on Rod Collins or Cal Offerdahl in the nets; Brad Teal, Duane Glass, Jimmy Hall, and Freddy Dablow on defense, with Sid Vraa also taking a turn at the blue-line; and the forwards will be Vraa, Jack Quesnell, Glen Carlson, Chip Strand, and Jack and Joey Poole.

Crookston Man, Hit by Propellor of Plane, Killed

Albert C. Paul, Age 66, Loses Life While Fox Hunting Last Wednesday

An airplane foxhunt ended in tragedy at about 5 p. m. Wednesday when Albert C. Paul, 66, of Crookston met death when he was struck by a revolving propeller as he alighted to retrieve a fox which he had shot from the plane.

According to William Knox, Crookston municipal airport manager, who was piloting the plane, Paul died instantly from head wounds.

Knox told county officers that he and Paul had gotten out of the plane after the fox had been shot in a field about two miles west of the airport. Knox was carrying a gun with which he intended to kill the animal which had only been wounded by the shot from the air.

As he was walking toward the wounded fox, Knox said he heard a thud, and turned to see Paul falling to the ground.

It was believed that Paul stumbled into the propeller's path. Knox flew back to the airport, where he summoned the sheriff and coroner and guided them to the body.

Paul was born Dec. 14, 1888, in Red Lake Falls. His family moved to a farm near Benoit in 1904. Paul came to Crookston in 1931 where he entered into the real estate business.

He was the husband of the former Melvina Bombardier, who survives, and the father of Mrs. Dale Lane, El Paso, Texas, and Dr. Ernest Paul, Jamestown, N. D.

Prowlers Win over Fosston by 46-37 Tally

Local Cagers to Remain Idle Until Jan 7 When Crookston Plays Here

Coach Alan Adams' Prowler cagers closed out their pre-holiday schedule on Friday night when, in a game played at Fosston, the locals defeated Bert Tveit's Greyhounds, 46 to 37. The Prowlers will remain idle until Jan. 7th when they meet the highly-regarded Crookston Pirates on the Lincoln high school gymnasium; and on Jan. 8th, the Prowlers will travel to Ada for an inter-district tilt. On Jan. 14th, the Halstad Pirates will meet the Prowlers on the local court.

Friday night's encounter at Fosston found the Prowlers pulling away to a 12 to 8 lead at the end of the first period, with a pair of field goals by George Gifford giving the blue-and-gold that four-point margin in the final minutes of the quarter.

The Prowlers increased their lead by a point at the half-time intermission, outscoring the Greyhounds, 11 to 10, in the second period to hold a 23 to 18 advantage. Bill Frahm, with a pair of field goals and a free throw, and Gifford, with a pair of field goals, led the Prowlers' second period scoring.

The Greyhounds, with hard-driving Jerry Briske notching three field goals, moved back into the game in the third period, picking up a pair of points on the Prowlers to trail to three, 33 to 30, entering the fourth period.

In the fourth quarter, the Prowlers were hard-pressed until the final two minutes of the contest. With three minutes to play, the Prowlers held a 39 to 34 lead, but with Bill Frahm sinking a pair of quick goals, Mark Bjorkman dropping in a free throw, and Evan Jones looping in a shot from the free-throw circle, the locals "insured" game, winning by a 46 to 37 score.

In a well-played and exciting preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team was forced into an overtime period before they were able to subdue coach Marvin Thompson's Fosston 'B' team. With the score tied at 27-all at the end of four periods of play, the two teams moved into the three-minute overtime period. Jan Hunt broke the tie with a field goal, but Fosston's Al Chase evened the game at 29 to 29. The Prowler's Dave Hanson, who was the game's high scorer with seven field goals and 6 free throws, dropped in a pair of free throws, and then added a field goal, giving the Prowler B's a 33 to 29 decision.

Only 16 Persons Hurt, None Killed in State S-D Day

Minnesota motorists turned in one of the nation's outstanding performances on S-D Day, according to Earl M. Larimer, state director of highway safety who served as S-D Day director during the recent successful safety campaign.

"On the basis of reports received by us late last week," he stated, "the motorists and pedestrians of our state are to be complimented on the record they helped compile last Wednesday. Not a single fatal accident occurred, only 16 personal injury accidents and 49 personal property mishaps were reported."

While every community and county is to be commended for its successful efforts to reduce the accident toll, Larimore went on to say that several outstanding marks were achieved. Only one accident in all of St. Louis county, including the city of Duluth, was reported and that did not occur until the evening of S-D Day. Outside of the three large cities, there were only eight property damage accidents reported and but one personal injury.

Some have faith in their fellowman while others never leave packages in an open car.

They'll be Okay

While the senior hockey Thieves didn't appear like prospective league champions in losing their Northwest Hockey league opener to Roseau, 6 to 4, at Roseau on Sunday afternoon, the club did indicate that they'll be a first-division outfit. Until the locals, and it was their first game while the Roseau team had played a couple of exhibition tilts, ran out of gas and legs in the third period, the Thieves held a slight edge in the scoring and the play.

Except for some instances of loose defensive play, particularly in clearing the puck from the Thieves' defensive zone, coach Paul Bedard's club could perhaps have won Sunday's game. That and the fact that the Roseau Cloverleafs had a Freddy Dunsmore in their line-up.

If his play on Sunday can be considered as his "normal" game, we'll place in nomination for all-league selection this same Dunsmore. Dunsmore, who is one of Winnipeg's better all-round athletes, being a stand-out in baseball as well as hockey, scored two goals for the Leafs and assisted on three other tallies. The only goal in which Fred wasn't given an assist was the second period score by Stevens, and which rebounded off Bud Brossoit and into the Thieves' net.

We aren't sure but that Dunsmore was mixed up in the action that preceded that "gift" goal. Dunsmore appears to be a pretty durable hockey player, too, for he was nearly on full-time on Sunday, starting the game at defense, with Gordy Simpson, and then being used at forward on numerous occasions.

Team manager Harry Hendrickson had a telephone conversation with Bill Juzda this week, and Bill furnished the information that he, Bill, will join the Thieves after Christmas. As manager Harry said, with this being the season of the year that's usually associated with Peace on Earth and Good-will Towards Men, it's perhaps just as well that bashing Bill isn't in the local lineup until after Christmas. It's a fact, though, that Juzda will add plenty to the Thieves' defense, and his experience will be a "must" when the locals use young Jack Hoppe in the nets, as they plan on doing for the mid-week games.

Don't forget, the Thieves' home opener will e played here on Wednesday night, January 5th, with the Roseau Cloverleafs providing the opposition.

What's This? Dept.

Is there any truth to the rumor that Leonard "Oats" Furuseth was forced to "shut up" when challenged to a wrestling match the other week? As we get the story, Lenny had been making some belittling and disparaging remarks about the abilities of the girl wrestlers that were to appear on Mel Joppru's wrestling program the other week.

As a result of these comments (and perhaps as a result of some conniving by Lenny's "friends"), one of these buxom and well-muscled young ladies made an appearance at the Consumers Co-op. When Len was called out from his office, she peeled off her jacket and challenged Lenny to a "put up or shut up" match. The bystanders report that Lenny stammered and stuttered and, exhibiting some nimble and agile footwork, he retreated to his office, conceding the match.

It Was Close, Joe

Coach Joe Mrkonich's pride-and-joy, the Prowler 'B' team, nearly had their four-game winning streak broken on Friday night, being forced into an overtime period before they were able to edge out the Fosston 'B' basketall team 33 to 29.

Playing six-minute periods, the Prowler B's held a 11 to 6 lead at the end of the first period, and after being blanked in the second quarter, they trailed 14 to 11 at the half. They trailed by five points, 22 to 17, at the end of the third period and then, taking advantage of the fact that Fosston's "big" man, Bob Evans, was forced out on personals, came on to tie the game and win in overtime. The boys apparently felt "too good" and "big time" after beating Bemidji 'B' team the other week. Well, Friday's game should have been a lesson.

Incidentally, Fosston showed a fine young ball-handler in Dave Carlin. This youngster will play a lot of basketball for the Greyhound varsity before he finishes his high school career, we'll wager.

Grand Forks at Crookston

The Northwest Hockey league opened its 1954-55 season on Sunday afternoon with the Grand Forks Redwings defeating the Crookston Pirates, 4 to 2, and the Roseau Cloverleafs taking the measure of the Thieves, 6 to 4.

This week's schedule will be disrupted considerably by the approach of the Christmas holidays. The Thieves' game at Grand Forks, slated for Dec. 26th, has been postponed; and the Thieves' home opener, scheduled to have been played here on Wednesday night, has been shifted, with the Thieves traveling to Warroad for a game last night instead. Lack of ice has hampered the Thieves in arranging and playing their schedule to date.

The Roseau Cloverleafs were forced to rally for four goals in the third period in order to defeat the Thieves on Sunday, breaking a 3-all tie at the 11:51 mark of the final period and then punching in a pair of goals to gain a 6 to 4 win. Fred Dunsmore, a highly rated Winnipeg player, proved the game's chief point-getter, scoring twice and being credited with three assist.

The defending league champion Grand Forks Redwings opened their 1954-55 campaign by besting last year's playoff champion Crookston Pirates, 4 to 2, at Grand Forks.

Help Christmas Tree Save Needles

P. Anderson, Extension Forester, Offers Tips

Many people have been asking about how to keep their Christmas tree in the best possible shape. Here's a prescription from a University of Minnesota extension forester, Parker Anderson.

Buy a recently-cut tree. After taking it home, cut off at least an inch of the end to expose a clean and new wood surface. Stand the tree upright in a tub or pail of water in the basement for a couple of days to let it absorb as much water as possible before being brought to its Christmas spot.

Before putting the tree in the stand, saw off a diagonal cut to expose as much fresh surface as possible — this will help it take the heavy drinks of water it needs to live healthily in a warm living room. Then, place the tree in a container full of water and add water each day. It's surprising how much water a tree will drink each day during the Christmas season.

Best protection against needle loss is plenty of water drunk and kept by the tree, Anderson says.

If you handle a tree with this formula in mind, it will stay fresh and green and won't lose many, if any, needles. And where there's plenty of water in the tree's stem, it is far more resistant to fire — you know, wet wood doesn't want to burn.

Price Supports on Feed Grains Are Cut for Next Crop Year

Secretary of Agriculture Benson last week reduced price supports for small feed grains—oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums—and eased production controls set up earlier to hold down crop plantings next year.

The 1955 crops of these small feed grains will be supported at 75 per cent of parity compared with 85 per cent this year. Benson said corn — the major feed grain—will be supported at possibly 87 or 88 per cent of parity. A final decision on corn will be announced later.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they pay.

Benson removed a regulation which would have required farmers to comply with all acreage planting allotments assigned their farms next year in order to be eligible for price support on any crop.

Such allotments will be set up for crops including wheat and corn.

Lifting of this regulation means, for example, that a farmer who grows both wheat and corn but still be eligible for price support aid on wheat if, of course, he planted within his wheat allotment.

The secretary also did away with a regulation that would have denied price support aid to farmers who used land diverted from allotment crops to the production of potatoes and commercial vegetables.

"We are glad," the secretary said, "to be in a position to make these constructive moves toward less regimentation and greater freedom of choice for farmers."

These decisions, announced at a news conference, were made possible the secretary said by changes in the general agricultural situation since the production controls were first announced last August.

The secretary said several developments indicate the need for a somewhat larger volume of farm production next year than was planned earlier in the summer.

He listed those developments as this year's severe drought in the South and Southwest, a broadened export sales program, congressional enactment of a flexible farm price support system, and indications that there will be need for more livestock feed next year than had been forecast.

The secretary said the reduction in price supports for the small feed grains is designed to prevent overproduction of these grains next year as well as to bring prices of such grains down to a point where more of them will move into use rather than into storage under a government price support program.

The 1955 support rates and those for this year respectively for the small grains include: oats, 61 cents and 75 cents a bushel; barley, 94 cents and $1.15 a bushel; rye, $1.18 and $1.43 a bushel; and grain sorghums, $1.78 and $2.28 a hundred pounds.

Safety Council Will Hold State Meeting Jan. 4th

The annual meeting of the Minnesota Safety Council will be held on Tuesday, January 4 at the Hotel Saint Paul, St. Paul, with A. V. Rohweder, Duluth, presiding at the luncheon meeting. Council officers and members of the executive committee will be selected at the business session.

An award of merit will be presented to the state of Minnesota by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies for the excellence of the driver training program conducted in the state's high schools during 1953.

Mr. Rohweder will be presented with a special award by the American Automobile Association in recognition of his many years as head of the safety movement in Minnesota.

While visiting at the Capitol recently, Miss Eleanor Maley, Minnesota's "Princess Kay of the Milky Way," presented Governor-elect Orville Freeman and Attorney General-elect Miles Lord with a factual, short history of milk titled "Meet the Queen."

Both men were delighted with Princess Kay and her presentation, and made sincere statements regarding their appreciation of the dairy farmers' problems, and stated that they had plans now in the making to help Minnesota's dairy agriculture be a much more profitable enterprise for the farmers engaged in it.

Nationally Known Speakers at 'U' M Farm & Home Week

Ezra Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, to Give Address Thursday, Jan. 13

Five prominent Americans will address University of Minnesota Farm and Home Week audiences in January.

Completion of a slate of five speakers for the four days of Farm and Home Week — January 11-14 — was announced today by J. O. Christianson, director of agricultural short courses and chairman of the 1955 Farm and Home Week committee.

Most recent addition is Dr Walter C. Alvarez, formerly of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester. He will speak Tuesday, January 11, at 12:30 in Coffey Hall auditorium.

Dr. Alvarez is a widely-read newspaper columnist on health problems and editor of the magazine, "Modern Medicine." He is appearing at Farm and Home Week under the auspices of the Minnesota State Medical association.

Wednesday, January 12, the noon convention speaker is Victor Christgau, a native Minnesotan who now heads the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors' Insurance of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington. Governor-elect Orville L. Freeman will speak briefly on the Wednesday noon program, extending greetings to Far mand Home Week visitors.

Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, will speak Thursday noon, January 13.

On Friday, January 14, convocation speaker will be Wheeler McMillen, editor-in-chief of the Farm Journal magazine, Philadelphia.

Programs of Farm and Home Week, the University's annual open house for rural men and women and city homemakers, are available from the Short Course Office, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

County agents also have supplies of programs.

Use of Butter in Nation Increases in Past 7 Months

The nation's housewives bought more butter than they did a year ago in each of the seven months between April and October, the agriculture department reported last Wednesday.

The department's report on household use of butter in October showed purchases running 12 million pounds ahead of the October 1953 figure. Total civilian use of butter in the April-October period—of which household use makes up about three-fifths — was reported almost nine per cent ahead of the same 1953 period.

The 12-million-pound gain for October over the same month last year was the largest single month's increase since the department began surveys in April.

The Department report also listed an increase in household margarine purchases during October as compared with October 1953, however.

This was the first such increase in the seven months of the comparison surveys.

4 State Citizens Die Weekly of TB

Battle Still Not Won, Says Yule Seal Group

Every week, four Minnesota people die from tuberculosis! Every week, twenty new cases of TB are reported to the State Health department!

"Although tuberculosis is not the 'plague' it was considered to be years ago, these figures cannot be ignored," a news release from the state Christmas Seal organization states.

Last year, 212 persons in Minnesota died from tuberculosis, and 2,080 cases were reported. As the result of county-wide tuberculin testing surveys, it is estimated that 750,000 people are infected with the germs of tuberculosis.

The people of Pennington county give money every year for Christmas Seals that help finance at least three major programs to save the lives of those who now have TB and those who may contract the disease in the future, officers of the county Christmas Seal organization, said this week.

"Case-finding—tuberculin tests and chest x-rays — finds unknown cases early, while there is a chance for complete recovery.

"Research has resulted in discovery of Streptomycin and other new drugs, as well as modern surgery, to save lives and reduce the period of treatment."

No. Central Helps Handle Yule Mail

Preferential Mail is Given Speedy Handling

Again this year North Central Airlines and the nation's 13 other local service airlines are airlifting regular 3c lettermail and other classes of perferential surface mail over all their routes to speed delivery during the holiday rush.

The preferential mail—first-class matter, newspapers, special-handling parcel post and special delivery parcel post—will be carried aboard North Central's planes on a space available non-priority basis, subject to the prior movement of all regular airmail and passengers.

The airlift began December 16, and will end Christmas Eve. In the nine days of last year's "Operation Mail Lift" North Central flew 37,989 pounds of such mail.

Fergus Falls Hospital Seeks Television Sets

The Fergus Falls state hospital has started a Christmas Television Fund drive, directed at obtaining additional sets so more patients can enjoy them. The drive is being carried on in all 27 countries served by the hospital.

All those interested in contributing to this enduring Christmas present are asked to send their contributions to Mrs. Mary Gray, Court House, Fergus Falls, Minnesota, marked "TV Fund for FFSH." Organizations interested in contributing a television set are asked to contact R. F. Hoffmann, assistant superintendent, Box 157, Fergus Falls.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

This is one of those unusual Christmas seasons when there is no war in the world. We cannot say that the world is at peace. On the contrary there are few places, if any, where there is assurance that war will not come tomorrow. We are preparing for war on a far more extensive scale than ever before in a time when there is no actual fighting. But there is no fighting war in the world today. That is unusual. For that we are thankful.

In a thankful spirit we find this to be an unusually hopeful Christmas season. The free nations of the world seem to be stronger now, and more united. And most encouraging of the many developments that make us hopeful is the more restrained leadership of our government in dealing with explosive situations.

All things considered, the prospects for peace seem to be brighter now than they have been for many years, and so, thankfully and cheerfully, we wish you one and all a Happy Christmas, more hopeful that "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Man" may actually some day be realized.

OUR SCHOOL PROBLEMS

The Bureau of Field Studies of the University of Minnesota has completed its study of the school needs of the Thief River Falls area. The Bureau's report, a fact-packed volume of more than 200 pages, along with recommendations, comes just in time to provide good material for discussion in the community during the long winter nights that are ahead of us.

One of the recommendations that no doubt will come in for a lot of argument is the proposal that the Thief River Falls school district should be extended to include substantially all of the area now served by its high school. That would include the present St. Hilaire district, nearly two-thirds of Pennington County and parts of Marshall and Red Lake counties.

The district would extend over an area of about 460 square miles, with a total population of 12,000 people who presently are served by 43 school districts. Yes, there are many things in the report to talk about.

The report does deserve serious consideration and regardless of what the final action will be, whether it is approved in part or in whole or not at all, it should be carefully studied before any conclusions are reached.

GETTING GOOD VALUE

An interim commission of the Legislature to study highway financing problems has recommended a new formula for the distribution of highway use-tax revenues. The proposed division however still seems to be unsatisfactory to the large cities and it is doubtful that the Legislature will be able to agree on a plan that will satisfy both urban and rural areas.

The large cities point to the fact that many of our most difficult and most expensive highway building needs are in the metropolitan area. In a discussion of the problem the St. Paul Pioneer Press states:

> Technical experts employed by the study commission report that Minnesota's most urgent highway need is for removal of bottlenecks in and around the cities, where most of the people live and where most of the traffic is concentrated. Such work is extremely expensive. It is with these needs in mind that city members of the commission sought a considerably larger percentage of the funds for urban projects than was finally recommended.

We are agreed that the traffic problems in and around the large cities deserve special consideration. We all use the highways that lead to and through and around the cities, and we want them to be built to meet the needs of heavy traffic.

But is not that now being done?

It appears to us that practically every main approach to the Twin Cities is a part of the state's trunk system. A great deal of progress is being made in building these approaches up to traffic requirements, with four-laning and clover leafs and overpasses.

"The main thoroughfares through the cities are trunk highways and these gradually become more of a state responsibility. There is talk of express routes and we assume that the state will participate in their construction.

We are quite sure that tax levies for road purposes in Ramsey and Hennepin counties are considerably below the state average and the cities benefit from that fact.

As far as we are concerned, and we have tried to be fair in our approach, the cities have never done a very effective job of selling their view of the highway problem to the rural area. The state of Minnesota is developing an excellent system of trunk highways throut the state and through and around the Twin Cities. We think the people of the Twin Cities, along with the rest of us, are getting a big dollar's worth of value for the dollars they pay in the form of use taxes.

PROCLAIM IT ONCE A YEAR

Safe-Driving Day was a failure for anyone who had expected that on that day there would be no traffic accidents. For those, however, who hoped there might be a reduction in the number of accidents as a result of this nation-wide effort S-D Day was a success.

It proved, for instance, that by concerted effort the number of accidents could be reduced, and that is the important thing. If the accident toll can be reduced one day then it can be reduced every day. We should be reminded of this fact constantly and at least once a year a special S-D day should be proclaimed to shout the story louder.

BUTTER TO RUSSIA?

Secretary of Agriculture Benson is proposing a sale of butter to Russia and there has been some raising of eyebrows over the idea that we should even consider doing business with the Reds. Just what we would receive in exchange is not disclosed but it no doubt would be something that can be used on this side of the Iron Curtain. We see no good reason why such trading should not be considered.

A gradual resumption of trade may make it easier to come to an understanding over some of our political differences. There can be no harm surely in talking things over in the market place.

Dear Mrs. Peters:

Just a few lines in your Christmas card.

I miss that ring on Monday for the news and just thought I would drop you a line about our trip. We left Viking, Oct. 20th and visited in Rolette, Eckman, Maxbass and Tolley, N. Dak. While in Tolley we had snow and rain and was a little worried as to what we would find going over the mountains, but after leaving Tolley we had wonderful weather and no snow or rain from there clear to California. We visited at Wolf Point and Kalispell, Mont. then on to Portland, Ore. We were around Portland for five days and then started south for California. We reached here Nov. 5th and found all of our relatives well and have had wonderful weather all the time since getting here except while visiting in El Monte and Alhambra where we experienced a few days of fog and the "L. A. Smog". Must say we really don't like the smog and we are glad we have very little of it here in Granada Hills and understand there is less of it in Woodland Hills where we will be building our home soon.

Please greet our Viking friends and wish them all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Elmer and Maude Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sundby and family of Argyle were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Gordon Skjerven home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bakke of Newfolden visited the Omer Sorenson's on Tuesday evening.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, City

Gledelig Jul

The Christmas theme was carried out nicely in the Smiley Community Club's December meeting Friday evening. A general business meeting preceded the program that began with a series of Christmas Carols sung in a community song fest led by Mrs. Rudolph Hanson with piano accompaniment. Local young fry provided the entertaining program with a recitation by Bobby McCrum, a vocal duet by Craig and Carolyn Torkelson, a piano solo by Phyllis Olson, a recitation by Paul Lendobeja, two accordion numbers by Billy Grundhaus, a reading by Mary Ann Lendobeja, piano solo by Sharon Knutson, a vocal duet by Lois and Carol Birk, a recitation by Pamela Torkelson. A movie "They Shall Not Want" was shown at the close of the meeting. Candy, apples and nuts were distributed and a delicious lunch was served by the Ted Lendobeja families.

Bruce McCrum arrived home Sunday evening from the navy air base in Kingsville, Texas. He will spend the holidays with his parents, the Jim McCrum's until New Years Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Anderson of Trail spent from Tuesday to Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rolandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kraemer and family were a week ago Sunday visitors at the Dominic Kalinoski home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newton and family helped her mother, Mrs. Gust Berggren in Silverton with her birthday anniversary Wednesday afternoon.

Sunday evening visitors at the Anton Torkelson home were Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum and Bobby.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lendobeja were guests at the Phil Kays home Friday evening. The affair was in the form of a pre-Christmas party for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kays, who left that evening by train for Silver Springs, Maryland while there they will spend the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dan K. Love (Shirley Kays) and sons. Miss Olga Bloomaness of Thief River Falls was also present that evening.

Wayne Olson was a week end guest of his Crookston A. C. roommate, Lon Nelson, at his home in Ada. Wayne, Robert Arneson, and Johnny Konickson are all home for the Christmas vacation.

Knut Rolandson of Oklee was a Friday visitor at the Orville Rolandson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sorvig and David arrived Sunday from the Aberdeen Proving grounds in Maryland. They will spend Christmas with her folks, the Norman Johnson's and his folks, the Alfred Sorvigs in Thief River Falls.

Wednesday evening visitors at the Jim McCrum home were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simenson of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson, and Harry Waller of Brinsmade, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Thune motored to Twin Valley Thursday and spent the day at their sons Glen Thune home. Mrs. Thune also visited her friend, Mrs. Sundit at the Lutheran Memorial Home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Philipp were sponsors for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Olson of Thief River Falls. The Christening took place Sunday morning in the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Ed Johnson had a gallstone operation Friday morning at the Northwestern hospital. She came through splendidly and is convalescing. May she have a speedy and complete recovery.

Saturday evening callers at the Orville Rolandson home were Mr. and Mrs. Norton Nelson. Harold Saastad of Thief River Falls was a caller there Tuesday evening.

Marilyn McCrum and Phyllis Olson took part in a very impressive candlelight choir Christmas Concert in the Zion Lutheran church Sunday evening. Marilyn is a member of the 45 voice senior choir and Phyllis is a member of the 35 voice junior choir. The concert was held by both choirs jointly under the direction of Mrs. Walter Pedersen.

Miss Lila Hanson arrived over the week end from the Moorhead state teachers college for the holiday recess to be spent with her parents, the Rudolph Hansons. Miss Lois Hanson will arrive from Minneapolis Friday morning for Christmas. Her aunt, Miss Ruth Angell will arrive also for the week end at the Elias Angell home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lalliberte and family of Thief River Falls were Sunday evening visitors at the Bob Kraemer home.

The Zion Lutheran church circle No. 6 had a Christmas party at the Mark Olson home Thursday evening. The women brought a pot luck lunch as well as gifts for exchange. Some of the ladies were accompanied by their husbands.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith and Dell Smith all of Crookston spent the week end at the Norman Johnson and Anton Torkelson homes. They also spent a great deal of time with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Ed Johnson, a patient in the Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls.

Sunday visitors at the Adam Lendobeja home were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and family of Rocksbury and Jerry Claffy of Thief River Falls.

New Tanker Sets Record For Carrying Capacity

Oil men, used to setting new records in many different phases of their industry operations, chalked up another one recently. The largest tanker built in the United States made a triumphant entry into New York Harbor amid the traditional harbor welcome. Larger than most of the passenger liners afloat today, the tanker enters world charter for an oil company. With a capacity of 393,000 barrels, the new giant sets a record for the largest carrying capacity in the world.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Christmas Carols

CHRISTMAS

By Washington Irving

"Of all the old festivals, that of Christmas awakens the strongest and most heartfelt associations. There is a tone of solemn and sacred feeling that blends with our conviviality, and lifts the spirit to a state of hallowed and elevated enjoyment. The services of the church about this season are extremely tender and inspiring, dwelling on the beautiful story of the origin of our faith and the pastoral scenes that accompanied its announcement.

"It is a beautiful arrangement, also, derived from the days of yore, that this festival, which commemorates the announcement of the religion of peace and love, has been made the season for gathering together of family connections, and drawing closer again those bands of kindred hearts, which the cares and pleasures and sorrows of the world are continually operating to cast loose; of calling back the children of the family, who have launched forth in life, and wandered widely asunder, once more to assemble about the paternal hearth, that rallying place of the affections, there to grow young and loving again among the endering mementos of childhood."

In the Spirit of this Happy Holiday Season, We, the Undersigned Business and Professional People of Thief River Falls Extend to All of You Our Best Wishes for A

Strandquist . .

By Mrs. Ed. Stennes, Strandquist

SCHOOL NEWS

1st and 2nd Grade, Miss Overum

This is the season for secrets and oh, it is so hard to keep them. It will be another week until we know what presents we'll get. We know our parents will like the gift we've made for them.

We are sorry to hear that Jeannie Ellertson is ill. We hope she will be able to come to our Christmas party Thursday.

We were surprised to see our tree in our room the morning of December 15. Richard Gustafson was busy that day making trimmings for it.

Paul Olson has had a bad seige of toothache, and has missed some school because of it.

We have enjoyed all the shows shown before Christmas. We hope the ones we'll see in the new year will be good too.

2nd and 3rd Grade, Mrs. Stennes

We have a lovely little Christmas tree in our room. Now it really seems like Christmas with that and the other room decorations.

Several people got "100" in spelling on Wednesday: Leonard, Arlis, Dennis Chw., Loretta, Ruth Grace, Mary Ann G., Daniel, Mary Ann B., Marlys, Dennis W., Curtis, Robert T., Lester and Kay.

The second grade has new readers, "More Friends and Neighbors."

The third grade enjoy their Science readers. We are studying winter birds.

4th and 5th Grade, Miss Edeen

We have been busy this week making a radio program about Christmas. We made Christmas booklets using old Christmas cards to tell the Christmas Story. We trimmed our tree on Wednesday. We think it looks very nice. Those who had a chance to trim their Christmas trees in spelling were: Betty B., Cathy, Arlis, Carol, Larry, Carlenne, Diane, Wallace H., Chery and Marilyn.

We wish you all a Merry Christmas.

6th and 7th Grade Miss Gullingsrud

"Hold that Line" was the movie we saw on Tuesday. It was enjoyed by all. These had "100" in spelling: Anna, Shirley C., Eileen, John, Richard, Joan, June, Mark, Judy R., Ivadell, Fern, Janice, Judy J., Sharon and Shirley W.

We decorated our Christmas tree today and it looks very pretty. We expect to have a good time at our Christmas party.

7th and 8th Grade, Mrs. Peterson

Those who had 100% in spelling last week were: Phillip, Joyce A., Robert B., Marlys, Gerald, Joan, Margaret, Harriet, Charlotte, Darlene, Betty, Ione, Marie, Grace, James, Marlene, and Joyce S.

We were pleased to have our own Christmas tree on Wednesday. It is trimmed now. It looks very nice.

Betty, Marie, Harriet and Joyce A. were slumber party guests of Marlys Brekke on Wednesday night.

The following are the three best original poems written by students in the eighth grade.

"Christmas Angel"

My Christmas Angel doesn't have wings
Sometimes she's a rascal and does funny things.
My Christmas Angel is under the tree
Not up on top where she ought to be.
My little angel is up and about;
She's all our Christmas, there is no doubt.
Although if she chooses, she's sweet as can be.
Whatever she does, she's an angel to me.
My Christmas Angel is one little girl
With a ring in her voice and a bow on her curl.

By: Harriet Hanson

"Waiting For Santa Claus"

I was waiting for Santa
When I heard the clock tick
It was exactly midnight
But where was St. Nick???
I was waiting for Santa
When I heard a loud cheer
"On Dasher, on Dancer, on Blitzen!
Don't you know that Christmas is here."
I'm glad Santa comes
When it's dark instead of light
'Cause I can hear him say Merry Christmas to all,
And to all a Goodnight.

By: Betty Kasprowicz

"The Christmas Angel"

The little angel on the tree,
Is winking now, at you and me;
She winks her eye and nods her head,
And tells us now, it's time for bed.
'Cause if Santa comes while you're awake . . .
You had better look out for your own sake!

By: Joan Chwialkowski

Donald Berggren, Arnold's son, arrived from Minneapolis Saturday morning to spend two week's vacation at his uncle, John Berggren's home.

LaVonne Thompson arrived home Saturday morning from Minneapolis to spend the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Berggren visited with John M. Johnson Friday evening.

A large crowd attended the Santa Claus day on Saturday. Over three hundred bags of candy and nuts were given to the young folks by old Santa himself and coffee and doughnuts were served to the adults. We appreciate the cooperation of Editor Josephson of Middle River, who brought his films of the Newfolden and Strandquist 50th anniversary parades, Abbot and Costello, besides a Christmas film. Prizes were given by the business firms in guessing contests as follows: Tom Duvos, a 50-lb. sack of flour from Ray's Produce for guessing the closest number of buttons and buckles in a jar. Chester Berg won a box of delicious apples at Bill Hanson's store for guessing the exact number of mixed nuts in a jar. Johnson's Garage had two winners guessing nuts (edible ones). The prizes being a flashlight and 5-gallons of gas. Buddy Thun walked away with a 2-lb box of chocolates from Ed Carlson's. They had a gallon jar full of bottle caps. At Myszkowski's store Mrs. Frank Chwialkowski was a winner of a basket of groceries and the S & S Implement had a 10-ft deep freeze refrigerator to guess the weight on and Mrs. Edmund Kasprowicz was awarded a scale model Massey Harris combine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carlson left Thursday for Chicago to attend the wedding of a nephew and also will visit with relatives and friends.

Advance tickets will soon be on sale for a minstrel show to be given at the village hall Jan. 15th. We feel very fortunate at getting a booking with this troupe who have been highly recommended as first class entertainers.

A very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Prosperous Year to you all.

Miss Loretta Veselka won a case of pop at Wigen's Cafe at a guessing contest of beans on Santa Claus day. Bonnie Hahn was the lucky winner of a case of pop at Les and Tonis and Mrs. Clifford Swanson won the case of beer at Les! The contest was to guess hazel nuts in a quart pitcher. Clarence Hohngren guessed at navy beans in a pint jar at Klegstad's and was the winner of a case of beer. On rechecking Mr. Hanson found they had two winners, Chester Berg and Verne Lefrooth.

Mrs. Borsvold served a nice lunch with trays decorated to fit the occasion. The household hint, "To drive a picture hanger nail into a plaster wall, first cover the spot with a one inch strip of adhesive tape and drive the nail through it. This will prevent the surface of the plaster from chipping."

Miss Ruby Hougard arrived from the Cities to spend her vacation with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hougard and son arrived home Sunday from Mineral Wells, Texas. They drove about 1395 miles in 27 hours and stopped only a couple of times for a cup of coffee while refueling. Earl is with the Air Force engineering department. He has to report on duty for New Year's again so no wonder they didn't want to waste time on the road.

We are sorry to hear Loyal Henrickson, Ray's boy had to be left in Thief River Falls at a hospital on returning from the basketball game at Bemidji last week for an emergency operation. At last reports he was getting along nicely. This is the 3rd operation the Henrickson family had this fall so it must be the wind up.

Mrs. Willys Stennes of Seattle, Wash. suffered bad burns while at work Thursday morning when she and the coffee urn had a collision. Her arm was burned from elbow to wrist with hot coffee when some one bumped her. We hope it will heal without scars but a burn can be pretty painful.

L. Soper, Motel, $18,000; Neil McKechnie, retail gasoline service station, $12,000. Alderman Bell moved approval and issuance of permits. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the motion was declared carried.

There was presented by Northern State Bank of Thief River Falls assignment of securities in lieu of bond by Public Depositories, dated November 6, 1954, assigning to the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, U. S. A. Treasury Bonds, 2¼%, due November 15, 1961, as surety for City deposits. Alderman Hunt introduced a resolution approving such collateral and designating the First National Bank of Minneapolis as the place for the safe keeping thereof. Alderman Berg seconded the motion. The roll was called and all members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared adopted.

There was presented Auctioneer's bond of William M. Steele in the amount of $1,000, Fidelity & Casualty Company of New York, surety. Alderman Berg moved approval and filing. Alderman Honebrink seconded the motion which was duly adopted.

There was presented by Eklund-Holmstrom Post of the American Legion application for permission for operation of Bingo games in the Legion Clubrooms, each Friday during the year 1955, to which no objections were raised by the Council.

In the matter of previous recommendation of Post 117, the American Legion, relative to continued support of Legion Municipal Band and appointment of Director, Alderman Bell moved that the same be laid over, which motion was seconded by Carlson and adopted.

The Council then, pursuant to duly published Notice therefore, proceeded to conduct a hearing on Special Assessment Roll now on file with the Clerk by reason of the construction of a Street Lighting System in the downtown business area, Project 504-1, filed on September 30th, 1954 and later revised as of October 11, 1954, indicating a total assessment amount of $26,156.70. No objectors to such Assessment Roll were present. Alderman Carlson introduced a resolution accepting said Assessment Roll as constituting the special assessments against the lands named and benefited to the extent named therein, providing for installment payments, directing certification of the same to the County Auditor for extension on the tax lists of the County and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Carlson seconded the motion. The roll was called on the question and all members voted in favor thereof. The resolution was then by the President declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Hunt then moved that a proposed Ordinance providing for the establishment of Impounding Lots, providing for impounding of motor vehicles and storage thereof, establishing fees in connection therewith, establishing procedure of enforcement etc. be given its second reading. Alderman Bell seconded the motion which was duly carried. The proposed ordinance was then read and filed.

Alderman Bell then moved that a proposed Ordinance establishing a portion of LaBree Avenue in the City as a one-way Street, be given its second reading. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion which was duly carried. The proposed Ordinance was then read and filed.

RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of the City Council held November 16, 1954 Alderman Hunt seconded by Alderman Berg introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the State of Minnesota, Department of Highways, proposes to make certain improvements on a portion of Trunk Highway No. 32 & 59 located in the City of Thief River Falls upon and along Main Avenue from Ninth Street to [illegible] Street (a distance of approximately 1100 ft.) and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the City that such improvement of said roadway be extended to greater width and capacity than is necessary to accommodate normal trunk highway traffic,

BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls that the State of Minnesota, Department of Highways, is requested to provide for improvements on the aforesaid portion of Trunk Highway No. 32 & 59 consisting particularly of concrete curb and gutter, storm sewers, base and bituminous surfacing, 50 feet F. to F. of curbs, considered as construction and improvement of said roadway to greater width and capacity than is necessary to accommodate normal trunk highway traffic.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that following approval by the Minnesota Department of Highways of plans and specifications for said improvements of said trunk highway and before a contract is awarded for the construction of said improvements the City shall enter into an agreement with the State which shall provide that the City shall pay not less than 25% of the cost of construction work performed on said roadway of greater width and capacity than is necessary to accommodate normal trunk highway traffic, that the City shall pay its proportionate share of the cost of constructing necessary underground drainage structures computed on the basis of area drained by such structures, and, if the State lets the construction contract, shall deposit with the State at the time such agreement is entered into a sum equal to an estimate of the City's share of such construction costs as prepared by the Minnesota Department of Highways.

The City shall, in addition to paying its proportionate share of the cost of the proposed work, obtain at its sole cost and expense all necessary right of way easements and construction permits for the work to be performed outside the limits of the trunk highway or established City streets, together with all drainage outlet rights where necessary. Such easements, permits and rights shall be obtained and satisfactory evidence thereof furnished the Department of Highways before any contract for the proposed work is awarded.

Farm Bureau Offers Views to Cong.-elect

Approximately 125 Farm Bureau members representing all but 2 counties in the Ninth congressional district met, Tuesday, December 14, to talk of their mutual problems with Congresswoman-elect Coya Knutson. Ralph Erickson, 9th district Minnesota Farm Bureau board director, presided at the meeting.

In his opening remarks, Erickson pointed out that this meeting was in line with the Farm Bureau policy of "Self-government doesn't just happen, you have to work for it." He also pointed out how Farm Bureau operates on a non-partisan basis and carries out its legislative program in a bi-partisan way.

Mr. Erickson then presented Congresswoman-elect Knutson to the group. She stated that she came to listen and find out first hand what Farm Bureau members have in mind for a good farm program.

District Fieldman Arlyn Martig, then had each county chairman introduce his group and the following were present from Pennington county: Vivian Copp, Mons Engelstad, Paul Engelstad, Ruppert Wolfgram and Albert Koop.

Mrs. W. H. Dewey, district home and community chairman, then presented the women's part in Farm Bureau. She explained the basic principles guiding Farm Bureau thinking.

Harry Ophus, president of the East Polk County Farm Bureau, pointed out how the big drop in agricultural exports is one of the big reasons for our present cost-price squeeze in agriculture. Also mentioned was the fact that a bill was passed in the last Congress, which Farm Bureau sponsored and is going a long way in expanding exports of agricultural products. This bill urges foreign currency rather than American dollars as a means of paying for American farm products.

Laurence Sherman, president of the Clay County Farm Bureau, pointed out how flexible supports were intended as a guide to farmers for shifts in production. He also pointed out how incentives through 90% supports could not work in peacetime without rigid production controls.

Norbert Corriveau, president of the Marshall County Farm Bureau, then explained the Farm Bureau resolution on the necessity of a price differential between milling wheats and feed wheats regarding the price support program.

Throughout the meeting, the emphasis was on expansion of markets rather than the reduction in production.

Mrs. Knutson then thanked the group for the opportunity of meeting with them to discuss farmer's problems in the Red River Valley and nationally. Mrs. Knutson also invited them to write to her about problems affecting them personally and agriculture as a whole.

Tax Study Group Cites Homestead Exemption Effect

Says Law Enacted in Early 1930s Materially Reduces Tax Receipts

Minnesota's homestead tax exemption law is one of the reasons that local governments are hard pressed for revenues, according to the Minnesota Tax Study Commission.

This law, passed in the depression years of the early 1930's as a relief measure, provides lower taxes for home owners than for owners of rental or industrial property. It consequently reduces the tax funds collected for cities, villages and counties, which depend primarily upon property taxes for their support.

In a report prepared for the governor and legislature, the study commission discusses some of the results of homestead exemption, but makes no specific recommendation for changing the statutes.

"It is estimated that nearly 130 million dollars was removed from the state's property tax base in 1934 through homestead exemption. The value of property which enjoys a preferred tax status today through this exemption is of course far greater.

While the exemption plan is said by some to benefit persons in the lower income brackets, this theory is not accepted by the study commission." . . the segment of the low income group most in need of relief," said the report, "are those who are financially unable to own their homes and consequently have their real estate taxes included in their rent."

The commission recommended continuation, at least for the present, of the May first date for annual assessment of real estate and personal property.

It reported that Minnesotans are expected to pay 261 million dollars in property taxes this year. The state will get only about 16 million, while local governments take 245 million. Property taxes in 1953 represented 96 per cent of all local government revenues.

Thus local governments are dependent for their support almost entirely on property taxes, yet for years the legislature has enacted various laws which reduce the amount of property subject to full taxation at normal rates. Homestead exemptions, the $100 exemption on personal property and various special-classifications of property for tax purposes all have the result of reducing Minnesota's total property tax base.

Payrolls in State 3 Billion Dollars During Past Year

Second Highest in State History, Says Dept. of Employment Security

Non-farm payrolls in Minnesota for 1954 will total almost three billion dollars, according to an estimate issued this week by Commissioner F. W. Nichols, of the department of employment security.

The department's estimates indicate employers of the state will have paid wage and salary earners, except domestics, $2,967,400,00. This total is the second highest in the history of the state, being exceeded only in 1953, when $3,010,000,000 was reported.

While the 1954 figure is $43,200,000 below 1953, it is $196,000,000 more than in 1952 and $419,000,000 greater than in 1951.

The reduction is due to a 3 per cent cut in the number of employed and a substantial decline in overtime. Offsetting factor is higher wage rates.

Principal payroll declines were $25,500,000 in manufacturing, $25,000,000 in mining and $11,500,000 in transportation and public utilities. There were increases in all other groups, except construction, which declined slightly.

Average monthly non-farm employment in the state in 1954 is estimated at 836,300. This is a decline of 25,500 (or 3 per cent) from the high mark of 861,800 reported last year. It is slightly more than in 1952 and 7,600 more than in 1951. The 1954 decrease is principally in manufacturing — 13,200. Transportation and public utility firms hired 6,700 fewer workers and there was a decline of 5,900 workers in trade establishments. Smaller decreases were reported by mining and construction firms. Offsetting gains are in finance, service and government categories.

Annual average earnings for full-time employees this year reached a new high point—$3,548, compared with $3,493 in 1953, $3,315 in 1952, and $3,075 in 1951.

Income Tax Men to Meet Wednesday

Income tax men and accountants from Northwestern Minnesota will meet Wednesday evening, December 22, at a dinner session in the Rex Cafe. A temporary organization was set up in November, with Eugene Johnson, Roseau accountant as acting president, and Reuben Carlson, Argyle banker, as secretary.

LAWRENCE LARSON JR. SPENDING LEAVE HERE

Lawrence M. Larson Jr. SA arrived home Saturday evening from the Great Lakes naval training station to spend a two weeks leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Larson. He received his seaman apprentice rating after completing his boot training Dec. 15. He will leave January 1 to report to the navy base at Treasure Island, off the coast from San Francisco, where he will receive training in electronics.

The only thing certain is death, taxes and tax discussions.

Predict 9 Deaths over Holidays in Yuletide Traffic

Christmas, 1954, will never be forgotten by nine Minnesota families, according to A. V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council. It will be remembered by them, not for the joy and happiness usually associated with this holiday, but because one of their loved ones will be killed in a traffic accident over the weekend.

"That estimate," Rowveder said, "is based on motorists' records during the past five Christmas holidays, when an average of 11 were killed each year. However, I am hopeful that Minnesota motorists will display the same fine driving they showed on S-D Day, and that this year's Christmas toll will not only be substantially below the average, but also under the nine deaths I have predicted. The answer is up to every motorist and pedestrian who drives or walks during the holiday weekend."

Al Torgerson to Give up Highway Department Post

Thirty years of service with the Minnesota highway department will come to a close at year's end for A. O. Torgerson, 66, who has served as district engineer at Detroit Lakes since 1929.

He has been with the department since 1921, except for three years when he was associated with the highway construction industry, and another three years during WW II, when as an officer in the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers he supervised construction of airfields and ammunition plants in the Seventh Service Command in the midwestern section of the U. S.

Mr. Torgerson has accepted a position with the Evangelical Lutheran church as rural life commissioner in the northern half of Minnesota. His primary responsibility in his new activity will be the strengthening of rural parishes, chiefly through encouraging mergers where the situation indicates such steps would be advisable.

A successor as district engineer to replace Mr. Torgerson, as well as a successor to Mr. P. D. Mold, who retired recently from a similar position at Duluth, is expected to be named by the first of the year.

PRINCE OF PEACE

Many centuries ago, in far-away Judea, a little child was born to humble parents. Its cradle was a manger. Its surroundings were poor and unsightly. Sympathetic village women must have ministered to the needs of the mother.

But a brilliant new star shone above this humble birthplace, and those whose ears were attuned to the infinite heard an angel chorus singing "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men!"

It was the birthday of the Saviour.

This story has been told often, but it loses none of its charm in the telling. It grips men today as does no other human saga. For the birth at Bethlehem turned a new page in world history and gave new hope to mankind.

Throughout the civilized world today people are singing Christmas carols and repeating the drama of the Saviour's birth. Some day, when His spirit triumphs, men will turn from war and strife to the peace that comes from God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The gifts He brought are ours to give

The gifts He received we remember best . . . the gold, frankincense and myrrh . . . laid near the manger.

And it is this we have chosen as the spirit of Christmas . . . to give worldly gifts in the manner of the wise men.

But the precious gifts of Christmas are those which Christ brought to all the world . . . love and hope.

And although these gifts were God-given, they are ours to give also. When we are tolerant of those unlike us, show mercy to transgressors, renew hope in those who have no hope, make friends with the friendless . . . then we are giving as we received from our Lord . . . the true gifts of Christmas.

Christmas Story

. . . FOR 1954

'Twas the week before Christmas, but all wasn't quiet;
In fact, the whole household resembled a riot.
From upstairs and downstairs the family sprang
To answer the telephone each time it rang.

Mom came from the kitchen. Before she returned,
The coffee had boiled and the dinner was burned.
Sis ran from the bedroom and slipped in the hall;
Down cellar Dad seldom could hear it at all.

The calls were important. From both far and near Came voices of friends that were welcome to hear.
But Sis, Mom and Dad all exclaimed with a sigh,
"If only the telephone could be nearby!"

That night as they nestled so snug in their beds,
The same bright idea danced 'round in their heads.
Each woke up the next morn, so sly and so quick,
And dashed off a letter to good old St. Nick.

'Twas the day after Christmas, and all was serene;
For the telephone man had appeared on the scene.
As neat as a pin and as quick as could be,
He connected extension 'phones—one, two and three!

Now Sis in her bedroom can talk with her beau,
And Dad answers his calls in the basement below,
On the wall in the kitchen, quite out of her way,
Is a 'phone that saves Mom many steps every day.

Take heed, gentle reader, the moral is clear.
Your telephone serves you well—all through the year.
Dependable, speedy, by day and by night
It stands ready to hurry each call on its flight.

But convenient extensions—at least one or two—
Can make sure that the 'phone's always handy to you.
For this extra value you pay little more,
And your 'phone serves you better than ever before!

It's for you!

Extension telephone service, tailored for your home at a very low cost.

Late Events in Middle River

By Carlyle Hanson

Obituary of Glenn McKeever

Final rites were conducted on Monday, December 13 at the First Lutheran church of Middle River for Glenn McKeever, long time resident of Middle River community.

Rev. C. O. Hanson officiated and burial was made in the church cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Glenn McKeever was born at Thompson, North Dakota on May 27, 1895 at which place he also grew up to manhood. On Oct. 19, 1929 he was united in marriage to Mildred Ellefson at Grand Forks. They farmed in the Thompson community until in the spring of 1940 when they moved to a farm west of Middle River, where they have lived until his passing. Mr. McKeever passed away at the St. Lukes hospital in Fargo, N. Dak. on Dec. 7th. Left to mourn his passing are his wife, three sons; Ralph with the army in Korea; Glendon and Noel at home; two daughters, Betty and Elaine also at home; three brothers Lee of Larimore, N. D.; Jess of Fordville, N. D. and Dan of Middle River. He is also survived by several nephews and nieces.

Pallbearers were Wesley Waltmen, John Sandberg, Ray Sandberg, Frank Holme, John Isaacson and Sig Underdahl.

Mrs. Walter Thompson served as organist and accompanist. A trio consisting of Mrs. Wallace Alberg, Miss Lillian Lindblad and Miss Delores Buckholz sang two songs, Jesus is mine and Is There Anyone Who Can Help Me.

Peace be to his memory.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Clup, former teachers of the Middle River High school, now of Algonquin, Ill. are the parents of a daughter born at Elgin, Ill. on Dec. 4th. Congratulations.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

WANDERING PRESS

The Minnesota Historical Society is not only the oldest legally incorporated organization in Minnesota but its constitution and proceedings provided the material of the first book to be printed in the state.

The Society was established in 1849. Its first meeting was held on January 1, 1850. The constitution, by-laws, a list of members and an address of the first meeting were printed in booklet form by James Goodhue, founder of the Minnesota Pioneer at St. Paul.

Only two copies of this book, the first to be printed in the territory and the state, now exist. One is with the Society and the other is in the Library of Congress.

A second edition contained a letter from Henry H. Sibley to Senator Henry S. Foote of Mississippi. This was a description of Minnesota and its possibilities.

The story of the booklet is interesting. So also is the story of the press on which it was printed. This was a Washington hand press with which Goodhue printed the first issue of Minnesota's first newspaper. The press had also printed the first newspaper in Iowa in 1836 and came into Goodhue's possession at Lancaster, Wisconsin. It came to Minnesota with Goodhue in 1849 and was subsequently used to print pioneer papers at Sauk Rapids, St. Cloud, Sauk Centre and Lindstrom. In 1905 it found its final resting place in the museum of the Minnesota Historical Society.

AMBITIOUS TOWNS

Every community built in the early days of Minnesota was ambitious. There were many people who made it their business to lay out towns and sell town lots. They did much of this work before the railroads came and, after the rails had been spiked down, community after community was founded. All had visions of a great future and made many provisions for expansion.

Take, for example, the City of Duluth. The first plat or property in what is now that city was that of Oneota. It was put on record on April 11, 1856. Within three years five other plats were recorded.

In 1860 the census listed the population of this city at the Head-of-the-Lakes at exactly sixty. They must have all been surveyors for by that year the founders of Duluth had laid out a city 17 miles long and containing 40,000 lots.

This supplied the need of lots for some years as the city struggled ahead. Then came the 1890ies with the discovery of the great Mesabi iron range. Duluth had new inspiration and 40,000 more lots were platted.

In the years which followed there was an increase in population and when one citizen would come the city always envisioned still another to follow him. Today the City of Duluth extends for 26 miles along the shores of Lake Superior. The city averages two and a half miles in width. Its area consists of 40,000 acres of land, half of it platted. There are 390 separate plats and 116,000 lots. There is more than a lot for every man, woman and child in the city.

MORE WHITE THAN RED

While there is talk of the "Indians" of Minnesota there are very few of them with full Chippewa blood. Within the strict meaning of the term there have been no "full-blooded" Chippewas in Minnesota for a hundred years. In all recent times there has been a blending, in some degree, of both red and white blood in the Chippewa population. Some Indians are still known as of full Indian blood because of their age and appearance. Such people are very limited in number and probably do not make up one per cent of the listed Chippewa population.

There are many students of the human race who believe that the Chippewas, and other Indians of North America, came from the same basic stocks as the white man. One of the reasons for this belief is the easy way in which the red and white have been amalgamated. The first offspring of a white trader and Chippewa woman was often more white than copper colored. In another generation of intermarriage of white man and half-blood all characteristics of the Indian often disappeared.

There has been much study of the Chippewas of Minnesota in connection with tribal records and payments. All of the fourteen thousand people listed as Chippewas have their names and ancestry as a matter of record in the big thick books of the Indian department. An investigation of these records has disclosed that about three-fourths of those classified as Chippewa have half or less of Indian blood in their veins. The census taker calls a person an Indian if he looks like one and passes as such in the community in which he lives.

DFL to Sponsor Inaugural Ball in St. Paul January 5

The first DFL Inaugural Ball in the history of Minnesota will be held Wednesday, January 5, 1955, at the Prom Ballroom in St. Paul.

The newly inaugurated Governor and Mrs. Freeman will lead the grand march at 11 P. M. They will come directly to the ball together with the other new state officials from the public reception in the rotunda of the state capitol. Dancing will start at 8:30 P. M. and a midnight supper will be served.

Admission to the Ball is by invitation only, Mrs. Dorothy Jacobson, state DFL chairwoman and general chairman of the ball, announced. Invitations are being mailed to DFL party members and campaign workers thruout the state.

"Anyone not receiving an invitation who would like to attend the Ball, may obtain one through a DFL party officer or union official," Mrs. Jacobson said.

There are some 900,000 species of animals in the world, 675,000 400 kinds of mammals. of them insects. Man is one of 4,-

N. W. School Holds Awards Assembly

Scholarships Are Given to Honor Roll Students

Sylvester Greskowiak of rural Crookston was given the most valued player award in football at the awards assembly held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on December 15. He was awarded the Ruettel company sweater and the Crookston Drug company trophy. Athletic A's and service chevrons were also awarded to members of the Northwest School football and cross-country teams for participation in those sports for the fall term.

Team captains elected for the 1955 school year were introduced by the retiring captains of the football and cross-country teams. Richard Miller, rural Crookston, and Frank Sczepanski, Stephen, were elected co-captains of the 1955 football team. Bernhard Friesen of Morden, Manitoba, Canada, and Joseph Armstrong of Euclid were elected co-captains of the 1955 cross-country squad.

Scholarship certificates, for two consecutive terms on the honor roll, were awarded to the following students: Arnold Balstad, Winger; Marilyn Balstad, Fosston; Mardell Boyum, Mentor; Allan Brandli, Warroad; Donald Diedrich, Warren; Allan Dragseth, Eldred; Leon Driscoll, East Grand Forks; Wayne Erickson, McIntosh; Walter Fehr, East Grand Forks; Barbara Hylland, Grygla; Delmar Johnson, Middle River; Wendell Kelm, Neche, N. Dak.; Jean McWilliam, Winger; Donna Miller, rural Crookston; Mavie Munter, Buxton, N. Dak.; Donald Murphy, Reynolds, N. U. S. Boasts More Than Half World's Supply of Phones

Eleven countries have more than a million telephones, according to American Telephone and Telegraph Company's latest issue of "Telephone Statistics of the World."

Argentina is the latest addition to the list which also includes, in order of number of telephones, the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, Germany, France, Japan, Sweden, Italy, Australia and Switzerland.

The report gives figures as of January 1, 1954. It takes nearly a year to collect them from almost 200 foreign countries.

For the sixth consecutive year the gain in the number of the world's telephones was about five million. The United States had more than half the 89 million telephones in the world on January 1, 1954, and Europe had a quarter. In relation to population the United States had about 31 telephones per 100 people. Sweden was second with 28 and Canada third with 24. Switzerland and New Zealand had about 22, Denmark 19, Australia and Norway 16.

New York City with its three and two-thirds million telephones on January 1 had more than there are in any single country outside the United States except the United Kingdom. Greater London has half as many as New York, Paris one-fifth.

'55 Polio Campaign to Open Here N[illegible]t Week

Township Chairmen in Drive Are Appointed by Mrs. Adam Lendobeja

Arrangements for the 1955 fund-raising campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which opens in Pennington county and thruout the nation next week, were completed in most details at a meeting of the drive leaders Monday night.

Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen and Mrs. George Baken, co-chairmen of the city campaign, reported that the canvass of the business district would be conducted early in January, with details to be announced in the Times next week. They added that the Mothers March on Polio will be held in this city and thruout the state on Thursday evening, January 27.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, campaign chairman for the rural areas, made public the names of township chairmen, and urged residents to turn in their donations to their town chairman as early as possible, if not previously contacted. She also stated that a polio talent show and dance will be held at Smiley Hall Saturday evening, January 22, with Norman Johnson in charge of arrangements.

Following are the township chairman as listed by Mrs. Lendobeja:

Smiley, Mrs. Norman Johnson; Kratka, Mrs. Joe Johnson; Silverton, Mrs. Gust Homme; Rocksbury, Mrs. Carl Finstad; Norden, Mrs. Charles Sorenson; North, Mrs. Steve Jaenette; Cloverleaf, Mrs. Emil Sanders; Mayfield, Mrs. Palmer Johnson; Star, Mrs. Robert Parnow.

Deer Park, Mrs. Stanley Radniecki, Hickory, Mrs. Eric Johnson; Highlanding, Mrs. Sigurd Sigurdson; Goodridge, Mrs. Harold South; Reiner, Mr. Oscar Stenvik; Polk Centre, Mrs. Oscar Mosbeck; Sanders, Mrs. Art Pederson; River Falls, Mrs. Clarence Bosset; Wyandotte, Mrs. Alvin Erickson; Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stenberg; Numedal, Mrs. Hans Drotts; Black River, Mrs. W. Almquist.

Also present at Monday's meeting was a committee from the Lincoln high school student council, who expressed a desire to participate in the "Teens against Polio" aspect of the campaign. The committee includes Carol Bjorkman, James Hall and Donald Jorstad.

It was announced that the short Helen Hayes film, "They Shall Not Want," is available for showing at various local gatherings. Arrangements may be made by contacting A. F. Berge, campaign chairman.

R[illegible] Sculthorp A[illegible] of Month

D[illegible] at Colorado S[illegible] Force Base

Airman Third Class Robert R. Sculthorp of Thief River Falls, has been named Airman of the Month at ENT Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colorado. Airman Sculthorp has been in the Air Force five months.

Upon graduation from Lincoln high school, he worked as a clothing salesman for several months and then enlisted in the Air Force. He took his basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas, and was assigned to ENT Air Force Base. Airman Sculthorp works in the registrar's section of the 615th USAF Infantry at Ent where he has many dealings with the public.

The Airman of the Month is selected on the basis of job performance, initiative, military bearing, dress, courtesy, esprit de corps, and off-duty activities such as participation in educational and athletic programs. Airman of the Month receives $35 and a three-day pass. Airman Sculthorp has indicated that he will use the money to visit a relative in Denver.

1955 Legislative Session to Open Tuesday, Jan. 4th

Inaugural of Orville Freeman as Governor Is Set for Wednesday

Plans for ceremonies opening the 59th session of the Minnesota Legislature next Tuesday and for the inaugural of Orville L. Freeman as governor on Wednesday were made public by Maj. Gen. J. E. Nelson, state adjutant general.

Both Senate and House will convene at noon Tuesday. Donald Wright, Minneapolis, will preside at the opening of the Senate. Wright, who was president pro tempore of the Senate last session, took his oath of office last September, succeeding Ancher Nelsen, who had resigned in April.

Chief Justice Roger Dell will administer the oath of office to Karl Rolvaag, who was elected lieutenant governor last November. Rolvaag then will become presiding officer of the Senate.

The House will be called to order by the new secretary of state, Joseph L. Donovan, Duluth, and Associate Justice Thomas Gallagher will administer the oath to members of the House. This will set the stage for the election of a speaker, which will determine whether liberals or conservatives will organize the House. The liberals claim 66 votes, the conservatives 65.

On Wednesday, the Senate and House will meet in joint session in the House chamber for the inaugural of Freeman at noon. Chief Justice Dell will swear Freeman in, after which the new governor will deliver his inaugural address.

Council OK's 2 Ordinances on Use of Cars

Provides Impounding Lots for Storage of Cars Hindering Traffic

The city council at its December session Tuesday evening of last week adopted two ordinances relating to the operation of cars in the city after giving them their third and final readings. Given its second reading was an ordinance regulating the use of trailers in the city.

One of the ordinances enacted limits to southbound traffic only the narrow portion of LaBree av. from First st. past the hospital to the elevator on the Great Northern right-of-way. Parking will be permitted on both sides of the street.

The second ordinance provides for the designation of impounding lots to which vehicles will be removed when they are left unattended and obstructing traffic, or are interfering with maintenance or snow removal work on the streets. The ordinance also applies to vehicles left standing on the street or in municipal parking lots for more than 24 hours.

A minimum charge of $3 for towing the car to the impounding lot is specified, and an additional charge of $1 for storage for the first 24 hours, 50 cents per day for the next nine days and 25 cents a day for longer periods.

The council confirmed the reappointment to the Carnegie library board by Mayor Agnes Israelson of Mrs. A. E. Jacobson, Mrs. L. B. Hartz and Elmer A. Andersen for three-year terms, as well as the mayor's reappointment of A. B. Stenberg as a member of the police civil service commission.

The council renamed Otis L. Wold as a member of the fire department civil service commission, and appointed Alvin Anderson as director of the municipal band, effective October 1.

The sum of $10,000 was ordered paid when available to the court house building fund from the earnings of the Thief River Falls liquor dispensary.

After receiving from City Engineer Douglas Stewart a final report and assessment roll covering the water main installation on Davis av. from Third to Eighth st., and sewer main installation on Maple av. S. from Gulf to Hughes sts., the council set a hearing on the matter for Tuesday night, January 18.

It was voted also to open bids January 18 on official city depository and official newspaper.

New Years Eve Will Be Noted in Many Ways

Watch Night Services Planned for Churches; Four Clubs Plan Parties

Residents of the Thief River Falls community will usher in the new year 1955 Friday evening in a variety of styles. Some will attend watch night services in churches, while others will assemble at New Years Eve parties arranged by local clubs and lodges, and still others will note the advent of 1955 quietly in their homes.

Among the organizations holding parties are the Thief River Golf club, American Legion, Elks and Eagles. Each will include dancing, and will provide noisemakers. The golf club party will feature a smorgasbord supper served at 9 o'clock, while a midnight lunch will be provided by the Elks lodge.

The more serious-minded will assemble at watch night services in the various churches of the community. Trinity church has arranged a New Years Eve communion service Friday at 8 p. m., with Rev. Otto Dale, new pastor, officiating, while Albert Ely, interne, will speak at festival services Saturday, January 1, at 10:30 a. m.

Zion church will hold a New Years wake service Friday evening at 9:30, including a program and lunch. The Evangelical Free church has set watch night rites for 11 o'clock, preceded at 9 by a youth fellowship program.

The Mission Covenant church will hold watch night services Friday night at 10:30, and the First Baptist church will conduct its watch night rites Friday, starting at 9 p. m.

The Church of the Nazarene also will hold services New Years Eve at 9 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Eva Fee, pastor, while rites will be held in Our Saviors Lutheran church Friday evening at 10:30.

To Consider Bids on Painting Court House January 14

Bids are being called for this week by County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr on the complete job of painting and decorating the new Pennington County court house, and will be opened by the county board Friday afternoon, January 14, at 4 o'clock. Plans and specifications for the work, prepared by Foss and company, Moorhead, are available at the auditor's office.

Legion Municipal Band in Concerts

Only a small audience turned out Monday evening for an enjoyable concert presented in the municipal Auditorium by the Thief River Falls Legion municipal band directed by Alvin Anderson. A second concert will be given this evening (Wednesday) in the community hall in Red Lake Falls, and a third Thursday evening in the Middle River high school auditorium.

75 Building Permits in '54 Total $1,349,918, 2d Highest on Record

A total of 75 building permits calling for a stated expenditure of $1,349,918 was issued in Thief River Falls in 1954, it was announced this week by Roy Langevin, city building inspector. To this figure should be added $25,000, representing the cost of two residences just beyond the city limits.

The 1954 total of $1,349,918 takes rank as the second highest total in the history of the city, being exceeded only by the 1953 figure of $1,490,790 covering 66 permits, including the Northwestern Hospital addition costing in excess of $900,000. Much of the hospital construction work was completed this year.

The 1954 volume was swelled by three major public building projects including the Pennington county court house, $381,830; National Guard armory, 176,400; and Knox school addition, $165,000.

Major commercial construction included the L. B. Hartz Stores warehouse, $125,000; Northwest Beverage Co., $32,000; Pure Oil Co. station, $22,000; and Noper Motel addition, $18,000. In addition, four buildings were remodeled at a total cost of $21,542.

Highlighting the construction picture this year was the erection of 29 substantial new dwellings costing an aggregate of $344,500, or an average of just under $12,000. In addition 16 residences were remodeled at a total cost of $30,700, and 16 domestic garages were built at a cost of $8,680.

In 1952 76 permits were issued calling for an outlay of $625,830, and in 1951 71 permits represented an investment of $513,650.

Coffee Bar Opens January 3 in New Hospital Addition

Another valuable feature added to the facilities of Northwestern Hospital thru its auxiliary unit is a coffee bar to be opened next Monday, January 3, under the direction of a committee headed by Mrs. M. D. Starekow and Mrs. George Van Rooy. The coffee bar will be operated in connection with the hospital gift shop recently opened by the auxiliary in the new addition.

Postoffice Handles More Letters, Fewer Christmas Parcels

More letter mail and fewer packages were handled thru the Thief River Falls postoffice during the busy Christmas mailing season December 13 to 24, Postmaster R. J. Dryden reported this week, adding that the holiday mailing period continued its trend of spreading out over a longer period.

A total of 218,136 letters and greeting cards passed thru the canceling machines during the 12-day period this year compared to 210,600 for the same period in 1953.

Metered postage increased from $2,810 for the 12 days in 1953 to $2,885 this year, while at the same time the number of parcels dispatched declined from 8,042 in 1953 to 8,034 this year.

An aggregate of 1,986 sacks of mail were received this year, and 2,047 sacks were sent out.

The postoffice was cleared of all mail Christmas Eve and it was not necessary to make any deliveries on Christmas Day, Dryden state.

Rev. Otto Dale, New Pastor of Trinity Church, Arrives

Will Conduct His First Service New Years Eve; Installation January 9

The Rev. Otto Dale, 33, for the past three and one-half years pastor of Hope Lutheran church at Minneota, arrived with his family in Thief River Falls this week to take over the pastorate at Trinity Lutheran church. He will conduct New Years Eve communion services Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Dale will succeed the Rev. G. S. Thompson, who left last January to serve a church in Eau Claire, Wisconsin. During the intervening year, Trinity has been served by Rev. J. J. Jacobson as interim pastor.

A graduate of St. James high school, Mr. Dale served during World War II with the U. S. naval reserve for three years, after which he attended Harvard University, where he was married in 1945 to Miss Janette Rustad.

He was graduated from the University of Tampa, Tampa, Florida, following which he was graduated from Luther Theological seminary in St. Paul in 1949.

Rev. Dale will be installed as pastor of Trinity church Sunday morning, January 9.

Three Local Boys Returned to YCC After Car Theft

Youths Steal Car Here and Are Arrested at Breckenridge Tuesday

Three local boys, two of them on parole and one on probation from previous offenses, were taken into custody by Police Chief Elton Cummings and Deputy Sheriff Myron Haroldson at Breckenridge Tuesday, and were returned to this city and turned over to the Youth Conservation Commission.
